STATE TRACK TEAM WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

Again the State University Track team demonstrated their superiority over the collegiate track teams of Kentucky by winning the second annual inter-collegiate meet held at Stoll Field last Saturday. Berea and Wesleyan were the other contestants and the race for first place between State and Berea was close throughout. Berea was backed by a strong crowd of supporters, mostly girls, who gave their college yells for each school and no matter who won, State, Wesleyan, or Berea, he received his yell. The meet started at 2:30 p. m. and from the first event, the 100 yard dash, until the last, the mile relay, everything went off without a hitch and at the conclusion of the meet the managers personally congratulated Manager Garvin for the splendid managing, the squareness with which they were treated, and the perfect success of the meet. Nothing is needed more than this to cement the friendly relations already existing between universities of Kentucky.

Shanklin of State, proved to be the highest individual scorer, leaving 14 points to his credit. Webb, of State followed, having 12 points to his. Medals were given to the man winning first in each event and Jerseys to the men of the winning relay team. Two State records were broken, one by Collins (State) in the mile run which he made in 4.54 3-5, and the other was the shot put, won by J. B. Collins, of Berea, who put it 36.5. The points were awarded—First, 5 points; second, 3 points; third, one point. The following is the events and the results:

100 yard dash won by E. A. Thomson, Berea. Time, 10 3-5; second, Needy, State; third, D. O. Bowman.

CENTRAL BEATS STATE

Last Wednesday the team representing State University journeyed over to Danville to play their old rivals, the team representing Central University. The game started at 3:30, and from the time Burress led off until the last half of the ninth was finished, the game was a pitcher's battle with the result always in doubt.

Hillenmeyer pitched for State, and let his opponents down with one hit. Weber who opposed him, pitched equally well, giving State nine hits, but which he kept well scattered. State made two errors while Central made one, and therein lies the tale. Errors by Rochester and Burress gave Central their third run, which proved to be enough to win. Hillenmeyer, Vogliotti and Meadows shared batting honors, each getting two hits out of four times up, and Hilly and Meadows scoring a run. State out-played Central at every stage of the game, with the exception of those wabbles made by Rochester and Burress. Johnson was out of the game, owing to injuries sustained in practice. No team ever won a championship by letting the other team score on errors, but Capt. Giltner says we'll get 'em on the third game, and he ought to know. Following is the summary:

NOTES.

Right at 'em now for the third game.

"Hilly" pitched another great game, but some hoodoo is following him up this year. That's the second one-hit game he's lost. Some hard luck that!

The only hit made by Central was a three-bagger made by W. Seelbach in the seventh.

It's just up to us to win the championship this year. State hasn't had as strong a team as this in years, and we need everybody's help to win.

Outside of those errors made by Burress and Rochester, State played errorless ball.

A Successful Year in Athletics.— Basket-Ball Only Failure.

With the track season successfully finished, all attention is now turned to the winning of the State Championship in base-ball.

Having gotten a good start in winning the foot-ball championship in a game that will long be remembered, we lost all our hard-fought laurels in basket-ball. The team worked hard and faithfully, but it was due to a slight disagreement early in the season that they didn't show the form expected of them. The girls simply "cleaned up" with everything.

Then our track team, few in number of candidates, but strong in quality, defeated Transylvania and then Tennessee in two fast meets, and probably would have defeated Georgetown and Central in the Inter-collegiate Meet had not these two, in connection with Transylvania, shown the "yellow streak" and withdrawn at the last moment. And now our chances for the baseball championship are strong. We have broken even with Georgetown and Central. The farce with Transylvania needn't be mentioned. We have as strong a team as there is in the State. Reese and Gower, who take turns behind the bat, show up strong. At first, Vogliotti plays in spots, and on his "good" days few can beat him holding down the initial bag. Little Burress at second, is the individual star of the team. As a consistent hitter and daring base runner, he is without a peer in college baseball in Kentucky. "Billy" Johnson, at short, altho' a trifle erratic at times, tightens up at the critical time, and "delivers the goods." "Hilly" at third, holds down that bag like a "big leaguer," and his strong arm, sure fielding and heavy hitting has pulled the team out of many a tight place. "Jersey" Ellis in left takes care of everything that comes in his territory, and is making a fat batting average this year. Captain Giltner, in center, is the matinee idol, and his gracefulness has caused comment among the fairer sex, but few are the quicker. "Scotty," as first sub., plays third when "Hilly" pitches, and plays like a veteran. Next year "Scotty" will be one of the best third basemen around these parts. There are few better fielders than "Spot," and whenever a hit gets in "Bonehead's" territory, it must be a hit to count for anything. Meadows has been covering right field when not pitching, to the satisfaction of everybody, and when "Gilts" comes to bat we all look for a home-run. Meadows is the slugger of the team. In the twirling line we are unusually strong. We have "Iron Man Hilly," who shoots them over so fast when he's not playing third that the batters can hardly see 'em. And then they are Jack Taylor, formerly with U. of T., Meadows, Caudill, Hogan and Beatty.

Thus, with the material left over from last year, and that team last year didn't make an envious reputation. Coach Ingo's has developed what might be termed an all-star team; each man a star in his position, and it is earnestly hoped that Coach Ingels will be retained next year. He is popular with the men, and they are working hard under him.

So we can see how successful a season we have had, and next year it's up to the scrubs of this year, the fellows that didn't come out, and the incoming men, to line up to the record we have made this year, and raise our reputation throughout the South and Middle West.

Two More Issues.

There will be two more issues of the Idea this year. The regular issue next Thursday may be obtained in the Main Building at the usual hour. The commencement issue will appear on June the second, and will be the last one of the year.

All students should make arrangements for obtaining their copy of the paper during examination and commencement week.

M. E. Picnic.

The Mechanical and Electrical Engineering Department will throw off the cares of student life and journey to High Bridge on next Saturday, May the twenty-first, mainly for the purpose of having a good time and incidentally to look at the construction of the new bridge.

Through the efforts of Dean Anderson the Southern road has given a pass to each M. E. student, good for himself and a girl; and special coaches will take the party to and from High Bridge. The train for High Bridge will leave the Southern Depot at 9:45 a. m., and a special train will bring the picnickers back at 6:00 p. m.

Mr. Daugherty, Chief Engineer of the road, will lecture to the students on the construction of the bridge, immediately after the arrival, and the rest of the day will be given up to merry making.

The Social Whirl

Sarah Marshall.

The Freshman class entertained with a dance, Friday evening in the Armory, which was most beautiful and charming. The guests of honor were the faculty and the members of three classes.

The Armory was unusually attractive, the walls decorated with green studded with yellow roses. There were palms and ferns banked in front of the orchestra, pennants and banners hung about; and the soft lights of many colored lanterns presented a scene of unusual beauty. In one corner there was a grotto of green vines and yellow flowers, with a picturesque well made of huge blocks of ice, in which was frozen a 1913 pennant, from which fruit frappe was served by several of the Freshman girls.

The grand march was led by the president of the class, Mr. Thomas C. Hedden, assisted by Miss Blanche Netherton, beautifully gowned in blue messaline with silver trimmings.

The hospitality was very heartily enjoyed and the class who will soon be Sophomores deserve much praise for the pleasure they gave.

The Monday Club entertained, Friday evening, at the State University of Kentucky, in honor of the Woman's Club, of the University. The meeting was in the Agricultural building and the guests were first entertained by a most delightful lecture, on the aeroplane, by Professor Robert H. Sparr. There were illustrations with stereopticon views, and also with a miniature machine which had been made by the lecturer, and flew about the room.

The students of the University are invited to an exhibition of Classic Dancing, which will take place on the campus, on Friday afternoon, May 27, at five o'clock. If the weather is inclement the entertainment will be in the gymnasium, at the same hour.

The public is also invited, but will be charged an admission fee of twenty-five cents.

The same exhibition will be repeated in the gymnasium on Friday night, at half-past eight.

About twenty of the young ladies of the University and town will take part, and the entertainment promises to be very beautiful.

LAMP AND CROSS BANQUET.

The Lamp and Cross Society entertained its new members with a banquet at the Phoenix Hotel on Monday night.

After enjoying an excellent menu, Mr. Thompson Bryant, '08, who was toast-master, called for the following toasts, which were responded to in a very pleasing manner:

Mr. William Rodes left Friday for El Paso, Texas, to take a position with his brother, Mr. Allen Rodes, who now has the entire management of the El Paso Re-Insurance office under Mr. C. B. Roulet, manager of the Re-Insurance for the State of Texas. Mr. William Rodes, en route, will stop at Dallas, Texas, for a short visit to his relatives there. He is one of the most popular and promising of the young State University men and all are wishing him the finest success and happiness in his new position and new home.

Academy Influence.

Last year there were matriculated at the University of Kentucky 430 regular college students and 183 academy students—nearly thirty-three percent of the student body. Due to the addition of the third year in the academy, the proportion is somewhat greater this year. The "Prep" as he is familiarly known, is necessarily young, the average age being, perhaps, seventeen. Does this large percentage of young students have any influence, either for good or bad, on the supposed highest institution of learning in the State of Kentucky, the University of Kentucky?

When a child finishes the grammar schools, the next logical advancement is to the High School, or better still—if his parents can afford it—to a male preparatory school, where he may mix with boys of his own age, and make himself ready for the college, or by a little extra effort, the University, he expects to attend.

There is quite a distinction between a college and a university. In a college are taught the higher branches of learning, which fit the young man with a general knowledge of the things an average business man should know. The college may be composed of engineering, agricultural, medical, law, and other departments, which fit a man for some special profession.

The true university, no matter what branches of study are offered is a place where the student who is not satisfied with the superficial learning of the college, may have a chance to investigate the unknown, and to continue and carry on the work that the great scientists, and other scholarly men, have done. The great object and purpose of a university may be expressed by the one word: research.

In view of the University's position, Noblesse Oblige, it should maintain a dignified bearing, and should at all times conduct itself in a manner fitting its high rank.

The students of a university must have high standards which they set by themselves, and must at all times guard their speech and actions. Good judgment is one of the main requisites of a university student.

The young student can never help a university, he can only harm it. He impairs the very purpose of the university. The university with an academy attached can never be a university in the true sense of the word.

It is not meant to convey the idea that the academy student intentionally harms the university, for such is not the fact. The young student usually has a very loyal spirit. He is very enthusiastic and tries hard to support his future Alma Mater. This is one of the main disadvantages of the academy student. The immature and "snap" judgment shown by the "Prep," when he tries to help his college, causes him to defeat his purpose and to harm the university instead.

Examples of this are seen every day, more so in athletics than in any thing else. Athletics are an advertisement of a university. The true university must have pure athletics, and the manner in which its athletics is conducted must be above criticism. The attitude of the student body in respect to athletics must be one of square play and honest competition. The students and participants in athletics must show the utmost courtesy to visiting teams both on and off the field. This calls for prompt and mature judgment at all times. The young academy student allows his enthusiasm to subordinate his judgment. He does not appreciate the niceties of athletic courtesy.

An example of what a "Prep." can do to hurt the name of an university was seen lately. The two academy students who held up a negro and robbed him, merely for fun as they thought, acted on "snap" judgment and disgraced the university.

As the percentage of academy students increases, the standard of the university will be lowered. Thirty-three percent of academy students is an alarming number. Is the University of Kentucky to become a preparatory school, or is it to be a university? Segregation in separate buildings does no good, for it is out of the class room that the harm is done. Only by moving the academy to another part of the state could its evils be overcome.

If the University lives, the academy must go. The foundation of the academy was not authorized in the land grant. Act of eighteen sixty-two, and has never been approved of by the people of the Commonwealth, it and its head are ridiculed by all. As students of the University of Kentucky, and as future law makers of our State, we must see to it that the academy is abolished. Let the minor colleges of the state have academies if they want them, but the University of Kentucky must be a university, and nothing else.

But that is not all. To guard against the hasty and thoughtless actions of young students, the upper-classmen must take charge of the Freshman classes. Their immaturity must be impressed upon them. They must be made to act upon the judgment of the upper-classmen and not on their own. Brutal hazing is to be deplored and will ruin the good name of any university, but mild hazing on the other hand is good for Freshmen. The Freshman must have few, if any liberties. He must be considered as a Freshman and treated as such. By eliminating the possibilities of Freshmen acting on their own judgment, it will be made impossible for them to injure their university.

The Sophomore must be suppressed. He should be allowed more liberties than the Freshman, for he has had a year's experience of what is expected at a university. He is still too young to be allowed to act alone, and should be guided by the upper-classmen.

The Senior class must have precedence over the Junior class, and the entire student body should look up to the Seniors as the rightful leaders in thought and action of the university. The Senior class must realize the gravity and importance of their position, and must act at all times only after careful consideration.

Georgetown Beats State.

What was probably the worst base ball played by the State University Base Ball Team this year, was played last Saturday on Stoll Field. Our team simply went to pieces and when the fireworks were over Georgetown were homeward bound with victory written all over their faces.

The game was called at 3:45 and Coach Ingels sent Hilly to the mound, even though he had just pitched two days previous, and "Hilly" pitched one of those games that he alone can pitch. He struck out twelve men, made one of our five hits and scored our only run. Had "Hilly" had better team work and stronger hitting behind him, the result might have been different. Opposing him, and our team's chief stumbling block, was Johnson, who also pitched gilt-edged ball and aided by his team's fielding and hitting got away with the game.

State's work in the field looked as if they were a bit stale from the hard week they had had and were handicapped by the absence of Vogliotti, whose place was filled by Capt. Giltner.

"Spot" was a little bit unfamiliar with the initial bag, but by the time we play Central again, our team will round to again and show the Championship form which they displayed earlier in the season. Before the game Coach Engles was made the recipient of a handsome leather handbag, a remembrance from the team for his good work this year. The presentation speech was made by Captain Giltner, who in a few select words, told the coach of the esteem in which the team held him and hoped he would return. Coach Engles accepted it with an appropriate speech showing he was touched by the respect in which the team held him, and that next year he would do his best to turn out a winning team. And then the disaster began.

Georgetown opened in the first by "Hilly" walking Creekmore, hitting Anderson and both scored on a double by Dale. Then we blanked them for two innings. In the fourth they came back with two more. Dale again hit safely. Kerney followed with a single and Dale scored on a fumble by "Hilly" of Crout's bunt. Crout scored when La Foe hit to Hillenmeyer who threw Kinney out at second, Crout scoring. Then annexed their fifth and last score by Barnett, the first man up in the fifth doubling R. Judd, sacrificing him to third, and scoring and Kenney single. This ended the scoring for the visitors. We secured our only tally in the fifth when after Giltner had fled to center, "Hilly" singled, seconded a passed ball and scored on Ellis' hit to left. Johnson had State completely at his mercy and twirled great ball.

The star play of the game was made by Burress in the beginning of the ninth. With two men out and Anderson perched on third, Judd hit to deep second. Burress was off at the crack of the bat and fielding the ball clean, without moving from his tracks threw the man out at first. This game puts the three teams neck and neck for the Championship. Following is the summary.

Hilly was the whole show Saturday.

Burress' catch in deep second was easily the feature play of the day.

Johnson pitched magnificent ball for Georgetown and that left-handed batter, something seldom seen, worked together like "Big Leaguers."

"Spot" was a little unfamiliar with first base, but by the time we play next time, he'll be on the job.

Right at 'em boys, and get the Championship. Everybody turn out and root these last games. Come out and encourage the team.

Coach Engles left Monday, but with the start he has given our team, Colonel Corbusier will take charge and coach the team on to the championship.

Before leaving Coach Engles presented each of the team a pin which are now being proudly displayed by the lucky men.

Lectures on Comet.

Jrof. August F. Foerste, principal of Steele High School of Dayton, Ohio, delivered a lecture to a large crowd at State University, Saturday evening, the chapel being filled with people who listened with closest interest to his lecture of an hour and a half on Halley's comet. The lecture was illustrated with eighty-six stereoptical slides which made it much easier for all to understand and many have a much better idea of comets in general and of Halley's in particular for having heard him.

STATE, 4—K. S. D., 3.Loosely Played Game Won by State.

At 3:45 Thursday afternoon, our team indulged in a farce with the Kentucky School for the Deaf and although the score ended 4 to 3 in favor of State yet it does not near show the character of the game.

Coach Engles realizing the team he was playing tried every play and signal he had coached the team in and while State made several bad plays the crowd, a medium sized one, was kept in good humor by some of the actions of our opponents. Taylor twirled for State and pitched another one of his steady games. Fleming was on the mound for K. S. D. and allowed State only nine hits, three of which were bunched in the first and netted three runs. After the second inning the deaf mutes played fairly good ball, State being unable to score on them. Had not State tried all her various signals and plays she doubtless would have run up a big score. Bryant Shanklin officiated as umpire to the satisfaction of everyone and even though some of the untricate finger motions which they gave him were hard to decipher, at least he seemed to understand them and there was no kick forthcoming. They scored their three runs on errors by Ellis and Vogliotti, the batting have two misplays against him. But as it was, the contest was a good practice game for our "champions to be" and ought to put them in good trim for the hard games this week.

S. I. A. A. MEET.

A dark horse, the University of Texas, won the Southern Inter-Collegiate Championship in track events this year. A university has to win the cup two consecutive years to keep it. Vanderbilt won it last year and expected to get it this year, but was driven to second place by the Long Horns.

It is not known how the records of this meet compare with the Southern records, but the Kentucky records, made mostly by State men in the last two years, compare very favorably with those made at the last S. I. A. A. meet.

As has been the custom since the Cadet Hops were started at

State University, a Farewell Hop has been held on Commencement Day. This year must not be an exception.

On Thursday, June 2, at 3:30 o'clock, in the Gymnasium Building, the Dance Committee will give its last hop for this year. These events have not been very well attended this year, but we hope to have a good crowd this time. Good music and a fine floor are assured, and with the campus as pretty as it always is at this time of the year, you can end this college year with a ripping good time.

Come one! Come all! and make it a grand success.

Students Forced to Leave.

Mr. R. N. Maddox and Mr. J. W. Brown, the two students who held up and robbed a negro "merely for fun," as they expressed it, have left school. A committee composed of a representative from each of the four classes, called upon the two men, Friday, and notified them that their absence was more to be desired than their presence.

Maddox was found at the Freshman dance and was told to leave the dance and to move off of the campus before Saturday night, and not to come back. He left the dance at once, and moved out of the dormitories Saturday morning. Brown left the city Saturday morning for his home.

According to the Leader:

The trouble which resulted in the banishment of the boys resulted from what they termed a "college prank," but which the police and detectives declare was a bold hold-up. It seems that Maddox bought a suit of clothes from the Standard Woolen Mills Co., on which he made a part payment. Last Saturday he called at the store and ordered the suit sent to his rooms in the college dormitory that night, C. O. D. He left the money for the final payment on the suit with his brother, while he and Brown returned to a dark spot on the campus. When the boy delivered the suit he was paid and when on his way back to the city was held up at the point of a revolver in the hands of Maddox. The other boy held an Indian club and when the colored boy did not produce he was struck a glancing blow. The money was finally secured and the boy started back to the store where he worked.

Maddox and Brown were arrested the next day and at first denied any knowledge of the holdup. They finally admitted it, however, and a charge of highway robbery was placed against them. This charge was finally changed to breach of peace after much pressure had been brought to bear on a few officials and they were fined $100 and costs.

Coach Ingels Leaves.

Wisconsin, Saturday, to play ball with the Green Bay League this season. He signed with the Denver, Colorado, team early in the season, but was sold to the Green Bay team.

The Minstrel Show.

A large crowd of "University folk," from the most staid professor with his wife to the wide eyed and opened-mouthed Freshman, gathered at "Pat Hall," last Saturday evening, to see the "Minstrel Show." Some because interested in the attractive posters (the work of the Poster Committee), others heard whispers of refreshments, still others came out of curiosity. Be as it may, no one was disappointed.

The first thing on the program was to arrange the crowd in twos, which was very satisfactory. Then adjournment was made to the dining room where one soon found a comfortable place, some stood on chairs; some, less fortunate, stood on the floor; others sat on the tables, which by creaking and swaying in the most fearful manner, showed they were not accustomed to such loads.

With the entrance of twelve typical negro dudes, the show began.

Lida Jones, as Sir Interlocutor "Standunketchel" and the end man, Marion Johnston and Kad Keith, carried the program from one stunt to another, each one better than the last. Jigging, catchy songs, jokes which hit, Greek (?) Dances, and Kad Keith's imitating, which never has been nor will be equalled, kept the audience in a continual uproar, while the unique costumes of the performers kept them guessing. The twelve were finally discovered to be Ruby Fleming, Lilly Park, Bessie Hayden, Laura Spinx, Elizabeth Bedinger, Esther Riter, Gail Parker, Kad Keith, Mary Barrett Smith, Miriam Taylor, Marion Johnston and Edith Stivers. Each one did her own particular stunt with ability and when the program closed, calls for "the cast" were many.

Delicious refreshments were served and when lights winked everyone departed (?) in a good humor, which, we hope, will last through the examinations.
