Wildcat Gridiron News

KENTUCKY vs. MISSOURI

Charlie Bradshaw's Wildcats make their 1968 debut this afternoon against Dan Devine's Missouri Tigers, one of 10 foes on what many experts call the toughest football schedule in the nation.

As Bradshaw and his squad enter the season on an optimistic note, fans hope for a repeat of the only other Kentucky-"Old Mizzou" battle.

That was in 1965, when the Wildcats upset the Tigers, 7-0, in sweltering 98-degree weather in Memorial Stadium in Columbia

The victory, engineered by a 36-yard Rick Norton to Larry Seiple pass and sterling Wildcat defensive work, set the tone for a fine season (6-4) for Bradshaw's forces.

Missouri also fared well, finishing with a 7-2-1 season record and a 20-18 victory over Florida in the Sugar Bowl.

The big defensive effort of the Wildcat-Tiger battle came in the fourth quarter, after the Tigers had advanced to the three-yard line behind the fine running of Johnny Roland and plunging of Barry Lischner.

On first down, third string quarterback Gary Kombrink was stopped for a half-yard gain. Lischner made one and then was hit in the middle of the line by seven Wildcats. Roland plunged into touchdown territory, but Kentucky's Mike McGraw came up with the ball in the end zone.

Heroes of that game have departed collegiate ranks, but both teams boast a host of name players.

Playing his final year as a Wildcat is Dicky Lyons, 1967
Southeastern Conference scoring leader and pre-season AllAmerica selection.

Lyons has shared tailback duties this fall with Dick

Beard, a powerful junior from Altoona, Pa.

Exciting battles have also been waged at fullback and quarterback positions. Raynard Makin, a big sophomore from Hobbs, N. M., has fought hard against such competition as Jim Mitchell and Roger Gann, but seems to have the inside track at fullback. Gann, playing tailback last season, was the squad's leading ground gainer before receiving a knee injury in the LSU game. He can be used as either fullback or tailback.

The quarterback position is a toss-up between letterman David Bair and sophomore Stan Forston, who was out last season with a knee injury. Joe Jacobs is back for his second starting season at wingback. He was second last season to classmate Phil Thompson in the pass-receiving department.

The Wildcats list another strong suit in defense, where senior Jeff Van Note and junior Dick Palmer form one of the best end combinations in the South. The interior line is staffed by such familiar names as George Katzenbach, Doyle King, Marty Joyce and Mike Boulware while promising sophomore Dave Roller battles junior Steve Koon for the noseguard position.

The defensive backfield features such veterans as Al Phaneuf, Phil Greer and Chuck Blackburn along with sophs David Hunter, Al Godwin and Jack Mathews. Cary Shahid is back for his second year at linebacker, Cary Shahid is back for his second year at linebacker, with sophs Wilbur Hackett and Frank Rucks battling for a starting berth.

The offensive line features seniors Dennis Drinnen, Lois Wolf, Kenny Wood, and Bob Freibert.

Missouri will counter with some established regulars and some highly-touted junior college transfers.

Terry McMillan, a junior college product, emerged in spring practice as a good quarterback to go with veteran Garnett Phelps. Addition of three other junior college running backs gives the Tigers considerable backfield depth that was lacking last year.

Junior Jon Staggers and rookie fullback James Harrison, a 240-pounder, should feature the Tiger attack out of the new "I" formation.

The Missouri defense, second nationally in '67, returns seven starters, led by Roger Wehrli, an All-America aspirant, and ends Elmer Benhardt and Bill Schmitt, and guard Carl Garber.

Offense line leaders should be Jim Anderson at tackle, Chuck Weber at split end and Con Rees, center. All are

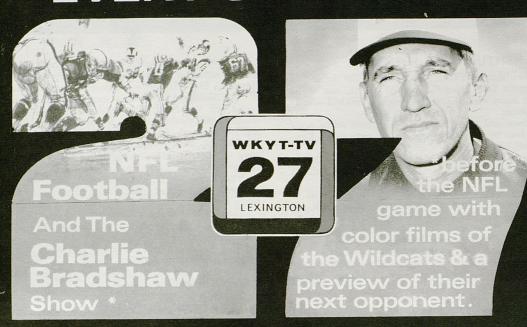

The Tigers graduated Lischner and Kombrink, but the 1968 offense could be more versatile, featuring a passing attack that has been subpar the past two years.

The Wildcats hope to keep intact their record against Big Eight teams. In addition to the 7-0 victory over Missouri, they have defeated Oklahoma, 13-7, in the 1951 Sugar Bowl, and Kansas State, 21-8, in Lexington, 1961.

They never heard of George Adams.

When this picture was taken on the boardwalk at Atlantic City in 1922, there just weren't any people around doing the kind of things George Adams does.

And even today, George Adams does a job and performs a function that is pretty rare in most life insurance companies

George is the fellow who heaps loving care and attention on Kentucky Central's more than two million policyowners coast-to-coast. He's a key man in our modern concept of policyowner relations.

George not only has an organization of many dedicated co-workers (who privately admit they try to outdo his friendliness) but he has a nationwide WATS (Wide Area Telephone Service) at his disposal 18 hours a day. With several clicks of the dial, he or one of his staff can be in the home of some faraway policyowner, talking about the weather, making friends . . . and giving personal service and counsel on any number of insurance matters.

George Adams is just another example why more and more people prefer to buy life insurance protection from Kentucky Central.

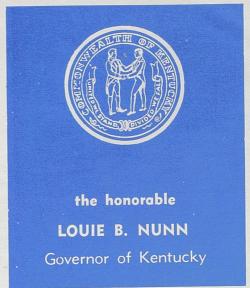

Thanks to better service ideas, we're now one of the nation's fastest growing life insurance companies, with more than $1,600,000,000 of our life insurance now owned by the American public.

Governor Boosts Wildcat Gridders . . .

Louie B. Nunn, an architect of impressive changes and progress since his inauguration less than a year ago as the 56th Governor of Kentucky, believes strongly that self-reliance, pride and courage are the by-products of intercollegiate athletics.

Chairman of the Board of Trustees at the University of Kentucky, Governor Nunn leads Kentuckians in support of a football program to match the dramatic recent progress which has touched every part of the UK community.

An avid sportsman and spectator, the Governor's scarce moments of relaxation during the Fall are divided among hunting, fishing and football.

Governor Nunn's deep concern for education was reflected in his budget, which contained record appropriations for every level from grade school to vocational schools, colleges and universities.

Governor Nunn, 44, is a native of Barren County. He attended Bowling Green Business University, the University of Cincinnati and the University of Louisville, where he earned a law degree in 1950.

A successful attorney, Governor Nunn has served in both executive and judicial positions. The third Republican this century to be elected Governor in Kentucky formerly served as a county judge and city attorney.

University's President Knows Value of An Athletic Program . . .

In 1947, Dr. Kirwan was named dean of men at UK, and in 1959 was asked to serve as dean of the Graduate School. After several years in each of these posts he requested to be relieved of his administrative duties so that he could devote full time to his favored profession—teaching and studying history.

He received his A.B. degree from UK in 1926, a master's degree from the University of Louisville in 1944 and was awarded the doctorate by Duke University in 1947. He also holds an L.L.B. degree from the Jefferson School of Law.

During his student days at UK, Dr. Kirwan was an outstanding athlete doubling as a half-back and end, and captained the Wildcat football squad in his senior year. In the late 'twenties and early 'thirties he returned to his home town to serve as teacher and coach successively at both Louisville Male and Manual High Schools. In 1931 he was married to Miss Elizabeth Lewis Heil.

Then in 1938, "Ab" Kirwan came back to his alma mater as head football coach, and in his six seasons as the second Kentucky graduate ever to hold the coaching job the Wildcats compiled a record of 24 wins, 28 losses and four ties.

He quit the gridiron voluntarily early in 1945 to teach in the University's Department of History.

Dr. Kirwan is widely recognized for his work in Civil War history.

Dr. Kirwan has held numerous positions in both the Southeastern Conference and the NCAA, serving as chairman of the Infractions Committee of the NCAA, and as a member of the Executive Committee of the Southeastern Conference.

A Great Football Stadium?

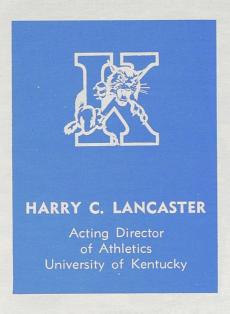

Great? Yes! A Football Stadium? Not exactly . . . Actually it's the new $5.5 million WHAS building. But when the Wildcats take to the field, WHAS goes into action. Using its new and sophisticated equipment, powerful 50,000-watt signal and experienced technicians, WHAS will carry the thrill and excitement of every play clearer than ever before. And WHAS Sports Director Cawood Ledford will describe all the action with Jack Koch providing the color.

For the best in U of K Football, tune the GOING SOUND of SPORTS on WHAS 840 Radio. All games are sponsored by TEXACO and EAST KENTUCKY Rural Electric Co-operatives. Also hear Cawood with opponents' records, histories and rivalries in the ten-minute Preview sponsored by JERRY'S Drive-In Restaurants and stay tuned for the five minute POST GAME SCOREBOARD sponsored by PHILIP MORRIS.

The appointment of Harry C. Lancaster as acting director of athletics of the University of Kentucky effective Sept. 1, was hailed in athletic, academic, alumni and lay circles as a most appropriate move, as well as a just and fitting recognition and reward for a person who has given more than a quarter century of dedicated service to the University.

Furthermore, there was no doubt that Lancaster was fully capable of filling the vacancy left by the death Dec. 10, 1967 of Bernie A. Shively.

Lancaster picked up the reins of administrative leadership with ease, thanks to the respect of colleagues, players, associates and persons with whom he has come in contact during a varied and productive career of coaching and teaching. In fact, the appointment gave him an opportunity to expand beyond his nationally known role of assistant to basketball's winningest coach Adolph Rupp.

The Rupp-Lancaster association, begun after the latter was discharged from the U.S. Navy as a lieutenant (s.g.) in 1946, has been one of mutual respect and harmony. Rupp made Lancaster a full assistant in 1948. During the two previous years, the youthful Navy veteran had busied himself by serving as part-time assistant while carrying on teaching duties and studying for a master's degree.

The dual duties, plus extra studies, were second nature to Lancaster, who had served as assistant football and basketball coach at Georgetown College (1932-33) and Paris High School (1933-34), head basketball coach at Bagdad High School (1934-36) and principal and coach at Gleneyrie High school (1936-42) and physical education instructor at UK in 1942. He was to carry on that trend of carrying extra loads, serving as UK's baseball coach for 17 seasons prior to relinquishing the post following the 1965 campaign and teaching a physical education class during the past 18 years.

Basketball was his forte, however, and he became recognized as one of the game's master strategists and designer of offenses and defenses to fit certain situations. In addition to coaching Rupp's freshman teams, he has always been at the side of the "baron" during the heat of battle. In his own right, Lancaster has traveled extensively and received a signal honor when he was invited to prepare the Greek National Basketball Team for the 1968 Olympics. A six-week tour in Athens was cancelled when Lancaster was asked to stay home and serve as acting athletics chief of staff.

ATHLETICS AT KENTUCKY

Kentucky's athletic program, a well-balanced and ambitious activity featuring inter-collegiate competition in ten different sports, is organized under the Department of Athletics and a corporation known as the University of Kentucky Athletics Association.

The program is conducted without overemphasis or sacrifice of educational objectives and in strict compliance with the rules of the University, the Southeastern Conference and the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

A board of directors, headed by the University President in the capacity of chairman, maintains overall policy supervision of the athletic program. Ex-officio members, in addition to the president, include Vice Presidents for Student Affairs and University Relations, President of the K-Men's Association, Dr. W. L. Matthews in the capacity of secretary to the board, and a student representative—all appointed by the president. Twelve other men, drawn from the University faculty and the general public, also serve on the board as appointees of the president.

Supervising the steady growth and balanced development of one of the nation's top athletic programs is Acting Athletic Director Harry C. Lancaster.

The Association's Board of Directors is composed of the following:

Chairman (President) Vice Chairman (V.-P. Stu. Affairs) Dr. W. L. Matthews, Jr., Secretary Dr. Ralph Angelucci

STUDENT ATHLETICS COMMITTEE FORMED TO PROMOTE SPIRIT AND SUPPORT

Charlie Bradshaw and other members of the University of Kentucky athletics staff, long concerned with rather lacadaisical student interest and support of the total athletic program, saw positive action taken in 1967 to overcome this drawback.

The "sophisticated" attitude of students reached a critical stage when the body started ignoring cheerleaders and ridiculing teams during the 1967 season.

Early in October of that year, the late Bernie A. Shively, athletic director, and Sandy Bugie, homecoming chairman, met to discuss Homecoming 1967 and to talk about lack of spirit and pride in the University in general and the football team in particular.

The outcome of this discussion was a called meeting of interested students and a representative of a public relations firm which has dealt with similar problems on another campus.

Meeting with Mr. Shively and Miss Bugie were Steve Cook, president of the Student Government; Robert Walker, chairman of the Student Activities Board; and Guy Mendes, Sports Editor of the Kentucky Kernel.

As a follow-up to that meeting, Miss Bugie and Mr. Walker were invited to kick-off Homecoming 1967 by speaking to the Lexington Quarterback-Tip-Off Club. They told the group that Homecoming is a time of tradition and pride, but those two elements were missing at the University of Kentucky.

The Q-T Club accepted the challenge to participate in all Homecoming activities, as did the student body, and attendance at all the events was most pleasing. For the first time in years, students seemed willing to back the team and work with them for victory.

On a bitter cold Homecoming Day, the student body and others stayed to the very end as the Wildcats defeated West Virginia, 22-7.

The following week, Miss Bugie and Walker discussed with Dr. John W. Oswald, then UK president, different means of promoting the athletic program.

Mr. Shively felt a student athletics board was one possible approach to the problem. He met with the students that afternoon, rehashed the merning meeting and helped set up the Student Athletics Committee.

A letter to Dr. Oswald asked that the president appoint the committee, keeping in mind that the SAC was to act as a liaison between the student body and the president, the athletics board, the athletic director and outside supporting groups.

The committee was also to promote spirit, pride and enthusiasm in the athletic program at all levels and to work with coaches of all sorts in recruiting and other phases. The over-all task of SAC was to create a favorable image of the non-athletic side of the University.

Another program of SAC is the newly organized Student-Faculty Quarterback-Tip-Off Club which will meet in the Grand Ballroom of the Student Center the first of each week, in season, to view game films and meet with the coaches.

A social committee of SAC consists of a group of no more than fifty attractive coeds versed, through a seminar-type program, in fundamentals of various sports. They will assist in recruiting and at other functions.

A card section and pep club also were set up for this year by SAC, which seeks to develop school spirit by selling buttons, shakers, blankets, ties, and other things blue.

Key to SAC success is total student involvement and the committee seeks to deliver the message that the Wildcats represent the entire student body and that the University, Lexington, the State of Kentucky and everywhere the Wildcats travel is "Wildcat Turf."

Wildcat Coaching Staff

One new face is included in Coach Charlie Bradshaw's coaching staff as the 78th season of football gets under way at the University of Kentucky.

Replacing veteran George Sengel, who left UK prior to fall practice to become an area scout for the National Football League, is Wilburn Tucker, former head coach at Tennessee Tech.

Coach Tucker brings to the Wildcat staff 22 years coaching experience, including the last 14 years as head coach.

His record includes a 55-34 Ohio Valley Conference slate which included five championships (1955-58-59-60-61).

Tucker is part of an offense staff coordinated by Jim Poynter, a former Wildcat (1959-60) who had a great schoolboy coaching career (40-10-1) at Glasgow, Clark County and Henry Clay before joining Bradshaw's staff two years ago as offensive backfield coach.

The offensive staff is rounded out by William (Moon) Conde another former Wildcat who returned to Alma Mater a year ago, and Phil (Duke) Owen, who are responsible for the offensive line. The 41-year-old Conde is a former Wildcat player of the glorious early fifties "Bowl Era." During his undergraduate days at Kentucky, he saw action as an offensive guard and linebacker on defense.

Senior coach in length of service to the profession is Clarence (Buckshot) Underwood, whose primary responsibility is the defensive end corps. Underwood, line coach for the Wildcats from 1948-55, returned to UK ranks in 1966. A native of West Virginia, he had a sparkling coaching career (77-26-6) record at Thomas Jefferson High School in Port Arthur, Texas.

Co-ordinating the defense and concentrating on linebackers is Doug Shively, who played end for the Wildcats from 1956 through 1958 and was co-captain his final year. He returned to the Kentucky campus in 1966 after one year as an assistant to Underwood at Port Arthur and six years as an aide at Virginia Tech.

The defensive staff includes two other promising and proven young coaches.

Leon Fuller, former All-Conference defensive back and academic

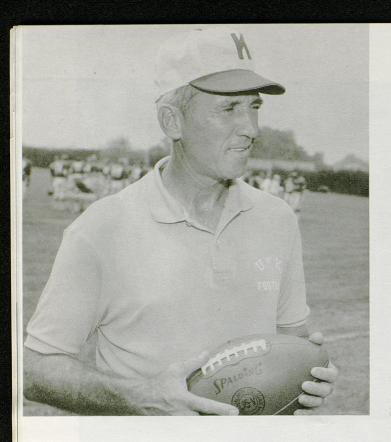

All-America at Alabama, came to Kentucky in 1966 from Oklahoma State, where he was an assistant for three years. He was a four-sports standout at Nederland (Texas) High School before attaining junior college All-America honors at Tyler, Texas. He played his final two years under Bradshaw, then an assistant at Alabama. He is responsible for the defensive backfield.

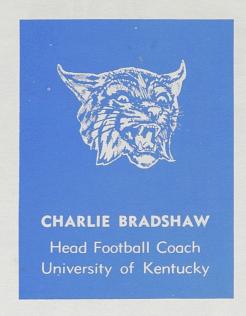

Charley Pell, who joined the Wildcats in 1966 at a defensive interior line coach, completed a military obligation last year in time for fall practice and is responsible for the defensive interior line. He was a defensive standout in the Alabama line.

Phil (Duke) Owen, who joined the Wildcat staff in 1964 after a highly successful career at Mt. Sterling, coached the Wildcat freshmen two years before receiving his first varsity assignment, working with backs on both offense and defense, year before last. His responsibilities also include the kicking game.

Wally English, who worked directly with the quarterbacks and passing game last season, has moved to head coach of the freshmen. He joined UK as a graduate assistant in 1965 after serving as an assistant at DeSales High School in 1959 and head coach four years at Bishop David High School in Louisville and one year at Mt. Carmel High in Houston, Texas. He is also responsible for all film exchanges, perpetual inventory of football equipment and co-ordination of the visitation program for high school and college students.

Another new face in the staff lineup is Chris Patrick, who came to UK in March as haad trainer, succeeding Ralph Berlin, now with the Pittsburgh Steelers. Patrick is a graduate of Central High School in Fayetteville, Tenn., and the University of Tennessee, where he earned a B.S. in physical education. He also holds an M.A. degree in secondary education from Eastern Kentucky University (1963). He has served as head trainer of all sports at Eastern and as assistant football coach for one season at Erlanger-Lloyd High School. He joined the staff of Florida State in June 1964 as associate athletic trainer and then was head trainer the past three years at Mississippi State.

Wildcat Coach Sets Winning Tradition . . .

The fruits of six hard years of working for better athletics programs throughout the Commonwealth may be realized in the near future for Charlie Badshaw, head football coach at the Univesity of Kentucky. Bradshaw, a 43-year-old former UK end and assistant coach, returned to his alma mater in 1962 with a two-fold mission—rebuild the sputtering Wildcat football fortunes and develop good athletics and pride throughout the state.

Current recruiting gives Brashaw three good years in a row. Coupled with a "red-shirt" program, this lends hope that Wildcat numbers may finally be built to a level needed to compete in the SEC.

Bradshaw started his football at the age of 15 at Sidney Lanier High School in his hometown of Montgomery, Alabama. He attended one semester at the University of Kentucky in 1942 before entering the Marines.

After three years service, including 19 months in the Pacific Theater, he returned to UK to play on Paul Bryant's first three Wildcat teams.

Bradshaw earned the first of four letters as a center in 1946 and the three more as a 165-pound end.

He joined the coaching staff as a student assistant in 1949 and then, in 1950, returned to Sidney Lanier as coach and coordinator of a junior high program—a position he retained until chosen an aide on the first UK staff of Blanton Collier in 1954.

Bradshaw served five years as end coach and later backfield coach before moving in 1959 to Alabama as a line coach for Bryant.

In 1962—his first season as UK head coach—Bradshaw's "Thin Thirty" won just three games. Bradshaw built his forces to a national contender in 1965, when an injury-plagued squad finished 6-4 and 17th in the final UPI poll.

The preceding year, Bradshaw was named National Coach of the Week after his team defeated No. 1 ranked Ole Miss at Jackson. Bradshaw served as an assistant on the Gray's coaching staff for the 1962 Blue-Gray Game that year in Montgomery, Alabama.

that pHisoHex® has been selected as the antibacterial wash to be used by the U.S. Team for the 1968 Olympic Games!

A winning athlete takes special care of his skin. Above all, he protects it against bacteria that can cause infections and lead to missed practice sessions and games.

If you've ever tried to play with an infected blister on your heel or an abscess on your finger, then you know the role of healthy skin in sports. And that's why pHisoHex is an important part of an athlete's daily health routine. pHisoHex is America's leading liquid antibacterial skin cleanser in homes and in hospitals. Used regularly in place of soap, pHisoHex produces a superclean skin and builds up an invisible antibacterial film of hexa-chlorophene to protect your skin against germs between washings.

And if you have problem skin, pHisoHex is often valuable. The antibacterial film it leaves on your face will ward off blemish-infecting bacteria. pHisoHex also helps to soften and wash away blackheads.

Use pHisoHex, the skin cleanser of winning athletes.

Break your beardin right.

Right now your beard is in the formative stage.

You can shave it with a razor blade like your father does. And each time you do your beard will grow back a little more difficult. Until one day shaving's no longer a chore. It's an agony.

Look no further than your father's face for proof.

But fortunately, you're catching your beard at an early age. You can break it in to be just as shaveable 10 and 20 years from now as it is today.

With a Remington® shaver.

And if you think the kind of shave we're selling won't be close enough for you, you're wrong.

Our new blades are sharper than anything that's been in an electric shaver before. And there's a dial that lets you adjust them for your skin and beard.

What's more, you can dial a Remington electric shaver into a sideburn trimmer.

Admittedly, it costs more to buy our electric shaver than a razor and some blades.

But it's a good investment.

These next few years will determine how you and your beard will get along for the rest of your lives. Sperry RAND! @1088, SPERRY RAND CORP.

- Great opportunity. You earn a commission while you earn your college degree. Graduate—you start at the top, Fulfill your military obligation as an Army officer. With officer's pay. Officer's privileges.
- Great advantages. Employers prefer a college graduate with service as an officer. Pay more to get him. Because he's a trained, experienced leader. Can handle heavier responsibilities.
- Great success. From the 5% of college men who had ROTC training have come 24% of our state governors, 28% of executives earning $100,000 to $325,000 per year, 10% of Congress, 15% of our ambassadors.
- Great guys. ROTC men are campus leaders—in ROTC, athletics, extracurricular activities. And they do better scholastically than non-ROTC students,
- Great extras. $50 per month in junior and senior years. Scholarships for outstanding students. Free flight training at over 125 colleges. Extra social activities—military balls, honor societies, bands, rifle teams.

Any way you look at it, there's a lot more going for you when you're in ROTC.

Your future, your decision . . .

choose Army ROTC.

Olds Vista-Cruiser: Kind of like owning your own stadium.

We didn't start out to build a stadium on wheels. Vista-Cruiser just sort of grew into one. It's bigger this year. Handles like a bigger car. Built on a longer 121-inch wheelbase. Inside, there's more room to stretch out, up and sideways. The forward-facing third seat lets you see where you're going . . . not where you've been. And there's more room to carry all the stuff you carry . . . on and under the big rear deck. Plus room for even more when you order the sturdy chrome luggage rack topside.
All this, plus a 50-yard-line view of the world outside through the cool, tinted Vista-Roof. Take the whole family along for a test drive in a Vista-Cruiser at your Olds Dealer's. That way you'll have your own cheering section, too

Post-Game Party Gets Top Rating

- by CAROLYN ANDERSEN

HEN the referee throws both arms high into the air signaling "touchdown" for your favorite collegiate team, he also signals a time for celebration. And what better way to climax a big gridiron victory than by hosting a post-game party?

In order that the hostess may enjoy the excitement of the event to its fullest, the party should be a simple one. Plenty of good food can be prepared ahead of time so that only last minute warm-ups will be necessary when you get back from the stadium.

On game day, prepare one of the suggested main dishes, your own favorite gelatine salad, and have plenty of rolls, a simple dessert and the beverage of your choice on hand. Then, with your party fixin's ready, you'll still be on time for the opening kick-off and will be able to stay until the final gun.

First, try this idea for a chicken dish that is accented with crumbles of blue cheese and succulent mushrooms. The zesty concoction is served on top of crunchy chow mein noodles, or in pattie shells.

Melt one-quarter cup butter and stir in one-quarter cup flour. Gradually add one and three-quarters cups milk and one-halt cup chicken broth (canned). Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add one-half teaspoon salt, pinch of sugar, one four-ounce can drained mushrooms, dash of monosodium glutamate, pepper, one teaspoon prepared horseradish, one and one-half cups blue cheese and two cups diced, cooked chicken. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until just heated through. Turn off heat and cover until time to reheat before serving your guests.

If you prefer a little more gourmet style main dish, try this recipe for Veal Elegante.

In large skillet, melt one-quarter cup butter or margarine and lightly brown two pounds veal cutlets, cut into one-inch pieces. Add one can (eight ounces) drained mushroom stems and pieces, and one clove minced garlic. Remove from skillet. Into drippings in skillet, stir two tablespoons flour, then one envelope onion soup mix; gradually add two cups water and one-quarter cup dry red wine. Cover and simmer 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add meat, mushrooms, and two tablespoons chopped parsley and heat through. Turn off heat and leave covered until ready to heat at party time. Serve over noodles. Recipe makes six to eight servings.

Another fun idea is a Knife and Fork sandwich. The convenience of pre-cooked frozen foods keeps you from spending hours in the kitchen when the crowd gathers.

Slice one large loaf unsliced French bread lengthwise and spread bottom half with butter and prepared mustard. Heat in 350-degree oven for 10 or 15 minutes. Heat two packages frozen chili according to package directions. Spoon over buttered bread. Cut three slices processed cheese into several strips and place on top of chili. Top with strips of bacon and fresh onion rings. Cut into six or eight knife and fork sandwiches.

If you would like to plan something clever in the way of decorations for your "pigskin party," why not take a signal from the game ball itself and create a popcorn touchdown centerpiece?

To begin, mold a football out of five quarts popped popcorn and lace it with candy licorice strings. The popcorn can be molded the day before your party. A simple syrup coating can be made by combining two cups sugar, one and one-half cups water, one-half cup light corn syrup and one teaspoon vinegar, then cook to hard ball stage (250 degrees). Add one teaspoon vanilla and pour over popcorn. It will add delicious flavor and will help you shape your oval football.

Once the centerpiece has been molded place the licorice "strings" in lacing fashion and then wrap the popcorn in foil or saran until time to decorate the table. This way, it will keep fresh and crisp for eating.

Come party time, insert chocolate-coated bananas on skewers into the popcorn football. They're a frozen confection that everyone will enjoy. The bananas are cut in half, dipped in one package (six-ounce) melted semi-sweet chocolate chips and one tablespoon vegetable shortening and frozen until serving time. Easy to eat off the skewers, the bananas make an unusual and tasty sweet.

Whether your team scores a victory or not, your party is bound to be a winner.

UK Broadens Service to State In Community College System

Community Colleges in Kentucky occupy a unique position in higher education, with University membership on the one hand and community orientation on the other. Each college is an integral part of the University with the same standards of admission and operation as exist on the Lexington campus. Each college, through its local advisory board and other ties, relates itself to the educational needs of the community.

Until the early 1960's, University Centers in Kentucky served some of the functions generally attributed to community colleges, but their programs were closely related to the departments on the Lexington campus—primarily related to educational programs leading to the baccalaureate degree. The Community College Act was passed by the Kentucky General Assembly in 1962. On the recommendation of President John Oswald, and with the approval of the Board of Trustees, a University of Kentucky Community College System was formed.

The system includes Community Colleges at Northern (Covington), Ashland, Fort Knox, Henderson, Southeast (Cumberland), Elizabethtown, Prestonsburg, Somerset, Hopkinsville, Jefferson (Louisville), Maysville, Hazard, Paducah and Madisonville. The Lexington Technical Institute provides two-year career oriented programs on the Lexington campus. Student enrollment in the colleges for the fall of 1968 approaches 9,000.

The Community College System has roles aligned both with the task of higher education in the state and with the educational and cultural contributions to be made to the citizens of the communities in which the colleges are located. The colleges have been charged with three primary functions:

1) Offering transfer curricula for those who wish to complete the first two years of a baccalaureate program. Courses parallel the lower division offerings on the Lexington campus in most areas and are freely transferable to the Lexington campus or to other four-year colleges or universities. Studies show that the student who completes two years at a community college and then transfers to the Lexington campus performs just as well or slightly better during the junior and senior year than does the student who starts his freshman year on the Lexington campus.

- 2) Offering two-year, career-oriented (associate degree) programs designed to prepare the student for immediate employment on a technical or semi-professional level. The Community Colleges in Kentucky are offering such programs in the areas of allied health, business and office technology, agricultural technology and engineering technology. The two-year associate degree programs stand between what the vocational school can do and that which is required in a baccalaureate program.
- 3) Providing continuing educatinal opportunities for the citizens of their immediate area. These include evening classes (credit and non-credit), workshops, seminars, short courses, current series, dramatic arts, exhibits, and folk festivals to meet inservice education and cultural needs as expressed by the community.

Dr. Ellis Hartford, Dean of the Community College System, indicates that "The Community College System fits very nicely into the concept of the Multi-versity—it allows the University to serve more people across the state. It facilitates other units of the University to serve the state in a manner similar to the services provided by the College of Agriculture." Dean Hartford believes "the Community College System is one of President Oswald's greatest achievements-he had many, but this is one of

This "multiplicity of purpose determines the existence of a multi-versity," according to Dean Hartford; 'the term refers to the complexity of a university rather than its structure."

Dean Hartford explains the mission of the Community College System.

The Northern Community College at Covington, established in 1948 as a UK Center, overlooks the Ohio River.

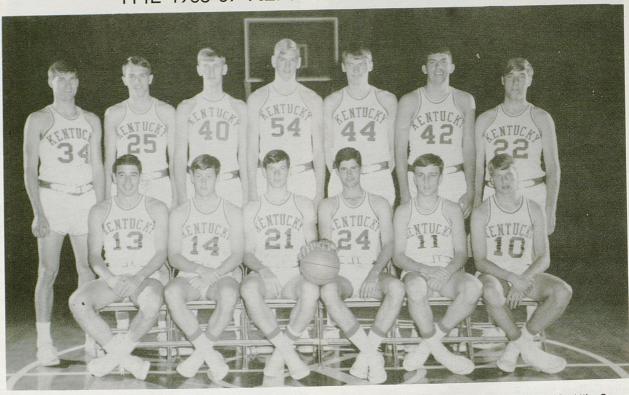

Community College lounges provide a meeting and study area for students.

The Community College library system draws on the Lexington campus for added volumes.
