My dear Kurt,

Your wife has been forwarded to me here, when I am watching,
in such beyond expression, the last days I fear
of a beloved child,

J

I can only just say that I shall be very glad if you can add my name for me to the memorial for Miss Kelly.

The last time I saw her (the Dickens) was at one of her rehearsals of 'Long Man in his Humour' in which, as a lady, I had an humble part.

It is like you to ponder this memorial. I am faithfully & cordially yours

Blanchard Devoto
