

Deronhue Terrace

Thursday morning.

My Dear Milton

I have received a parcel from Heabury's people this morning which will oblige me (most unwillingly) to stay at home all day. Our engagement therefore must stand over.

I haven't my banker's book at home and consequently don't know exactly what the Insurance money is. But I think the amount is something less than that of the insured cheques.

I shall expect to see you to dine here tomorrow. Will you call in before you wait upon the priest next door, that I may show you what I propose to do.

always faithfully yours
C. D.
