GLEE CLUB CONCERT

Recital in Chapel by University Glee Club, March 4, 8:15 p. m.

The one true college custom that State enjoys is the support of a Glee Club, and one of which she well might be proud. A college without a Glee Club is an institution that is lacking in an organization that is cherished by true college men, and around which many pleasant memories cluster. Nothing tends to develop good fellowship more than a College Glee Club and to be a member of such an organization is an honor much sought after. This is especially true of the older colleges in this country.

On Friday evening, March 4, at 8:15 o'clock, the University Glee Club will give their first concert of the year in Lexington; and it will be held in the University chapel. The hall will be decorated with college pennants and bunting and also hot house plants, and with the Glee Club in full evening dress will present a most charming picture.

The program has not been definitely decided upon as yet. The soloists for this concert will be, Mr. Herbert Marxmiller, violinist, Master Cecil Noe, cornetist, Mr. George Becker, bass and Mr. Ernest Becker, tenor. Mr. Wm. Thiesing will render the famous toasting song, "Heidelberg," assisted by the Glee Club.

Mr. Marxmiller, violinist, hardly needs mention. His excellent playing has already received favorable criticism from many eminent violinists of the day. Master Cecil Noe who is the son of Prof. Noe; although a boy in years, plays better than most of the so-called professional players. The bass solos will be ably taken care of by Mr. George Becker, who possesses one of the best bass voices in Lexington, rich in quality and tone as well as in volume. Mr. Ernest Becker who will sing the tenor solos is a new man in Lexington, having come from Purdue University, where he sang with the Glee Club at that institution. Mr. Wm. Thiesing although not prominent on the program, possesses a voice of most pleasing quality and sweetness.

The quartet is composed of E. L. Becker, first tenor, H. B. Hedges, second tenor, V. Y. Moore, baritone, and George Becker, bass. This part of the program will be well taken care of, judging by the favorable comment they have received on their various appearances.

The work of the Glee Club will be one of the big features of the program. Under the direction of Prof. F. L. Wheeler they sing with expression and quality, which can be only obtained by careful and diligent work. To drill a Glee Club to perform creditably is a task of no mean pretensions and to Prof. Wheeler belongs a large share of the praise for the good work of the club. The Glee Club has prepared numerous encores and will be prepared to answer all encores. Mr. Raymond Tichenor will be the accompanist for the concert. Mr. Tichenor is without a doubt one of the best pianists in school and is a valuable help to the Glee Club. The students of the University will be admitted on a special rate. Tickets for this concert can be obtained from any of the members of the club. Below is given a list of the members composing the club.

First tenors—M. A. Cleveland, H. B. Hedges, Ralph Skiff, C. W. Coffey, E. L. Becker.

Second Tenors—A. E. Ewan, R. M. Hailey, F. C. McIntyre, O. F. Floyd, W. F. Thiesing, R. L. Simms.

Baritone—R. R. Atkins, J. H. Wadsworth, C. B. Ellis, V. Y. Moore
Bass—V. P. Ligon, Paul Francis, Geo. Becker.

Remember the date—Friday, March 4, 8:15 p. m. University Chapel.

LAWYERS LEARN PRACTICAL LESSONS.

Real Property Class Taken To the County Courthouse For Work.

On Monday afternoon Professor Moore took his class in Real Property to the County Clerk's office in the courthouse and gave them a practical demonstration in the abstracting of deeds from the County Court records. About twenty-five members were present.

From time to time from now until school is out Mr. Moore will take his classes to the courthouse and continue these practical demonstrations.

JUNIOR PROM. FRIDAY, MAY 6.

Elaborate Arrangements Are Being Made.

At a meeting of the Junior Class, held Monday afternoon at 3:30 in the Y. M. C. A. rooms the date of Friday, May 6th, was decided upon for the holding of the Annual Junior "Prom."

The class did not decide upon the place where the "Prom" will be held, but it is generally understood that it will be held in the Gymnasium Building, either in the Gymnasium proper or the Armory. A committee composed of Miss Frances Hughes and Messrs. Weller and Lytle, was appointed to select the place where it will be held.

At the meeting it was also decided to appoint three members of the class who will appoint all committees on arrangements for the "Prom." The three selected are: President W. W. Stevenson and Messrs. Paul Francis and J. A. Boyd.

There is a standing committee on programs composed of the following: Miss Alice Carey Williams, President W. W. Stevenson and Messrs. L. L. Adams, Floyd Naylor and F. T. Miles. This committee is negotiating with the firm of K. Wright and Co., of Philadelphia, and the programs will be the most elaborate ever used by a junior class.

President W. W. Stevenson, in speaking to an Idea representative relative to the place for giving the "Prom." said that it had been practically decided that it would not be at Merriek Lodge but would be some place on the campus.

OFF TO FRANKFORT.

Lawyers Visit the Capital and Learn How the Laws Are Made.

When the Idea went to press Wednesday morning, the students of the College of Law were making preparations to spend Thursday in Frankfort. About two-thirds of the entire students expressed their intention of making the trip, and quite a number will stay over Thursday night for the Assembly Ball.

JUDGE FAULKNER TO SENIOR LAW CLASS

Delivers an Interesting Lecture on "Practice in the Federal Courts."

Judge H. C. Faulkner, of Williams-town, Ky., delivered an interesting and instructive lecture to the Senior Law Class Monday afternoon upon the "Practice and Procedure in Federal Courts." Judge Faulkner told in a clear and concise manner just what cases are tried in Federal Courts, how Federal Courts were established and what were the possibilities of young lawyers in these courts.

Between this and June Judge Faulkner will deliver two more lectures to the Senior Class, and will be welcomed whenever he comes, as his lecture was enjoyed very much by all who heard it.

CO-ED BASKET BALL TEAM DOING FAST WORK.

Outshining all Previous Years in Number of Victories Won.

The girls' basket ball team certainly is going some. Since the last issue of the Idea three games have been played. The team went to Somerset the latter part of last week, and won by the score of,—well, we don't care to publish it.

On Monday of this week an invasion of the fair county of Clark was made and the Winchester damsels suffered defeat in the score of 27 to 10. Wednesday evening a game was scheduled with the young ladies of the Paris High School, but the Idea was unable to handle an account of the game as it had already gone to press with its forms.

The varsity basket ball team will play Central University in Buell Armory Saturday afternoon, and what it will do to the proud Danvillites will be an ample sufficiency. Come out and see how the championship hopes of our foot ball children vanish before the blue and white.

HERE AND THERE.

On last Saturday evening a military ball was given by the members of the Band for the purpose of obtaining funds with which to purchase new instruments. On the same evening Mrs. Hughes gave her regular weekly dancing lessons.

We went to both places. At the university there were about 50 or 60 boys, and at Mrs. Hughes' there were at least twenty male students from the University. Is it possible that out of the entire student body there are less than a hundred who dance? Is it the right kind of college spirit for one-third of the less than one hundred feet slingers to prefer a regular weekly affair that has nothing whatever to do with the University to an affair, far more brilliant, and far more attractive, which was given by the University itself?

We will not attempt to answer these questions. We will say nothing about persons who profit by the patronage of the University refusing to work in harmony with the University. But we feel compelled to state that the students, who are sole masters of the situation, if they choose to be, might at least take it upon themselves to make the proposition plain.

This was the first time the military department has ever undertaken anything of this kind. We do not know whether it was a success or a failure. But, it was not supported as it should have been supported.

The price at Mrs. Hughes' was fifty cents. The price at the ball was fifty cents, if you brought a girl, and seventy-five, if you did not.

To those who attended Mrs. Hughes' on that night, and to those who stayed away without any reason, we simply wish to ask this question,—Way down deep in your conscience, don't you feel ashamed of yourself?

The sun shines, warm airs heat the atmosphere, sprigs of green peep through the deadened sod, scattered robins sit from tree to tree and show the first signs of love-making, and the lure of the campus calls to the student from afar to cut his classes, shed his coat and bask in the golden warmth as in days of old. Who could resist the temptation?

Seen about the campus—one loving pair walking arm in arm. Behind it all there is a flunk grade in Physics and a poetic dream of the magnetism of gold, locked in the locks of a maiden's hair.

What has the legislature done? What will we do if it don't do more.

She stoops to conquer—she is a football player in a woman's suffrage Eutopia. We will have to tackle low when co-eds get their rights and compel all male students to spend their time in domestic science classes, while the fair ones practice goal kicking from the forty-yard line.

The Navy department has accepted the resignations of ten midshipmen who failed to pass their semi-annual examinations. Other dismissals are to follow.

A prize of one thousand dollars has been offered through Professor C. F. Hodge, of Clark University, for the finding of a wild pigeon nest.

Forty thousand persons have received an education at the University of Michigan.

Not Actually Necessary.

The lawyer proceeded to examine the witness.

"Pardon the question, Mrs. Chucksley," he said, "but your answer constitutes a part of the record. How old are you?"

"Why, you ought to know, Mr. Sharpe," she answered; "my birthday is the same as yours, only I was born ten years later than you were."

"Ah, yes, I remember. Well, it isn't important, anyhow. Go ahead, Mrs. Chucksley, and tell the jury what you know about this case."

The Boy Critic.

Richard Croker, at an open-air luncheon at Palm Beach, told a George Washington story.

"A teacher," he began, "was conducting a lesson in history.

"Tommy Jones," she said, "what was there about George Washington which distinguished him from all other Americans?"

"He didn't lie," was the prompt reply.

The lawyer (cross-examining)—Now, what did you say your first name was?

The Witness (cautiously)—Waal, I was baptized John Henry.

The Lawyer—You were, were you? How do you know you were?

The Witness—Waal, I was there, you know.

The Lawyer—Huh! How do you know you were there?

The Witness—Why, I couldn't have been baptized otherwise. And, besides I think I can remember it quite well.

The Lawyer—Ho, you do, do you?

The Witness—Waal—er—yes.

The Lawyer (deeply sarcastic)—Kindly explain to the court and jury, my friend with the phenomenal memory, an infant in arms came to remember that ceremony so well, will you?

The Witness—Waal,—er—you see. I wasn't baptized until I was 18 years old.—Central Law Journal.

"Your act," stated the lawyer, "is declared to be deliberate, intentional, wilful, obstinate, evil, anarchistic, wanton, malicious, autocratic and menacing."

"Golly," faltered the teamster, who had blocked traffic for a few moments "better lemme go to jail, boss. You can't clear me of all that."—Central Law Journal.

A lady in Los Angeles greatly delighted her Chinese cook by permitting him to prepare the cake for a special occasion. When the time for cake came, he proudly placed upon the table before his astonished mistress and her guests, who he hoped to surprise and please, a beautiful cake bearing the motto: "Prepare to Meet Thy God."

Miss Mary Spencer was the guest of Miss Georgia Swinney in Eminence from Monday until Wednesday.

Miss Lillian Ferguson went to Louisville Wednesday and will be the guest of friends there until Monday.

Misses Marietta Cassady and Mattie Cary of Versailles, spent Monday night in Lexington.

An event of this week which is being looked forward to with much pleasure is the Glee Club Concert Friday night. Other attractions besides the excellent music of the Glee Club will be violin and cornet solos by Herbert Marxmiller and Cecil Noe.

After a heated discussion the Junior class decided at a called meeting on Monday afternoon to have their "Prom" in the gymnasium building.

Mr. M. C. Spradling, a Senior in the College of Law, has recently been appointed a special agent of the Census Bureau for the collection of statistics of manufactures, mines and quarries of the Lexington district and eight counties.

Misses Annie and Addie Dean spent Sunday with Miss Dolly Battaile.

Miss Hazel Swaberg of Newport, was the guest of Miss Gail Parker at Patterson Hall from Friday until Tuesday last week.

It is rumored that the Senior Mechanics are contemplating a trip East instead of their customary trip to Chicago.

At the regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. Sunday night the following officers for the ensuing year were elected. Miss Anne Simrall, President; Miss Gail Parker, Vice President; Miss Jessie Milton Jones, Secretary and Treasurer.

It is with a great deal of surprise that many of us hear that this year's catalogue will show about forty-five graduate students.

At a meeting of the Neville Literary Society Friday Miss Alice Cary Williams was elected President, the other officers to be elected at the next meeting.

Miss Mamie Taylor has been quite ill, at her home on Fourth Street.

Professor J. Morton Davis has been confined at home with the grippe since last week and continues quite sick.

Professor Melcher went to Frankfort, "in the form," Tuesday.

Miss Ella Buckner visited the University Tuesday, whereupon Mrs. Blackburn immediately blessed her dear, sweet life.

The student body of State with bowed heads sorrowfully mourns, "Irvin is no more," the reason for this unprecedented grief being that Mr. Irvin Hughes has accepted a position in the mountains, his original habitat, and will attend school no more. Thus endeth a glorious career.

Not long ago we heard that basket ball among girls at State University was to be discontinued. On the contrary, it is being "very much continued." And our girls are making a splendid record. Never before have they played more and better games. Only one lost. What a record.

Mr. Harry A. Davis, '09, of Altoona, Pa., is visiting friends in Lexington this week.

Mr. Harry E. Eifort, '09, of Lima, O., visited State Sunday and Monday.

Cadet Military Ball.

How proud we are to know that we have had a really truly Cadet Military Ball. How proud we are of our band for they certainly covered themselves with glory Friday night. Everybody pronounced it splendid. Seldom is it our good fortune to "trip the light fantastic," to the strains of military music and it is needless to add that we all appreciated the opportunity.

Buell Armory was decorated artistically and appropriately in United States flags, guns, sabres and incandescent lights. The interior of the Armory has recently been painted and the floor was in excellent condition. In fact the dance was one of the most successful given this year. The dance opened with a grand march led by Colonel and Mrs. Corbusier. The band, under the able direction of R. A. Grella, rendered the following program of dances.

Two Step—Jersey Carnival—Liebenfeld.

Waltz—Day Dream—Lampe.

Two Step—Lucy Anna—Bauer.

Waltz—I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now.

Two Step—Home Coming March—Paull.

Waltz—Sweet Repose—Witt.

The Miami student has departed from the regular routine of College journalism, and produced one of the most sensational yellow journals that has been put forth in recent years. It replaces one of the regular issues of the regular daily under the name of "The Expunger," and truly yellow journalism in every sense of the word. It appears on bright yellow paper and the sensational heads are certainly a work of art. To a thrilling account of a daring gymnasium robbery is devoted a big four-column head. The bold robber made away with a much valued box of Colgate's talcum powder and a bottle of Blatz's beer which had been used for rub-down purposes. The robber was tracked by foot-prints in the mud to an open place on the campus, where all signs suddenly disappeared. Other startling events are written in a blood-curdling, hair-raising manner.

out a Championship nine at the University of Pennsylvania last year, and who has signed a new two-years' coaching contract, has had perhaps more success drilling young college players into good ball players than any other big league instructor. Mathewson, Keeler, Jennings, Lush, Clarke, Dineen and many others have had the task of coaching collegiate teams, but none of them have made e success Thomas has had.

Harvard and Amherst have dropped basket ball; Brown is contemplating doing so; Yale cut its schedule down to eight games, and may quit the game after 1911; while conditions at Penn and Columbia seem to indicate a lack of interest. Columbia looks like the champion in the East, while the Western title hinges on the Minnesota-Chicago game at Chicago.

Joe Horner, of Michigan, will compete in the all-round championship.

ANNUAL COLUMN

FRESHMEN.

You, of the class, who are interested in the welfare of our class and in seeing it represented in the beautiful 1910 Kentuckian are earnestly requested to see Mr. J. S. Chambers, our Treasurer, and (if you have not already done so), pay your Annual assessment of 50 cents and your remaining class dues.

President of Class.

ANNUAL ECHOES.

Holy Gee; have you been in the annual room lately. "By Gad," they are going to have the best annual ever this year. If they have not got your picture in one of your most curlicant poses your name will appear in some joke or other. A "slap at everybody, missing nobody," is their motto.

So if you don't want the home folks and the "little one" to see what your doing in "old State" you had better tell O'Rourke, or some of those fellows not to count your subscription.

SOON GOES TO PRINT.

Fellows the Kentuckian will soon go to print and we are doing everything to make it an attractive and handsome book. But we cannot put out the book we ought to unless you subscribe for it. We now have about 450 or 500 subscriptions but there are a great many here who have not signed a card. Now if you want an annual you had better see one of the staff and sign a card; for we positively will not order any more annuals than are ordered and only those who have signed cards will get them.

STOP! LOOK! LISTEN!

Seniors, Juniors, Sophomores and Freshmen, all bills for space in the 1910 Kentuckian are past due. If you are a member of a Fraternity, society, or any organization which has contracted for space in the Kentuckian, make it your business to see that the account is settled at once.

Local faculty authorities will decide whether the collegiates may play professionals.

The annual Oxford and Cambridge sports will take place at the Queen's Club, London, on March 19.

NO LETTER BUT THE OFFICIAL "K"

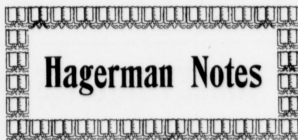

Can Be Worn on University Campus
Rules the "K" Association.

Prep and High School Honors Must Be Forgotten.

At chapel Monday morning, Mr. C. B. Ellis, president of the "K" Association, announced that that body had decided that no member of the student body shall be allowed to wear any letter other than the official "K" won on the athletic field, and that the action of the association was backed by the members of the Faculty.

This means that all High School, Prep and Class letters shall be abolished, and that anyone who wished to disport a sign of his athletic prowess and his physical honors must get out and make one of the teams.

As it is, many of the students who have won letters at other places make no effort to increase their honors here and it is thought that this has a tendency to diminish the support of athletics. An effort has been made all during recent years to prevent classes from awarding anything like an official letter, but some of the classes have so nearly approached the real thing in their imitations that some drastic measures have been made necessary. There are quite a number of students who dislike the idea of being forced to let others dictate to them what they shall wear, but the majority is in favor of the action, and there is no doubt that it will have a wholesome influence on athletics generally.

A dispatch from Oxford, England, Feb. 27th, says: George E. Putnam, of Kansas, and L. C. Hull, of Michigan, both Rhodes scholars at the University here, won the hammer throwing and quarter mile events, respectively, at the Varsity meet held here this afternoon. Putnam threw the hammer 151 feet 5 inches. Hull ran the quarter mile in 52½ seconds. Putnam's throw breaks the Intersarsity record of 138 feet 10 inches, established in the Oxford-Cambridge meet in 1909.

About 110 men have registered for crew work at Cornell, 56 of these being varsity candidates. The freshmen probably won't be more than 60 altogether, because Coach Courtney had a chance last fall to weed a lot of men out of the squad of more than 130 members of the 1913 class he had at one time.

Pennsylvania will not have a race with Yale as part of the preliminary training this year. There will be no competitions with colleges, except the usual second crew race with Cornell. Ellis Ward has hit upon the plan of frequent races with Schuylkill Club crews, and these will make up the greater part of Penn's training for the competitions at Poughkeepsie.

Harvard, under Jim Lathrop's coaching, won seven out of ten dual meets with Yale, according to information furnished to President Van Hise, of Wisconsin, when he was making up his mind about selecting a track coach.

You Get Three Guesses.

(Lippincott's.)

I saw a man once kiss a girl,
While on a joyous spree,
Now which of us was loveliest—
The man, the girl, or me?
