

Ten Men Picked By ODK; Cutler, Bingham Honored

Miss Carrie Bean Named 'Sweetheart' Of Honorary

Nine University undergraduates and one graduate student have been elected to membership in Omicron Delta Kappa, men's scholastic honorary fraternity, it was announced last night by Jim Winn, president of the association.

The men selected were Robert U. Gaines, Joe Gayle, Leonard Grathouse, James Isaac, Jim Johnson, John Long, W. L. Matthews, Vincent Crowder, Vernon Albert and Dan Doggett.

Named also were two faculty members, Gayle Starnes and Dr. W. S. Webb, and, as honorary members, Thomas H. Cutler, president of the Alumni association of the University, and Barry Bingham, publisher of the Louisville Courier-Journal.

Miss Carrie Bean, postmistress of the University station, was selected "Sweetheart of ODK." Miss Bean has served as head of the post office for more than twenty-five years.

Gaines, a senior engineer from Hopkinsville, was selected on the basis of leadership in scholarship and social service.

Gayle, an agriculture junior from Lexington, was chosen for scholarship and social service achievements.

Johnson, commerce junior from Clinton, was named for leadership in social service and publications.

Grathouse, a Lexington junior in agriculture, was selected for his scholastic, forensic, and social service attainments.

Isaac, commerce junior from Earlington, was named for his scholarship and social service.

Matthews, law senior from Bowling Green, was chosen for his scholarship and publications.

Owen, a senior in engineering, has earned for ability in scholarship and social service.

Crowder, arts and sciences senior from Morgantown, was chosen for scholarship and publication achievements.

Four Students Elected To Scholastic Honorary

Phi Beta Kappa Will Initiate At Dinner, May 16

Four students, Bertina Brown, James B. Dade, Esther Lee Pierson, and Doris Baker Zenger, have been elected to Alpha of Kentucky chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honorary fraternity, Prof. T. M. Hahn, secretary, announced yesterday.

Miss Brown, Flemingham, and Miss Zenger, East Hampton, N. Y., are senior medical technologists, and Miss Pierson, Akron, Ohio, is a political science major. Dade, who is now enrolled in the Vanderbilt medical school, was a medical technologist while at the University.

Dr. W. E. Gwahn, professor of classical languages and archaeology at the University of Missouri, will be given the initiation ceremony at a banquet on Friday, May 16. He will speak on "After the Idea of March."

Dr. W. J. Jennings, professor of economics, was elected president of the fraternity at its last meeting. Re-elected were Prof. Daniel V. Hegeman, the German department, vice-president; Professor Hahn of the physics department, secretary; and Prof. Frank H. Randall of the law college, treasurer.

Dr. W. R. Allen, professor of zoology, is retiring president.

Plans for the initiation banquet have not yet been completed. The committee in charge of arrangements consists of Miss Vera Gillespie, chairman, Mrs. D. V. Hegeman, and Edward Kass.

APPEAL DENIED BY LEGISLATURE

Only Independents Will Be Candidates For SGA Offices

An appeal by four Constitutional party members to be declared candidates for the presidency and vice-presidency of the Student Government association was denied, 15 to 8, by the student legislature last night.

Students making the appeal were Lidi Belle Howe, George Terrell, Russell Gresham, and Robert Thomas.

As a result of the action, the Independent party is assured of all three major posts—president and men's and women's vice-presidents—since only candidates from that party are eligible.

Tests Already Given

All candidates were given examinations Wednesday afternoon, and according to the constitution, the 50 per cent of candidates receiving the highest grades on the examinations will be entered on the ballot. Election will be held April 30, from 8 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. All students are eligible to vote.

Two New Lights On Hell Week

It has been two weeks since we last published anything on hazing and hell week. The reason for this period of silence is not that the thing hazing has ceased to be an issue but rather that we have been waiting to see what action is to be taken against these fallacious, infantile practices.

It is apparent by now that no one—neither the members of the interfraternity council nor the Dean of Men—intend to do anything. Anything that is other than let the matter slide.

The Kernel, however, still thinks something should be done. We think hell week should be abolished and a constructive initiation system substituted.

Furthermore, we would like to cite two events which have happened in the last week or so which are arguments for abolition.

2) causes a risk of injury and impairment of health, and 3) does not accomplish the ends which some claim for it.

The article maintains that the things which hell weeks should accomplish are good things: brotherhood, a sense of loyalty to the organization and an attitude of responsibility toward the fraternity and the university. The most logical methods for securing these ends, it says, consist in intelligent and conscientious training of pledges and the placing of responsibilities rather than threats of punishment—on freshmen students.

The conclusion is drawn that these things are attainable if fraternity men will only come to realize it, and will abandon their lay hell week theory and concentrate on spreading intelligent pledge training over a period of months.

And these are the two new reasons why we still maintain that UK's fraternities should snap out of it and get rid of hell week—the most outdated institution on the campus.

A Request Which We Can All Hear

In the Good Samaritan hospital, which is situated on the most direct route from the campus to downtown, are a number of pretty sick people, some of whom are fighting for their very lives.

Most students, we feel certain, are aware of this fact. But a few who apparently forget sometimes to be as quiet as they should be when passing the hospital buildings.

Officials of the Good Samaritan have always been decent about the situation—much more so than one might reasonably expect them to be. And so when they make a request of us students, it is only fair that they be returned some of the decency they have always shown us.

The request is this: Of late the noise about the hospital has been greater than usual, and some of the patients are being disturbed. It may not be the students who are making most of the racket, the institution's officials point out; but just in case it is, they have asked that students remember to be even a bit quieter than usual when in the hospital vicinity.

It isn't a difficult request, and THE KERNEL is certain that the students will keep it in mind when they pass the Good Samaritan in the future.

From where we sit, it looks like the erstwhile European "game of checkers" has developed into a good first rate "poker game." Hitler holds the aces, Churchill of late has a fair deal, and France is standing pat. We are beginning to wonder if the United States will be left holding the joker.—B.B.

The first concerns a straw vote taken by a fraternity member who is in favor of hell week and who disapproves of our stand on hazing. The vote was in the form of a questionnaire published on the April 4 issue of THE KERNEL, asking pledges who had been through this year's hell week to indicate whether or not they were in favor of retaining the practice.

The argument for abolition in this case lies in the fact that only a half-dozen took the trouble to answer the questionnaire. In other words, even the students who profess to believe hell week to be a "benefit" did not feel it worth the while to defend it when given an opportunity.

And we would like to point out that the questionnaire was NOT THE KERNEL'S idea, but that of a fraternity man who favors hazing. Likewise do we think it is only fair to recall that the article was given a more than customary amount of play and space, and that the accompanying explanation was clear and complete. We do not think, then, that it is our fault that not more than six or seven new initiates bothered to defend hell week.

As a matter of fact, we would logically conclude from evidence such as this that there must be little in hazing worth defending.

The second event is the publication in the April issue of Fraternity Month, the leading national interfraternity magazine, of an article declaring hell weeks and hazing to be a thing of the past.

The piece pointed out that the National Interfraternity conference is on record as being opposed to the practices—as well as the great majority of the individual nationals.

It was further pointed out that hell week is injurious to the fraternity system because: 1) it lowers fraternities in the eyes of the public.

BEHIND IVORY WALLS. BY ALEENY E. WINER

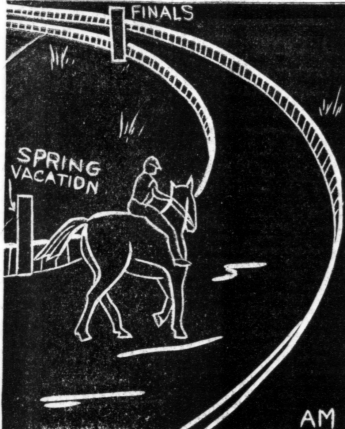

A Knoxville restaurant issues an interesting ten-point guide on how to eat and think for health—something new in the way of table rules. We hereby present it to you accompanied by personal comments.

1. When you enter our eating place, feel that you are entering the home of a friend.
 (In other words, place your feet upon the table and lean far back in your chair so that the hind legs rest. By all means make yourself comfortable.)
2. After you are seated comfortably, detach your mind from all business affairs and study the menu completely.
 (This is quite flattering, to say that you have any business affairs at all. As a matter of fact, we do become so detached that you will not know exactly what you order for, between you and me, we have nothing to offer, really.)
3. Select the items which you believe you will enjoy. Consider the season and keep in mind the important part your teeth play in your enjoyment of the food.
 (Also remember your stomach. There's no thing we hate worse than to have our clients break down with indigestion.)
4. Give your order with the same feeling as though you were speaking to someone in your own home.
 (Sample: "Comon, Nellie, drag in the slop, handud and all.")
5. While waiting to be served, think of the many things you should be grateful for. This will help your sense of taste.

 (For instance, if you have a low draft menu, then, what the hell, you'll be getting fed free pretty soon.)

6. While the first course is being served, think of the pleasure you are about to receive.
 (We pat ourselves on the back here, although, confidentially speaking, we eat out.)
7. As you partake of your food, think of its fine hidden values. Masticate it thoroughly to extract its essence and flavor.
 (Hidden values are rated in this order: Stones, 3 points; toothpicks, 2 points; stray hairs and flies, 1 point.)
8. And when you have finished eating, relax for five full minutes.
 (Partner, when you finish eating here you will have to relax permanently; we guarantee you that.)
9. When you pay your check think of the splendid investment you have made.
 (Yes, just think. By eating here you have given work to our cook, dishwashers, waiters, laundry man, and you have helped to keep the wheels of industry turning. You are a loyal citizen.)
10. Leave our establishment with a graceful feeling and a happy recollection.
 (Also, please leave the silver and the menus and napkins; times are so difficult, and anyway we had a hard time stealing the darn things from other restaurants.)

Into The Home Stretch

Says $1 Is Too Much For 'Local Band' Dance

MUSICAL MUTTERINGS By Bill Penick

There are a few things going on around this campus we don't like. High on the list is the policy of certain organizations to charge as much as $1.00 admission to dances when only local bands are the attraction. In the past few months we've had something to do with putting on some dances and we have a pretty good idea of the exact cost of an organization's having a dance.

We are very fortunate to have on our campus one of the best college orchestras in the country, the Blue and White, but we don't think it's fair to charge the students these high prices to attend dances where this and similar bands play. We don't lay the blame on the orchestras; their managers don't raise prices on some dances and we don't blame others—the blame lies solely on the group sponsoring the dance.

Thus far the Union has not been guilty of charging exorbitant rates for its dances. The rate for the Christmas Festival, featuring Johnny Messner and his band, was so low that the management took a substantial loss in the dance.

When better bands are secured we favor charging enough to break even, at least, but an organization can't hope to gain the students' confidence and goodwill by taking advantage on the prettier affairs.

NEW T. DORSEY SIDES

Tommy Dorsey is pretty much of a perfectionist when it comes to the recording and the broadcasting of his own music. He liked his version of "Let's Get Away From It All" so much that he devoted both sides of his latest record to a special arrangement of that tune. His six-minute interpretation does it full justice and we'll add our recommendations to those of Dorsey himself.

Everybody in the band plays and sings, with the Pied Pipers, Connie Haines and Frank Sinatra getting vocal honors, and Ziggy Elman and Tommy taking instrumental laurels.

This one was written by Tom Adair and Matt D. with, who also composed "Everything Happens to Me, another current hit. We predict that the boys' latest one will be the song of the next few months.

Already other bands are recording the tune. Woody Herman and Pat Waller are the latest ones to let their names appear on the label below the title. We like Herman's better than Pat's but neither can approach T.D.'s. Herman backs his recording with a new version of "Chloe," with the leader singing.

JO'S SHOW VARIETY

Tommy's brother Jimmy has been putting out some fine sides recently. His latest, "My Sister and I" and "The Hush of The Night," show the ace saxophonist's virtuosity. Sister is the sad, sad story of two Dutch refugee children whose homes were destroyed by those mean old Germans. Night is based on Rimsky-Korsakov's Scherzade. Bob Eberly and Helen O'Connell sing the latter, while Bob handles the first one alone.

Tony Pastor has recently been playing a tune which was catching like a prairie fire. Bragato is the

Petition Mixup Was No Scheme

CAMPUS POLITICS By Bob Ammons

Despite rumors to the contrary, the failure of the Constitutionalist party candidates to petition for president and vice-president of the Student Government association was not the result of a deliberate political machination by Independent Robert Allen, president of the SGA, or anyone else.

It is just another case of "the breaks," with the Independents awake to a good thing when they saw it.

Behind the scenes, the story is full of irony, and reveals several weaknesses in the SGA setup.

CONSTITUTIONAL PROVISIONS

According to the SGA constitution, the election must be held between April 15 and May 1, and petitions for president and vice-president must be submitted 10 days before the election.

At the student legislature meeting on April 17, it was announced, in a report of the election board, that the election would be held April 30. Thus, by the constitutional provision...

 Betty Butterfield, AGD, and Frank Shipe, (New Jersey).
 Pat Young, DDD, and Jack McEnry (Camp Shelby).
 Carolyn Petric, AGD, and Howard Coffman, (West Point).
 Allan Mitchell, KD, and Dick Miller (California).

Independents rumbled up a fair number of candidates and lost the deadline.

Only explanation for the Constitutionalist failure to petition was that they overlooked the clause in the constitution, and the lack of opportunity for a prairie reminder.

One of the ironies of the situation was that Jim Collier, Constitutionalist party president, had been pushing the party's probable candidate—George Terrell, Lds. Belle Howell, and Russell Gresham—and other possible ones to study the constitution. Last year, it will be remembered, the Constitutionalist party was left out on a similar limb when all its possible candidates failed to pass the preliminary examination.

Especially, it should be noted, President Allen knew no more about the petition business than did the Constitutionalist, until Monday morning, when the deadline already had passed.

If Lovett had continued speaking the necessity of filing petitions within three days would have been made public as it was, the subject was over with little thought.

After the meeting was over, according to reports, Floyd Brown, an Independent member of the legislature, recalled the provision for petitions and reminded Russell Patterson, Independent presidential candidate, and before long the inner circle of the Independents were warned to have petitions in within three days.

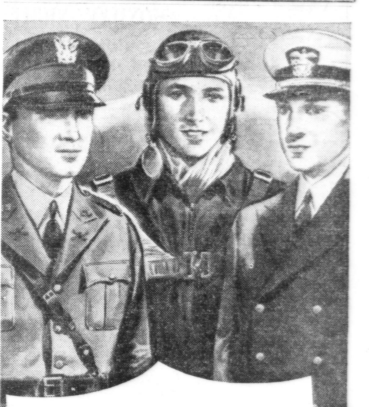

INDEPENDENTS MUM

Of course the Independents kept as quiet as possible on the subject, suspecting that the Constitutionalist candidates had overlooked this necessary procedure. On the sly, the

LAME TRACKMEN AWAIT INVASION FROM MISSOURI

Mitchell, Althaus, Long Sidelined For Rest of Year

Coach Joe Rupert and his track team await the invasion of the Missouri Teachers squad with predictions of dire results—for themselves.

On examination of the Missouri team's record, this attitude on the part of Rupert and his men may seem justified. The team from Cape Girardeau has one of the strongest outfits in the country.

Winning every meet in which they participated last year, including the Missouri Valley conference tournament, the Midwesterners have already won two contests in which they competed by top-heavy margins.

One of their opponents was defeated by the landslide score of 120-20.

To make the gloom thicker around the Kentucky team three men have been lost for the season. Billy Mitchell and Carl Althaus by ineptibility, and Robert Long is out for the year with a chest injury.

Rupert said that if these three men had participated against Vanderbilt, the Wildcat team would have had a 50-50 chance of victory.

Wildcat team would have had a 50-50 chance of victory. With Althaus, sidelined, Kentucky had no entry in the hurdles class.

In only two events does the Wildcat squad have some margin of superiority over Missouri Teachers. In the two-mile event, Montgomery set the time of 10:41.1, while Missouri Teacher's best time for the same event is 10:42.

In the broad jump division, Johnson of Kentucky has leaped 20 feet six inches and Missouri's best mark is 20 feet six inches.

The Spring Hill Badgers, perennially one of the best tennis teams in the South, took the singles title in straight sets.

The top-seeded match featured Lee Huber of Kentucky against Lou Pavin of Spring Hill. Pavin swept through the first set with a 6-2 triumph. However, Huber came back strong in the second, but Pavin, the hottest player seen on the Wildcat courts for sometime, eked out a 6-7 victory to take the match.

Ragland-Loses Dave Ragland, Kentucky, also found the going a little too tough, as he succumbed 2-6, 3-6 to the powerful volleys of Ed Moylan.

Frank Miller, playing in the No. 3 spot for the Wildcats, was defeated in two close sets by Sandy Land, 5-7, 4-6.

In the other two singles matches, Omar Ratliff, Kentucky, lost to Bill Wiggins 3-6, 2-6, and Wilmer Garrett was toppled in successive sets, 2-6, 2-6.

The top-seeded doubles match pitted Huber and Ratliff of Kentucky against Paquin and Floyd. The Alabama pair made short order of the first set, winning 6-2, 2-6, and the beginning of the second set looked as if it would be a repetition of the first. However, Huber and Ratliff began playing superb tennis and emerged 6-3 victors. With the sets at two-all, the match was cancelled because of darkness.

Doubles Combination Ragland and Miller gave Kentucky its only taste of victory, defeating Moylan and Lund of Spring Hill 2-1.

888 Votes Cast A total of 888 votes were cast in yesterday's balloting; 583 by men and 305 by women.

Almost the entire tennis vote was for the Constitutional Party candidates, records given the Kernel last night showed.

Commanding 850 votes, the fraternity and sorority party counted its third straight Union board election victory. As all sororities had a candidate in the May Queen election, none received the party's full support.

The new Union board will take over the house, public relations, sports, music, forum, art, and activities committees, through which they will direct the building's policy.

Final election list released at 9 o'clock last night was: Senior men—Bill Ames, 604; Grant Lewis, 284; Ben Lamason, 505; George Riley, 182; Bill Penick, 639; George Terrell, 236; Ivan Potts, 620; and Karl Michler, 174.

Junior men—Thomas Walker, 513; Terry Noland, 629; Alex Hall, 196; and Jim Woodbridge, 315.

Senior women—Mary Garner, 213; Gene Mehns, 624; Margaret Blacketter, 158; and Mary LaBach, 631.

Junior women—Pat Hanauer, 699; and Etta Fleischmann, 159.

May Queen—Miriam Krayer, 90; Mattigene Palmore, 40; Mary Agnes Gabbard, 6; Elizabeth Botteroff, 21; Peggy Shumate, 94; Louise Ewan, 47; Lida Stoll, 18; Virginia Henderson, 40; Caroline Conant, 140; Peggy Deany, 92; and Minnie Wiedeman, 61.

On the committee which tabbed the election votes were Sam Ewing, Billy Jackson, Jim Cook, Bill Nash, and Liz Wallace.

FINALS REACHED IN INTRAMURAL BADMINTON

Golf, Softball, Tennis, Delayed By Bad Weather

The intramural department began dealing in fractions and decimals this week as the spring sports program reached the quarter-finals, semi-finals, and finals in the various events.

Ken Rush won his way into the finals of the badminton singles when he defeated Sonny Hall. Rush will play Bob Ammons who removed Phil Phillips in the semi-finals and in the quarter-finals Phillips whipped Billy Wilson.

In the badminton doubles Ammons and Emory Horn, DTD, teamed to conquer John Samara and John Spizer in the semi-finals. The Dells will meet the ATO combination of Roy Tomms and Phillips for the crown.

Ken Denny, Speed Gray, Bill Evans, Tom Harris, and Gilbert Grenier have reached the quarter-finals in the tennis singles, and Dick Young, Bob Hillemeier, and Dave Rogan have reached the same stage in the golf singles.

Both tennis and golf have been stalemated by the inclement weather.

The intramural department announced the standings of the softball leagues and stated that the teams in the upper half of each league will participate in the tournament.

CATS TO CLOSE SOUTHERN JAUNT AGAINST VOLS

Baseballers Drop Two-Game Series To Vandy, Alabama

The University baseball team will play the Tennessee Vols at Knoxville today and tomorrow in a series which will close the Wildcats' eight-game Southern jaunt.

Moseley's men split two games with Vanderbilt last weekend. Monday and Tuesday they fell before Alabama's Crimson Tide. Wednesday and Thursday they battled Mississippi State's Maroons.

After stopping off for their two games with the Volunteers, the Cats return to Lexington for a long home stand. Little is known of the Tennessee team other than it has a record similar to Kentucky's Georgia Tech. The only team both have played, shuttled each twice.

The Wildcats' third home appearance is scheduled for Tuesday, May 6, with Cincinnati.
