and I realize what
a full life we had together. I wish I could think of what I have had, and how what I have lost.

My dear Mr North:
Thank you for sending me that lovely notice
from the London Athenaeum.
The notices have been beautiful, and I have a book quite filled with them - what a legacy of friendship Laurence left! I have had about 700 letters from all over the world. Can you tell how I can get three or four copies of the Athenaeum? - do

they have it at Brentano's. I want the notice for several friends who are collecting all that has been said about Laurence - The letter you wrote me I appreciated immensely, I could not write and thank you at the time, but

I hope you received
my little card -
In the Autumn I am going in to consult you about something which I want to have printed -
I enclose a tribute
which was written for a Princeton
paper - You may not have seen it -
My life seems very aimless without Laurence
