

Temple,
30 March, 1863.

My dear Sir,

Permit me to thank you for the very kind expressions contained in your letter of the 27th inst. If it be possible for me to be with you at your service on the 14th of April I will most assuredly be there. I entertain a very strong conviction that your Institution stands preeminently in affording practical education to that most important class of society, the producers of wealth, and it will afford me great pleasure to be one of the exponents of their wants and interests at your interesting gathering of the 14th

With the kindest remembrances

I remain,

Dear Sir

Yours very truly

Wm. F. Cook
