"THE FIRST AND LAST" TO BE GIVEN MARCH 27

Cast is Composed of Mrs. Cave, Mr. Mikesell and Gus Gay

The second of the Little Theatre evening programs will be given Monday and Tuesday evening, March 27 and 28 at 8:15 o'clock, when John Galsworthy's play "The First and Last" will be presented.

The characters in the play will be: Wanda ..... Mrs. Sallie Bullock Cave Larry ..... Mr. Gus Gay Keith ..... Prof. W. H. Mikesell Mrs. Cave is well known in dramatic circles in Lexington having taken part in and directed many plays. Professor Mikesell is head of the Department of Public Speaking of the University and his appearance will be of interest to students and faculty members.

"The First and Last" is a three-scene play with an English setting. It portrays with vivid and tragic style the limit to which one will go in upholding the honor and fame of family. It promises to be one of the best plays given in the Little Theatre this season.

As an attractive feature of entertainment, Tom Young, a student in the Art Department, will present his Marionette show, which has been presented successfully before the Faculty Club the State Legislature and the Sophomore chapel.

The new set of scenery which has recently been made for the Little Theatre by students of the Art Department under the supervision of Miss Belle Bates, will be used for the first time.

The first night will, as usual, be primarily for the faculty and townspeople, and the second night for the student body;

SUMMER CAMP WILL BE OPENED JUNE 15

Twenty-Five Basic Course Men Will Enter Camp Knox

The R. O. T. C. summer training camp at Camp Knox for the Basic Courses in Infantry, which opens June 15, will accommodate 25 men from the University of Kentucky. Students from only the freshman and sophomore classes are admitted into this course. The United States government will pay all expenses for the student while in camp. His transportation there and on return will be paid as well.

The plan of the camp program is interesting and liberal. In the morning the cadet will attend classes and other work in military sciences and the afternoon will be given over to sports, such as wrestling, boxing, baseball, tennis and swimming. In the evenings there will be dances, parties and picture shows, all of which are given by the government free of charge on the part of the cadet. During the five weeks of the camp, which will close July 25, there will be many trips and excursions of interest.

It is the wish of the officers of the Military Department to send to Camp Knox twenty-five splendid, representative men of the University. It is an exceptional opportunity for the students and for the University. The training received in the R. O. T. C. camp develops strong college spirit, stimulates the desire for discipline and instills a lively feeling of competition in the student.

All Freshman and Sophomore cadets who can possibly attend the training camp are requested to turn their names into the Military Department as soon as possible as a report must be made to the officials of the camp by April 1.

UNIVERSITY DEFEATS GEORGETOWN IN DEBATE

Hays, Neal and Peal Successful in First Contest of Season

The University of Kentucky represented by John L. Hays, Sidney Neal and W. H. Peal, opened its debating season with a victory over Georgetown College, Friday evening, March 17, 1922.

The team went to Georgetown Friday afternoon and were entertained at the home of Colonel T. K. Schuff at his country home two miles east of Georgetown. The contest was held in the chapel of the College, and about three hundred people were present. Georgetown was represented by Marvin Adams, W. H. Lopstein and George Ragland, Jr. The Georgetown team showed quickness and ability, but lacked the careful preparation and study of the subject shown by the University boys.

The subject was the same as that for all the debates of the season except that of Harvard: Resolved that the United States should adopt as a permanent measure the three per cent law of 1920, known as the Dillingham Bill. The judges were Prof. H. V. Chesney of Frankfort, Dr. McQuarry of Transylvania, and the Reverend Mr. Bass of Georgetown.

DATE FOR PLAY CHANGED

The date for "The Thirteenth Chair" the Stroller play which was announced for March 31 has been changed to April 20 and 21. This change was necessitated by the absence of Prof. Carol Sax who was called home because of the death of his father. His absence delayed the painting of scenery to be used in the play, as he was supervising this work.

COLLEGES ARE AIDING FORMER SERVICE MEN

Special Mining Courses Are Given at University of Kentucky

The United States Veterans Bureau has under its jurisdiction about 600 disabled former service men who have been placed in training in the Universities and colleges in the Lexington District. These men are being given elementary education and instructed in mining work, electrical work, agriculture, law, engineering, commercial business and a number of trades and crafts.

The work in elementary education at the University is being taught in what is known as the guidance school which is for the training of men who are not advanced enough to carry regular courses. The Veterans Bureau has leased the building at 338 Harrison ave. and has supplied teachers to instruct men in these branches.

A special mining course has been established at the University for the benefit of men who have had five years or more experience in mining and who desire to fit themselves for mine engineers, mine foremen and minor executive positions in the mining industry.

Special facilities for teaching practical electricity and mechanics have been instituted by the University and about fifty former service men are taking advantage of the opportunity to gain information along these lines. There is a great demand for skilled men in these lines and the men who complete this course will find very remunerative employment.

There are about sixty men enrolled in the University who are specializing in agriculture. These men are mostly the owners of land in Eastern Kentucky and it is their intention upon completion of their course to follow the vocation of semi-technical agriculture or some speciality relative to agriculture.

Juniors in Mining Dept. To Make Inspection Trip

The third annual inspection trip of juniors from the Department of Mines and Metallurgy to manufacturing plants at Knoxville, Tenn., and Birmingham, Ala., will start April 2 and end April 9. Professor C. S. Crouse will conduct the party and have charge of the arrangements.

The following will leave Lexington Saturday night: Paul Cain, C. S. Carter, H. M. Clay, P. C. Embrath, T. H. Hagan, Owen Kelley, C. H. Hahoney, G. M. Patterson, W. H. Roll, R. W. Sauer, and M. T. Skidmore.

WHITING WILLIAMS IS INTERESTING SPEAKER

International Authority on Labor Questions Pleases Chapel Audience

One of the most entertaining and enlightening addresses heard in the Chapel this season was the lecture given Wednesday morning by Whiting Williams, international authority on labor questions. Leaving his position as vice-president of the Hydraulic Pressed Steel Company in Cleveland, Mr. Williams donned workman's clothes to get the workingman's point of view on these questions. Since this time he has labored as a miner, steel worker and shipyard employee in the United States, Great Britain, France and Germany.

In prefacing his remarks Mr. Williams stressed the fact that the common laborer is the basis of the industrial structure and that his mind must be understood if one is to grasp the situation in its true character. To get the one must keep four big things in mind, first, the tremendous importance to labor, of having and holding a job. "This," he said, "is where the whole industrial labor question starts." The demoralization of not having a steady job is one of the problems which these classes have to meet.

The second question concerns the physical condition of the job. This implies that unrest and Bolshevism are much more likely to occur where men's minds and bodies are daily being exhausted. Glasgow was cited as the most revolutionary of European cities and this is due to the fact that living conditions are so bad.

Thirdly, he spoke of the spirituality aspects of a job that gives workmen their self-respect. Pride in one's achievements and praise for the job well-done tend towards promoting satisfaction and enthusiasm. The fourth point emphasized the mental attitude. Machinery is just as difficult to cope with as the human mind.

COACH PARKS WILL CUT SQUAD OF 50 NEXT WEEK

Strong Competition is Expected After Players Are Tried Out

Last Monday afternoon baseball Coach Parks walked into the gym all bundled up like an arctic explorer, where he was greeted by a volley of "quiries of: "Any practice today, Coach?"

Owing to the inclement weather outdoor practice was suspended temporarily and the pitchers and catchers went through a brisk workout in the gymnasium. Outdoor practice will be resumed as soon as the weather permits.

Coach Parks reports that he has about fifty men out for the team, his biggest problem being to develop several good pitchers and catchers out of the material he has on hand. No definite information could be given out as to those who will make the squad this early in the season, but Coach Parks stated that if the weather permitted outdoor work this week he would be able to make his first cut of the squad next week.

But he's really trying out for Sales Manager

THE freshman who comes out for baseball manager and who sticks is learning a lesson which, whether or not it wins that honor for him, should win some honors in after life.

He will learn that his plugging on the diamond, his efforts four years hence to get the upper hand on his first job, and after that his striving to climb into the managerial and executive class are all part of the same game.

Now, just as ten years from now, he will have to do many things that are hard, many things that are unpleasant. The more willing he is, the more work will other men put upon him. But by that he grows.

The rewards after college are given on about the same basis as now. They go to the man who besides doing his main job well, still has the time to reach out after other work and the spirit that masters it.

Here is where this comes home to you. Don't be content with standing high in the classroom. Support your college activities and go after some campus honors too. This broadening of your interests will become a habit that in after life will prove a mighty big help.

Student Loan Fund Grows

The Fund for aiding worthy students which originated among alumni of the University as a few hundred dollars is now not far from the ten thousand dollar mark. Plans are maturing for raising this to $50,000.
 Professor W. E. Webb '01, chairman of the University Committee, which now handles all applications for loans, has started a letter campaign which is getting wonderful results. Alumni have been among the largest donors, but civic clubs throughout the State have taken an increasing interest in the movement and are raising considerable sums. One of the first of these is the Woman's History Club of Mt. Sterling, where the work was under the direction of Mrs. Nell W. Duerson '03. One hundred dollars was raised already and Mrs. Duerson says the fund will be increased.

Executive Committee Will Meet

The Alumni Re-Union in June will be one of the principal matters taken up at a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Association some time next week.

A detailed report on legislation will be made by Herbert Graham, who represented the University and the Association at Frankfort during the entire session of the General Assembly. Ballots for the election of officers of the Association will be prepared for distribution April 1. Amendments to the Constitution will be considered at the same time. Some action will be taken on an extension policy for the Association.

"Our Cause is Right"

"The Legislature has adjourned but the work for Kentucky must never adjourn," says President Rodman Wiley in an open letter to the alumni.
 "Let us not wait until two or three months before the next Legislature convenes to let the people know what is needed to be done by Kentucky for education."

"It has always been my belief that the majority will do the right thing if they know the facts. Tell the people what Kentucky is doing for Kentucky. By all means don't become discouraged. It is in time of trouble or distress that strong men and women are needed. Our cause is right. Let us go ahead to the end that Kentucky will be recognized as one of the great universities of America."

"Kentuckians" Serve State

Countless alumni are serving the State as county and commonwealth attorneys, judges, mayors, commissioners, high and low State officials, superintendents of schools, heads of departments in colleges and universities and in other posts. More alumni will be candidates for office in the next election because of a recognized fitness for public service. Two have announced already for Congress.
 Ten thousand former students of the University are scattered throughout Kentucky. They are prominent in business and in the progressions. Their type will be called on more often in the next decade to hold public office.

RELATION STANDING OF CLASS

The Class organization is one of the strongest units in any Alumni organization. The class secretary is the keystone. University of Kentucky class secretaries are above the average reported by the Association of Alumni Secretaries. Fine work has been done in the last year and a half. The percent of active members has risen from 11 to 32.

McCracken Club Will Meet

The McCracken County Club has been on a vacation for the past few weeks owing to the fact of so many high school activities in progress around here. On April 3 the club will hold its regular meeting here in Paducah. The club has now about thirty active members while there are possible twenty more K. U. Alumni in the county whom we find impossible to interest in any thing.

The McCracken County Club meets on the first Tuesday night in each month and on May 2 officers for the next year will be elected. We all were glad to hear that Kentucky's world famous "Monkey Bill" was finally rightly disposed of and that once again our old State can lift her head from the depth of shame.
 CARL H. DENKER '19, President.

Betwixt Us

Recently an alumnus, who is a life member of the Association, sent in dues for one year and asked that Kernel be sent "where it would do the most good." The Kernel was immediately started to a classmate and after two issues, this alumnus sent in dues. The Kernel is being started to another classmate this week. A class secretary has taken this method of awakening interest in the Alma Mater with his classmates and is getting results. Do a little missionary work with the Kernel and bring them into line.

The Game

Joy ride and the girls ride with you; Stroll, and you stroll alone, For this is the day of the damsels gay, Who consider the stroller a drone.

Feast, and the girls feast with you; Fast, and you fast uncheered, For they like to dine and drink rare wine, And dance when the floor is cleared.

Flirt, and the girls flirt with you; Don't and they count you slow, For they play with you so you must play too.

WISE BOY

"Oh! tell me, Adam, tell me,"
 Fair Eve quaintly said,
 "Why do you hate the summer
 And pray for cold instead?"
 Then Adam softly answered
 In sort of foolish drawl,
 "I'm not so much for winter
 Till the leaves begin to fall."

Roses are red
 And violets are blue;
 Garlic is strong—
 I'm garlic for you.

THANKS FOR "THEIR" KIND WORDS

Mrs. Asquith has come and has gone. The "Irrepressible Margot" is not the greatest of the European visitors who have come to our shores in the last few months, but she is easily the most frank. We learn from her few hundred interviews that she likes our jazz music; that she finds the American man a better type than the American woman; that she does not dread the evil effects of the flapper; that the American reads too much, and that we really are a polite nation. Mrs. Asquith has caustic criticism for the young girls who drink "moonshine," and she calls attention to the fact that we Americans have not yet learned to entertain properly. Taken all in all, the famous diarist has given us a good natured estimate of ourselves.

Like the child who is too frank, Mrs. Asquith is always interesting even though she is sometimes indiscreet. Some Americans do not relish the idea of her talking so freely about them, but they should not expect her to keep silent about little personal indiscretions when she printed her own love letters in her autobiography and gave a list of the men who had proposed to her. The joke of it all lies in the attention America gives to criticism, from our European visitors. A little more dignity and self possession on our part would be answered by a similar regard from them. We have reached the stage now where we have to be neither defiant nor servile. We can afford to thank our visitors for their opinions, and then do as we ourselves think fit.

LABOR PROBLEMS BROUGHT TO THE FORE

The visit of Whiting Williams, authority on labor problems, is a most significant event to the students of the University. It is another proof of that awakened interest in the lives of the workers on the part of our college students. Our engineering schools, our commercial courses and our financial studies have done much to improve business, and make it more efficient, but higher education has as yet been neglectful of actual living conditions of the workers. Here and there professors like Jacob Steiner and Sherman Rogers have studied the industrial worker with sympathy and understanding, but these men have been exceptions to the rule.

The time has come when the college bred must take notice of the laboring classes, because classes have learned the value of organization as well as the capitalistic classes. Leaders of labor unions are men with tremendous power, and with all the methods of a large business. The labor leader in his spacious Washington office is as real a factor in legislation as are his former oppressors. These men should be carefully trained college men, for the problems of labor organization and control require the same careful study and consideration as banking or legal questions. And to give them this study we must understand the men behind these organizations. Whiting Williams has the right idea; he knows that before we can gain industrial peace, we must know the lives and minds of the laborers themselves.

"PUSSYFOOT"

We unite with the citizens of Lexington in extending a hearty welcome to "Pussyfoot" Johnson, the distinguished Temperance advocate, but after reading some of the recent newspaper stories about the discovery of the plesiosaurus in South America, we are generous enough to concede that that country needs him more than we do.

Of course it is true that the framers of the constitution provided for free speech, but how could they reasonably be expected to know what the debate on the Four Power Treaty would bring forth?

We Kentuckians never do anything by halves. Three years ago the American Legion fought to keep him from appearing in Kentucky. This year we all fought to get a chance to hear him.

PAYMENT OF CLASS DUES.

In order to make anything go in these days, it is more than necessary to have cooperation. If there is any place where cooperation ought to be fostered and developed, it is in the University. Class organization is necessary in order that the members of the class may do various things for their own interests and for the welfare of the University. To maintain these class organizations, it is essential to have some money, so class dues are levied for that purpose.

The student who fails to pay his class dues makes it just that much more difficult to carry on these enterprises and, in addition, throws a great burden on those who are loyal to their class and prompt in their payments. A larger number than there ought to be have failed to pay their dues this year. I am asking that the members of the student body take this matter seriously and see their class treasurer at once and settle the matter, so that there will be no further difficulty in the class affairs. Now is the time we ought to learn a great many things and to give our share to the spirit of the general welfare of Kentucky. The students have always responded when matters have been presented to them and I am sure they will do so now, when they understand the situation and my request to them is that they see their treasurers at once and pay their dues.

 President.

KENTUCKY TEAM IS FIFTH IN INDOOR TRACK MEET AT LOUISVILLE

More Than 600 Athletes Participate in Spirited Contest

CENTRE IS VICTIM Clare Makes An Excellent Showing

The University of Kentucky Track Team ran fifth at the indoor meet staged by the Amateur Athletic Federation at Louisville last Saturday evening, scoring a total of six points.

In the 60-yard low hurdles Kentucky ran first, Captain Clare defeating a fast field, Ray Holmes of Cincinnati (Y) running second, and George Ewald of the Louisville Y. M. C. A. third. Clare made an excellent showing in the 80 yard dash winning the first heat. He, however, withdrew to save himself for the relay.

The relay of the Kentucky colleges proved to be one of the most interesting events of the meet, first one team and then another being in the lead. The University of Kentucky team ran first, Centre second and the University of Louisville third. As this event was open only to colleges, the points made did not affect the final standing of the teams.

In the mile handicap Porter of Kentucky was third, Russell Payne listed as "unattached" winning the event and the veteran Jole Ray of the Illinois Athletic club finished second. Porter's running third in this event and thereby defeating Kimbel of Centre gives some dope on the Centre squad.

There were more than 600 athletes listed for the Louisville meet, some of the best athletes in the country competing. Chief among the stars were Jole Ray, Loren Murchison, Edward Knourek. There was a host of other contenders of international reputation. Kentucky, in competing against athletes of international reputation, had small chance in carrying off the honors. She won the big relay race but this did not add to her final score as the event was open only to colleges. However, all things considered, Kentucky made a mighty good showing.

The standing of the teams follows: Illinois Athletic Club, 24; Cincinnati Y. M. C. A. 18; Centre 9; Cincinnati Gym. 9; University of Kentucky 8; unattached, 5; Louisville Turners, 5; Kentucky and Indiana, 5; Louisville Y. M. C. A. 4; Sewanee, 3; Louisville Y. M. C. A., 1; Louisville Manual High School, 1.

The summaries:—16-pound shot handicap—First G. W. Roth, Turners, 44; 2 feet; second J. M. Sherrill, Sewanee, 42; 2; third, M. T. Cody, Jr., Centre, 40; 10.

880-yard open against time—First, Jole Ray, Illinois Athletic Club; second, Dewey Kimbel, Centre; third, Eddie Meehan, I. A. C. fourth, P. J. Kennedy, Notre Dame. Time 2:00 3/5.

80-yard dash, open finals—First, L. Murchison, I. A. C.; second, J. C. Berryman, Centre; third, Arthur Grabfelder, Y. M. C. A. Time 2:08 1/5.

75-dash, finals high schools—First, Gordon Davis, L. M. H. S.; second, Louis Root, L. M. H. S.; third, Frank Ford, Sewanee. Time 2:08.

Pole vault handicap—First, Ed Knourek, I. A. C.; second, J. Cartledge, Cincinnati (Y); third, Louis Sanfort, Manual, 11:44

One mile handicap—First, Russell Payne, unattached; second, Jole Ray, I. A. C.; third, R. Porter, University of Kentucky. Time 4:25.

220-yard dash (high schools finals)—First, Louis Root, L. M. H. S.; second, Gordon Davis, L. M. H. S.; third, Richard McClure, Manual. Time 24 3/5.

60-yard low hurdles, finals—First, P. W. Clare, University of Kentucky; second, Ray Holmes, Cincinnati (Y) third, George Ewald, Louisville Y. M. C. A. 2:07 2/5.

Open relay—First, Illinois A. C.; second Cincinnati Gym; third, Cincinnati "Y". Time, 3:35 3/5. Meehan, Loren Murchison, Jole Ray and Larry Butler carried the winners' colors.

High school relay—First, L. M. H. S.; second, Manual. Time 3:46 4/5.

College relay—First, University of Kentucky; Second Centre; third University of Louisville.

U. K. LEADS IN RELAY AND WINS PRIZE CUP

In the indoor meet held at Louisville last Saturday evening Kentucky won what was admitted to be the most interesting event of the meet, the big college relay, and incidentally won the prize cup offered by the Amateur Athletic Federation.

Kentucky won the inter-collegiate relay cup last year and in winning another cup in the relay race this year clearly demonstrated the ability of the men in this field. The two colleges that ran second and third in this relay, Centre and the University of Louisville, respectively, have strong teams and in defeating them Kentucky's superiority was clearly shown. The defeat of these two teams in the relay furnishes some interesting advance dope on the State Meet to be held here May 20.

SORORITY GAMES

The Chi Omega fraternity Basket Ball team won the semi-finals of the series of inter-sorority games held here last week and this week defeated Kappa Kappa Gamma in the University Gymnasium Thursday afternoon by a 6 to 4 score. This is the second game between the Chi Omegas and the Kappa Kappa Gammas, the first game resulting in a 2 to 2 tie. Last year the Chi Omegas succeeded in winning the inter-sorority championship and the loving cup that goes with the championship.

The finals will be played between Chi Omega and the Alpha Xi Delta. The lineup and the results of the game already played are as follows: Kappa Delta 3 Kappa Kappa Gamma 7

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

The Experiment Farm recently purchased from Libus and Son, Cynthia, two Hampshire gilts, the first of their kind that has ever been on the farm. They are to be used for student purposes and possibly to show at the fairs next year.

Professor Good has returned to his office at the Experiment Station after a week's absence on the account of illness.

The "Types and Breeds" class of the Agricultural College attended the sale at the McKee Brothers' farm at Versailles, where they studied the Duroc type and pedigrees. At this sale one Duroc sow sold for one thousand dollars, the highest price obtained for a sow this year.

On March 29 a meeting of the Live Stock Breeders will be held at the Stock Judging Pavilion under auspices of the College of Agriculture to discuss sterility and infectious abortion in live stock. Dr. Cassius Way, Brooklyn, N. Y., will be the principal speaker. Addresses will also be delivered by Professors Good and Anderson of the Experiment Station, and by Doctor Dimock. An all day meeting will be held at the Pavilion and lunch will be served by the girls of the Home Economics Department of the Agricultural College.

ECHO FROM STATION 9 YC

The Radio Club plans to send an orchestral concert out over the country, May 26, in celebration of Engineers' Day.

When the club was first organized, a message could only be sent and received within a radius of a few hundred miles. Now the station is equipped with three amplifiers and one magna vox. The latter is used to make messages more distinct and may be heard for three blocks. It is used when concerts and addresses are received. A territory covering 1000 to 1200 miles can be reached by the station now. An order has been given for amplifiers that will extend the radius of sending and receiving to virtually 3000 miles.

The first report ever received by the station was on December 4, 1919 when a weather report was copied from the NAA at Arlington. Soon after a transmitting license was procured and the call letters 9YC were assigned to the University station.

Regular service has been established between Lexington, Atlanta, Savannah New York, via Parkersburg, Fort Worth, Purdue University, Yancton, Princeton and LeMars.

On Friday evenings at 9:20 news of the University campus is sent broadcast over the country. The radio room is open every afternoon and evening for the sending of messages.

Y. M. AND Y. W. NOTES

Mrs. Paul F. Boyd was the speaker at the meeting of the Y. W. C. A. last Sunday night under the auspices of the Kappa Delta fraternity. Her subject was "What the Y. W. C. A. is Doing to Meet the Needs of the World." A piano solo was rendered by Beulah Stillwell.

Mrs. Boyd said in part: "The Y. W. C. A. is now working in forty countries. The old time religion was simply to preach the Gospel and go to church on Sunday, but we are getting away from that conception. The Y. W. work was opened in every country in Europe during the war. The Y. W. C. A. is now at work in the Near East.

"The Y. W. C. A. is doing wonders in Africa since Doctor Sticksrud performed the first abdominal operation in the Kongo. In South America the missionaries are calling for Y. W. C. A. workers and it has its greatest opportunity there. The Y. W. C. A. began to work in India thirty years ago. There is a special need for native workers and a training school has been opened in Calcutta. The Y. W. C. A. is establishing homes for poor working girls in Japan and doing some of its finest work there. In China there is a Y. M. C. A. and a Y. W. C. A. in every principal city. There is a National Committee which is largely Chinese and there are seventy-five secretaries in the country. They have established Good Fellowship Clubs for young husbands and wives which are revolutionizing conditions in Hong Chow."

The following is a report of the Bible study classes which were held under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.: thirty groups were organized, fourteen of which were led by faculty men and sixteen by students. Twenty-one of these groups continued throughout the entire course. Fifteen groups had an attendance of over 70 per cent. The total enrollment in all the classes was 442 and the total attendance was 3743. The average attendance per week was 311 plus for twelve weeks. This is about fifty per cent increase over last year's average of 205.

The following had Discussion Groups: Kappa Alpha, Kappa Sigma, Alpha Sigma Phi, Phi Delta Theta, Alpha Tau Omega, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Phi Kappa Tau, Alpha Gamma Rho, Sigma Chi, Delta Chi, Pi Kappa Alpha, Acacian, Triangle, 351 S. Upper, 628 S. Limestone, 358 S. Upper, 230 W. Maxwell, 601 S. Lime, 325 S. Lime, 300 S. Lime, 356 S. Upper, 328 Aylesford Place, 428 Linden Walk, 401 Linden Walk, 120 Warren Court, 429 Linden Walk, 521 S. Limestone, 155 Virginia Ave. Gymnasium building.

The annual banquet for the Bible study classes was given at the city Y. M. C. A. last Tuesday night. Members of Gamma Rho fraternity were the guests of honor since they had the highest percentage of attendance at their class during the twelve weeks course. The supper was served by a committee from the Woman's Club and there were sixty-six present.

W. R. Hutchinson, chairman of the Bible Study Committee, acted as toast master and the following toasts were given:

"The Value of Christian Character" President Frank L. McVey.

"What the Course Meant To Me" Dean Freeman, leader of the Kappa Alpha group.

"The Value of Bible Study" Rev. V. O. Ward.

Mr. J. E. Humphrey spoke in behalf of the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity. The meeting was dismissed by the Reverend Ralph Owens.

Chris Stanatoff, a student from Bulgaria, spoke at the meeting of the Y. M. C. A. last Sunday evening in the Y Room. He told of some of the interesting customs of his country and how they have been influenced by the coming of American missionaries. Doctor Haskill and Doctor Brown were the first missionaries to go from America to Bulgaria.

Mr. M. W. Lante, associate secretary of the General Board of Education of the Presbyterian Church, will be the speaker at the joint meeting of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. held at Patterson Hall next Sunday evening, March 26.

There is nothing that compares with electricity for the economical transmission of power. As a matter of fact, energy in any other form can be economically transmitted only for the shortest distances. If a power need develops, and its location is more than a few hundred yards from the power house, the engineer at once turns to the electrical method for cheap and reliable transmission.

To the thousands who are living their lives in the earlier days of the Electrical Age, it probably seems that this situation must have always existed. But actually, there is many a man with no gray in his hair can recall the days when electric light and power were literally unknown.

The tremendous electrical transmission systems that have been developed during the past thirty years owe their existence to the fact that they are practically, as well as technically, right. They provide cheaper power than would otherwise be possible; and production, and the creation of real values, always requires comparatively low-priced power for its highest development. And the history of low-cost power transmission is the history of Alternating Current, and especially of the Alternating Current Transformer. For one of the great factors in the cost of electrical systems is the cost of conductors—wires—and the big thing about alternating current is that it makes possible the use of conductors which are within the cost-limits which competitive and economic conditions impose.

There is no room to discuss all the varied aspects of this question; but it may be said that one of the great fundamentals that has led to the use of alternating current transmission for about 95% of the electrical systems now in use has been its great economy, as compared to other systems, in the transmission of power. And the transformer, itself, is the heart of the alternating current system.

It permits a small current, at high voltage, to be transformed to a large current at low voltage, or vice versa, through the use of simple, immobile apparatus, and thus supplies the essential factor in electrical transmission.

William Stanley is remembered because it was he who commercially developed transformers of high efficiency and satisfactory regulating qualities. He brought out the first system in which the transformers were connected in parallel, across a constant-potential system, instead of the series operation used by Gaulard and Gibbs. The system embodying this principle was put into operation at Great Barrington, Mass., on March 16, 1886, and has been the standard method ever since.

Thus briefly is recorded the history of another contribution of the Westinghouse engineering organization to the electrical art; since all the transformers which are made today are built upon the same general principles as those first constructed to embody William Stanley's inventions.

CAMPUS CHATTER

At the meeting of the Discipline Committee held Wednesday March 15, four students were suspended for cheating on examinations and tests, the action of the committee was approved by the University Council.

George Pheif, of the General Electric Company, New York, made an interesting talk to the senior engineering students Tuesday in Mechanical Hall. Mr. Pheif makes an annual visit to the University to interview students as prospective employees. Many of the graduates are now connected with the firm which Mr. Pheif represents.

Collection of especially fine Japanese prints have recently been received and are on exhibition in the East studio of the Art Department. Some of these prints are old prints by the best masters, such as Hiroshige. Also, there is a collection of Japanese books on figure drawing and flower arrangement. Any one interested in these rare prints and books is cordially invited to visit them at any time.

Professor Carl Sax, head of the Art Department was called to Chicago last week by the illness of his father, Mr. J. B. Sax of Ottumwa Iowa, who later died as a result of the operation. Mr. Sax will spend some time at his home in Ottumwa before returning to the University.

"The Metal Trades," "Department of Store Occupations," and "The Printing Trades," and three books sent out by the Cleveland Education Survey which the Library has recently received and has ready for circulation.

Mr. W. H. Mikesell, professor of public speaking, has returned to the University from Wilmington, Del., where he was called by the death of his father.

A charming picture of Miss Frances Jewell, dean of women at the University, was printed in the Sunday Courier-Journal in connection with a short article concerning Miss Jewell's views on student government. "Youth," said Miss Jewell, "best understands its own problems and is best qualified to deal with them." Not only the viewpoint, but the whole philosophy of the young woman has undergone a radical change within the last ten years and the old idea that a dean of women was an official chaperone or monitor has disappeared and, in the more progressive institutions, the dean is looked upon as an advisor and friend of the students. In order to advise youth one must live in the world of youth oneself and not in a world of scholarly seclusion."

Drill in parliamentary proceedings under the direction of an expert in this line will be the chief feature of the program of the Philosophian Literary Society Wednesday evening March 29, at 7 o'clock at Patterson Hall. The program will be concluded with a violin solo by Miss Mary Faith Huffaker. All members are urged to attend and take part.

Prof. Wellington Patrick, head of the Department of University Extension returned Monday from trips to Madisonville, Henderson and Louisville, where he went in the interest of the state debating league.

Percival Wilde's one act play was presented by Professor Mikesell's Dramatic Production class in the Little Theatre Thursday afternoon. Those who took part were Alma Hutchen, Wilna Brown, E. M. Heavrin and E. Gans.

HOLMES HEALTH HINTS

The Department of Student Health has its headquarters on the campus in Neville Hall. It is here to serve every student in the University. Apparently many students do not as yet know the importance of this Department. The Dispensary, which is a part of the Department, is in charge of Dr. W. N. Lipscomb, and is open from 8:30 to 12:30 a. m. and from 2:00 to 4:30 p. m. and on Saturdays from 8:30 to 12:30 a. m. Much illness may be avoided and time out of class saved by coming promptly to the Dispensary for treatment and advice.

Students encouraged to come to the Dispensary frequently and are always welcome. Professional confidence will never be violated. All treatment, including medicine and drugs, are given for the $1 a semester fee which is paid if a student is ill he is in need of care and help. It may be that he just needs friendly advice in reference to personal living. All of this service we gladly render free of any extra charge. One dollar a semester is exceedingly low health insurance.

The Dispensary should be popular. Many more students than do should go for advice and treatment. Dr. W. N. Lipscomb, who has just succeeded Dr. A. G. Ireland, is in charge of the Dispensary.

AUTOMOBILES AND HUMANS

Did you ever compare yourself with your car and recognize any similarity? Don't you sometimes cough and sputter just like it does? Have you ever just stood in one place with your mental wheels spinning just as "the old boat's" in a mudhole when you left chains off? Of course there is one difference—you never "run out of gas."

You wouldn't think of running on flat tires, yet you will go about all day with feet wet, and say, "I didn't expect this cold, Doctor." You have usually followed the custom of putting the car in a garage in bad weather, yet you have not as a rule followed similar common-sense rules.

It never occurs to you to kick the tires to estimate the air pressure yet you will go about with a leaky heart, a defective kidney, or a chronically insulted stomach with the feeling, "What's the use," until aggrieved nature begins to call in all loans made on the bank of "How to Live."

You think it is a fine idea to run in a garage and say, "Bill, look 'er over," yet personally turn around and pass up a human repair shop when you know you need a physical examination and intelligent advice. You do not mind admitting to the garage man that you do not know the difference between a commutator and a rear light, yet you will attempt to prescribe for yourself for any disease between an itching scalp and a painful ingrowing toe-nail. You won't flood your carburetor deliberately—that is folly of high degree if the habit becomes chronic; yet you will load up your own machine with a twenty-four hour combination of sweets, catsup, pepper, carbonated drinks, vinegar, then go out for practice, become overheated and cool off too suddenly, then wonder why you have indigestion, headache, sore throat, and a terrific desire for a gym excuse the next day.

Which leads us back to where we started—which is the more important, the automobile or the man who runs it?

GIRLS' READING ROOM FORMALLY DEDICATED

Many Interesting Volumes
Given By Faculty at Book Party

The Patterson Hall reading room was given in trust to the girls of the three halls by Miss Adelaide E. Crane, representing the Board of Control, at the opening of the "book party" given by the faculty Friday evening. Affie Hammond accepted the room in the name of the girls pledging themselves to hold it in trust and to respect its privileges.

President McVey in his dedicatory address spoke first of his pleasure in seeing such a room provided, then of his desire that some time not far in the future a much larger room equipped with comfortable chairs and a choice collection of books and magazines might be furnished. He concluded with a resume of the benefits derived from extensive reading.

A short program of stunts followed. Professor Wolf sang a group of Irish songs, which called forth enthusiastic applause.

Books were cleverly represented by both guests and hostesses. The prize for the cleverest representation went to Nellie Stone who, as "Four Years in the Underbrush" wore a clothes brush tied on her head and four ears of popcorn on her belt. The prize for guessing the largest number of book titles from the representations was given to Gladys Platts.

Faculty members who came brought excellent books for the reading room. Among the gifts were late well known books as well as works whose value time has proved. Some professors and friends who were unable to come sent books.

MRS. WOOLMAN GIVES VOCATIONAL LECTURE

Outlines Positions Open to Girls Graduating in Home Economics

"Occupations Open to Women in the Field of Home Economics" was the subject of Mrs. Ida Schenck Woolman's lecture to University girls last Tuesday in chapel. Mrs. Woolman outlined in an interesting manner the development of occupational and professional opportunities in home economics during the last forty years and the present openings in that field.

The speaker told of the beginnings of home economics in the teaching of sewing in grade schools. Then it was extended to include both sewing and cooking in high schools and colleges. Today the study of that subject can be applied in home, business, education, scientific, art, guidance, government, executive, literary, and social service positions. Papers outlining the fields open in each of these lines were given to girls attending the lecture.

Mrs. Woolman spoke also of the different training required to fit girls for the different phases of the work. The curriculum of the trade school, for instance, varies greatly from that of the college home economics course. Saleswomen in department stores, she said, can work more efficiently if they have a knowledge of textiles. Certain stores in large cities lend their clerks to trade schools for short periods for this training, the speaker stated.

Managing positions must come from schools and colleges. Teaching professions draw small salaries but require easy hours. Commercial and business sides of home economics bring high salaries but require long hours. Every girl should choose the position best suited to her personality. "College only begins one's education," Mrs. Woolman said in closing. "One should continue one's study and training through life."

This lecture was the fourth of the vocational guidance series planned by the Woman's League. The next will be given by Miss Elizabeth Dyer on the vocations for women in business.

STUDENTS FEATURED IN COURIER JOURNAL.

Pictures of Misses Marsh, Murphy, and Chenault Shown, with Accompanying Article

The Courier-Journal of Sunday, March 19 carried the pictures of Frances Marsh, Dorothea Murphy, and Carlisle Chenault, who dramatized and directed the first of a series of plays at the Little Theatre last week. The manuscripts have been submitted to a New York publishing company for probable publication. The plays were written under the direction of Miss Frances Jewell, dean of women and instructor in English, and were acted by the students of W. H. Mikesell, professor of public speaking.

Another play mentioned in the Courier-Journal was an original tragic romance by Arthur Hodges of Greensburg, which was also considered of unusual merit. "In teaching the students to write and act plays," Miss Jewell said, in explaining the project, "it is not our purpose to make actors and actresses of them. But drama is one of the best methods of self-expression. We do hope, however, someday to produce some real American playwrights."

BOTANY DEPT. GIVEN VALUABLE HERBARIUM

Rare Specimens Are Found in Collection of John Fox, Sr.

The Botany Department of the University has just received the valuable herbarium of John Fox, Sr., formerly a teacher and a naturalist of this state. The collection was sent to President McVey who turned it over to Doctor McFarland, head of the Botany Department.

Mrs. Elizabeth Fox Moore, Washington, D. C., gladly consented to give this valuable herbarium to the University of Kentucky at the suggestion of Miss Lucy Simms of Paris, and Miss Mary Dildake of the Kentucky Experiment Station. Miss Simm's brothers were Mr. Fox's pupils and as she states she knows not only of his love for his pupils and his school, but also his place in their hearts. For these reasons Miss Simms suggested that his work should continue to help the youth of Kentucky if it were possible.

Mr. Fox was born in Clark County, Ky., in 1830, died at Big Stone Gap, Va., in 1912, and was buried in Paris, Ky. He attended the Bacon College at Harrodsburg, which was the parent institution of Kentucky University and which later became the University of Kentucky. Five of his sons were students at Kentucky University, among whom was John Fox, Jr., the distinguished novelist. For more than forty years John Fox, Sr., taught private schools in Kentucky, at Stony Point in Bourbon county, in Clark county, and in Bath county. After the burning of his home in Bath county he moved to Paris where he opened a school for boys. Many of his former pupils live in and around Paris now. About 1890 Mr. Fox was forced by bad health to move to Big Stone Gap, Va., where he spent most of his leisure time collecting and identifying the plants of the region.

The herbarium as it is today consists of more than 500 specimens represented representing many families and species. The majority of the plants are ample, well pressed and in splendid condition. As yet not a single error has been found in his identifications.

Quite a number of the plants in Mr. Fox's herbarium are new to the University collection. The plants are mounted on a good quality of card board and wrapped securely in tissue paper. Many of the plants are rare specimens chiefly on account of their locality. They were collected from the eastern part of Kentucky and from Virginia, where the flora has not been studied extensively. John Fox, Sr., was the first naturalist to do work in this particular region since the days of Michaux, 1833-35.

OUR HUSBANDS

What must a prospective husband be earning in the way of a salary before the University girl will marry him? The answer to this question returned by University of Missouri girls to a questionnaire, the results of which have just been announced, show that the girls desire that men be earning salaries of $3000 a year before marriage.

One University woman, a freshman, asked that the man she married be earning $10,000 a year, while two senior women asked for husbands earning only $1,500.

As to what age women should marry it was discovered that the average choice was 25 years.

It was further found that 90 per cent of the students answering the questionnaires had chosen their life's occupation and are preparing for it at the present time.

In Selecting a University---

For a college education, there are five things to be taken into consideration:

1. The men at the head of the Institution.
2. The Scholastic standing and ability of the Teaching Staff.
3. The location and advantages of environment.
4. Equipment, buildings, laboratories and libraries.
5. Cost.

In all these respects the University of Kentucky Commends itself to those seeking a higher institution in which to carry on their education.
