Coliseum Impresses Opera Star

By Ed Coffman

James Melton is a big man with personality to match his physique and stature as an artist. He is the first to admit that he had to give to the students who are so great that encompass anyone who comes in contact with him.

"Those who heard Melton sing last Wednesday evening probably would like to know more about him than some of his opinions and some of his ideas. The distinguished tenor was impressed by the University's Coliseum. "It is a beautiful building, and I certainly is a thrilling sight to see a crowd of that size. The drama of such a spectacle compensates for the immensity of a smaller audience."

Five UK Queens Reign Next Week

Homecoming Events Get Started With Parade On Monday

Homecoming Week, which will include beauty contests, torches, parades and dances, will begin Monday and be climaxed Saturday, Nov. 4, with the UK-Friday football game. The University is participating with downtown groups during the celebration.

Five University students have been chosen to reign on separate days during the week. One of them will be chosen as the Homecoming Queen to rule over Saturday's activities and will be presented at the football game. The contestants were chosen by the Lexington Junior Chamber of Commerce.

A PARADE AT 3 P.M. Monday, participants of which will be Gov. Earle C. Clements, Lt. Gov. Lawrence Wetherby, State Police Commissioner Guthrie Crowe, and other state officials, will launch the week's activities. Remaining over Monday's program will be Pat Moore, Chi Omega, who is a former Kentucky beauty queen, and a member of the Alma Mater, Owens, YWCA, and the Kentuckian staff.

On Tuesday a horse show, sponsored by Block and Bridle, will be staged from 2:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. at the Lexington Trotting Track. The event is to be a Gynkana, which is a series of games played on horseback. The show is to be divided into seven phases.

THE FIRST is a junior jumping class for 12 to 17 year-olds. Second is a jumping class for University students. Musical chairs on horseback, with one more participant than horses, will be the third part, and an egg roll is scheduled fourth.

Bridling, saddling, and dressing class is number five and a water-blasting class, where each contestant fills a jar with water carried from a pail in a class, is sixth. The last class is doughnut eating. In this event a doughnut is suspended from a wire and the contestant tries eating while riding.

DAVE BEREK holds his fingers to the Florida alligator which Betty Berek is holding. The alligator is about the size of the logs wanted in the "log" contest, sponsored by S.U.V.

New Building Starts Soon

Construction of a State Department of Mines and Minerals building will begin soon on the campus, Dean D. V. Terrell of the College of Engineering announced this week. The new building will be the first unit of a proposed three-unit Mineral Industries building.

U Of Louisville Trustees Relax Discriminatory Laws

Negroes will be admitted to the University of Louisville next September and the Municipal College Branch of the University will be closed on June 30, 1951, according to a unanimous vote of the Board of Trustees of the University of Louisville.

Over 500 Will Attend Small-Business Clinic

Over 500 business men in the state will attend Monday's Small-Business clinic to be held in Memorial Hall, according to Dr. C. C. Carpenter, dean of the College of Business Administration.

The meeting, which runs from 10 a.m. to 12 noon and 2 to 4 p.m., is for the purpose of distributing information to small business men which will be followed by the annual luncheon sponsored for University alumni and friends.

ALL PHASES of the meeting are open to both students and faculty. The University president, John W. Taylor, stated that the measure was no surprise; that everyone had been talking about it for some time.

ANOTHER GOVERNMENT representative, Harry Byrd, will be the luncheon speaker in the Student Union Building. His general topic will be on mobilization.

Dance Presentation Is Farewell Concert

Mrs. Revell Estill Shaw, instructor in the UK Physical Education Department, will present her farewell modern dance concert Sunday in the Gynghal theater in the Fine Arts Building at four o'clock.

Tonight At 8:30

Lab Theatre Gives Plays, Mock Debate

Two one-act plays and a mock debate will be presented at 8:30 tonight in the laboratory theatre in the Fine Arts Building. The plays, "The Affirmative" and "The Negative," will be presented by the direction of Ruth Adams, who has cast Ed McCune, Earl Martin, Bob Hollis, David Dick, Gene Arkle, Nancy Harris, Mary Ann Bradford, and Elaine Shaffer.

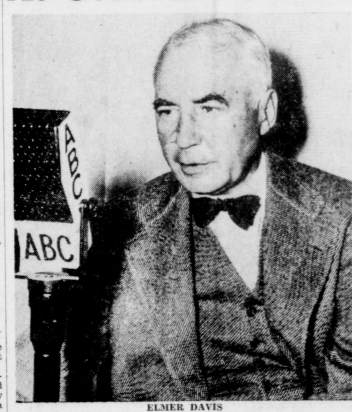

Nov. 3 Is Deadline For Kyian Pictures

Friday, Nov. 3, is the last chance to have individual pictures taken for the 1951 Kentuckian, and to save one dollar on the subscription price of this year's book.

No pictures will be taken after Nov. 3, and only pictures taken during the four weeks of the picture period will be accepted.

One thousand five hundred students have had pictures taken during the four weeks of the picture period. Only 600 of the 1400 seniors have had pictures taken, and only 300 juniors. Seniors and juniors should sign up this week to have pictures taken before Nov. 3.

News Analyst Elmer Davis Will Discuss World Problems At Coliseum Tomorrow Night

ELMER DAVIS

Geographers Meet

The Sigma Chapter of Gamma Theta Upsilon, geography fraternity, will meet at the Social Science Building, Room 231, at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Engagement At UK Is Only Appearance During Fall Season

Elmer Davis will speak in Memorial Coliseum at 8:15 tomorrow night. This is the first lecture in the 1950-1951 series sponsored by the University, the Central Kentucky Community Concert Association, and the Lexington Public Forum.

Students will be admitted upon presentation of their I-D cards. They will be seated in the east side of the building.

Mr. Davis' subject will be "The World Situation as of Oct. 28, 1950." The lecturer should give the audience an excellent interpretation of world affairs because no one is better informed of Washington affairs than Mr. Davis, according to Prof. Rodson D. McIntyre of the Commerce Department.

This is the only speaking engagement that he has accepted this year. All of his other engagements were canceled because of the pressure of the Korean war.

Mr. Davis is a native of Indiana. He received his bachelor's and master's degrees from Franklin College. He has honorary doctorates from Franklin College, Franklin and Marshall College, Washburn College, and St. Lawrence University. Before World War II he was a news analyst for the Columbia Broadcasting System. During the war he was Director of the Office of War Information, OWI, in London. Since 1945 he has been a news analyst for the American Broadcasting Company.

Charles Laughton, movie star, will be the third person to appear in the series. He will be here on Nov. 19.

Mock Election To Take Place

The League of Women Voters will sponsor a mock election Monday in the voting booth in the lobby of the Student Union Building.

Results of the mock election will be published in the Kernel on the Friday preceding the senatorial election.

Sigma Chi Has First Derby On Campus

The Sigma Chi Derby will take place in the "Big Top" at 2 p.m. Saturday afternoon at the ODK field. Eleven sorority pledge classes will compete for awards.

For the first time the Sigma Chi Derby will be presented on the campus at UK. The theme of the derby is a ten ring circus. Glib Donovan will act as ring-master of the circus and will preside over the ten events. The events include a Circus Parade, a Jugglers Set, Change Relay, Supleston Contest, Barbeck Riders Relay, Foot's Frolic, Clown Cart, Graced Pig Raffle, Queen of the Big Top, and presentation of trophy.

The winner of each event will receive an award. The group having the most points will receive a challenge trophy. This trophy will be presented at the last event by Charles Yeary, chairman of the derby.

Winners of the events will be entertained with a dinner at the Sigma Chi house, and will receive their individual awards there.

The Sigma Chi Derby originated at the University of California in 1920. Now 75 chapters of Sigma Chi hold the derby each year.

Applications For ODK May Be Filed Monday

Application for membership in Omicron Delta Kappa, national senior men's leadership honorary, may be filed in the Dean of Men's office beginning Monday, until Nov. 7.

Junior and senior men with a standing of 2.0 or better and an accumulation of 10 or more activity points are eligible for election.

A student must have acquired points in two of the five fields included in the ODK point system. The five general fields are scholarship, forensics, athletics, publications, and social service.

Log-Rolling Highlights Parade

Florida is being given the warmest reception of any team in history when they arrive on the campus next Friday for the game. In fact, one of the players is to be burned in a fitting way.

The mooring will climax a pep rally which includes a downtown parade and an official welcome to the Florida team. Logs for the fire, only they aren't to be burned, are to be furnished by the various campus organizations. Each organization will make a log of some inflammable material and will carry it in the parade. The logs can be in any shape but must be approximately three feet long and eight inches in diameter. A trophy will be presented by Suky to the organization exhibiting the best log.

ALL ORGANIZATIONS participating in the parade will assemble at the corner of Lime and Euclid at 6:45 p.m. The participants will be dressed in costumes in keeping with the Homecoming theme. The parade will start at 7 p.m. and will go down Lime to Main. It will go on Main to Essex, up Rose to Euclid and arrive at the intramural field at approximately 7:45.

Stops along the route will be at the railroad tracks on Lime, where Speeches by Coach Paul Bryant and Co-Captains Bob Gandy and Roy Anderson will precede the lighting of the fire. Last on the program will be a program by the cheerleaders.

Campus Abounds In Culture

In the midst of all the current interest in the Concert-Lecture series at the Coliseum, the student should not overlook the many other cultural opportunities on campus.

Several University departments are offering worthwhile lecture series. The English Department has already presented Robert Penn Warren and Harlan Hatcher, and future programs include such names as A. B. Guthrie, Robert Peter Tristram Coffin, and T. S. Eliot.

Dr. Harold C. Deutsch opens the Blazer series of lectures, sponsored by the History Department, tonight when he speaks on "The German Underground in World War II" at the Gaiolun Theater. This series includes eight talks on critical issues of the twentieth century. A series of four discussions on various phases of music, art, and literature is being sponsored by the University Humanities Club. The next of these programs is Nov. 22.

A traditional series enjoyed by University students for several years is the Sunday afternoon musicale, the next of which presents Earl Holloway, baritone, on Nov. 12. Five talks dealing with the history of painting and related arts during the last hundred years are being planned by the Art Department. Dates of these programs will be announced soon.

Departmental services which are available to the student throughout the year are the Art Gallery in the Fine Arts Building and two music listening rooms. The Carnegie Room in the SUB, which offers lighter classics, is open from 11:30-3 Monday through Friday. More serious music can be heard at the Fine Arts listening room from 8:30-5 Monday through Friday and 8:30-4 on Saturday.

These departmentally sponsored programs, plus the big Concert-Lecture series at the Coliseum, combine to give the University one of the most complete cultural series offered on an American college campus. He who would be a well-rounded student—and a well-rounded citizen later on—would do well to take advantage of these opportunities.

Crusade For — What?

It would be interesting to know how many of the 3907 UK students who signed the Freedom Scroll really read and understood what they were affirming when they attached their names to the following statements:

- "I believe in the sacredness and dignity of the individual."
- "I believe that all men derive the right to freedom equally from God."
- "I pledge to resist aggression and tyranny wherever they appear on earth."
- If every signer would stop to determine if he truthfully believes the first two statements, he could probably make a far greater contribution to the cause of freedom than he could ever make by merely signing his name to a Freedom Scroll.

"Edison!!!"

DEAR Editor:

Lances' Reply

This is in reply to the letter of last week raising the question of discrimination at the recent Lances' dance.

Mr. Mercado is fully justified in his complaint about the lack of sufficient tables for independent students. The reserving of tables for any dance where the crowd exceeds the table facilities by more than double is always a problem. Lances regrets the incident and will attempt to rectify the situation in the future.

I must insert here, though, that Lances membership includes independent as well as fraternity men.

Lances wants to take this opportunity to thank all the organizations and individuals, both independent and Greek, who helped to make the Carnival and Dance such a success.

Also, we thank the Kernel and Station WBKY for their excellent coverage of the event.

Looking forward to an even better Carnival and Dance next year, I remain

Sincerely,
Bob Gregory,
President of Lances

Improved Spirit

At this time I wish to express the thrill I received after attending the Kentucky, U. C. game, and finding the progress made, not only in the band, but in the card and cheering sections.

I feel that the spirit of the school has improved at least 50 per cent from last year.

It seems as though we received our Kernels a week later than the printing date, and therefore if we would like to come down for a week end, we haven't any way of finding out what is going on for that week, as our Kernels arrive so late.

I know that alums who graduated within a year or two always visit the campus often. If our Kernels would be delivered on time it would help the situation greatly.

I enjoy getting my Kernel and especially feel that the editorials are worth while reading for a change.

Sincerely yours,
An Alum

New York Director Speaks To Engineers

Otto de Larnard, director of education of the Combustion Engineering Company in New York, spoke yesterday morning in Memorial Hall to the American Society of Mechanical Engineers on "A Study of Stoker Fuel Beds."

In the afternoon he lectured in Anderson Hall to advanced engineering students and the mechanical engineering staff on "Methods of Firing Pulverized Coal."

Southern Pride

I don't know to what benevolent group we are indebted for the Confederate-Bohemian signs which are defacing our campus, but I would like to remind said individuals that this is 1950 and we live in the United States of America.

The Civil War ended 85 and one-half years ago, and the Confederacy no longer exists except to those stupid people who can find nothing better to do than to stand around waving the stars and bars and loudly exhibiting their good, ole, Surbin pride.

If they're really interested in the good, ole South, why don't they do something to help it out of its chains of ignorance and prejudice? Then they might have something to shout about.

Stuttgart Librarian Visits UK

Dr. Ewald Lisberger, a librarian in Stuttgart, Germany, is now visiting the Margaret I. King Library. Dr. Lisberger's visit was made possible by the Cultural Exchange Program sponsored by the American High Commission in Germany.

This program tries to establish better understanding between Germany and the United States. The program was originally established to send students to America but now students are handled by another program and the Cultural Exchange Program sends specialists in different professions.

Dr. Lisberger has been in the United States about three weeks. He flew from Europe to New York, from New York he went to Washington, D. C. There Dr. Lisberger received instruction about the United States along with four other librarians. He is permitted to stay in the United States for three months. He arrived in Lexington on Monday and plans to stay until Nov. 1.

Dr. Lisberger had charge of a library in Stuttgart, Germany. The library had 1,200,000 books which were reduced to 600,000 during a night bombing by the British in September, 1944.

English Professor To Address Writers

Dr. Hollis Summers, assistant professor in the English department, will speak at 8 p.m. Friday in the SUB to members of Chi Delta Phi, women's literary honorary. He will discuss problems in judging manuscripts and answer questions in an informal discussion period.

Enjoy your cigarette! Enjoy truly fine tobacco that combines both perfect mildness and rich taste in one great cigarette — Lucky Strike!

Perfect mildness? You bet. Scientific tests, confirmed by three independent consulting laboratories, prove that Lucky Strike is milder than any other principal brand. Rich taste? Yes, the full, rich taste of truly fine tobacco.

Only fine tobacco gives you both real mildness and rich taste. And Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. So enjoy the happy blending that combines perfect mildness with a rich, true tobacco taste. Be Happy—Go Lucky!

Professors are a different lot, they teach us Lit. and Psych. But when it comes to cigarettes they all teach Lucky Strike!

Payne Tells Drama Class Movies Are Hard To Crack

"You are very fortunate to have a theater like this," said John Payne as he put his hat on the table, lit a cigarette and asked for questions.

Immediately the questions flew. "Is it more difficult to break into the movies now than it was five years ago?" asked one of the audience.

"Yes," said Payne, "and even more so since the war. You see during the war, Hollywood put out a lot of bad quality movies, but now they are trying to improve them. Money is more scarce now, so that compared to several years ago when a producer would try to sponsor five or six new stars, he will only gamble on one or two."

PROF. BRIGGS ASKED, "Don't you think of the movies as a career?" Payne answered that he once did a scene 28 times in two days, but the director he was working for was a Hussian. However, he said that a scene is usually caught in the first or second take. "I've never heard of a scene on an actor muffs a line," he remarked. "Nevertheless, remarked Payne, "Kissinger is generally caught on the first or second take."

Mr. Payne, do you think that television will replace the movies?" was the next question. He answered that television is a business that doesn't know where it is going as yet. But, he continued that television can never attain the quality of movies.

AFTER PAYNE'S REMARKS, Mr. William Pine, Paramount producer, asked to the class about the mechanics of producing a movie. Mr. Pine remarked to the students that he had a better chance of being found for the movies away from Hollywood than they had migrating to this city of young boys.

"Prepare yourself," said Pine, "and the movies will find you."

Campuses Breed Aesthetes

Life Of Romance Ideal Way Realistic View Not So OK

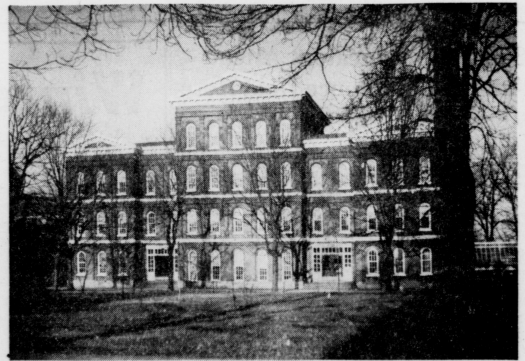

By Don Rogers

Romance is a natural and beautiful thing. Romance in literature, romance in nature, romance in the physical sense. The brilliant Kentucky autumn compels the budding author, poet and lover to gaze upon the blazing panorama, gasp, wheeze, mutter and give up his her aesthetic ghost to the hypnotic blue.

College campuses are the breeding grounds of the truly aesthetic, romantic development. Books by the untold thousands are written about the carefree college days—colorful football games, dreamy dances in the crispness of a silent Indian summer eve, walking hand-in-hand with an angel through hand-painted leaves, merriment of contorted lovers lounging in gardens scented by burning hickory and candied apples.

College campuses are the breeding grounds of the truly horrid, realistic development. Persistent, realistic in literature, realism in nature, realism in the immortal physical sense. The tubercular Kentucky autumn weather compels the cynic, acetic and pessimist to stare moodily at the driving rain, gasp, moan, wheeze and turn back to his bottle of bourbon.

Aging White Hall Reveals Colorful Past As 'Old Dorm'

By Janet Payne

Men students who enrolled at UK in the years immediately following 1923 and decided that "dorm life" was the life for them, would probably have found rooms in what is now known as White Hall. Called only "the dormitory," this building was not known as White Hall until many years later. Built in 1882 of bricks made here on the campus, "the dormitory" was one of the first three buildings on the now 109 acre campus.

The Annual Register for 1882-1883 stated that an unfinished room could be obtained in "the dormitory" for $5.00 a year. Just picture bringing furnishings to a room along with one's other trunks of paraphernalia.

AS TO THE MODE of conduct required of residents, the same register stated: "It is expected and required that each student when not engaged in recitation or in needful recreation on the grounds, confine himself quietly to his own quarters and refrain from annoying his companions by obtrusive and unseasonable visitations." Compare this with the shouting issuing from Bowman today! But the rule obeyed to the letter?

Anecdotes are recalled about

Fraternity Removes Constitutional Clause

In an almost unanimous action convention members removed all discriminatory clauses from the constitution of Alpha Gamma Rho, social fraternity, at the recent convocation held at Des Moines, Iowa.

The representatives at the convention realized that there is a general trend toward removing discrimination in fraternities and the removal of the clauses was met with little disagreement.

Under the new ruling the grand council can blackball pledges but will not use this power.

'Russian Ballerina' Showing Tonight at Campus Cinema

Campus Cinema will not have an afternoon showing today. The film, "Russian Ballerina" will be shown at the usual hours, 7 and 9 o'clock tonight.

This is a Russian movie with Russian sub-titles which depicts the rise to fame of a young ballerina student. Scenes of ballets such as "Sleeping Beauty" by Tchaikovsky will be shown. Admission is 30 cents.

The helpless moon that sneaks a peek from behind leaking clouds outlines a naked tree on the wall of your dirty, dismal, dingy room. Meneeing tones from the landside-as-shed clambers up the steps down out the ravings of the music major in the next room. The screaming chatter of lovers struggling for position on the dormitory steps doesn't penetrate the rain, but the smell of stale cigarettes and cheap gin lend a flavor to the gutter-flo.

Leaping, broken-nosed, scarred, bloody, mud-smattered athletes spend countless nights in infirmary beds holding the sun-smooth hair of a grizzled line coach.

Realism, life, autumn, you, I—Let's face it.

Profainitease By Bob Pain I can't think of an introduction this week, so grab your stomach and start reading. An English instructor, trying to explain to his class the difference between a writer who is a realist and one who is a naturalist, came up with this: A realist calls a spade a spade, whereas a naturalist calls a spade a damn dirty shovel.

Be it known to all the folks, we couldn't come to print: They always cut out the better jokes and put some clean ones in.

Alcohol is a top fiery liquid for preserving everything but secrets.

The city editor gave a bit of old-fashioned advice to the new reporter: It means nothing to our readers when a dog bites a man, but when a man bites a dog, that's news.

The reporter nodded his head gravely at this, and went out to cover his beat. An hour later he came rushing back into the office, flung a sheet of paper into his typewriter and began pounding furiously. The story was headed: Hydrant Sprays Dog.

Mamie had been looking all night—from her to her wandering husband. At two in the morning she finally found him, seated in front of a tall elms in a tavern. She sneaked up and sampled his drink.

"Burr!" she spat, dropping it quickly. "That stuff is awful!" Her husband eyed her sadly. "See that. And you thought I was out having a good time."

An ant was racing with all his might across the top of a new box of cornflakes. Suddenly he ran into another ant. "What's the hurry, chum?" the second ant inquired.

"Can't you read?" gasped the first. "I tells you right here, 'Tear along the dotted line.'"

Communists are complaining because the rich are enjoying the weather, too.

Little Herman had plobbered down a half-dollar and his mother was frantic. She ran out into the street crying for help. A man who was passing by said he would be glad to be of help. He followed her into the house, picked up the youngster and shook him by the heels until the coin fell to the floor.

"Well, you certainly know what to do," said the thankful mother. "Are you a doctor?"

"No, lady," answered the stranger. "I'm a collector of internal revenue."

Dr. Bills Will Speak Before Church Group

Dr. Robert E. Bills of the psychology department will give the last in a series of three talks at the University for Life, supper meeting of the Disciples Student Fellowship, 3:45 p.m. Sunday in the Kentucky Utilities hostess room.

Dr. Bills' subject will be "Source of Values."

'OLD DORM' AT LAST received its official name in September, 1919.

White Hall was chosen in honor of George Garrard White, who was vice-president of the college, the first dean of men, dean of the scientific faculty and assistant professor of mathematics, physics and astronomy.

Still later, in 1925, this versatile building became the focal point of the College of Commerce and remains so today. White Hall, though no longer a dorm, is still known as "home" to the 750 students of the commerce college.

300 State Educators Attend Annual Conference Held Here

Approximately 300 Kentucky educators are attending a joint meeting of the 27th annual UK Educational Conference and the 16th annual session of the Kentucky Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools now being held on the campus.

The Kentucky Academy of Social Sciences also is holding its annual meeting here today and tomorrow and is meeting in conjunction with the educational conference.

Chief out-of-state speakers addressing the educators are Dean Ernest O. Melby of the New York University School of Education and Dr. T. V. Smith, head of the Department of Philosophy at Syracuse University.

Special meetings have been scheduled for the convenience of teachers in schools that did not dismiss them for the conference.

Other affiliated groups that have scheduled meetings during the session are the Kentucky chapter of the American Association of Teachers of French, the Kentucky Association of Deans of Women, the Kentucky Vocational Association.

Included on tomorrow's program are sectional meetings on school administrative problems, business education, foreign languages, physical education and health, school library problems, art education and vocational rehabilitation.

The UK Educational Conference, now traditional in Kentucky education circles, was inaugurated in 1924 by the late Dr. William S. Taylor who served as dean of the University's College of Education for 26 years until his death in 1949.

The program for the meeting follows: Today, 10 a. m., Memorial Hall, President Herman Lee Donovan presiding; 10:35 a. m., Ernest O. Melby, Dean of the School of Education, New York University, will speak on "Interpreting Our Schools."

Kentucky Association of Colleges and Secondary School, 4 p. m., Memorial Hall, business meeting; W. J. Moore, Dean, Eastern Kentucky State College, Richmond, presiding. Dinner meeting at 6:30 p. m. in Bluegrass Room, SUB, Dean W. J. Moore presiding; speaker, T. V. Smith, head, Department of Philosophy, Syracuse University, Syracuse, N. Y.

Meeting of the College Section of the Association, 2 p. m., Memorial Hall; Ralph H. Woods, president, Murray State College presiding.

Meeting of the Secondary School Section of the Association, 2 p. m., William S. Taylor Education Building, auditorium; James L. Cobb, principal, Newport High School, Newport.

SECTIONAL MEETINGS SATURDAY Conference on Administrative Problems, 9:30 a. m., William S. Taylor Education Building, Room 222; debarate research. After teaching a year he went into industrial research with the American Cyanide Company at Stamford, Conn. Following this work he taught for a year as professor of chemistry at the University of Massachusetts, and then left there to join his present company.

The pledges are Nancy Harris, drama; General Peterson, Mildred Vance, and Bobbie Dean Yates, dance; Nancy Link, Jackie Sellers, Jane Exon, Ellen Allen, and Ann Luan Insko, music.

Mrs. Priscilla Hancher announced that the organization will have a platen induction and reception on Nov. 19. Plans also include a Concert Night on Dec. 13 which will feature two piano works and vocal music.

Engineering Seniors Tour Southern Area

The senior class in civil engineering is on a field trip in southern Kentucky this weekend. They will inspect Wolf Creek Dam and the bridge being constructed in that vicinity near Somerset. They will also attend a banquet in Jamestown. Officers of the U.S. Corps of Engineers who are in charge of construction at the Dam will address the class.

The UK section of the American Society of Civil Engineers will hold a joint meeting with the University of Louisville ASCE this weekend.

Faculty Personals

DR. JONAH SKILES, head of the ancient language department, spoke at the Beta Club initiation at the Paris high school last week. His subject was "Roman Language and Development of American Citizenship."

MISS FLORENCE IMLAY, extension field agent in home economics, and MRS. WALTER CLEMMONS, instructor of foods in the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, attended the annual meeting of the American Dietetics Association last week in Washington.

GRANT C. KNIGHT, professor of English literature, was awarded a citation in the field of education recently by Albright College at their Homecoming Day exercises.

The citation, presented by Dr. Harry V. Masters, president of Albright, noted that the professor "has made an outstanding contribution in the field of English literature."

A graduate of Albright in 1918, he taught in the preparatory school there and also taught at Gettysburg College.

DR. ARMY VANDENBOSCH, head of the political science department, spoke this week at Georgetown College during the chapel program. His text was the last chapter of Acts.

He discussed some of the work that the United Nations is doing.

DR. LAWRENCE S. THOMPSON, director of University Libraries, has been appointed to the editorial staff of the quarterly College and Research Libraries, official organ of the Association of College and Reference Libraries. Dr. Thompson will edit the sections dealing with personnel as well as participate in general editorial action.

PROF. WILLIAM H. JANSEN, folklorist on the English department staff, will give the principal address Nov. 4 before the Ohio Folklore Society during the annual meeting at Denison University, Grandville.

Dr. Jansen, long associated with folklore research at Indiana University, joined the UK English department two years ago.

Pledge Week Ends For Eta Kappa Nu

Eta Kappa Nu, electrical engineering honorary, has announced the ending of pledge week for the following students: C. B. McMurray, J. Nease, R. G. Siroton, B. R. Coleman, M. F. Dickson, G. K. Fischer, D. M. Gritton, R. Schulte, L. D. Fischer, and E. G. Leber, instructor in the Engineering College.

A banquet was held at the Rock House in honor of the new members. Dr. W. H. Jansen, of the English department, spoke on "Experiences in Folklore" at the banquet.

War College Lecturer Talks Tonight On OSS Activities

Prof. Harold G. Deutsch, a wartime OSS representative and now civilian lecturer at the National War Museum in Washington, will speak in "The German Underground in World War II," tonight at 8 o'clock in the Guiton auditorium of the Fine Arts Building.

This is the first of eight Blazer Series lectures which will be given this year, according to Dr. Thomas D. Clark, head of the history department. These live lecture series were made possible, Dr. Clark explained, by a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Paul G. Brewer of Ashland.

The series will be presented in two parts on four lectures each. Speakers for the first series, "Europe in the 20th Century," have been selected, while those for the second series, "The United States in the 20th Century," will be announced shortly. Each speaker will be a recognized authority in national and international affairs.

Speakers in the European series will be Barry Bingham, president of the Courier-Journal, who on Dec. 12 will discuss "France: A Case Study in Marshall Plan Recovery." Prince Ladanov-Rostovsky of the University of Michigan Department of History, "Russian Political Thought," and Mark Ehrhage, publisher of the Courier-Journal, who will speak on the Balkan situation. Prince Ladanov's talk is scheduled for Jan. 11. Ehrhage will speak on Feb. 10.

Bingham has recently returned from Paris where he headed the Economic Cooperation Administration mission for France. Ehrhage in 1945 was on a State Department assignment to the Balkans and in 1947 was American delegate to a United Nations commission studying Greek border disputes.

In announcing the panel of speakers, Dr. Clark said the University is fortunate in obtaining men who possess such rich resources of first-hand information and who can interpret many complex, contemporary problems by showing their historical backgrounds.

College Of Pharmacy RX NOTES

Once again, UK's College of Pharmacy has succeeded in expanding its curriculum, this time with the addition of manufacturing pharmacy, an elective offering three hours credit. The instructor is Dr. A. E. Slesser, head of the Department of Pharmacy. He is assisted by Mr. William Volmer, chief pharmacist at the Louisville General Hospital.

Only juniors and seniors having a 1.5 standing or better are eligible to take the course. Since graduation requires at least one elective, this is an ideal course because it gives him an opportunity to receive experience in another phase of the field of pharmacy. Before the present term, the student had experience only in the retail trade consisting of privately-owned and chain stores; now comes the field of manufacturing.

College Of Pharmacy RX NOTES

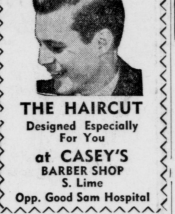

make ointments, elixirs, suppositories, tinctures, etc. of a small and large quantity. Making 50 pounds of an ointment is certainly more difficult than making one or two ounces, and it isn't just adding more material. Various factors have to be considered, such as the equipment used and the nature of the ingredients.

Here at UK the lecture and laboratory work will consist of making suppositories using plastic molds.

THE MANUFACTURING course

and dry ice. From 3000 to 5000 compressed suppositories are turned out in one day. In making ointments the pharmacist starts either with the powdered form of the active ingredients or by cutting the concentration of an ointment already prepared, and making compressed tablets by using a single punch machine.

ANYWHERE FROM 5000 TO 10,000 compressed tablets may be made in any three-hour laboratory period. Since the course is only one semester long, the student won't become an expert in the manufacturing of any of the above named types of preparations, for there isn't time to thoroughly learn the art and science of each type of preparation.

What will be done with the products made in the lab here? To start with, the lab has been equipped by the University with the best apparatus obtainable. The instructor has had much experience in the manufacturing field with Burroughs-Wellcome & Company, Tuckahoe, N. Y., and with Bristol Laboratories Incorporated, Syracuse, N. Y. The drugs used in the manufacturing process will be of the highest quality and the preparations will be prepared by the official methods recognized by the National Formulary and the United States Pharmacopoeia, the two official standards for medicinal preparations in the United States.

BY POSSESSING GOOD equipment, instruction, drugs, and official processes, one has a good criterion for the quality of products that will be produced. These finished products will be bottled if liquids; boxed if tablets, and put into tins if ointments. Next, they will be labeled and placed in the proper place in the drug room of the Louisville General Hospital. Here a registered pharmacist is on duty six hours of the day, dispensing prescriptions to clinic patients and also filling ward orders for use within the hospital. On an average day, the pharmacist will dispense 300 to 400 prescriptions. One may well see the volume of business carried on and the amount of finished products required to fill these orders and prescriptions.

offered at the College will give the student interested in manufacturing and hospital work, valuable insight and a thorough background for this type of work. Unusual opportunities ahead for the student who elects the new manufacturing pharmacy course.

Home Ec Honorary Will Meet Thursday
The next meeting of Phi Upsilon Omicron, honorary home economics fraternity, will be held Thursday at the Home Economics Building. Dot Smith will give a report about the national meeting she attended this summer at the University of Illinois.

Intramural Sports

By Bill Samuels

Two upset victories highlighted this week's intramural touch football as play moved into the stretch drive to decide who will participate in the tournament playoffs.

Seven teams have finished their division games and are waiting out the remainder of the schedule, which will close next week. The four top teams in each section will be awarded league berths.

The lovely Alpha Sigs of the first division staged the biggest upset of the week by beating the Sigma Nu. After failing to punch out a tally in their first three outings, the ASP's hit for pay dirt twice to score a 12-8 triumph.

In other games of that division the Sigma Chi set a new season high of 27 points when they downed the AGR's, 27-6. The previous mark was held jointly by the Delta and the ATO's, who had totaled 20 points in league matches.

The SAE's tightened their lead on first place and remained undefeated by beating the PIKA's, 20-0, while the AGR's bested the ASP's, 6-0. Both of these contests were staged last week.

The ATO's took complete command of the third division lead after sharing it with the Phi Deltis for three weeks, by nipping the PDT's, 9-6. Both teams were undefeated and played goal lines until this contest. The loss was the first for the Phi Deltis.

Other encounters in that division saw the Deltis and the Lambda Chi score triumphs over the winless ZBT's. The DTD's trounced the tailenders, 26-0, while the LXA's took an overtime duel, 1-0, in contests played last week. It was the initial victory for the latter.

The Triangles scored their first win of the season at the expense of the Lambda Chiis Tuesday night by squeezing out a slim 7-6 verdict. It was the first marker noted by the Engineers this year, after being blanked on three previous attempts.

The Phi Tau seemed to be the hottest team of the second division as they moved from their deliriums with a pair of victories. The Phi Tau upset the high-flying PSK's, 7-0, Tuesday night after blanking the Delta Chiis last week, 12-0, for their first win.

The Kappa Sigs extended their streak of wins Tuesday to hold undefeated lead in this division. The KS's remained one of three undefeated combines by beating the DX's, 21-7. In the other game played, the KA's came from behind to best the Sigma Eps, 13-7.

Both the Sig Eps and the Phi Tau closed their season Wednesday night, while the KA's and Delta Chiis ended theirs as well on Thursday. Other games played this week saw the ZBT's and Triangles play their finale Thursday night while the Alpha Sigs closed with the PIKA's. All others will end league play next week.

Notching a 13-0 win over Newman Club, Men's Dorm was assured of at least a tie in each league football honors last Thursday night.

Though the charges of Doc Wall showed less offensive punch than previous outings, Newman Club became the fourth victim of the Dorm team. The game also dropped Newman to the bottom of the league, with a record of three losses to a single victory.

When the Rebels, who edged their ranks on extra points Monday night, meet the Dorm on Oct. 31, the top title will be decided. By virtue of that 14-12 victory, the Rebs have three and one mark for the season and can knock up the Independents again by upsetting the Dorms in their last game on the schedule.

Forfeit wins will be credited to B.S.U. and Newman Club, who were set to go against the Tavern Boys. The Tavern Boys have never been officially scratched from the league, since they have not had a team present for any of four games.

Another tie was set to be settled last night between the Yanks and B.S.U. Both outfits have won one and lost two games and a win would decide which team is to occupy the third spot in the final season stand ings.

The loser of that contest may have to play Newman Club an extra game and a win would decide which of the four league teams will enter the post-season tournament. Newman Club will be lifted to a two and three mark by the Tavern Boys' forfeit and the Yank-B.S.U. loser will be reduced to the same record.

It may postpone the Nov. 1 date when football play-offs were to begin. Originally a single-game elimination tournament was set to include four of the six teams in each league, with the Yanks and B.S.U. hold wins over Newman Club, however.

The standings as of Tuesday night:

Team	Won	Lost	Pct
Men's Dorms	4	0	1.000
Rebels	3	1	.750
B.S.U.	2	2	.500
Newman Club	1	3	.250

Intramural volleyball ball and ping-pong entrance deadlines will fall Friday, Nov. 3, at 4 p.m., according to IM Director Bill McCubbin's schedule.

Triangles and doubles matches in ping-pong are set to begin Nov. 3, the following Monday. Entry blanks for the table tennis tournament, which mixes Greeks and independents, should be turned in at the IM office, McCubbin said.

Volley ball play will get under way Monday for the table tennis tournament. The exact starting date will depend on the football elimination tourney and is to be announced at a later date.

In other areas of IM competition, entrants in the golf and tennis tournaments are urged to get matches played before the scheduled deadlines.

The swimming meet, which had been set for the past week, will be held sometime in the future, according to McCubbin. An announcement of the date will be made as soon as plans can be made.

Sports Group Sets Ping Pong Tourney

A men's ping pong tournament has been announced by the Student Union Board Sports Committee. The tournament will be held Nov. 12-13 in the Game Room of the Student Union. Those interested should sign up in Room 122 between Oct. 20 and Nov. 4. There will be a fee of 25 cents.

The standings through Tuesday:

Kentucky - Vanderbilt Freshmen Play Saturday

Serap Next To Last Game On Stoll Field Under Floodlights

By E. T. Kirk

An injury-plagued Kentucky freshman team will go against the Vanderbilt youngsters in quest of its second straight 1950 victory at 8 o'clock Saturday night on Stoll Field.

Ten of the Kitten squad of 50 will be sidelined — eight with broken bones, one with a knee operation, and another with a back injury.

Gene Smith, the Rowell, N. Mex. quarterback who engineered the Kitten's 31-27 win over Tennessee in their only previous game of the season, is on the hurt list. His place will be taken by Chuck Phillips, a Somerset boy.

In spite of the injury toll, Kentucky will open with a 210-pound offensive line. Assistant Coach Ernest Allen said that four or five changes would be made in the line from offense to defense to meet the thrusts of Vandy's T-formation.

The Kentucky freshmen have broken even in two games with Vanderbilt over the past two years. Both were played at Nashville. Last season they averaged a 194 setback with a 21-7 triumph over the Commodore frosh.

WAA News

By Anne Boyd

This week has seen a huge turnout for intramurals through the WAA. The bowling entries have been announced and the tournament drawn up. There are two brackets, due to the fact that several organizations have entered two teams.

Approximately 70 women have entered. Mary McKinney, head of the bowling division, announced today. The teams are scheduled to play at certain times. Each team will bowl two games (20 frames) at a session and will have four sessions. Top total score will win. Scores at the end of each session should be posted by the team captain.

Badminton games are also posted and play in the tournament began Monday. Due to the fact that the facilities of the Men's Gym (Alumni Gym) have been obtained for two nights a week the play should be fast and furious. Despite the fact that 60 entries have been made, the finals and semi-finals should come up by the end of next week.

In addition to these new activities, the golf and tennis tournaments are still in full way. Alpha Gamma Delta and Kappa Delta have gone to the tennis quarter finals, and the rest of the games promise to give some real tennis entertainment.

This good fall weather has made the WAA hockey period a real joy. Often the sides have been large, enough to have a regulation game and substitutes. With the WAA sponsors, Miss Joyce Perbia and Miss Nancy Poe to officiate some enjoyable hockey has been had by all who have taken advantage of the activity period.

Check to see when you play if you are entered in golf, tennis, badminton, or bowling.

'All Is Awful' Coaches Moan

By Lewis Donohew

Coaches really have a hard time. And the laundry bill for their crying towels is terrific.

Bobby Dodd, coach of the Georgia Tech griders who play the Wildcats Saturday, says Kentucky is as good as SMU and they'll just run his pore little boys into the ground.

"We watched those Kentucky films and shuddered," Dodd said this week. "I'm afraid about the only people we'll fool (Saturday) are ourselves."

And then the newspapers try to scare the people up too. In their stories of how big and bad the opposition is, they stick in little things like this:

Now midnight coffee is a snap!

When you're cranning for a tough quiz... you may need the quick "lift" of good coffee! And NESCAFÉ is the easy answer to that one. It makes roaster-fresh coffee right in the cup.

No coffee-pot. No grounds. No brewing. Just put one teaspoonful of Nescafé in a cup, add hot water (preferably boiling) and stir. Swell coffee to give you that late-hour pick-up!

And so easy on the allowance! The 4-oz. jar makes about as many cups as a pound of ordinary coffee, yet costs far less. Get a jar today. Check!

FACTS AND FIGURES—

Despite the fact that they have had the ball for only 16 more plays than their opponents, the Wildcats continue to dominate the statistics by almost doubling their yardage.

So far, UK has riled up 102 first downs to the opposition's 67; they have eaten up 1,277 yards on the ground to 733; have scored 833 yards via the airline to 525, and have a better pass completion mark, 56 to 34, in 112 attempts for both sides.

Defensively, the Cats have snared 16 enemy passes while only four of theirs have gone astray. They have had to punt only 32 times to 41 for the opposition and have a better average—30.4 to 36.5—on the kicks.

The only department they are leading in which it would be better if they were trailing is penalties. So far, they have been fined 235 yards for infractions to 207 for the six losers they have met. These yards came on 25 different calls to 24 for the opposition.

Individually, Bill Leskobar still leads the ball carriers with a 6.79 average on 40 runs in 69 thrusts. Currently the Flatiron is 19th in the club in the rushing department.

In total offense, Babe Parilli heads the club with 890 yards, 827 of which came on passes. The passing average of 52 completions in 109 tries puts the Babe eighth in the U.S. and his 890 yards earn him the seventh slot in total offense nationally. Also he is just one behind the leader in the touchdown pass division with 11.

Al Bruno continues to pace the receivers with 16 caught for 207 yards and five touchdowns. The yardage total is way down the list in the overall picture, but those five payoff receptions put him up near the top.

Shorty Jamerson and Ben Zaranza are next in line with 165 and 154 yards, respectively, and two touchdowns apiece.

One of Jamerson's TD catches helped him to gain a tie in the scoring race. Three men—Parilli, Bruno and Jamerson—have 20 points apiece. Leskobar has 18, Bob Gain 15 and Cliff Lamson and Zaranza 12 each to round out those who have scored more than once.

To finish the facts about figures, Kentucky has had an average attendance of 27,359 in its first six tilts. Largest crowds were at the LSU and Cincinnati games, while the sparsest turnout was in Philadelphia for the Villanova game.

AFTERNOON LIGHT—

I wonder how many people have pondered the tidbit that Southern Methodist, now No. 1 in the nation, is virtually the same team that defeated Kentucky by only one touchdown last year. And the same team that came within whistle tone of upsetting the great Notre Dame of 1949.

The Mustangs played both those games minus Donk Walker and were powered along by Kyle Rife, Fred Benner, Johnny Chambliss and Rusty Russell, the same quartet that is furnishing the fuel this year.

U.S. ARMY, TAKE NOTE—

Recruiting in college athletics is a highly developed science.

Vanderbilt University mailed out its 1950-51 basketball schedule and roster this week and a look down the 10-man squad list shows that eight are from out of the state of Tennessee and that five of these aliens hail from Indiana.

The other imports come from Ohio, Florida and Illinois.

The Commodores have six returning lettermen, headed by two-time monogram winner George Kelley. Other letter men are Dave Karadokas, Gene Southwood, George McChesney, Jack Heldman and Bob Dunbar Smith.

The 22-game Vandy schedule calls for games with Kentucky on Jan. 27 in Nashville and again Feb. 24 in the Coliseum.

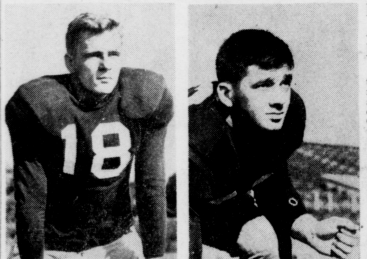

An odd note in the communique was the fact that in the final Associated Press poll last year, Vanderbilt was rated 27th in the nation—in a tie with City College of New York!

HOW TIMES CHANGE—

Only two teams of the current top 10 in the Associated Press poll were on the select list the week of Oct. 26, 1941. They are Texas and Northwestern. In 1941 the top 10 at this stage of the season were Minnesota (remember the Gophers?), Texas, tied for No. 1; Fordham No. 3; Duke No. 4; Texas A&M No. 5; Notre Dame (humm!) No. 6; Michigan No. 7; Penn. No. 8; Northwestern No. 9; and Vanderbilt, No. 10.

The current listing is SMU, Army, Oklahoma, Kentucky, California, Ohio State, Texas, Tennessee, Northwestern and Cornell.

Cats On Road Again Saturday Against Tech

TWO REASONS WHY Kentucky is unscathed in six starts this year are these two rough-and-ready guards, Bill Wannamaker, left, and Pat James. Wannamaker is a six foot, one inch senior from Charleston, N.C., and scales an even 200 pounds. James, also a senior, is an inch shorter and weighs 185. Both lettered in '48 and '49 and see the biggest part of their duty on defense.

Both Teams To Be At Full Strength For SEC Struggle

For the second consecutive week the Kentucky Wildcats take to the road for their football encounter and this time the foe is the increasingly potent SEC crew from Georgia Tech. The Atlanta battle with the Yellow Jackets begins at 1:30 Lexington time.

The Cats have this morning on their chartered DC-6 and will work out on Grand Field in Atlanta this afternoon. They are slated to return Saturday night after the game.

The spirited and versatile Jackets, although 14-point underdogs, will offer the strongest opposition the Cats have faced in their last three games. For the second time in 10 weeks, Tech will be meeting one of the top four teams in the nation. They dropped a 23-13 decision to SMU in their opener and will be anything but willing to make two national ratings.

Tech Has Fight

Coach Bobby Dodd says that this Tech team has more fight than any football team just ever coached.

To quote the Yellow Jacket mentor, "If they continue to show that kind of spirit, there is no telling what they might do the rest of the season."

That statement was made after Tech had posted its third straight win, a 20-0 pasting of Auburn last Saturday.

Currently, the Wildcats and the Jackets are tied for the leadership of the Southeastern conference. Dodd has been working his charges in secret sessions this week in an effort to cook up something special to throttle the high-flying Cats, winners of six straight.

Reports from Atlanta say that Tech will be at near top strength for the clash. The Jackets were crippled by injuries in early games, but after Quarterback Darrell Crawford returned to the fold to spark his mates for the win over LSU, the Jackets have been rolling along in fine fettle.

This game Saturday will be broadcast throughout the country as part of the CBS Football Roundup. Time — 1:30 p.m. (GST).

UK Host To Blade Tourney

Byron Krieger of Detroit, winner of numerous Midwest foil championships in recent years, Albert Wolff of Louisville, and Donald Thompson of Chicago, both former Olympic fencers, are expected to be among more than 100 blade artists competing in the annual Midwest championship fencing tournament here next spring.

The event is scheduled May 19-20 under the sponsorship of the University, according to an announcement made this week by Scott D. Brockbridge, UK fencing coach and Midwest chairman who is also a vice president of the Amateur Fencers League of America.

The Midwest tournament, second in importance only to the league's annual national championships, never has been held south of the Mason-Dixon line.

Qualifying rounds will be held earlier in Milwaukee, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Buffalo, Columbus, Dayton, Cincinnati, Louisville, St. Louis and Atlanta.

A comparison of the two teams on the basis of mutual opponents this year shows that both whipped LSU by a 13-0 score.

As for Kentucky, Coach Paul Bryant indicated early in the week that he was pleased with the daily workouts, after saying that the Cats would have to improve 1,000 per cent over their performance against Villanova to avert their first defeat against Tech.

Farley Looks Good

Sophomore Quarterback Bill Farley, who has been used sparingly so far, showed much improvement in Wednesday's drills and may see a little more action Saturday.

As for injuries, only two men are definitely out of the important game, Bill Dawson, who hasn't been in uniform for the past two weeks because of a blood ailment, and John Netoskie, who has a shoulder separation. Other than a few minor hurts, the rest of the squad is ready to go.

Radio Club Chooses Leach As President

L. L. Leach was elected president of the UK Amateur Radio Club at their first meeting.

Other officers include Ken Johnson, vice president; John A. Gramet, secretary; C. M. Price, treasurer, and Robert Rogers, activities manager.

Purpose of the course is to teach the theory of radio to members and aid them in getting amateur radio operator's licenses. A course in Morse code is currently being taught by Major Ernest C. Hauling and Capt. George I. Wagner, both of the Department of Military Science.

Jamerson and Parilli Spark Cats' Sixth Win

By Lewis Donohew

One more feather was added to the already befettered hat of Coach Bear Bryant Saturday when the Wildcats won their sixth consecutive game of 14 season by thumping Villanova, 24-7. It was the first time a UK team had won six straight since 1940.

Again this week it was Babe Parilli who figured strongly in the Wildcat totals. His passes went for one touchdown and set up two others. He also slipped across the goal line to add another score to his credit.

Parilli's and Coach Bryant's lack of favoritism among pass receivers is a mean piece of deception against grid opponents. There is no Cooney-to-Poole or Wade-to-Curtis team at Kentucky. The opposition can't take out one man and have a pass play stopped. Here it is a Parilli-to-anybody combination.

Shorty Jamerson finally returned to form and became the scoring star of Saturday's game. He talked three times, twice on line backs from the two-yard line and once on

Meet Postponed

The intramural swimming meet, which was to have been held last Monday, has been postponed indefinitely. The postponement was due to the ruling that each entrant was required to have a health card. This made the entrance for $3 instead of the announced 50 cent fee. The students felt this fee was too expensive and did not enter the meet.

Arrangements are trying to be made to lower the cost for the use of the pool.

Tomorrow is grandmaster's birthday.

Cats Behind

Kentucky hasn't had a game in Atlanta since 1932 and the Wildcats trail Tech by four wins and a tie against six wins in a piston rivalry just being revived after a lapse since 1942.

HIGHEST POINT MAN for the Intramurals is Jerry Inman, center, who is receiving the award from Frank Maturo of ATO, who is making the award. Dr. Don Seaton of the Phys Ed department looks on.
