UNIVERSITY REQUESTS ARE IGNORED

ONLY ACTION ON PART OF ASSEMBLY CAN SAVE U. OF K. APPROPRIATION

Life of Institution Threatened By Action of Budget Committee

CRISIS IS REACHED

Bill Is Submitted to Prevent Teaching of Evolution

When the columns of the Kernel closed for the current issue a review of the attitude of the Legislature toward the University disclosed these interesting facts:

The Budget Committee of the General Assembly had considered the University's petition for funds to meet increasing demands upon the institution for physical equipment and for enlarging the work of the University generally and had turned down all these requests by writing into the budget virtually the same appropriation that was obtained the preceding biennial. The Budget Committee furthermore strongly recommended to the Legislature that its appropriations to meet all state expenses be not modified by the parent body.

In effect, this means that the University will be compelled, unless the Legislature does modify the budget to attempt to meet the increasing demands of a rapidly growing field to operate on same appropriation that for the last several years has kept it from fulfilling in full measure its duty to the young men and women of the commonwealth.

Not only is this the situation, but on account of the decreased valuation of the assessable property of the state the University will actually have, the forthcoming biennium, $100,000 less money than it had the preceding similar period upon which to continue its work.

NOE TO TOUR EUROPE FOR COMING SEMESTER

Expects Return to America In Time To Resume Chautauqua Work

Professor J. T. C. Noe, head of the Department of Education, will be absent from the University next semester while on a four months European tour in which he expects to visit Italy, France, Switzerland, Germany, Belgium, Holland and England.

Professor Noe will go with a Temple Tour Party on the Steamship Adriatic, sailing from New York February 18 and landing at Naples. He plans to be at Oberammergau to see the Passion Play in the late spring, and will return the middle part of June in time to take up his chautauqua work in the summer. Professor Noe is on sabbatical leave from the University.

Classes formerly taught by him will be divided among other members of the Education faculty. Mr. Fling, principal of Model High School, will teach a course in Methods of Education.

Louise Connell, President of Pan-Hellenic—1922

Louise Connell, representing Kappa Delta fraternity and a member of the junior class in the College of Arts and Sciences of the University has been elected president of Women's Pan-Hellenic Council for the year of 1922.

MISSISSIPPI A. & M. IS HANDED TRUNCING BY WILDCAT BASKETEERS

Old Time Championship Form Is Displayed By Blue and White

SCORE IS 28 TO 21

King and Hayden make Spectacular Shots

The Wildcats Basketeers have at last hit their stride as was amply demonstrated Thursday evening when they defeated Miss. A. & M. by a score of 28 to 21 in a hotly contested game on the floor of the University Gymnasium.

According to the dope sheet the Maroons had the edge on the wearers of the Blue and White being able to hold the lead of the Commodores to a narrow margin.

The Wildcats started a furious attack at the opening whistle and made the first goal in the first few minutes of play. Kentucky's pass work has shown considerable improvement since the tilt with the University of Louisville and the Wildcats were able to score the lead in the first half, at which time the score was 18 to 7 in our favor. Hayden was an important factor in Kentucky's lead for the first half, Basil as usual playing an excellent game. During the second half with almost a new team on the floor the Maroons scored 14 points, and fought gamely, but were unable to take the lead away from Kentucky. And the game ended 28 to 21 in Kentucky's favor.

The Maroons' passing machine was evidently not working to perfection. This, however, was accounted for by the excellent defense work of the Wildcat quintet. Their goal shooting was also off, being able to run up only 7 points in the first half. During the second half substitutes fairly rained for the Miss. A. & M. spud and they were able to score double the points in the second half as in the first, making a total of 21 points against Kentucky's 28. The Maroons fought gamely, putting up just as strong a fight in the last 40 seconds of play that remained after a time out was called, as they did at the beginning of the game.

King was a star performer in this game, his goal shooting being of the stellar variety. Adkins who was not expected to be able to play put up an unusually brilliant defense, although Paul had hard luck with some of his goal shots. The playing of Hayden was all that could be desired. Lavin and Burnham also played excellent basketball. Poyntz substituted for Hayden for a short time in the second half.

Stroller Notice

Stroller tryouts for "The Thirteenth Chair" have been discontinued until after the examinations. Those retained on the list are asked to have the part, which was assigned to them learned and ready to be given at the first tryout the week after examinations are over. The cast will not be selected until further tryouts are held the date of which will be announced later.

Strollers Are Invited To Pineville

The alumni club of Bell County sent a letter to President F. L. McVey and to the Stroller Club requesting that this dramatic organization be permitted to return to Pineville with their annual play. Both letters incorporated strong commendation of the Strollers on the talent displayed when "The Admirable Crichton" was presented in their city last year.

They even went so far as to say that they could not accept "No" for an answer.

The Strollers insured the committee at Pineville that their city will be included in their annual tour, but they were unable to give the exact date.

SAX RELATES HISTORY OF VAGABOND THEATRE

Formerly Connected With Maryland Institute

Professor Carol M. Sax head of the Art Department was intimately connected with the Vagabond Theater about which students have heard so much since the Little Theater was established on the Campus, Professor Sax was head of the Department of Design at the Maryland Institute in 1915 at the time of the organization of the Vagabond. Maryland Institute is one of the largest schools of Dramatic Art production in the United States having a student body at that time of about 2,000.

Concerning the Vagabond Theater Professor Sax says that a group of students wished to do a great deal in scenery designing and found that their experimental work was impossible without a heavy cost so they conceived the idea of the Vagabond Theatre. By decorating the stages of some High School auditoriums and an Armory in nearby towns sufficient funds were raised to rent a small room and between commissions it was decorated within a year it was opened for its first season. In the beginning there was one director but now the Vagabond boasts a board of 11 directors.

A financial plan had to be adopted, but it did not include the soliciting or acceptance of mercenary gifts for in all the seven seasons the Vagabond has never been given a penny. In the beginning the theater had a seating capacity of sixty two not until the third season was it enlarged to the same size as the University's Little Theater here on the Campus which is its present capacity. During the first season a ticket for one

MRS. CONRAD SPEAKS ON SOCIAL SERVICE

Gives Lecture In Chapel And Is Guest of Social Service Students

Mrs. Irene Farnum Conrad of Cincinnati gave the second of the lectures as planned by the Vocational Guidance Committee Tuesday morning at Chapel, on the subject "Social Service."

Mrs. Conrad says that most of us are happiest when we are championing some particular cause, and since social work is that in which she is most interested she was able to present clearly the advantages and disadvantages of her cause "Social Service."

Social work is often thought of as relieving distress but of more importance is the possibility of relieving conditions which cause the distress. A social worker endeavors to perfect human relationships and in each community the plan differs in various respects.

The salaries of social workers range from $300 to $10,000 and are in proportion to the training and education of the individual. In the opinion of Mrs. Conrad the sense of satisfaction gained from social service far out weight all the other difficulties of the profession.

THE UNIVERSITY AND THE LEGISLATURE

In other columns of the Kernel appears a resume of the attitude of the Budgeting Committee of the Legislature toward the University of Kentucky up to the time these columns closed. That resume shows that the state's appropriation may be the same as it was the previous biennium and the Legislative Budget Committee has urgently recommended that the draft of the budget be adopted as it stands. If this budget stands, as it was two years ago and the General Assembly doesn't modify it so as to incorporate an adequate University expense fund for the next two years, the cause of higher education in Kentucky is confronted by a crisis.

Indeed as matters stand today financially with the University, if the recommendations of the Budget Committee of the General Assembly carry only what they carried two years ago the University will actually suffer a loss in comparison with the previous appropriation, of $80,000 a year for the next two years on account of depreciation in assessed valuation of property in the State.

The Kernel, speaking for the student body which is deeply interested in this situation, is at a loss to scribe any plausible cause for this except that the people, not only of Kentucky but of the nation are passing through a period of financial depression which makes them hesitate to increase expense accounts; and the additional fact that within the last several months a movement, having as its genesis opposition to the teaching of evolution in the University, accentuated by popular religious prejudice based upon a misconstruction of facts, has challenged the serious attention of the Legislature.

If this latter, in any sense, be a reason for the action taken by the Budget Committee it is regrettable indeed; but the Kernel prefers to believe that rather the desire for what the committee considers necessary retrenchment than blind surrender to popular clamor based on religious grounds, is the cause.

It is regrettable that there isn't in Kentucky, at this moment, sufficient force in favor of higher education to bring to the Legislature leadership and vision enough to see, in a policy of such retrenchment as balks a great institution in its forward march, nothing but ultimate loss both financial and moral.

There has been much clamor in political circles for the payment now, of the State's debt in order apparently that one party may be able to redeem its party promises. In itself the purpose is laudable but in fact we believe the appropriation of money for payment of a debt whose creditors are not clamoring for payment, especially when this money might now be used in part for University advancement, would reflect both wisdom and patriotism.

The Kernel cannot but feel that in the providence of God there is sufficient understanding of the problem that confronts Kentucky to make it possible for this crisis to be met and that her chief institution of learning may be saved the humiliation of being compelled to trail in point of standing, every similar institution in this country.

The way has been made perfectly clear by thinking folk for the Legislature to increase adequately the University budget by additional taxation which will not amount to more than 6 cents and 2 3-4 cents per capita respectively for the forthcoming two years.

Can Kentuckians afford to make the sacrifice?

Band Thank Members of "Mikado" Company

The Kernel is requested to publish the following Card of appreciation:

To the Cast of the Mikado:
We the members of the University Band wish publicly to thank the members of the cast of "The Mikado" for their efforts in producing the opera, the proceeds of which were devoted to paying for the special Band uniforms which we received last Thanksgiving Day.

The members of the Band feel that too much cannot be said in their praise. They produced a work of art which took time and sustained effort. They received no compensation for their work.

We feel that a production like "The Mikado" was a credit to the University of Kentucky and those who helped to make it a success deserve the gratitude of every student and instructor on the campus as well as that of the members of the University Band.

Society

The Xi chapter of Alpha Xi Delta fraternity announces two recent pledges, Elizabeth Morris, of Lexington, and Lois Pearl, of London, Kentucky.

The members of Epsilon Omega chapter of Kappa Delta were hosts Saturday night from 8 to 12 o'clock in the ballroom of the Lafayette Hotel, for the first formal fraternity dance of the year.

The illuminated shield of the fraternity held the place of honor, and during the dance confetti and serpentine were showered on the dancers. Delicious fruit punch was served.

The guest list included many University students, out-of-town visitors, and Lexington people.

Mrs. Alfred Zembrod was hostess at a tea Sunday afternoon complimentary to Mrs. Gilmer Pryor, Seattle, Washington. Several members of the faculty of the University, Lexington friends and students were present. Mrs. Zembrod was assisted in serving by Lucy Kavanaugh, Kitty Conroy and Margaret Smith.

The class of 1924 entertained with the annual Sophomore dance, Saturday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock in Buell Armory. The class colors, blue and gold were used in decoration, and Smith's orchestra furnished the music.

The Class officers, Dan Morse, president, Adelaide Longest, vice-president, Margaret Lavin secretary, and Robert Giovannoli, treasurer, acted as hosts for the afternoon. About 250 guests were present.

Lexington Club Elects

W. C. Wilson, '13, was elected president of the Lexington Alumni Club at the annual meeting last Friday at the Phoenix hotel. He succeeds Bill Combs. Mr. Wilson only a week previous was elected commander of Lexington Post, No. 8, American Legion. Miss Pearl Bastin, '16, was elected vice president; Miss Marie Barkley, '20, secretary, and Headley Shouse, '19, treasurer.

Herbert Graham, '16 alumni secretary, predicted, several days before the report was actually made, that the State Budget Commission probably would not urge on the legislature the needs of the University as presented to the commission. Mr. Graham, who has been at Frankfort during the legislative session, stated that while there is sympathy for the expansion program, the business depression and other needs probably would cause the appropriation recommended to be short of the amount set by the University as its legitimate needs.

Miss Nancy Innes, '16, the vice president, presided in the absence of Bill Combs.

—X—X—

Clyde D. Harrison, '18 was elected president of the Marlon County Club at the annual election at Lebanon January 13.

"Just by way of letting you know that we have not lost interest altogether in the things that are going on up at school, our little club had a get-together and general pep meeting several evenings ago, at which time your truly was elected president for the ensuing year," Mr. Harrison said in a letter to the alumni office. He asks that Dr. McVey be induced, if possible, to accept the engagement to speak at the Lebanon high school commencement exercises this spring.

Other officers elected at the Marlon County club meeting are to be reported by the secretary.

—X—X—

Rufus L. Weaver, '95, attorney with offices at 180 Broadway, New York City, is one of the wealthiest of Kentucky alumni. He admits it. He has four girls count 'em, he writes, and "if there should be something better than four girls, four girls, are at least, better than three girls." Mr. Weaver, whose home is at Westbury, Long Island, writes a letter that is nothing if not live. The last paragraph would be worth millions to the Democratic National Committee, but from motives of policy, not being willing to have all the Republican alumni rise up and demand space in the Kernel for the Grand Old Party's side, we have quashed the indictment of the national administration.

"I have though many times of writing you and sending you a check," says Mr. Weaver. "I am sending check but as to writing I am slower still. As to items of interest about myself, 'there ain't no such animal.'"

"We have a very interesting new daughter, born January 2, and we call her Piercee Eileen. My Doctor says she is, my finest and that is some statement. Now we have four girls. I am receiving lots of condolences from that brand of friends who always pity. If there should be something better than four girls, four girls are at least better than three girls. Then some say that I am rich in children and that makes me think of the margin on which I carry them and of the high carrying charges.

"Your remarks about campus doings are most interesting. I would like to see them. I have begun to think of a place for the education of my girls and I am prejudiced in favor of a Kentucky or a Western school, for they are more liberal than this provincial East.

"I had a lunch and a nice talk with my good friend, U. A. Garred, '94, the other day. Garred is doing well and I admire him more than ever. He sailed for the Belgian Congo last Tuesday to be gone for several months. He is to superintend the installation and initial working of his patent for the reduction of copper in the largest copper mines in the world at Katanga. (Spelling not guaranteed.)"

Mr. Garred is consulting engineer with offices at 43 Exchange Place, New York. His home 120 25th street, Clivehurst, Long Island.

"Please send my Kernel to the Tennessee Geological Survey, 312 Sixth avenue, North, Nashville, Tenn., in the future, instead of to Centerville, Tenn.," says a note from C. C. Anderson, '21.

Jouett Brooks, '21, is teaching science in the Clark County High School at Winchester. His address is 330 Maple avenue, Winchester.

—X—X—

Oswald T. Dunn, '02, is in the engineering department of the Illinois Central railroad at Chicago. His business address is Room 1000, Central Station, and his residence is 1508 East 65 street, Chicago. Mr. Dunn has been with the I. C. since 1918, previously having been a civil engineer with offices in Louisville. He is now assistant to the chief engineer.

The law office of Ed S. Dabney, '20, is at 709 Security Trust Building, Lexington.

L. M. Allison, '10, is sales engineer with the Truscon Steel Company, Philadelphia, Pa., with business address at 810 Commonwealth building. His residence is 412 North 34th street. Mr. Allison, after taking his bachelor's degree, in 1914 was awarded the master's degree in the College of Engineering. In 1916 he was with the Trussed Concrete Steel Company, Youngstown, Ohio; later he went as engineer in the reinforced concrete department, American Trading Company, in Tokio, Japan. In 1920 he was with the Trussed Concrete Company, in Philadelphia, later going with the Truscon Company.

—X—X—

Virginia Taylor Graham, '19, who was in Red Cross work with the Central Y. W. C. A. Cleveland, Ohio, is now at the Oklahoma College for Women, Chickasaw, Okla. Her home address is 353 Aylesford Place, Lexington.

—X—X—

R. T. ("Bookie") Taylor, '14, Rhodes Scholar, '16, is now in the Department of English of Michigan Agricultural College; his address is 311 West St. Joseph street, Lansing, Mich. He was instructor in English in the University when we won the Rhodes Scholarship. While at Oxford he was a student of Christ College, but soon went into the British army. Returning to this country after the war, he was engaged in farming for a time at LaGrange, Ky.

Samuel J. Caudill, '16, writes that his new address is Suite 801, Casden building, Tulsa, Okla., where he is a geologist and petroleum engineer. After his graduation, he was with the Gypsy Oil Company, at Tulsa, hanging out his shingle as an independent geologist in 1920.

"Allow me to take this opportunity of expressing my appreciation for the appointment of James Parks, as baseball coach, at the University," says J. S. Misrach, '20, who is with the Pittsburg Electric and Manufacturing Company, at Pittsburg, Pa. "I have had the extreme pleasure of playing under him in 1919 and can state that without exception he was the best baseball coach the state ever had during my four years of University life."

Meeting at Patterson Hall

Addressing the women students and faculty members of the University at a tea given in her honor by the social service classes at Patterson Hall Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Irene Farnum Conrad stressed the need of recruits for social service work from among the graduates of Universities and Colleges. She also advised that students who contemplated going into the work should consider special training in addition to a college degree. Such training, she said, may be taken while actually in service in the large cities.

The members of the social service classes are Misses Angie Hill, Ima Thorpe, Nellie Stone, Katherine Hendries, Lucille Hendrix, Edna Snapp, Louise McKee, Elizabeth Allen, Margaret Parrish, Lucille Rice, Frances Ripy, Margaret Harbeson, Martha McClure, Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Cecil Heavrin. They were assisted in entertaining by Miss Pauline Wherry.

Outlook is Bleak

As matters stand, therefore, at this writing, unless friends of the University shall be able to induce the General Assembly to increase the budget as it affects the University, the institution is confronted by a crisis more positive than it is likely the general public really appreciates.

From behind this dark cloud, however, has come a ray of hope engendered by the more optimistic, that when the General Assembly is made to understand more thoroughly the actual situation it will take the initiative and increase the budget so as approximately at least to meet the pressing demands upon the institution.

Among the earlier solutions of the week suggested, was one by A. L. Hamilton, representative from this county, who at that time was at work upon a measure he believed would produce, out of fees collected from oil companies, by changing the payment of inspectors from a fee to a salary basis, not less than $125,000.

Without going into a mass of confusing figures it is estimated that in case the General Assembly decides to take a hand in the budgeting, it could modify the budget and give to the University the amount of money needed without increasing the per capita tax more than 6 cents for 1922 and more than 2 3-4 cents for 1923.

What is Behind It?

Friends of the University fear that the apparently hostile attitude of the budget Committee, if indeed it is hostile, may have had its genesis in attacks made upon the University recently by certain citizens of the State who assumed that in the teaching of evolution, which is a part of the Scientific course of Universities in general, the University of Kentucky was destroying in a large measure, the faith of the students in the Christian religion under which training they had been reared. This attack solidified itself in the submitting of a bill to the General Assembly providing punishment by fine or jail sentence or both for any instructor teaching evolution or any of the so-called "isms" at the University.

The presentation of this bill called forth vigorous response from friends of the University and the more liberal thinking people among the various church organizations in the state. To that end leading ministers of various church organizations have, both from their pulpits and in legislative halls, made vigorous protests against the passage of such a bill.

Meanwhile the University has preferred to offer little or no protest, either upon the part of the students or of the faculty.

performance cost $2.00 which was considered very high and since then the price has been reduced to $1.00. In the year 1917 alone $2,000.00 was contributed for War Relief by the Vagabond.

A regular bill consists of three one-act plays and each bill is given eight regular monthly performances and special performances when required. Sometimes as many as 16 performances have been given but that is very unusual. Five bills are presented each season with a closing long play or out-of-doors performance. A children's theater is also conducted by the Vagabond, which presents likewise five bills a season each bill being run on Saturday afternoons of a month.

Although professional actors, designers, and costumers work as guests, they are never paid for their services as they are only accepted if they want to work for the love of it. Almost every year a small handful of these "Vagabond-trained" actors break into Broadway and many succeed. Some of them enter the moving pictures. It has given Broadway one leading juvenile namely Ben Lyon who was leading man for Jean Eagles the season before last. The majority of these actors however have no desire to go on the stage but their real wish is the opportunity to enjoy the art of acting without the sacrifice of home and environment.

The Vagabond regards drama as the union of all the arts. While it is emphatic that "the play's the thing" and it is unwilling to admit that the frills and fancies in any way approach the play in importance yet it is also very firm in the belief that the spoken word alone is by no means the play. A play is made up as far as the audience is concerned of sights, sounds, color, and movement. Therefore as much attention is given to the scenery, lighting, costumes, atmosphere and decoration of the theater itself as to the spoken word; still the Vagabond does give much attention to the spoken word.

KENTUCKY MAT ARTISTS MEET CINCINNATI TEAM

Wildcats are in Fine Trim To Tackle Visiting Wrestlers

The wrestling season at the University will be ushered in officially next Saturday evening when the University of Kentucky Wrestlers grapple with the University of Cincinnati mat artists.

With the exception of Aiken, Quinn and Sanders who are wearing cauliflower ears just at this time, all the men are in excellent condition and promise to give the Cincinnati Bearcats the fight of their lives. The men and the weights they will represent in the meet are as follows: Waits 115; Maddox, 125; Stith, 135; has not been selected but King of the Wade or Edwards 145; Neal 158; Robinson, 175; Enloy, 175 or over. The referee local Y. M. C. A., Mills of Cincinnati or "Bo" McMillin will officiate.

The Bearcats are reputed to have a fast wrestling team and are working smoothly under the direction of Coach Colbert. Last year Cincinnati was able to defeat Miami and the score between the Bearcats and Ohio University was close. However, this dope is not bothering the wearers of the Blue and White and they promise to run up an even better score this year than they did last season.

The meet will start promptly at 8 o'clock p. m. Each match will consist of three five-minute bouts making a total of 15 minutes for each match. Two falls or two decisions will determine a match. The meet will be conducted the same as any other inter-collegiate sport and students will be admitted on presentation of their athletic tickets. Coach Enlow stated that ladies are always welcome at these meets and urged that this point be emphasized.

MARSHALL COLLEGE BOWS DOWN TO ALL SOUTHERN CHAMPIONS

Second Team Plays Entire Second Half Against Visitors

ADKINS OUT OF GAME Hayden Played In Old Time Form Staring for Waldeats

By J. A. ESTES.

The University of Kentucky basketball team put Marshall College's Big Green quintet through the spanking mill last night in the University gymnasium. The Blue and White squad was merciless in its chastisement of the West Virginia verdure, and won by the score of 34 to 12.

The Kentucky squad must have had its orders to get all it could, for at the end of the half the Wildcats had Marshall gasping for breath and holding the small side of a 20 to 7 score. Coach George Buchheit then called off his first string herd and sacked his second team on the visitors, with the result that more disaster befell the Huntington outfit. The score probably would have been much larger in favor of the Blue and White had the Varsity battlessome remained in the game throughout.

Marshall, although decisively beaten, made the Wildcat organization fight for very point. The Big Green defense was excellent, and it took the most brilliant efforts of the Kentucky passing machine to gather in the goals, Gillespie, long shot wizard of he visitors, missed a dozen goals by hairbreadth margins. Only two fouls were called on the Marshall team.

One of the all-Southerns was missing from the Wildcat lineup, Paul Adkins having received instructions to attend the game in civies on account of several minor injuries. His place was creditably filled by the cyclonic Freddie Fest.

Gillespie and Johnson did good work for the green team.

Marshall hopped off to a 3 to 0 lead, but the Wildcats immediately opened negotiations with the iron hoop and crammed in field goals so fast for a few minutes that Marshall spent most of its time blinking. The "wrecking crew" kept up the procession, although the Marshallites held it to a standstill for a few minutes after the opening of the second half. Gillespie tossed a foul for the visitors after the game was ended.

Lineup:

 Crist (3) F..... (8) Hayden
 Gillespie (7) F..... (6) W. King

LOUISVILLE QUINTET HUMBLD BY WILDCATS

Score 11 to 10 at End of First Half, in Favor of "Kentucky"; Final 29-22

The University of Kentucky Basketball squad again demonstrated its superiority over the University of Louisville Quintet last Saturday evening when it defeated the Cardinals for the second time this season on the University Gymnasium floor by a score of 29 to 22.

The Cardinals, anxious to even up the defeat of the preceding Tuesday, began the game with a rush and kept it until the final whistle. The first half closed with Kentucky 11, University of Louisville 10. The game which was a fast one was even more "pepped" up by sensational long distance goals.

The play of the Wildcats was not quite up to standard, but toward the last of the game they gathered momentum and when the final whistle blew, the score was 19 to 22 in the Wildcat's favor. Hayden, though crippled, started the game, and his presence on the squad was like the addition of yeast to certain prohibited ingredients. At the end of the first half Basil retired, but toward the end of the second half he replaced Kenneth King who substituted for him, added greatly to the Wildcat defense by his stellar floor work. The play of Lavin and Adkins was all that could be asked although at times Paul had bad luck with goals, the ball just barely missing the basket. The work of Bill King and Burnham was also of high calibre, the defense work of "Dutch" being particularly effective.

The lineup was as follows:
 Kentucky Louisville
 Hayden (2) F..... Cartee (14)
 W. King (13) ... F..... Silverstein (2)
 Adkins (8) C..... Jones
 Lavin (6) G..... Hocker (6)
 Burnham G..... Laffan
 Substitutions: Kentucky—King for Hayden, Hayden for King.
 Louisville—Beden for Laffan; Laffan for Silverstein.

Arrangements have just been completed for a meeting of the Deans of the College of Arts and Sciences of the Middle-West, The National University Extension Association, and the Student Government Councils of the Middle-West to meet here at the University, April 20, 21 and 22. There will be probably 125 visitors here from all parts of the United States.

The meetings will be held separately but will be held at the same time so that the University can entertain the delegates the better. The entertainment probably will consist of a luncheon at one of the down-town clubs, a dinner at Shakertown, a reception by President McVey, and an automobile trip in the vicinity. Among the speakers before the National University Extension Association will be President McVey; Dr. J. J. Tigert, U. S. Commissioner of Education and George Colvin, State superintendent of schools. Governor Morrow will probably be invited to speak.

This will be the first time in the history of the institution that so many organizations have met here at the same time.

College, George Washington University, Washington D. C., with the master's degree, and his interest in education led to his appointment as director of the summer session.

The University of Kentucky was the recipient recently of a pure bred Aberldeen Angus steer calf, which gives promise of developing into a superior animal. The donor was Mr. A. D. Bradshaw of Danville.

The Exchange Editor has received a copy of The Alumnae Notanda, a new quarterly publication of the Nazareth Academy Alumnae. The editor-in-chief, Mary F. Gorey, of Paris, is a sophomore in the Department of Journalism.

SERGEANT WOODFILL ADDRESSES STUDENTS

Greatest Individual Hero of the World War, Relates Career

Sergeant Samuel Woodfill, designated by General John J. Pershing as the greatest individual hero of the World War, addressed the students of the University of Kentucky at the Chapel period Thursday morning on a brief history of his military career.

He was met at the station by the non-commissioned officers and cadet officers of the R. O. T. C. of the University who escorted him to the chapel. The University band played "The Star Spangled Banner," after which President Frank L. McVey introduced Sergeant Woodfill with a brief speech saying that "there are many ways of becoming known but the greatest is discovery."

Sergeant Woodfill said that he joined the army at the age of eighteen. His first great chance came the night of October 18, 1918 when his battalion was sent to help out the front line troops. They were met on all sides by heavy barrage fire and when they charged over the top he made for an opening and crept within ten feet of a machine gun nest. At that moment a German sniper spotted him and fired but missed him. Sergeant Woodfill fired his pistol and killed the sniper and captured the machine gun nest single handed.

He said that there were many very brave men in his battalion and that his comrade Sergeant Nelson captured three machine gun nests but was killed. In mentioning the many decorations for bravery that he wore he said "I wear these decorations in memory of those dead Americans and not in my own glory."

Sergeant Woodfill wears the Congressional Medal, the Legion of Honor, Cavalier, and the Croix de Guerre with three palms, the Montenegro Medal and the Italian Croix de Guerre. Sergeant Woodfill's home is in Fort Thomas, Ky. He has served in the Philippines, Alaska and other possessions of the United States.

HOLM'S HEALTH HINTS

A Social Hygiene Convention will be held at Lexington February 24th and 25th at the Lafayette Hotel. The programs will be printed at Washington and sent out all over the state. The convention is to be especially representative of central Kentucky.

Plans are being made to organize a State Society of Physical Education, and a meeting will be held at Louisville, February 4th to establish a Chapter of the American Physical Education Association. All those interested in the movement are invited to attend the meeting and if their plans are approved a program will be arranged and the first meeting will be held sometime in the early Spring.

Once more the Department of Hygiene and Public Health wishes to urge all students who have any signs of a cold to report it to the Dispensary and receive medical attention. It is very important for the benefit of the school that these colds be checked and everyone should consider it his duty to have them attended to.

AN "IF" FOR GIRLS

(With apologies to Rudyard Kipling)

If you can dress to make yourself attractive,
Yet not make puffs and curls your chief delight;
If you can swim and row, be strong and active,
But of the gentler graces not lose sight;
If you can dance without a craze for dancing,
Play without giving play too strong a hold;
Enjoy the love of friends without romancing,
Care for the weak, the friendless, and the old;
If you can master French and Greek and Latin,
And not acquire as well a priggish mien;
If you can feel the touch of silk and satin,
Without despising calico and jean;
If you can ply a saw and use a hammer,
Can do a man's work when the need occurs,
Can sing, when asked, without excuse or stammer,
Can rise above unfriendly snubs or slurs;
If you can make good bread instead of fudges,
Can sew with skill, and have an eye for dust;
If you can be a friend and hold no grudges,
A girl whom all must love because they must;
If sometime you should meet and love another,
And make a home with faith and peace enshrined;
And you its soul—a loyal wife and mother—
You'll work out pretty nearly to my mind
The plan that's been developed through the ages,
And win the best that life can have in store;
You'll be my girl, a model for the ages—
A woman whom the world will bow before.
