

To your
Dever: A. Nov
1842

Dear Sir,

Thanks for your prompt attention - I'm as prompt! Mark - If terms are the wall, draw with it. I thought the article would make nearly twenty pages - and therefore asked for £20 - I should not expect more than Colburn's allowance - The former a page. But, you must act in this case for me. If you approve of the article - I consider it to be superior to the former one - ~~Let~~ Colburn know that I have written to you to the above effect. It's easy - Do it!
I feel I may go further - I am positive I may have paid! The ship is a her bean and ought be if you can spare. Yours, J. S. Newton