THE LIBRARY IN ACTION

LSO

The Library Staff Organization is planning a program fitted to the season. It will appeal to "green thumbs" and "brown thumbs" alike. Winston Dunwell, Fayette County horticulture agent, will discuss vegetable gardening and answer questions on this and related topics. Refreshments will be served.

Acts Education Committee

The ACTS Education Committee is sponsoring two tours of the Map Dept. to be held on April 5th and 6th, 1979. On the 5th, the tour will begin at 11:00 am. and on the 6th, the tour will begin at 2:30 pm. The Map Dept. is located on the fourth floor of King South. To sign up, call Olivia Buckner at 257-3831 or Nancy Hammond at 233-5949.

Paper Marbling Workshop

The University Kentucky's Art Department and the King Library Press are sponsoring a Paper Marbling Workshop on April 20 and 21. The two day event will be conducted by Terry Harlow of Bookworks, Hartford, Connecticut. Utilizing the water based ink method attributed to the Turks in the 15th century, this hands-on experience includes; ink preparation, size making, paper, manufacture of whisks, tanks, combs, rakes, and the production of several historic and contemporary patterns of decorated papers used in the book arts. Open to the public without charge on Friday, April 20 is a lecture on Bookworks, the lab established by Harlow. The lecture will be from 11 to 12, Room 118 in the Classroom Building. The participatory workshop will be held in Room 102, Fine Art Building from 2-5 on April 20 and from 9-12 and 2-4 on April 21. Workshop enrollment is limited to 8 and the fee is $25.00. Call 233-2521 for reservations.

UK Staff Handbook

The new UK Staff Handbook has replaced the Library Staff Manual. Please discard all copies of the Library Staff Manual.

Dr. Dickinson at ACRL

Dickinson will present an invited paper and lead a discussion on collection development. He believes that the faculty should be involved. His will be the morning program at the Spring Conference of the Eastern New York Chapter of ACRL May 18.

National Periodicals

The Association of Research Libraries recently presented a summary of an NCLIS Forum on a National Periodicals Center to the director of its member libraries. As a quick up-date on recent events regarding the establishment of a National Periodicals Center, we have summarized briefly highlights of the NCLIS forum. More detailed information will be forthcoming in the next few weeks.

After two days of extensive discussion regarding the need, scope and governance for a National Periodicals Center, there was a consensus at the NCLIS Forum on the following Concepts:

1. There is a need for a federally-funded National Periodicals Center set up as a new independent agency within the federal structure.
2. The collection of this center should include at the minimum the 36,000 titles identified as those which would satisfy approximately 90% of the total requests received.
3. There was acknowledgment of the legitimacy of a payment mechanism as a means to fairly compensate copyright holders for the use of their materials.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR PROFESSIONAL ENRICHMENT

How People Use Information: Real Data Versus Fantasy Data features Brenda Davis, School of Communications, University of Washington. This research seminar is sponsored by the Graduate School and the College of Library Science.

Information for the Community

The Current Issues Symposium series sponsored by the College of Library Science was initiated to provide a forum for discussing issues facing communication across lines of disciplines and professions. Information for the Community is the third in the series. For further information, contact Nancy Little, College of Library Science, UK, Lexington.

Gerontology Curriculum

While this workshop is aimed at faculties of undergraduate programs in Education, Psychology, Sociology, Political Science, Humanities, Biology, it most certainly will be of vital concern to librarians and other information specialists. As the population ages, their needs and desires and attitudes will affect all areas of knowledge transfer. The Gerontology Advisory Committee of the Council on Higher Education, Commonwealth of Kentucky presents the workshop. For further information, contact: Gerontology Advisory Committee, Council on Higher Education, c/o Professor Dorothy Miller, 669 Patterson Office Tower, University of Kentucky, Lexington 40506.

Music, Music, Music

April 6 affords two programs in the Gallery. Twentieth Century Art Songs will feature Almo Kiviniemi, tenor and Charles Sims, Baritone.

"The Music of Michael Tippett" at 2:00 pm and "Vaughn Williams Remembered" an Informal Reminiscence at 3:00 pm is one of the programs of the first annual Kentucky Festival of Contemporary Music. Other programs are scheduled around the campus April 6 through April 8.

Kentucky Horse Park Celebrates the Year of the Child

Hear George Zack conducting the Central Youth Symphony. Meet members of the Kentucky Wildcat Basketball Team. The Kickoff celebration begins at 10:00 am. The fun is from 9:00am to 5:00pm.

Have You Registered?

The Primary Election is May 29. The race for governor is "hotting up". All Statewide offices, state legislature, some city and county offices are in contention.

Books are closed April 30 through June 5. Applications for absentee and special ballots must be requested early and returned at least 7 days before election.

PUBLISHER'S NOTE

Circumstances beyond the control of the library are causing problems in production. When additional personnel and improved printing equipment are in operation, the former regular Friday distribution day will be returned.

EMPLOYEE BENEFITS UP-DATE

Basic explanation of the various kinds of benefits will be the subject of discussion at specified times during the day, April 5. Fringe benefits (like basketball tickets!), employee benefits in health care, and retirement are the major breakdowns. Call 7-1851 to enroll.

LOUISIANA STATE UNIVERSITY, Baton Rouge, announces an internship program for the 1979-80 academic year. Two internships, valued at $4,700 a year, allow a graduate of an ALA accredited School to work and go to school approximately halftime each. For further information, see Faith Harders.
