NOE BEGINS NEW PLAN FOR TUESDAY CHAPEL

"College Education is Worth $17,000 As An Investment"

TALK IS PRACTICAL

Following the announcement by Miss Ruth Duckwall of the beginning of the campaign to raise $1,000 for Y. W. C. A. war work, and a further appeal for funds from the men by Secretary Johnson, of the Y. M. C. A. Professor J. T. C. Noe, of the Department of Education, addressed the students in chapel Tuesday on "Education as an Investment."

Miss Duckwall said that on the first day of the campaign, $300 was already subscribed, $200 from organizations, and $100 from individuals; that $1,000 was the minimum amount to be raised, and that every woman in the University was expected to contribute to this fund for the women of the war.

Secretary E. A. Johnson announced that only one-half of the men of the student body had given to the Y. M. C. A. fund, and no further appeals would be made, as the committee felt it to be the duty of the unenlisted men to give freely of money, if not of service. He read extracts of an account of the splendid service of students and faculties of the Canadian universities, and urged Kentucky students to emulate their example.

Professor Noe inaugurated the order of chapel procedure recently announced by Dr. McVey as that to be followed this year. After a scripture reading and the recitation of the Lord's Prayer by the audience, he gave his address, which, unfortunately, was curtailed by lack of time.

In comparing education as an investment with an investment in Liberty Bonds, Professor Noe said that as the bonds will help to make nations free from German autocracy, knowledge frees men from ignorance, and its results, crime and prejudice; that as the bonds feed soldiers and furnish ammunition to "swat the Hun," so knowledge furnishes power to serve the state in any capacity.

He further said that students who failed to invest fully their time, energy and attention while in college, or wasted their substance in riotous living, were wasting the investment of the parents who made sacrifices to give them an education; and that a college education as an investment was worth $17,000 to a student, as statisticians had found that each day spent in college was equal to $21.00 deposited in a savings bank.

FIRST "K" DANCE NEXT WEEK.

The first "K" dance will be given in Buell Armory Friday, November 9. The proceeds from the "K" dances go to the Kentuckian.

STUDENT CLASS HAS PARTY AT PATT HALL

The girls "Student Class" of the First Methodist Church entertained in the Recreation Hall of Patterson Hall on Saturday afternoon. The Hallowe'en idea was carried out in the yellow and black decorations, and the Hallowe'en spirit was prominent in the games. Refreshments were served by the members of the class who live at Patterson Hall.

Those present were: Misses Louise Will, Elsie Potter, Lora Robertson, Mildred Summerville, Frances Graham, Lucille Cequin, Nell Crain, Esther Johnston, Martha Politt, Kathleen Oglesby, Mary Murrel, Florence Brown, Elizabeth Murphy, Katherine Moss, Lena Lady, Marguerite Peel, Irene Duncan, Vera Mayes and Mozelle Dinmore.

PANHELLENIC GIVES $100 TO WAR FUND

The Women's Panhellenic Association of the University, in a called meeting held Monday afternoon, voted not to have the annual Panhellenic banquet in November, as had been planned, but to devote $100 of the money to the Y. W. C. A. war fund.

A patriotic mass meeting of all fraternity women in the University will be held in the Recreation Hall of Patterson Hall on the evening of November 10. At this time the scholarship cup will be presented to the fraternity making the highest scholastic average for the school year of 1916-1917.

STUDENTS WILL RALLY TO SUPPORT TEAM

Game With Centre Arouses Much Interest For Both Sides

SPECIAL U. OF K. CARS

The Wildcat-Centre game, at Danville, Saturday, will probably be the hardest-played game of the season in Kentucky to judge from present prospects.

Kentucky's men have fought three hard fights, and have lost the two hardest by small scores. The Commodores outweighed, and to a certain extent, outplayed the Wildcats, but their famous "fighting to the last" brand of football saved them from a defeat that would have continued the usual Vandy-Kentucky score tabulation. On their own field, the Tigers of Sewanee were a little the best, but every writer of the game gives the visitors praise and good criticism for their part in the contest.

Centre has played but one hard game thus far. DePauw defeated them seven to nothing. They came back last Saturday and defeated Maryville fifteen points more than the Wildcats were able to defeat them earlier in the season. Danville supporters of the team are relying upon the presence of eleven better men who played last year to present an unbeatable machine, while Kentucky will rely upon their Wildcat fighting spirit and their determination to conquer, to bring home the victory. Only four letter men are left to Kentucky after the rush of her patriotic athletes to answer their country's needs.

Centre will try to make this a gala day in football history, since a homecoming will be in progress Saturday. Enthusiasm on both sides will doubtless be rife, and Kentucky's band will contribute its share.

Special cars for the U. K. rooters will be attached to the train leaving Lexington from the Q. & C. station at 10:40 Saturday morning. The railroad fare would have been $1.40, but the Government asks that eight per cent be added.

KENTUCKY GIRLS HELP BROTHERS IN SERVICE

$1,000 To Be Pledged From 270 Women Students of University

FOUR-DAY CAMPAIGN

A four-day campaign, to raise $1,000 for war work, from the 270 women students of the University was launched Sunday night by the University Young Women's Christian Association. The campaign will close Thursday night. Up until 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon approximately $500.00 had been pledged.

The students are being canvassed by classes. The committees in charge of the work are: Seniors, Emma Holton, Bertha Miller, Ruth Matthews, Maud Harmon, May Stephens; Juniors, Mildred Collins, Eliza Piggott, Ruth Duckwall, Austin Lilly, Virginia Graham, Dorothy Walker; Sophomores, Dorothy Middleton, Louise Will, Edna Smith, Louise Mayer, Virginia Helm Milner; Freshmen, Helen Taylor, Evelyn Pannell, Isabele Dickey, Adele Slade, Edith Williams, Martha Prewitt, Mary Adams Talbott, Mary Christine Adams.

To reach the $1,000 goal, an average of $3.70 from each woman student must be obtained.

These pledges are to be paid by December 1. The report will be made by classes and the spirit of rivalry has crept into the campaign.

Sacrifices are being made by many that they may give the maximum amount. Hamilton College, with less than half as many students, has pledged over $600 to this work. Hampton Institute, a negro mission school, has pledged over $1,000. The events of the last week, since American troops have gone into the trenches, have induced many to make a greater effort to give.

U. K. "OVER THE TOP" $20,000 TO WAR LOAN

The University has gone "over the top." The total subscriptions of organizations and the student body to the second Liberty Loan will total somewhere in the neighborhood of $20,000. The sum may be much larger because of individual subscriptions that were not reported.

This is remarkable in view of the fact that there was absolutely no campaign on the campus and that no allotment was given to the University. The subscriptions were voluntary and were not solicited.

The following organizations subscribed to the second Liberty Loan: Horace Mann Literary Society, $50; Philosphian Literary Society, $50; Chi Omega Sorority, $50; Kappa Delta Sorority, $50; Chemistry Department, $100; Henry Clay Law Society, $100; Strollers, $100. The known individual subscriptions total over $18,500.

SEWANEЕ BREAKS TIE OF PAST TWO SEASONS

Wilhelm Proves Twinkling Ability in First Appearance

RIDDLE'S TACKLING

(By Charles Planck.)

Sewanee did what Kentucky most earnestly desired to do last Saturday, by defeating the Wildcats seven to nothing.

These teams, the Wildcats of Kentucky and the Tigers of Tennessee have fought three hard fights, and twice, both of them left the field with every claw intact and no advantage on either side. This year each team was hoping to win and thus to show some superiority. The well-known Wortham, probably the best open-field runner of the South this year, was responsible for the touchdown.

The story of the game is one of interest. Both teams seemed to be excellently matched and the play was fast and furious. Once Kentucky had the ball on their enemies' five-yard line with four downs to make the goal. But the Tiger line stiffened even as Miami said the Wildcat line stiffened when the band played "My Old Kentucky Home." The hopes of the Kentuckians were temporarily banished.

Decidedly the feature of the game was the response of the Wildcats to Daddy Boles' warning, "Watch Wortham." Wortham, whose habit is to return nearly every punt at least forty yards toward his enemies' goal, did the unusual and stopped in his tracks every time he got the ball. The Wildcat ends were responsible for his unusual action, and the Chattanooga Times says he was tackled "viciously" in his tracks every time he received the ball." At first Wilhelm punted out of bounds each time, but after the ends had "Wortham's number" he placed the ball where he pleased. Quarterback Riddle is mentioned as the man who tackled most consistently.

The third period of the game was the most interesting from Kentucky's standpoint. After two runs by Wilhelm, netting twenty-five yards, Pullen hurled a pass to Hedges, who made a magnificent catch by jumping up in the midst of a group of hostile players and receiving the ball. It looked for a while as if the Wildcats would score, but Sewanee stiffened and held on their two-yard line.

Good old-fashioned football was in vogue in most of the plays with very few tricks employed. Kentucky's trick of starting a play while an end ran back of the line to lead the interference was the most noticeable. In the first half of the game the advantage was with the Tigers, Kentucky not being able to get the ball past the middle of the field. The last half was evenly waged with no advantage that could be noticed for either team.

Kentucky's backfield men are men-

PARLIAMENTARY LAW PHILOSOPHIAN STUDY

A course in parliamentary law, under the direction of Dean Anna J. Hamilton, was begun Wednesday evening, October 17th, and will be continued until the main points have been studied and made clear to the members of the Philosopher Literary Society. This is a course which all who work in literary societies need and it is designed to make the meetings more systematic this year than they have ever been before.

The main literary feature of the year, however, will be a series of programs on the American Drama. The hour devoted to this study each week will help to keep the members posted on the dramatic literature of our own country, and will at the same time provide an hour of pleasure in the midst of the week's study.

The Philosopher cordially invites the English professors on the campus to these meetings, and hopes that their attendance will convince them that the girls' society deserves as much emphasis as the two male societies.

HOME EC. CLUB MEETS

Lelah Gault, Mayslick, was elected president of the Home Economics Club, at a meeting held in the Education Building, Friday at noon. Another meeting of the organization will be held today at noon to complete the election of officers, and to appoint a Home Economics editor for the Rural Kentuckian.

STUDENTS APPEAL FOR ENFORCEMENT OF LAW

Resolutions Are Adopted Asking Citizens For a Clean City

CHAPMAN PRESIDES

The students of the University unanimously adopted resolutions, proposed by Virgil Chapman, senior president, in chapel Friday, urging the people of Lexington to bend every effort in eradicating the social evil existing here, that the students of the city may be protected.

The resolutions follow: Lexington, Ky., October 26, 1917. RESOLVED, by the student body of the University of Kentucky in mass convention assembled:

1. Believing in the words of Holy Writ, "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free," we unreservedly approve the recent publication of the startling revelation of the Federal investigators concerning the iniquitous condition of Lexington's under-world; and commend the press for directing the search-light of public scrutiny into the dark miasma of social corruption.

2. We reprehend the failure of those charged with the duty of enforcing Lexington's anti-vice ordinance; and we resent the fact that the forces of dissoluteness, profligacy and crime are permitted to wage their treacherous warfare on society in flagrant defiance of law.

3. Lexington is essentially a college town, and her chief hope for the future lies in her opportunity as an educational center. Hundreds of Christian homes are represented in the student bodies of Lexington colleges. Hundreds of Christian mothers and fathers annually send their sons and daughters—the very "rose and expectancy" of Kentucky—to our own University.

We feel that it is our duty to ourselves, to those who sent us here, and to those who are to come after us, to voice our solemn protest to the citizens of Lexington against the flagrant condition existing in this town, as witnessed by disinterested agents of the Federal Government. We call upon the people of Lexington, in whose care we are entrusted, to take stand as unyielding as the gnarled and monumental oak on the side of righteousness and to wage relentless

JOINT PARTY GIVEN BY FACULTY MEMBER

Professor and Mrs. Alfred Zembrod entertained Saturday evening at their home on West Fourth Street in honor of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority, and Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity of the University.

The decorations were in the colors of the two fraternities, old gold and garnet, of Pi Kappa Alpha, and red, buff and green, of Alpha Gamma Delta. A musical program was given by Mrs. L. L. Dantzer, an honorary member of Alpha Gamma Delta, Professor Zembrod and Miss Ada Hardesty.

The hosts were assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Arthur Huckle, of Reed City, Mich., who is visiting her parents, Professor and Mrs. Gillis; Miss Pearl Bastin, Miss Mary Hamilton, Miss Aileen Kavanaugh, Miss Laura Lee Jameson, Miss Gertrude Wallingford, Mrs. W. H. Townsend.

warefare against the hosts of corruption, debauchery and vice. The safety of society demands that the law be enforced. Our slogan must ever be, "war to the knife and the knife to the hilt" against organized, commercialized evil.

It is in the sense of this student body that we enter into this crusade with the zeal that characterized Peter, the Hermit. We will work hand in hand with the citizens of Lexington.

For the right that needs assistance, For the wrong that needs resistance, For the future in the distance, And the good that we can do."

Fitzgibbons is one of the most widely known monologists on the stage today, and for the last three years has been appearing throughout the country on Keith's circuit. Sharing the honors with him is Whitefield and Ireland in their unique offering, entitled "Blingville." This is one of the cleverest "rube" acts that has been shown here in a long time. Bob Cook and Helen Oatman have some harmony, comedy and music to offer, while Abbott and White will entertain with some high-class singing and dancing. Black and White, two charming young English girls, will open the bill with an aerial act that is above the ordinary.—Adv.

REGISTRAR ASKS FULL LIST OF ENLISTED MEN

Students Urged To Add To Names Published Below

LIST IS GROWING

The following is a partial list of those who have been students of the University within the last ten years and who are now in the army.

This is the first official list that has been prepared and while it is very incomplete, it is hoped that by November 15, with the aid of the students, Professor Gillis will have the name and address of every soldier who has been a student of the University. Replies to letters, sent out over the State, are being received by Professor Gillis in every mail. A large per cent of the names came in just before the Kernel went to press, and it is expected that a great many more will be received during the next week. Students are asked to hand additional names to the registrar.

"WILD CATS" ADAPTED TO VICTORIOUS MOODS

Words and Tune of 'Ripping' Song Meet Approval of Students

NOE'S NEWEST A HIT

For the introduction of Professor Noe's attractive song—"Wildcats"—and Professor Cover's first praise of the singing quality of students of the University, Friday's chapel will be remembered.

Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors, all enthusiastically entered Cover's contest for the best singing class and each felt his class the winner when Cover said: "That is the best singing this student body has ever done." "All Hail, Kentucky" and "Kentucky" rang out as never before, and "Alma Mater" is rapidly being mastered.

Enthusiasm became contagious when that catchy song with its hitting air was distributed among the students. "Wildcats" portends to be the happy song of the students of the University—the song that will be hummed, sung or whistled by every student at many occasions. Not only is it rich in harmony, but also becomes attractively humorous where one pictures the "ramie" going home to its "mammie," without his little "goatee."

An attractive song book, costing each student of the University five cents, containing our own University songs with "The Star-Spangled Banner," "Old Kentucky Home," "Dixie" and other old Southern favorites, will be compiled in the near future. The cover will be in blue and white.

Chapel exercises one week from tomorrow will be devoted to learning the songs. "Wildcats" will be learned, a new one written by Professor Noe introduced, and the Star-Spangled Banner practiced. Chapel exercises tomorrow will be held by the honorary engineering society for the pledging of new men. Following is "Wildcats":

"WILDCATS,"
(By Cotton Noe.)

A gang of good fighters are we, are we,
we, are we,
With never a worry you see, you see,
you see,
We laugh and have fun
But carry a gun
That fears no enemy,
No matter the weather
When we get together
We win the victory.

Chorus.

Hail, Hail the Cats are nigh,
See them make the fur fly,
See them make the fur fly,
Hail, hail, their backs are high,
Watch them make the fur fly now.

We love one another, we do,
With brotherly love that's true,
Just let some guy
Attack Su Qui
And see us what we do,
No matter the college,
We'll teach them the knowledge
To honor the white and the blue.

Chorus.

Hail, hail the Cats are nigh,

See them make the fur fly,
See them make the fur fly,
Hail, hail, their backs are high,
atch them make the fur fly now.

It's sorry for you, are we,
As sorry as sorry can be,
We had to be true to white and blue,
And get your goat, oh me!
Now billy, you ramie
Go home to your mammie,
But tell her you left your goatee.

Historic Rivalry Recalled.

In other columns of the Kernel is information concerning the trains and the purchasing of tickets for the football game with Centre College Saturday.

The campus will be a lonely place Saturday morning after the 10:40 train pulls out for Danville. If there is ever a time when the cares of daily routine are laid aside and the spirit of celebration holds supreme sway, it is on a trip such as the one to Danville promises to be.

In the good old days when a Thanksgiving game with Centre was an annual event, the Centre game overshadowed everything else of the season.

Next Saturday all the old rivalry of the past will be recalled. The fury of a "feud" that has become more "deadly" through truce will rage on Centre's gridiron. It is then that both teams will make their supreme effort of the year. Centre has returned many old men, and with such additions as McMillin, who would have showed up well on any college team when he was playing in high school, will be able to stage a contest such as she has not known since the days of Piégeon, Duffy and the Seelbach brothers. But it is in the hardest battles that the Wildcats forge to the front, and with the proper support of the student body we hope to carry a victorious team from the field before the sun sets on that historic battle ground.

SENIORS COME FIRST IN WAR CONTRIBUTION

"The campaign for war funds for the Y. M. C. A. work will continue until every man on the campus has had a chance to say yes or no to a solicitor," said Secretary Johnson, Wednesday.

"I am very well pleased with the spirit of the students and their attitude toward this movement. We have had few refusals. Our greatest trouble is the delay occasioned by those who are uncertain about their pledging until they can communicate with the folks at home. As soon as we hear from these men, and see every other man on the campus, we will be content to stop."

The contributions by classes are as follows: Senior, 37 enrolled, 37 contributing $183—$4.97½ average; Junior, 82 enrolled, 42 contributing $188—$4.47½ average; Sophomore, 88 enrolled, 61 contributing $232—$3.80 average; Freshman, 187 enrolled, 63 contributing, $264—$4.19½ average.

The faculty has contributed $55 unsolicited. A campaign will be instituted later to give the faculty opportunity to pledge. Many of the cards are still out and the amount is expected to be increased when these are all in.

Secretary Johnson attended a meeting of the war work council of the association in Louisville Tuesday, where it was decided to raise $400,000 for Kentucky for the war work of the Y. M. C. A. Of this amount the colleges are expected to contribute $10,000. Mr. Johnson has been asked to supervise the work of raising this latter amount.

CLARK IN AVIATION CORPS.

THE LOOM OF LIFE

(By Lois Ammerman.)

The second edition of Professor Noe's popular volume of poems, The Loom of Life, has just been issued from the Gorham Press, Boston. The book was first published late in 1912. The first edition of a thousand volumes has been exhausted for more than a year, and the steady demand for the book, which the publisher says has had an unusual sale for a first volume of poetry, has warranted this new edition. Only slight changes have been made in the contents of the book—the dedication, and the substitution of a new sonnet. The mechanical make-up has been improved.

The book at the time of its first appearance was widely commented on and well received by the public. One of the sonnets has been used in Poet-Lore. The sonnet Solitude and the rondel, October, Queen of Autumn Days, were given places in a pamphlet entitled, Representative American Poetry, with poems of many well-known poets, such as Sara Teasdale, Edith M. Thomas and Harriet Prescott Spofford. One of the most popular lyrics in this volume, The Red-bird, has been honored with a place in The Country Life Readers series, put out by B. F. Johnston Publishing Company.

Professor Noe recently received a letter from a man in Boston who says that W. S. Braithwaite, literary critic of the Boston Evening Transcript for twelve years, and editor of Poetry Review and anthologies of magazine verse, in a private conversation spoke in high terms of Professor Noe's poetry. The students of the University are justly proud of their poet-teacher.

The first part of the book, entitled, A Skein of Silver, deals with life when our grandmothers were young. The scenes described are characteristic of the old-fashioned days—the old water mill, the old meeting house, the spinning wheel, and the cabin where Margaret plied the shuttles of the rude old-fashioned loom. These old haunts seem alive again with the figures of the past. We are charmed with the story of their lives—their loves and hopes, their joys and sorrows, from the deft pen of an artist.

The colors, odor-tints, and atmosphere of the rural scenes are described in style and figures worthy of Wordsworth; the violet, the modest daffodil, the red-bird, madcap variety, the song which the wild-throated mocking bird spills on the air from his marvelous whistle, the distant mountain which autumn ties into a rare bouquet, show the true touches of a poet.

In the Hank of Homespun are several humorous poems. "One-Armed Joe," "Wes Banks," and the "First Mess of Greens." The humor is frequently allied with a touch of pathos. There various threads of silk and linen, poems of the out-of-doors, of love and friendship, and the half-expressed, dreams that come to us all are wrought in this Loom of Life into sparkling wit, geniality and simplicity a unique and lovely whole. The arouse a most pleasant response in the sympathetic reader. These pictures and ideals woven by a charming art of rhyme and metre into old-fashioned verse, are refreshing in contrast to the free thought and free verse of the ultra modern poetry.

STROLLERS' TRY OUT HELD ON HALLOWE'EN

Thirteen Classy Numbers Feature Large Program

S. R. O. EXPECTED

"Amateur Night," when students of dramatic ability make attempts for admission into "The Strollers," was held in chapel at 8 o'clock on Halloween.

NOTES OF THE GAME

When our Riddle meets Danville's Diddle, there will be no more harmony except in name only. We contend they cannot solve the said Riddle.

Wildcats repeatedly show that a team with reputations like those of Vanderbilt and Sewanee have no terrors for them. Even the renowned "Pep" Wortham brought forth no "Wildcat" shivers, but instead was nailed in his tracks every time he got the ball.

The players say they missed the hand and the rooters at the Sewanee game, but everybody will be there next Saturday.

Centre is absolutely certain of the success in their tussle with the Wildcats, but as the prophet said in the days of old, "We ain't sayin' nothin'."

How did Jimmy, the Charm, get up high enough to receive a forward pass in a perfect swarm of Tiger players? Only another proof of Wildcat spirit.

Basketball, baseball and track "K" sweaters for the last season were received Monday at Daddy Boles' office and the proud wearers are endeavoring to outdo each other in displaying the results of their labors. About twenty sweaters were given out.

MISS SWEENEY COMES BACK TO UNIVERSITY

Returns Today From Work
In Washington With Hoover

HONOR TO KENTUCKY

Miss Mary E. Sweeney, head of the Home Economics Department of the University, will return today from Washington, where she, for the past three months, has been assisting Herbert C. Hoover, Conservator of Food, in the national campaign recently waged in the United States for the conservation of food.

Miss Sweeney was the second dean of Home Economics chosen by Mr. Hoover, and the first to be placed at the head of the Woman's Division of Food Conservation. Her chief work was research, and preparing policies for the recommendation of Mr. Hoover in forwarding this great work.

The paragrapher of The Lexington Herald says of Miss Sweeney:

"Under the brilliant and indefatigable leadership and inspiration of Mary Sweeney, Kentucky women report $40,000,000 worth of perishable food canned against the rigors of winter and demands of the force arrayed against autocracy. One of these days when this war is over and the men are done with 'blowing' about their deeds of valor on fields of blood and death, how would it do to erect a tiny monument or two to the industry and pluck of the Mary Sweeneys of our State?"

LAW SOCIETY HOLDS INTERESTING DEBATE

An interesting debate, "Resolve That Capital Punishment Should Be Abolished," featured the regular meeting of the Henry Clay Law Society in the Law Building last Wednesday evening.

The affirmative was upheld by Messrs. Hardin, Haley and Heavrin; the negative by Messrs. Ross, Quarles and Scott.

MARTIN ENLISTS IN NAVY.

Glenn Martin, Louisville, a junior in the College of Law, enlisted in the navy Monday. He left immediately for Chicago, where he will enter a wireless training school.

UNIVERSITY STUDENT FOUND.

A former University student who, Sunday afternoon, left a sanitarium where he had been for treatment, was found Tuesday night in a cabin on the farm of U. G. Saunders on the Iron Works pike. His father, who requested that his name be withheld, had come to Lexington Tuesday to search for him. He had spent the intervening time on several farms in the neighborhood.

cent extra be contributed to help beat the Germans. The admittance to the game will be $1.00. Tickets are on sale at the business office and are in the hands of the yell leaders. Professor Freeman, chairman of the athletic committee, is anxious that as many tickets be purchased on the campus as possible, since the committee is entitled to half of the proceeds of such sales. The return train to Lexington will leave Danville at 5:15.

ENGINEERING

E. L. Shuff, '16, was a visitor here last week. The object of Mr. Shuff's visit was to see President McVey and Captain Royden and make application for one of the twenty-six appointments for University of Kentucky alumni, authorized by the War Department, for military service. Mr. Shuff is connected with the Service Department of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company with headquarters in Chicago.

A letter received at Mechanical Hall gives information that E. H. Clarke, '16, has been transferred from the Buffalo plant of the Buffalo Forge Company to the Chicago office of that company, located at 562 West Washington Boulevard. Mr. Clarke's work is largely sales engineering and he states that he is well pleased with his present employment. His residence address is 109 Hinman Avenue, Evanston, Illinois.

Through the courtesy of the Union Pacific Railway System, the students in engineering will have an opportunity to see 150 colored lantern slides, descriptive of the Yellowstone National Park. These slides will be shown in connection with a lecture accompanying them, Monday, November 5, at the third hour, lecture room of the Physics Building, under the auspices of the John Hayes Hammond Engineering Society.

AG. CLASS INSPECTING FARMS OF BLUE GRASS

Class in Farm Management
Is of Practical Value
To Students

FARMERS CO-OPERATE

For the past few weeks the members of the advanced class in Farm Management have been visiting the more up-to-date farms in the vicinity of Lexington to study the different phases in which the owners of these farms specialize.

The first farm visited was that of Louis Jocum on South Elkhorn pike. This is a farm of 555 acres. Here the class witnessed a farm tractor in full operation. The following week the farm of Mr. M. L. Triber, on the Tate's Creek pike, was visited. Here the class gained valuable ideas concerning the management of an up-to-date dairy. Last week the class visited the 200-acre nursery farm of H. F. Fillenmeyer & Son on the Georgetown pike.

On Tuesday of this week the class, composed of C. L. Morgan, J. W. Stewart, Tilford Wilson, A. E. McGuire, W. R. Gabbett, Carsie Hammonds, J. L. Hammonds and J. E. McGuire, visited the farms of Richard Squires and Harry L. Edward, on the Chilesburg pike. On this trip the class made a minute study of the shape of the fields and an inventory of the entire farm was also taken. Excellent points in regard to crop methods and care of stock were noted.

These trips are conducted by Professor W. D. Nichols. The course is of much practical good. The instructor is aided by the hearty co-operation of the farmers.

JOINT MASS MEETING TO LAUNCH CAMPAIGN

Y. W. C. A. to Raise $1,000
From Women Students of University

MISS SMITH SPEAKS

A patriotic mass meeting of the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. was held in the Recreation Hall at Patterson Hall, Sunday evening, to launch the four-day campaign for $1,000 to be subscribed by the girls of the University for the Students' War Fund.

Miss Francis Y. Smith, Y. W. C. A. secretary of the South Central Field, who organized the campaign, presented some of the war problems of the women that the Y. W. C. A. has to handle. Mrs. P. O. Mayes introduced Miss Smith, who spoke on the "Five Groups of Women Concerned in this War."

"In the first group," said Miss Smith, is the plastic girl who makes the acquaintance of the soldier thru the patriotic motive of entertaining him. The working plan of the Y. W. C. A. is then not alone for the entertainment of the soldiers, but for the girls who are attracted by the hypnotic lure of the uniform.

"The second group to be considered are those women forced into industry. They need protection and training until they become accustomed to their new environment.

"A third group is that of the families of the soldiers. Great assistance is being rendered to them thru the Hostess Houses at the cantonments, where mothers, sisters, or wives can see the soldiers amid home-like surroundings. A large number of women come to these houses who speak no English. Interpreters are found there who locate their friends and relatives in the camps.

"The last large group is composed of the girls and women in the warring countries. Girls in munition factories, nurses, and girls who are doing telegraphic and stenographic work with the armies will be provided for in this fund. This is the only organization which does this work."

The special music for this meeting included a violin solo by John Marking, and several patriotic numbers by the choir, under the direction of Miss Louise Will.

DR. BUSH SPEAKS ON THE MAN OF GALILEE

Dr. Benjamin J. Bush gave the second of his series of lectures in the Y. M. C. A. rooms Tuesday night. His subject was "The Man of Galilee." Dr. Bush's lecture in part follows:

"The second reality of life is Christ. Christ was a very physical man and a very spiritual man. This allows us to believe in His resurrection and miracles. We should study Christ for His teaching and gentleness, not for the truth or falsity of His miracles.

"Christ has been conceived by some people as the basis of mortal man; such belief will never gain men as followers. Christ is the greatest teacher, master and leader the world has ever known. He did not leave many laws. Among those He did leave we find, 'Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.'

"Some things cannot be explained about Christ, such as His birth and resurrection. We can only build our belief in Christ thru inductive faith. Everything about Christ is hearsay and we can only follow His commandment, 'Follow, follow, follow Me.'
