U.K. COMMEMORATES ONE THOUSANDTH ORAL HISTORY INTERVIEW

Dr. Thomas D. Clark, who first came to Kentucky in 1929, has been a leading force in the development, teaching and preservation of Kentucky history in the twentieth century. Chairman of the University of Kentucky History Department for twenty-three years, prolific writer and renowned lecturer, Dr. Clark has been a respected scholar and social activist for five decades. His work with archives and libraries has been extensive and today, among various other duties, he serves on the Executive Committee of the Kentucky Oral History Commission.

It is quite fitting that the University of Kentucky Library Oral History Program should commemorate its one thousandth oral history interview by talking with Dr. Clark. Begun in 1973, the Oral History Program includes interview projects on such individuals as Fred M. Vinson, A.B. Chandler, Earle C. Clements, John Sherman Cooper and Robert Penn Warren. Such subjects as the Frontier Nursing Service, Blacks in Lexington, the Black Church in Kentucky, and the history of U.K. are also documented in the program.

Produced by the U.K. office of Instructional Resources, the three-part interview with Dr. Clark discusses his early career, his writings and his role in the various issues confronting twentieth-century Kentuckians. The interview will be broadcast by Kentucky Educational Television at 6:30 p.m. EST on the evenings of July 8, 15 and 22, 1981.

BAKE SALE!

Wednesday, July 15, 1981 LSO is sponsoring a bake sale in the 3rd floor staff lounge at 9:30 a.m. Proceeds for this event will help purchase volleyball equipment for LSO. Come and enjoy the baked goods of your fellow staff members. Coffee will also be on sale.

LSO PICNIC

The Staff organization picnic will be at Jacobson Park again this year. We will be in shelter #4 on July 24.

A questionnaire is being circulated in each department to give us an idea of what people are bringing to eat.

The LSO will provide plates, napkins, utensils, beer and soft drinks. Also volleyball equipment will be there for those interested. Well have a great time. See you there!
