TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

The bearer, Ben Louise, registered domestic servant No. S-251, has worked for me as steward during my entire period of residence in Liberia or for approximately two and one half years.

Ben is a good steward boy, he is above the average in intelligence and he has given me no reason to doubt his honesty. He is courteous under all circumstances and faithful. He speaks and understands English unusually well.

I have dispensed with Ben's services a few weeks prior to my departure only because our household now requires fewer servants. He leaves me in good standing and I recommend him to anyone requiring a steward.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

The bearer, Frank G. Dauksch, was in charge of the maintenance and operations of the Earth Moving Equipment employed in the construction of the Lower Falls Power Project built by this company in Liberia, West Africa.

Mr. Dauksch's services were entirely satisfactory and he is leaving the work of his own accord. We found him at all times both willing and anxious to apply himself to the work and to cooperate with other departments.

His familiarity with details of both maintenance and operations makes him particularly valuable and I take pleasure in recommending him for any position involving these requirements.

Yours very truly,
