

VOLUME XXVIII 2 246

LXINGTON, KENTUCKY, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1937.

NEW SERIES NO. 14

Vesper Artists

Below are the pictures of artists and directors who will appear on this season's vesper service programs.

NATALIE BODANYA

STEPHER HERO

EZRA RACHLIN

ERNEST MCCHESNEY

PROF. CARL LAMPERT

JOHN LEWIS

Improved Performers Hold Emmiment Vespers

Bodyana, McChesney, Hero, And Rachlin To Appear In Annual Musical Ecclesiastics

MILDRED LEWIS IS IN CHARGE OF PROGRAMS

Miss Hodanya To Open 1937 Season On Sunday

Four brilliant American artists are among those who have been selected for the 1937-38 Sunday vesper concert programs to be held Sunday afternoon in Memorial hall, beginning November 14.

ENGLISH PROFS WILL MEET HERE

First Conference Of English Teachers Will Be Held On University Campus Friday And Saturday

English teachers throughout the state have been invited to attend the first meeting of the Kentucky division of the English Teachers' Council to be held Friday and Saturday at the University.

New Relations Club To Name Officers

Election of officers will be held at the meeting of the International Relations club at 3 p. m. Thursday, November 4, in Room 203.

WEST TO PRESIDE AT ECONOMIC MEET

Edward West, dean of the College of Education, will preside at the first meeting of the tenth annual conference of the Southern Economic Association being held November 5-6, at Knoxville, Tenn.

NYA Checks Ready; Extra Work Available

Men students allotted part time hours under NYA may work additional hours with a reasonable prospect of pay for the extra time.

WOMEN'S CONVO TO BE HELD NOV. 4

Miss Sarah Sturtevant, Head of Personnel Department At Columbia University, Will Be Guest Speaker

Miss Sarah Sturtevant, professor of education and head of the department of student personnel at Columbia University, will be the guest speaker at the convocation for women students at 4 p. m. Thursday, November 4, in Memorial hall.

WAA Mass Meeting Slated For Nov. 4

Transfer Students To Talk About Other Colleges' Activities

A mass meeting of the Women's Athletic Association will be held Thursday at 7:15 o'clock in the Women's gym.

Manuscripts For Chi Delta Phi Due November 24

Manuscripts for membership in Chi Delta Phi, honorary literary fraternity for women, must be submitted to one of the members by Wednesday, November 24.

HONORARY MEETS AT WALNUT HALL FARM

Phi Epsilon Phi, honorary botany fraternity, held its regular meeting Thursday night, October 29, at Walnut Hall farm, as the guest of James Cooper, an alumnus of the chapter.

First Lady Concludes Run Tonight

Last showing of 'First Lady' will be held 8:30 to 11:00 p. m. tonight at the Gaiety theatre.

TEN COEDS STILL IN RACE FOR P. R. DRILL SPONSOR

Results Of Balloting Will Be Kept Secret Until Pershing Rifle From Saturday Night

DANCE WILL BE GIVEN SATURDAY, 10 TO 12

Presentation Ceremonies Will Be Entirely Different This Year

With ten coeds still remaining in the race, election of the Pershing Rifle sponsor will be held at 5 p. m. Friday, November 3, in the Armory.

Girls who have been nominated for the honor and who have accepted are: Marjorie Doyle, Alpha Delta Delta; Betty Murphy, Kappa Gamma Delta; Mildred Croft, Delta Delta Delta; Fritz Jilion, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Virginia Batterton, Kappa Delta; Lucy Anderson, Chi Omega; Jennie Barker, Alpha Gamma Delta; Babe Combs, Independent; Jimmy Sanders, Kappa Delta Delta; and Sewal Reneker, Alpha Delta Delta.

The first annual 'P. R. Prom' will be held from 9 until 12 o'clock, Saturday, November 6, in the Alumni gym, with Garth House and its orchestra supplying the rhythms.

The presentation of the sponsor will be made in a manner entirely different from that of any previous affair. Approximately 130 men will participate in the ceremony, and the photograph which was taken at the dance will appear in 140 Kentucky newspapers.

Special invitations to the prom have been sent to Governor and Mrs. Albert B. Chandler, Lieut. Governor and Mrs. Keen Johnson, President and Mrs. Frank L. McVey, all officers of the military department and their wives, and deans of the University and their wives.

ENGINEER FRAT PLANS PLEDGING

Banquet To Be Given At 6:15 Friday At Phoenix Hotel

Tau Beta Psi, national junior and senior honorary engineering fraternity, will hold its annual fall pledging exercises at 6:15 a. m. Friday, November 3, at Memorial hall.

Following the services, a banquet will be served to the actives and pledges at 6:15 o'clock at the Phoenix hotel.

To be pledged by Tau Beta Psi, a Junior must rank in the upper eighth of his class and a senior in the upper fourth.

Active of the fraternity are: Robert Gilmer, president; Merle Carter, vice-president; Mike Snider, treasurer; John Sheehan, Roland Pride, Robert E. Fish, N. I. Gibbons, James F. Gregory, Logan Rafter, and James E. Smith.

Officers elected for the coming year were Kaddell Dorn, president; Grace Silverman, vice-president; Jane Lewis, secretary; and Leslie Lee Jones, treasurer.

Phi Epsilon Phi, honorary botany fraternity, held its regular meeting Thursday night, October 29, at Walnut Hall farm, as the guest of James Cooper, an alumnus of the chapter.

Joe Moore, president of the fraternity, reported on the national convention of Phi Epsilon Phi, which he recently attended. Alton Havill, a member of the society, spoke on "Western Flora Compared to the Far Eastern situation."

The Phi Gamma offers a front line of defense against Russia, and is also a valuable source of natural resources within the United States on the result for the Chinese-Japanese conflict.

'BABA'S' POLITICAL OFFENSE AND HEAD TRAPLE COEDS 11-0

Red Elephants, Displaying Magnificent All-around Football, Slaughter Kentucky Before 15,000 Homecomers; Injuries And High Temperature Slow Wynnem

By GEORGE KERLER, Kernel Sports Editor

Tuscaloosa, Ala., October 30 — A murderous Alabama offense, ogling its fifth Rose Bowl bid, and an unexpected high temperature buried Kentucky beneath a 41-0 score before 15,000 Homecoming customers here today in Denny stadium.

Tuscaloosa, Ala., October 30 — A murderous Alabama offense, ogling its fifth Rose Bowl bid, and an unexpected high temperature buried Kentucky beneath a 41-0 score before 15,000 Homecoming customers here today in Denny stadium.

FRESHMEN FAG MOREHEAD, 80-6

Moseley's Kittens Employ All Scoring Methods To Mass 12 Touchdowns; Combs On Top With Five Tackles

By MARVIN GAY

As the 'Best Band in Dixie' played spirited tunes on the nearby practice field, a score of feet and fifty Kitten backs danced up and down the field to submerge the Morehead College Eagles under an avalanche of touchdowns, 80 to 6, Friday afternoon.

Scoring 14 points in the first quarter, Coach Frank Moseley's frosh gridders never eased up, but pushed touchdown upon touchdown with monotonous regularity. Blocking with all the fury of Alabama's Red Elephants, Coach Moseley's backs sent the 400 spectators home chanting that famous Kentucky line, "just wait till next year." And, for once, we believe they have something there.

Morehead returned the nick kick off to its 20 yard line. Then Varney, speedy Eagle left half, cut through the line and ran for a touchdown.

Boyd Elected Senior Officers Ass'n Officer

Other Officers Elected Were Dr. Paul Garrett, Prof. A. D. Owens; More Than 1,000 Ky. Educators Attend

Election of officers closed the two-day fourteenth annual meeting of the Kentucky association of colleges and secondary schools Saturday at the University. Dean Paul P. Boyd of the College of Arts and Sciences was re-elected secretary-treasurer of the association.

Other officers elected were Dr. Paul Garrett, president of Western Kentucky state teachers college, president and Prof. D. C. Owen, superintendent of Newport city schools vice-president. Members of the executive committee chosen were Prof. W. S. Milburn, principal of Louisville Male high school and Dr. Paul S. Powell, president of Kentucky Wesleyan college.

Many educators attended the general session held Saturday at Memorial hall. Various sectional meetings were conducted in other buildings of the University.

In connection with the association meeting was held a conference of the Kentucky academy of science presided over by Dr. J. W. Manning, professor of political science. Dr. K. P. Vinson, University of Louisville, former director of welfare of Louisville, was elected president of the academy.

Among the speakers at a meeting of the American academy of physics teachers, also held in connection with the conference, was T. H. Hahn, associate professor of physics.

Sectional conferences were held during the two day meetings on chemical, elementary and physical sciences, and a meeting of the Lexington speech art group.

Poultry Experts Hold Annual Meet

Showing approximately 2,700 turkeys with a combined weight of 30,000 pounds, turkey breeders from surrounding counties attended the first annual all-day "turkey meeting" yesterday at the Walnut Hall farm.

The turkeys on exhibition were hatched between April 23 and June 2 of this year.

VOLUNTEERS WANTED!

This is Constitution Year. The Honorable Sol Bloom, General Director of the United States Constitutional Commission, has fixed the dates for the nationwide celebration from September 17, 1937, to June 30, 1938.

The pre-Christmas Vespers, at the request of Dean Alvin E. Evans, Chairman of the local committee, will be held in the spirit of, and as a part of the Constitution Celebration and will consist of a celebration in Memorial Hall with an early American setting.

We need actors, dancers, singers, instrumental players soloists, costurers, and stage hands. We need a script, historians, music, songs, and dances, besides an organization of students and faculty, to make it a real campus celebration, expressing the patriotic and cultural ideals of the University and the State of Kentucky.

Having been asked to take charge of this part of the Constitution Celebration, I am appealing, through the courtesy of the KENTUCKY KERNEL, to all students and faculty members who would like to participate in the preparation for the event and the celebration itself as actors, musicians, script writers, committee members, etc. Please, all who will offer your services, send your name and type of contribution by telephone or note to my office in the basement of the Administration Building, Registrar's office, not later than Monday, November 8.

(Signed) WILLIAM VAN DE WALL, Professor of Music Education

McVey To Address Committee Of 240

Meeting To Be Held At 7:30 O'Clock Thursday In Faculty Club Room

Dr. Frank L. McVey will preside and speak at the first meeting of the Committee of 240, which will be held Thursday at 7:30 o'clock in the faculty club room of McVey hall. Mrs. McVey also will speak.

The Committee of 240, founded by E. S. Sulzer, who is head of the public department, is an organization consisting of two members from each county, the state and faculty representatives. The aim of the organization is to have its initiatives set as good will emissaries and to further the interests of the University in separate counties.

Dr. Frank L. McVey will preside and speak at the first meeting of the Committee of 240, which will be held Thursday at 7:30 o'clock in the faculty club room of McVey hall. Mrs. McVey also will speak.

Refreshments will be served and entertainment will be presented by Strothers, under the direction of Joy Edgerton, who is president of that organization.

Spanish Situation Discussed By Lash

Joseph Lash, a leader in the Spanish movement, spoke Saturday night at the University training school, on the aspects of the Spanish situation. Mr. Lash was brought to Lexington by the local chapter of the American Student Union.

Comparing the strength of the two factions, Mr. Lash stated that the number of foreign volunteers of the Rebel's side so far exceeded that of the Loyalists, but the plan proposed by Italy would be of great help to Franco.

He also compared the government of Spain with the ideals of the insurgents, and analyzed the purposes of the two sides.

The American Student Union chapter plans to help establish a home for war orphans in Spain.

There will be a meeting of the editorial staff of the KYAN at 3 p. m. Thursday, in room 104 of McVey hall. It was announced yesterday by Roger Brown, editor.

Alabama used 38 of the 29 men who made the trick. But frequent substitutions failed to halt the sweep of the Elephants.

The offensive waned Kentucky's backs, who were damaged and parboiled in Tuscaloosa, plunged about the campus and somewhat dizzy. Both expect to be in shape for South Carolina Saturday.

Coach Cheat Wynnem casually called off the usual Monday lumbering drills yesterday so that his braced and a sunburned Wildcats were re-energized from the Alabama punishment.

Bob Davis and Sherman Hinkley, who were damaged and parboiled in Tuscaloosa, plunged about the campus and somewhat dizzy. Both expect to be in shape for South Carolina Saturday.

When Bob Davis was felled in a third quarter goal line stand, Kentucky lost its only offensive line player after Center Sherman Hinkley, who performed heroically but with no display of gratitude. However, when Kentucky Alabama set about to inform the nation that their team was better than anticipated.

The Cats entered the game limped with injuries. This factor and the heat, which soared to 85 degrees, slowed Kentucky to a job. Trying to keep his men alive, Coach Wynnem used 38 of the 29 men who made the trick. But frequent substitutions failed to halt the sweep of the Elephants.

Employing nearly three teams, the Crimson Tide surged up and down the field in a relentless touchdown parade. The Reds failed in every period and crossed the Wildcat line three times in the second quarter.

Apparently, to delight the droves of Homecomers, the Alabama team lost an attack that surprised themselves as well as their thousands of supporters. The Tide drew its first five opponents methodically but with no display of gratitude.

When Bob Davis was felled in a third quarter goal line stand, Kentucky lost its only offensive line player after Center Sherman Hinkley, who performed heroically but with no display of gratitude.

Apparently, to delight the droves of Homecomers, the Alabama team lost an attack that surprised themselves as well as their thousands of supporters. The Tide drew its first five opponents methodically but with no display of gratitude.

When Bob Davis was felled in a third quarter goal line stand, Kentucky lost its only offensive line player after Center Sherman Hinkley, who performed heroically but with no display of gratitude.

Apparently, to delight the droves of Homecomers, the Alabama team lost an attack that surprised themselves as well as their thousands of supporters. The Tide drew its first five opponents methodically but with no display of gratitude.

When Bob Davis was felled in a third quarter goal line stand, Kentucky lost its only offensive line player after Center Sherman Hinkley, who performed heroically but with no display of gratitude.

Apparently, to delight the droves of Homecomers, the Alabama team lost an attack that surprised themselves as well as their thousands of supporters. The Tide drew its first five opponents methodically but with no display of gratitude.

When Bob Davis was felled in a third quarter goal line stand, Kentucky lost its only offensive line player after Center Sherman Hinkley, who performed heroically but with no display of gratitude.

Apparently, to delight the droves of Homecomers, the Alabama team lost an attack that surprised themselves as well as their thousands of supporters. The Tide drew its first five opponents methodically but with no display of gratitude.

When Bob Davis was felled in a third quarter goal line stand, Kentucky lost its only offensive line player after Center Sherman Hinkley, who performed heroically but with no display of gratitude.

Apparently, to delight the droves of Homecomers, the Alabama team lost an attack that surprised themselves as well as their thousands of supporters. The Tide drew its first five opponents methodically but with no display of gratitude.

When Bob Davis was felled in a third quarter goal line stand, Kentucky lost its only offensive line player after Center Sherman Hinkley, who performed heroically but with no display of gratitude.

Apparently, to delight the droves of Homecomers, the Alabama team lost an attack that surprised themselves as well as their thousands of supporters. The Tide drew its first five opponents methodically but with no display of gratitude.

When Bob Davis was felled in a third quarter goal line stand, Kentucky lost its only offensive line player after Center Sherman Hinkley, who performed heroically but with no display of gratitude.

Apparently, to delight the droves of Homecomers, the Alabama team lost an attack that surprised themselves as well as their thousands of supporters. The Tide drew its first five opponents methodically but with no display of gratitude.

When Bob Davis was felled in a third quarter goal line stand, Kentucky lost its only offensive line player after Center Sherman Hinkley, who performed heroically but with no display of gratitude.

Apparently, to delight the droves of Homecomers, the Alabama team lost an attack that surprised themselves as well as their thousands of supporters. The Tide drew its first five opponents methodically but with no display of gratitude.

When Bob Davis was felled in a third quarter goal line stand, Kentucky lost its only offensive line player after Center Sherman Hinkley, who performed heroically but with no display of gratitude.

Apparently, to delight the droves of Homecomers, the Alabama team lost an attack that surprised themselves as well as their thousands of supporters. The Tide drew its first five opponents methodically but with no display of gratitude.

When Bob Davis was felled in a third quarter goal line stand, Kentucky lost its only offensive line player after Center Sherman Hinkley, who performed heroically but with no display of gratitude.

THE KENTUCKY KERNEL

OFFICIAL NEWSPAPER OF THE STUDENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY

Entered at the Post Office at Lexington, Kentucky, as second class matter under the Act of March 3, 1879.

MEMBERS: Lexington Board of Commerce, Kentucky Intercollegiate Press Association, etc.

ROSS J. CHEPELLE, Editor-in-Chief; RAYMOND T. LATHREM, Managing Editor; EDGAR PENN, Acting Business Manager.

ADVERTISING STAFF: Al Vogel, Oscar Patterson, John Morgan, Pete Smith, Paul Ledridge.

NEVILLE TATUM, Circulation Manager; ANDREW ECKDAHL, CLIFF SHAW, Associate News Editors; GEORGE H. KERLER, Sports Editor.

COMPLETE CAMPUS COVERAGE

Character And Thinking

FREQUENTLY it is asked of college students: "What do you get out of your life on a University campus? What do you get out of a classroom?"

In reply to the first question and also relative to the second comes the inevitable reply from administrative officers: "Our main aim is to build character and to teach students to think for themselves."

It must be gratifying for them to note that the students of this University have themselves signified that character is the main reason why they desire in one another. In a twelve year survey conducted by Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, dean of the graduate school, character has been the primary measure of both male and female students when asked to list in order of preference their chief desires in opposite sexes.

But it is even more interesting to note in what order traits were placed by these students in Doctor Funkhouser's heredity classes. In listing the most desirable traits for a mate, women classed these traits in the following order:

- 1. Character
2. Health
3. Disposition
4. Education
5. Family
6. Business ability
7. Good looks
8. Dress
9. Social position
10. Money
11. Religion
12. Desire for children

Observing this evaluation, it is not difficult to comprehend the present lack of children in families whose parents have had the opportunity to obtain college education.

Looking at the qualifications in order of preference set by men we have almost the exact list. Men have changed but few of these places listing them in the following order:

- 1. Character
2. Health
3. Disposition
4. Good looks
5. Family
6. Education
7. Desire for children
8. Dress
9. Social position
10. Business ability
11. Money
12. Religion

Judging from these statistics, the fact that character and the closely related traits of health and disposition play the prominent role in the selection of a husband and wife, it becomes evident that the faculty of this University has been successful in culminating one phase of their aim.

But what of the matter of independent thinking? Does the fact that education, business ability, and religion have been placed further down in the list indicate any sign of thinking? Does the fact that students have relegated the desire for children to last place indicate any sign of intelligent thinking? Is it not important to propagate the intelligent race? Or does it, perhaps, mean that the students have acquired the necessary confidence in themselves and have made those points of secondary importance in their mates?

It would be extremely interesting to note the attitude of the student body through the stages of development. It could be determined by asking students to classify themselves on these points during their four years of college life. It would be worthwhile to take time during a class to make this classification.

In that way it could be determined whether the student outlook has matured during their informative stage.

Kentucky Loses A Friend

IN THE recent passing of William F. Klair the University has distinctly lost a great friend and a potent ally.

Although in the last few years Mr. Klair's political activities had not brought him directly in touch with the University, it is a well known fact, however, that whenever the University desired a friendly representative either before the Kentucky legislature or elsewhere Mr. Klair was always available and always ready to act.

It is perhaps in the years gone by that his contact with the University bore more direct fruit. While in the legislature and in common with the late Thomas A. Combs, Mr. Klair had been able many times to bring to the attention of legislators in a forceful way, needs of the University and then, through his superb leadership, many times to procure needed help and to promote policies from which the University staff enjoys benefits.

THE KERNEL through the student paper, and speaking in behalf of the entire University, desires to proclaim his worth and eulogize his death.

Scrap Irony

ENGLAND has had enough trouble. What with their king abdicating and a complete outsider winning the Grand National and everything. They really deserve something better than having their soldiers shot in China. The Japs don't seem to appreciate England's position though. They keep on shooting Britishers and Anthony Eden keeps demanding things. The statement has been made, and it sounded authoritative, that if diplomatic relations become any more involved, England will have to fight before Christmas. This may seem a bit sensational, but it's true and if you have noticed it, people are taking more interest in the military department than ever before. They are asking questions and that is bad. Whenever people start asking questions it is definitely bad. We hate to get serious even for one paragraph, but the thing worries us.

There is a system being practiced at Purdue University which we think might be considered by the Greek organizations on this campus.

It seems that the fraternities have a file in which they keep all material pertaining to courses on the campus. They have book-reports, final examinations, etc., and whenever one of the brothers finds himself in need of any instruction he merely presents himself to the keeper of the file (they have a keeper) and says, "I should like to have access to the files, sir." It is sort of an "Open sesame" affair for when he says the words, lo! he has the wisdom of the ages before him! The thing bears investigation, at least.

SIMILE OF THE WEEK

Her eyes were blue, like twin teapoonfuls of the Mediterranean.

(The following was found on the wall of THE KERNEL newsroom:)

TRUE OR FALSE

(A selection quiz by J. B. Faulconer)

- 1. Ray Lathrem is a college jive; the Brooklyn Dodger of Journalism; or a type of southern gentleman.
2. Bob Rankin is a stooge; a stooge pigeon; or a type of slow poison.
3. Jean McElroy is: a manufacturer of jeans; a human; or a brand of Pork and Beans.
4. Ross Chepeleff is: the last of the Mohicans; the last of The Kernel editors; or the last of the Chepeleffs.
5. Harry Williams is: a type of sweet potato; a man with a lot of hair; or a man without a lot of hair.
6. Jane Levi is: a type of fortification against floods; a book by Daniel Defoe; or a style of silk stockings.
7. Andrew Eckdahl is: ? , ? , or ? .
8. Morton Kelly is: Shipreck Kelly's pseudo; two people of the same name; or a bag of potato chips.
9. Donald Irvine is: Max Schmeling in disguise; Max Schmeling incognito; or Max Schmeling camouflaged.
10. Charles Gary is: the founder of Gary, Ind.; Walter Winchell's man Friday; or Walter Winchell's man Saturday.
11. George Kerler is: something you put your hair up with; or something that gets in your hair; or something.

THE KENTUCKY KERNEL

SIDESHOW

By DON IRVINE

THAT war in China is no more than a sandlot hockey game compared to the battles staged in the Art Center radio studios on Thursday afternoons. The only difference between them is that, so far, no one has been killed at the studios. At least, when they counted the cast after each broadcast everyone seemed to be there, except one 'cellist out of the orchestra, who disappeared and hasn't been found since.

The first airwave battle at the Art Center was declared some weeks ago when George Jesse's Microphone Players defeated General Bradford. Unless memory is faulty, it was in that play that Steve Bladek, in the height of the fight, stomped up to mike and cried "Nov schmoz ka pop!" to the startled radio listeners. In war scenes the chief duty of all performers is to make as much noise as possible, and some remarkable things have come to pass in the heat of battle.

Last Thursday, Director Jesse decided to recapture the state of Ohio from the Japs. Accordingly, and the combining of sounds prepared, replete with such celebrities as George Washington, Anthony Wayne, St. Clair, and extra supports were built into the stage. The first and only rehearsal was held an hour before the broadcast. At the same time Reed Hoskins was tuning up an also-rehearsed staff orchestra, and the combining of sounds resembled old London's Bedlam on the night of a wild party for the lunatics. This kind of sound effect unabated until the stroke of one o'clock, when the director, Tinker Dean—Mary McKenna—Jesse Mountjoy musical program blossomed in another way. At the time Reed Hoskins was tuning up his orchestra frowned over their music sheets whispering desperately about whether to play two or three measures of music filled between the notes.

The interim Reed Hoskins and his orchestra frowned over their music sheets whispering desperately about whether to play two or three measures of music filled between the notes. The players lolled around smoking or electrocuring reading lines. The big electric clock ticked away the musical program, and at a quarter to two, the cast gathered about the microphone, and the director, Tinker Dean, carefully tearing the sheet music off their scripts to eliminate part of the program. The program ended, Jesse Mountjoy came tearing in from the other studio to take the part of George Washington's secretary.

Everyone watched the clock. The second-hand jerked nervously around the dial half a minute; twenty seconds; ten seconds; five seconds; ... and then the red light flashed above the stage. The re-winning of Ohio was on the air.

The fanfare from the orchestra crescendoed and diminished as Bill Cross made the opening announcement. The music faded away and Frank Ellis, as the Father of the Country, spoke the first line of the program. The premiere scene had something to do with St. Clair's defeat and Anthony Wayne to the army. The second scene, with Sid Buckley and Max Henderson as Mr. and Mrs. Mad Anthony Wayne, depicted Wayne's joyful reception of the command to lead his army into the wilderness. The messenger bringing the order to enter on horseback, but due to a hitch in the sound department ordered by the producers to the command arrived in utter silence. The third scene was the conflict between General Wayne and the state of Ohio, or something.

The battle began with an Indian war-whoop whistled supplied by Director Jesse. After that the cast stomped about in unison, vaguely impersonating a marching army. There was scattered gunfire from the drum section of the orchestra. Then, as the redskins were sighted, anyone yelled ferociously. Shells exploded to the south of the microphone when Director Jesse whammed out of a trap.

The program was a mixture of give way to luxurious abandon and intermingled falsetto war-whoops with scolding cries. Bugles blew, shots rattled, and just as the thing was taking on a Cub Galloway aspect, the play ended and the performers collapsed in a heap on the floor.

After the last explosion had died away and the bulbs steadied themselves, Story Walton, who had been listening in on a receiving set, said, "Oh, well, it is sort of futile after all, isn't it?"

Students Are Shown Modern Harvester

Professor J. B. Kelley and D. W. Young of the Agricultural Engineering department, accompanied by thirty of their students, visited the farm of Mr. Owen B. Smith on the old Frankfort Pike, Thursday afternoon, to witness the operation of a modern combine harvester harvester machine.

P. Bobbitt and Everett Wolf of a Lexington coal company which sponsored the demonstration, explained the working of the combine harvester to the students. A five-foot cutter bar cuts the wheat which is elevated into the thrashing cylinders. The seed is then separated from the straw and blown through a take-off. The combine harvester requires one man to operate and another to place a bag of seed and straw into a bin. The combine harvester has been sold in Kentucky during the past year.

Women's sophomore women's honor society met at 8 p. m. Thursday in the Womans' building.

Local Harvard Law Alumni Hear Holmes

Dr. Henry W. Holmes, dean of the school of education at Harvard, spoke on "American Universities and the American School System" at a luncheon given yesterday at the Lafayette hotel by the Harvard alumni. Doctor Holmes was introduced by Henry T. Dunham, Jr., member of the University law college staff attending the meeting.

Members of the University law college staff attending the meeting were Henry J. Fox, Amos E. Elden, Dean A. E. Evans, R. M. Moreland, Frank Murray, W. H. Pittman, F. H. Handall, and W. L. Roberts. Other members of the University staff who were present as alumni of the Harvard law college were T. T. Jones, dean of men; and J. B. Shannon, assistant professor of political science.

Guests at the luncheon included Dr. Frank L. McVey, president of the University; J. D. Williams, associate professor of education; Dr. Leo Chamberlain, registrar; Dr. Jesse Adams, acting dean of the College of Education; and Dr. M. E. Ligon, professor of secondary education.

Strollers to Meet For Final Casting. A meeting of Strollers, students dramatic fraternity, will be held at 4 p. m. today in room 111, McVey hall, to make the final selection of the cast for "Of All Things," to be presented in the Guggin Theatre December 14, 15, and 16.

All students who have been selected for parts in the play are asked to be present at the meeting. Miss Martha Kelly, sophomore in the College of Arts and Sciences, has been assigned the feminine lead in the play, according to a story appearing in the Sunday Herald-Leader.

MANNING TO ATTEND SCIENCE CONFERENCE

Dr. J. W. Manning, acting head of the political science department, will attend the 10th annual meeting of the Southern Political Science association, which will be held Friday, November 8, at the University of North Carolina, Durham; Saturday, November 9, it will be held at Duke University at Chapel Hill.

2 Outstanding Features!

HE RAN THE FIELD - to the Goalhouse - CUDDLES kicked for a goal!

THE TIGER OF NORTHERN CHINA! KARLOFF WEST OF SHANGHAI!

BEN ALL

A College of Law luncheon meeting will be held at 12:15 p. m. today in the University commons.

JUDGE ROBBIE

THE JUDGE IS RIGHT - RUNNING A STORE IN AN AUTO CAME TO A SURE END - MOTORISTS FROM 48 STATES AND PRINCE ALBERT'S IS MY LARGEST-SELLING BRAND

REMEMBER - YOU'RE SMOKING A PIPE FOR PLEASURE. NATURALLY, YOU WANT THE ENJOYMENT OF PRINCE ALBERT'S NO-BITE MILDNESS AND FULL, RICH TASTE

SMOKE 20 PRINCE ALBERT PIPERS OF PRINCE ALBERT. If you don't find it the mildest, tastiest pipe smoke in the world, return the pack to the store with the rest of the tobacco in it to us at once with a month from this date, and we will refund your purchase price, plus postage.

PRINCE ALBERT THE NATIONAL JOY SMOKE

50 pipefuls of fragrant tobacco in every 2-oz. tin of Prince Albert

Charm School Opens At Patt Hall Tonight

Mrs. J. M. Durbin, of Hamilton College, To Open Series Of Lectures

All women on the campus are invited to attend the charm school in the Home Economics department of the University, which will be held for the next four weeks in the recreation room of Patterson Hall tonight at 7:15.

Miss Frances Seeds, instructor in clothing in the Home Economics department of the University, will speak on Personality Expressed in Clothing on Tuesday, November 8.

STUDENT IS IMPROVING

Miss Emily Clay, 19, sophomore in the College of Arts and Sciences, who underwent an emergency operation for appendicitis Friday night at the Good Samaritan hospital, is reported to be doing well by hospital authorities.

SURE!

I'LL MEET YOU AT THE PHOENIX DRUG

Phoenix Hotel Block

Better Work With These Helpful Tools

One Dollar Each

Rogert's Thesaurus

Crabb's English Synonyms

Hartrampf's Vocabulary

Edward's Useful Quotations

Putnam's Dictionary of Events

Fritz Hugh Biographical Dictionary

Campus Book Store

MAVEY HALL

By GEORGE H. KERLER

PERHAPS it sounds crazy but 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon I would have bet my house bill that Alabama would beat Kentucky by 14 points.

It was Homecoming Day in Tuscaloosa and Coach Frank Thomas evidently planned to unleash all the Tide's expressions of power. A good show would undoubtedly register happily with the alumni.

But the Red Elephants misunderstood the mildness of "turn on." They interpreted the urging phrase to mean—burst forth with all infantry and artillery.

Thomas employed three backfields, 12 guys named Kilgore. It doesn't matter what particular pigskin color you're thinking about. The third string fullback was just as unapproachable as the main string.

Not once during the embalming did the Bama Rams regard their trick suitcase. When a coach's steers are all foreshy, the admirals he need not fret about deceiving Speed's a better guarantee of touchdowns than an occult effense.

There is the first reason why they wrecked us. Swiftness. The other offensive premise was easy to observe. Their blocking was destructive. When an Elephant slung his head as if to mark, they might have done it for their backs.

But it was when the Alabamians were on defense that they hurt Kentucky. The endless replacements kept the Red line in a constant state of flux. Once when Red Simpson was streaking through the line, the Crimson rank at 40 miles per two Crimson toes socked him. The Bessmer crowd had to be guided to the bench.

Fleetsness, destructive blocking, barbaric tackling mixed with the show-off element inspired by Homer, combined to produce a gridiron bungle that cannot be described as anything but a disaster.

What can the Wildcats say in self-defense? Automatically the first argument hinges on injuries. Garland, Bosse, and Hinklebein should have been reclining peacefully in deck chairs Saturday instead of being banged from one end of the pasture to the other.

Blanketing the casualty list was the psychological condition of the team. Kentucky sincerely believed it had a chance to win the battle. The Cats should have been concerned with minimizing the Alabama touchdown profit.

Another factor lies in the complete job of diagnosis the Bama emmissaries did. The Tuscees were aware of our every play. Ordinarily, our passing game is fair. In the first semester, Kentucky tossed ten passes. Three were intercepted, seven were batted to the straw. They knew all about us.

The final point embraces the tracery of weather. Against Main-

Tom Spickard Ruled Ineligible

As sophomore Tom Spickard, regular varsity guard, was declared ineligible Thursday evening just before the Wildcats left for Tuscaloosa. In the Ag school a varsity man must complete 26 credits of work per year.

Spickard, though only a sophomore, held a starting assignment at guard during Kentucky's first four games. He suffered a shoulder injury against Washington and Lee.

For the rest of the third stanza the Cats stopped the Tide. Alabama kicked twice beautifully and kept the visitors from threatening the first part of the last quarter.

Shepherd toted the kickoff up to the 28 and then Curtis and Waddington completed passes which brought the ball down to Alabama's 38.

To demonstrate the ferocity of Alabama play on the next try with but a minute to play Cab Curtis drew off to pass again. He barely managed to get off a heave which was intercepted near midfield.

In the second quarter Coach Moseley sent in an entire new outfit, and this group, led by Combs, proceeded to record 43 points. Hazard had need to three touchdowns on runs of 6, 44, and 9 yards.

On the final play of the first chucker, Zivich intercepted Davis' pass at midfield and squirmed his way to Kentucky's eight. Then McCubbin, Cal end turned in Grade A performance during the afternoon, stole a Bama away from its own yard line and handed the sally. Hodje, who replaced the battered Simpson, kicked into undangerous territory.

Tracy desperately to get out of the end-around Blues tried a pass but Cox, Elephant center, nabbed it a lone back to the Cats' 12. Then Blackwell, on fourth down, came through with the end-around play and dashed across the Cat line lonesomely. A few plays after the Tide's kick-off Kentucky fumbled and Alabama recovered. Starting on the K-28, the Alabamians scored in three plays.

Elephants kicked off once more. Bob Davis gathered it in and contributed the longest run of the day. Taking the tumbling oval on his own, he dove, sleeves rolled to above his elbows and frantically attempting to get Kentucky back in the game.

Unsmacked, the Kentucky's dripped poundage all over the bleachers. Crumbs snow flattered. Archie habershardy was necessary for self-preservation. But in Tuscaloosa, the photo line in the thermomeat cooked at 85. The Fieldy griddle resembled the yellow wastelands of Arizona. A fastidious cow would have turned her nose up if she ever showed eyes on the Shredded Wheat carpet.

Unsmacked, the Kentucky's dripped poundage all over the bleachers. Crumbs snow flattered. Archie habershardy was necessary for self-preservation. But in Tuscaloosa, the photo line in the thermomeat cooked at 85.

Unsmacked, the Kentucky's dripped poundage all over the bleachers. Crumbs snow flattered. Archie habershardy was necessary for self-preservation. But in Tuscaloosa, the photo line in the thermomeat cooked at 85.

Unsmacked, the Kentucky's dripped poundage all over the bleachers. Crumbs snow flattered. Archie habershardy was necessary for self-preservation. But in Tuscaloosa, the photo line in the thermomeat cooked at 85.

Unsmacked, the Kentucky's dripped poundage all over the bleachers. Crumbs snow flattered. Archie habershardy was necessary for self-preservation. But in Tuscaloosa, the photo line in the thermomeat cooked at 85.

Unsmacked, the Kentucky's dripped poundage all over the bleachers. Crumbs snow flattered. Archie habershardy was necessary for self-preservation. But in Tuscaloosa, the photo line in the thermomeat cooked at 85.

Unsmacked, the Kentucky's dripped poundage all over the bleachers. Crumbs snow flattered. Archie habershardy was necessary for self-preservation. But in Tuscaloosa, the photo line in the thermomeat cooked at 85.

SALYERS, UK ALUMNI SECRETARY, CONFERS WITH PRES. ROOSEVELT

Robert K. Salyers, National Youth Administration Director for Kentucky, met with President Franklin D. Roosevelt Friday, October 29, at the Hyde Park, New York estate. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the youth program sponsored by the Federal Government.

Culminating a four day conference of NYA officials which began Monday and ending at the Hyde Park estate, Mr. Salyers presented to Washington officials a summary report reviewing NYA activities during the two year period ending June 30, 1937.

More than 24,000 high school and college students were enabled to continue their education through NYA part-time employment, while approximately 12,500 out-of-school and unemployed young people were given fundamental work training on NYA work projects, the report also stated.

More than 12,500 youth have left the NYA work projects, the report disclosed. Many of these young people have received jobs in private industry as a result of experience gained through NYA employment.

Mr. Salyers reported pointed out that the main objective of NYA is the provision of assistance for young people, but that communities and schools have benefited as sponsors of the projects. Buildings have been repaired, small buildings constructed, equipment made, and garments distributed to needy families.

The NYA for Kentucky, as a part of its vocational guidance program, has compiled and distributed numerous occupational studies, for use by school executives, teachers, employers, and young people. These publications have attracted nation wide attention, Mr. Salyers stated.

Dr. Nita Banton Smith, professor of education at the University of Indiana, was the principal speaker at the luncheon-meeting Saturday afternoon of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary fraternity for women teachers.

Dr. Nita Banton Smith, professor of education at the University of Indiana, was the principal speaker at the luncheon-meeting Saturday afternoon of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary fraternity for women teachers.

Dr. Nita Banton Smith, professor of education at the University of Indiana, was the principal speaker at the luncheon-meeting Saturday afternoon of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary fraternity for women teachers.

Dr. Nita Banton Smith, professor of education at the University of Indiana, was the principal speaker at the luncheon-meeting Saturday afternoon of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary fraternity for women teachers.

Dr. Nita Banton Smith, professor of education at the University of Indiana, was the principal speaker at the luncheon-meeting Saturday afternoon of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary fraternity for women teachers.

Dr. Nita Banton Smith, professor of education at the University of Indiana, was the principal speaker at the luncheon-meeting Saturday afternoon of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary fraternity for women teachers.

Dr. Nita Banton Smith, professor of education at the University of Indiana, was the principal speaker at the luncheon-meeting Saturday afternoon of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary fraternity for women teachers.

Dr. Nita Banton Smith, professor of education at the University of Indiana, was the principal speaker at the luncheon-meeting Saturday afternoon of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary fraternity for women teachers.

Dr. Nita Banton Smith, professor of education at the University of Indiana, was the principal speaker at the luncheon-meeting Saturday afternoon of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary fraternity for women teachers.

Dr. Nita Banton Smith, professor of education at the University of Indiana, was the principal speaker at the luncheon-meeting Saturday afternoon of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary fraternity for women teachers.

Dr. Nita Banton Smith, professor of education at the University of Indiana, was the principal speaker at the luncheon-meeting Saturday afternoon of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary fraternity for women teachers.

Dr. Nita Banton Smith, professor of education at the University of Indiana, was the principal speaker at the luncheon-meeting Saturday afternoon of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary fraternity for women teachers.

Dr. Nita Banton Smith, professor of education at the University of Indiana, was the principal speaker at the luncheon-meeting Saturday afternoon of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary fraternity for women teachers.

Dr. Nita Banton Smith, professor of education at the University of Indiana, was the principal speaker at the luncheon-meeting Saturday afternoon of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary fraternity for women teachers.

CLASSIFIED ADS

LOST—17 jewel Elgin watch. Gold case, diamond face. Lost during intramural football game between Phi Kappa Tau and Delta Tau Delta. Offer to reward call DelHouse, Clarence Marple.

FOUND—Pair of kid gloves in Wm. Hall. Owner may have same by identifying and paying for his ad. C. E. 263 South Line.

WE PAY CASH for men's used clothing, hats, shoes, overcoats—anytime in men's apparel. 111 Water St. (Near Linn's) 3325.

DAILY DELIVERY SERVICE—Phone 3309. Y. Packages called for and delivered anywhere in the city, late noon. Speedy, courteous service.

LOST—Effective Patterns in English Book and English by Bellis. Please return to Kerred business office.

LOST—In or near Memorial Hall a pair of pink skin gloves—Mary Elizabeth Johnson, 3325.

DELTA KAPPA GAMMA SPONSORS LUNCHEON. Dr. Nita Banton Smith, professor of education at the University of Indiana, was the principal speaker at the luncheon-meeting Saturday afternoon of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary fraternity for women teachers.

DELTA KAPPA GAMMA SPONSORS LUNCHEON. Dr. Nita Banton Smith, professor of education at the University of Indiana, was the principal speaker at the luncheon-meeting Saturday afternoon of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary fraternity for women teachers.

DELTA KAPPA GAMMA SPONSORS LUNCHEON. Dr. Nita Banton Smith, professor of education at the University of Indiana, was the principal speaker at the luncheon-meeting Saturday afternoon of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary fraternity for women teachers.

DELTA KAPPA GAMMA SPONSORS LUNCHEON. Dr. Nita Banton Smith, professor of education at the University of Indiana, was the principal speaker at the luncheon-meeting Saturday afternoon of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary fraternity for women teachers.

DELTA KAPPA GAMMA SPONSORS LUNCHEON. Dr. Nita Banton Smith, professor of education at the University of Indiana, was the principal speaker at the luncheon-meeting Saturday afternoon of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary fraternity for women teachers.

DELTA KAPPA GAMMA SPONSORS LUNCHEON. Dr. Nita Banton Smith, professor of education at the University of Indiana, was the principal speaker at the luncheon-meeting Saturday afternoon of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary fraternity for women teachers.

DELTA KAPPA GAMMA SPONSORS LUNCHEON. Dr. Nita Banton Smith, professor of education at the University of Indiana, was the principal speaker at the luncheon-meeting Saturday afternoon of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary fraternity for women teachers.

DELTA KAPPA GAMMA SPONSORS LUNCHEON. Dr. Nita Banton Smith, professor of education at the University of Indiana, was the principal speaker at the luncheon-meeting Saturday afternoon of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary fraternity for women teachers.

DELTA KAPPA GAMMA SPONSORS LUNCHEON. Dr. Nita Banton Smith, professor of education at the University of Indiana, was the principal speaker at the luncheon-meeting Saturday afternoon of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary fraternity for women teachers.

DELTA KAPPA GAMMA SPONSORS LUNCHEON. Dr. Nita Banton Smith, professor of education at the University of Indiana, was the principal speaker at the luncheon-meeting Saturday afternoon of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary fraternity for women teachers.

Y. W. C. A. Activities

Tuesday, 3 p. m.—Freshman group meets at the Woman's building. Discussion of "Campus Standards of Honor."

7:15 o'clock—Joint cabinet meeting of Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. at the Woman's building. Professor J. D. Williams will speak on "Does College Widen or Strengthen Our Religious Faith."

Wednesday, 3 p. m.—Book group meets at the Woman's building. Father George O'Brien will speak on "Catholicism and Our Culture."

Thursday, 3 p. m.—Social Service meets at the Woman's building. Vera Gillespie will lead a discussion of the Greendale Reform School.

KITTENS WIN

(Continued from Page One) The teams battled evenly through the first part of the last quarter. Cab Curtis, a third string fullback, kept the game for Kentucky and completed three passes, all completed. Garland and McCubbin were the receivers and for a moment it looked like Kentucky might shake loose for a much coveted touchdown.

Near final curtain time Alabama kicked and Kentucky was penalized for clipping, putting them back to their own four. At that spot a Kentucky back fumbled and the Tide hungrily recovered on Kentucky's one foot line. Water to 41.

Shepherd toted the kickoff up to the 28 and then Curtis and Waddington completed passes which brought the ball down to Alabama's 38.

To demonstrate the ferocity of Alabama play on the next try with but a minute to play Cab Curtis drew off to pass again. He barely managed to get off a heave which was intercepted near midfield.

In the second quarter Coach Moseley sent in an entire new outfit, and this group, led by Combs, proceeded to record 43 points. Hazard had need to three touchdowns on runs of 6, 44, and 9 yards.

On the final play of the first chucker, Zivich intercepted Davis' pass at midfield and squirmed his way to Kentucky's eight. Then McCubbin, Cal end turned in Grade A performance during the afternoon, stole a Bama away from its own yard line and handed the sally. Hodje, who replaced the battered Simpson, kicked into undangerous territory.

Tracy desperately to get out of the end-around Blues tried a pass but Cox, Elephant center, nabbed it a lone back to the Cats' 12. Then Blackwell, on fourth down, came through with the end-around play and dashed across the Cat line lonesomely. A few plays after the Tide's kick-off Kentucky fumbled and Alabama recovered. Starting on the K-28, the Alabamians scored in three plays.

Elephants kicked off once more. Bob Davis gathered it in and contributed the longest run of the day. Taking the tumbling oval on his own, he dove, sleeves rolled to above his elbows and frantically attempting to get Kentucky back in the game.

Unsmacked, the Kentucky's dripped poundage all over the bleachers. Crumbs snow flattered. Archie habershardy was necessary for self-preservation. But in Tuscaloosa, the photo line in the thermomeat cooked at 85.

SCHEDULE CHANGED

Effective today, the music library will be open daily from 10 a. m. to 12 noon, instead of from 7 to 9 o'clock in the evening. The afternoon session, from 2 to 3, will remain unchanged.

PLAIN DRESSES

COATS — SUITS Cleaned — Pressed 2 for $1 Call For Delivered

SHIRTS LAUNDERED 10c Cash and Carry Including Minor Repairs, Collars Turned Free

BECKER

Laundry & Dry Cleaning Co. Phone 621-312 & 314. Phone 1125-4th and Broadway 201 Woodland Rose and Lane

ADJUSTABLE TOUCH!

Students! With Corona you can have any touch you want. Ask about the touch selector and floating shift.

STANDARD TYPEWRITER CO. Opposite Courthouse Lexington, Ky. Phone 1192 West Short St.

Chesterfields give everybody more pleasure. Take out a pack and it draws 'em like a magnet...right away smokers crowd around for that refreshing MILDNESS and BETTER TASTE. Iosh! I am a popular Chesterfield.