Unity Dance

FREE

If you are lucky enough to be reading this when it first comes out than Pride Month is not quite over! Everyone is invited to the free Unity Dance on Saturday, June 30 from 9 to 1 at the Continental Inn. The Rock Stars of Soul will enliven your spirits and get you onto the dance floor. There will be refreshments and a cash bar available.

Sponsored by Sisthas in the Life, Ebony Male and GLSO, this will be a wonderful way to end pride month. The Unity Dance is an effort to bring the entire community together. Many of us in the GLBT community envision and work for a more free and just world. As we work towards the elimination of homophobia, we also need to be willing to face the classism, racism, ableism, and other barriers that are within our community. Having fun together is a step in the right direction.

There will also be free anonymous AIDS testing available in a private room of the motel. The oralure method will be used, no blood needs to be drawn. Thanks to volunteers of American for helping make this event possible.

Love, Valor, Compassion

GLSO's ActOut production of Terrence McNally's Tony Award winning Love! Valour! Compassion!, directed by Homer Tracy, opened June 22 at the Lexington Public Library Theater at 140 East Main Street and continues Saturday June 30 at 8 PM and Sunday July 1 at 2 PM.

Originally produced in 1994, Love! Valour! Compassion! is a touching portrayal of eight gay men spending their holidays together in the country. There's Perry, played by Jim Moreton, and Arthur, played by Tom Brown, a professional couple of long standing whose relationship always seems to settle into the loving routine of a couple grown too familiar with one another, but happily so.

Gregory (Rodney Featherson), is an aging choreographer who dotes on his younger lover, Bobby (Troy Johnson), who is blind. Their relationship seems solid until an irresistible dancer, Ramon (Stephen Thornton), callously flaunts his sex appeal and seduces Bobby on the first night.

John Jeckyll (Michael Thompson), is a sour ex-brit who

Coronation

Since 1981, Coronations have provided the Lexington community the opportunity to experience Pageantry. The Imperial Court's twentieth coronation will be no exception. It will be held Sunday, July 8th at the Radisson Hotel, doors open at 5:30. This will be a night to remember.

The theme of coronation is - 2001: The Odyssey Continues, Yea Baby! Yea! The opening number is being choreographed by Chelsea Pearl; the set design is by Cammie Dietrich and Cheyenne, all pros in their fields.

Eligible voters may cast their ballots for Monarchs and Board of Directors starting at 5:30. The show will start approximately at 6:00. Last year coronation was over by 11:30, so do not come too late.continued on page 2 rankles everyone around him. The truth about his ire becomes clear when he has to take care of his twin brother, James. Unlike John, James inspires nothing but affection in those around him. Their relationship is the source of the play's revelations about the related questions of gay identity and self esteem.

Finally, There's Buzz (Darrell Mains), a maniacal lover of the musical theater. Like James, Buzz suffers from AIDS, and he has resigned himself to a life of humorous anecdotes and comforting trivia. Against all odds, Buzz finds himself falling in love for what might be one last summer.

The Broadway production received five Tony Award nominations and wins for McNally (Best New Play) and John Glover (Best Actor) for his portrayal of twins, John and James. A film version was released in 1997 starring Jason Alexander who replaced Nathan Lane in the stage version.

Tickets are $8 and may be reserved by calling 253-3233 or can be purchased at the door. Proceeds benefit the Pride Center.

In addition to the coronation events that evening, two significant awards will be given out. The James "Sweet Evening Breeze" Herndon Lifetime Achievement Award and the Henry Faulkner Award (voted on the night of Coronation.)

Leading up to Coronation, there will be several events. Friday July 6, is the In Town Show held at Club 141 starting promptly at 8:30. Sat. July 7 there are three events: the State Dinner at the Radisson at 5:30, the Out of Town Show featuring performers from across the USA and Canada at Club 141 at 8 pm, and the 9" Males Exotic Review in back of Club 141 at 10:30. Separate admission, in addition to normal cover, is required.

Volunteer Awards Banquet

Many people commented on how much they enjoyed the tenth anniversary banquet this year. The quality of the musical entertainment was particularly appreciated this year, thanks to Another Note and The Lexington Men's Chorus. In addition, we all enjoyed the personal stories that were shared and the warmth of the presentations and acceptances. A number of speakers remembered the groups or gatherings that helped them take their first steps out of the closet.

Volunteers keep our community thriving. Giving public acknowledgement for the many hours of donated time is important, it weaves our community together and it feels wonderful to honor our friends.

The Wasson Volunteer of the Year 2001 Award was given to Michael Thompson who envisioned and created Moveable Feast in 1998 and has worked diligently to see over 45,000 meals delivered over the last three years. He is also the Co-chair of the Ky HIV Prevention Community Planning Group and was recently appointed by Gov. Patton to leadership of the Ky AIDS Advisory Council.

The Rainbow Community Service Award was given to the The Lexington Men's Chorus for their eleven years of beautiful music. They have engendered pride within us and have been emissaries to the greater Lexington community.

Pride Center Opening was Grand

In a fabulous show of support over 125 people attended the Grand Opening of the new GLSO Pride Center of the Bluegrass on June 2. The Center was packed with people enjoying the food and drink, a video presentation, the new library, and just being together in this inviting and comfortable space. There seemed to be a smile on everyone's face.

Thanks must go out to the Pride Center Committee who worked so hard for the last year to make the new facility a reality. Special thanks to Jerry Neff who spearheaded the renovations and to Yvonne and Jeanette, whose artistic talents resulted in a truly beautiful and welcoming décor. To everyone who played a part, big or small, in making the new Pride Center a reality, the community says "Thank You."

Now it is time for you to determine what the Pride Center will be. It is currently being used as meeting space, but it can be so much more. Do you have an event or activity that you would like to hold at the Pride Center? We have had suggestions for a rotating gallery of works by GLBT artists, a monthly reading, and movie nights. What's your idea?

Would you like to see the Center open more hours? Office hours have been established, 9-3 Monday - Friday. These are covered by volunteers so at times you will have to leave a message. More volunteers are needed for afternoon, evening, and weekend hours. It's a good way to meet people.

If you have an idea, want to schedule an event, or can volunteer call the Pride Center at 859-253-3233 or visit the web site a www.bluegrasspride.org.

FMCC SUMMER NEWS

Homosexuality & the Bible Sermon Series Offered

June brought its usual busy times to Faith MCC. We joined the fun at the Pride Picnic and other events throughout the month. Church leadership attended a Faith & Community Workshop ministry and pursuing social justice in a recent hate crime. FMCC joined the Soulforce training and participated in a peaceful outreach to Ashland Ave. Baptist Church. It was an empowering time of challenge and growth as we stood, in love, to ask Ashland Baptist to stop the spiritual violence that is too often a part of Southern Baptist Ministry. FMCC also joined in a local Native American celebration.

July brings about excitement and challenge as the church sends Rev. Mel, Pastor, and a lay delegate to Toronto for the UFMCC General Conference. FMCC worships as usual Sundays at 10:30 am, and will enjoy guest speakers.

July will also be a time to journey once again into a popular sermon series- Homosexuality and the Bible. Come and hear the unique perspective of God's unconditional love for all. Explore your faith and the Scriptures- what do they say, REALLY? The sermon series begin Sunday, July 15, at FMCC. Located at 145 Burt Road, worship begins at 10:30 a.m. Call (859) LEX-FMCC for more information.

Imperial Court of Ky

We have had a grand time during June. On the weekend of June 2, Duke Rob and Baroness II of the Barony of Louisville, Kelly O, Empress 19 Tracy Taylor, and EMPorer 19 Donnie, "E.V." attended the Coronation held in Hamilton, Ontario. Congratulations to John and Tatiana on a fabulous year of fundraising and best wishes to their new monarchs.

On the weekend of June 9. Consort to Emperor 19, Shane, and Emperor 19 Donnie, "E.V." attended the Royal Gala, an Imperial court of Massachusetts event held in cooperation with Boston's Gay Pride events. This court just received it's Imperial Court status change from a Barony this year; it is an exciting time for them. Emperor E.V. was honored to be an MC at the Ball.

The month of June has also been busy with our candidate fundraisers. The excitement is building for Coronation 20 to be held the weekend of July 6-8. The Imperial Court of Ky. invites everyone to attend. See front page story for details.

PRIDE CENTER LIBRARY AWAITS YOU

The Pride Center Library is now open. Located in the Pride Center at 389 Waller Avenue, Suite 100, the collection currently includes over 300 books, magazines, video and audio recordings on a wide variety of GLBTQ subjects. The entire collection is made up of materials donated by individuals in our community and the collection will continue to grow. Donations are tax-deductible and can be brought to the Pride Center.

You can visit the Library, sign up for a library card, and check out materials. Books can be checked out for 4 weeks, videos and audio recordings for 1 week. Magazines and reference books can be used in the Library. Come by and check us out.

The Library is currently open during regular business hours Monday - Friday 9 to 3. We are looking for volunteers to keep the Pride Center and Library open for afternoon, evening and weekend hours. If you are interested, call the Pride Center at 859-253-3233 or visit the website at www.bluegrasspride.org.

Poetry Jam!

On Sunday, July 15, 7 pm at the Pride Center, Tina will be hosting a Poetry Jam. Everyone is invited! We enjoyed the Pride Reading so much we want to make it a regular occurrence. We will strive to make these readings a safe place for all people. Come read your work, or listen to others read. Prose is also acceptable. Perhaps we will hear another installment of Judy's novel! Bring a snack to share if you are so inclined.

Family movies at the Pride Center

On Friday, July 13, at 7 pm the Pride Center will host Family Movie Night. This month's selection is The Incredible True Adventure of Two Girls in Love. This is a fun tale of two dissimilar high school girls who discover each other in spite of their differences. An upbeat movie that accurately portrays aspects of lesbian culture.

Diversity Film apologizes that the film My Own Country was unable to be shown at the Library last month. we now have a video copy and will be showing it at the Pride Center later in the summer or fall.

METEOR, MAYBE

By ReINETTE F. Jones

This time last year there was a meteor shower containing homogeneous particles. It occurred during Pride Month, but you probably did not hear about it. News of the event was covered in the alternative media and it wasn't considered a danger to national security or to civilization, and it was thought that most of the particles would disintegrate long before they reached the surface of earth. There is already quite a few Martian Meteorites in Antarctica.

But there was something odd about this particular meteor shower. Individuals, who keep watch for other life forms, noted that within the stream of particles were two parallel particles. The distance between the objects was filled with pinpoints of black twinkling lights. The lights were thought to be trapped de-lumiance that had collected as the shower traveled through space.

Or, the lights may have been a connector of some kind, like the corpus callosum found between the two hemispheres of the human brain. For humans, the right hemisphere controls the left side of the body and the left hemisphere controls the right side of the body; the parallel objects may have been side by side because each some how controlled the other via the lights between the two. The particles were so similar in structure that they were referred to as being homogeneous. (Which, by they way, has nothing to do with the lesbian couple who both have the name Jean.)

The particles were noted during the month of June, which is also Pride Month. The possible connection between the meteor shower and the month was down played for fear that it would be thought that a celestial body from beyond had intentionally sent forth a gay pride greeting. And who is to say that was not the case. Like many meteors before them, the particles entered earth's atmosphere and ignited, lightning up the sky with a streak of brilliant light, then disintegrated into a fine dust that settled upon the earth. An observer was quoted as saying, "That was the best darn drag show that I had ever seen."

Why did the earth pass through that particular belt of particles? No one knows. The shower was not a periodic shower, which means that it will not appear at the same time each year. It may never appear again. Videos of the event were available on-line last year, but due to lack of interest, the site has been removed.

All meteor showers provide information about the distribution of matter in the solar system and they have been recorded for more than 3000 years. At one point, anything that fell from the sky was called a meteor: rain, snow, hail, and lightning. Later observers thought the meteor showers were magical events. With the development of science, it was later learned that they originate in space beyond the earth's atmosphere.

Maybe, just maybe, something out there was trying to get our attention by throwing two hot rocks toward earth. Or, perhaps there really was a Pride Month greeting in the whole magical mix. It could always be just a plain meteor shower. But that would be too common, and those parallel particles with the fancy lights had to have been anything but common.
