

mpd
Woodbridge Suffolk

4th Nov 1833

My dear friend

Only, marks the freedom, not to say impertinence, which knowing Persons of "marks & likelihood" by proxy, is apt to lead to, even in diffident folks like myself. How and of "near grounding" a description of note whom I have never seen - & perhaps never may see, and all owing to our friend Fitch's having talked to me "about thee, and about thee," till farway would almost dup'd me into a sort of momentary illusion, that we were all but as well "acquaint" as "John Anderson & his Co." But we cannot then my good friend, if at all inclined to stand on thy dignity, to give Fitch a hint to be less eloquent in his praise of thy affability & accessibility, as well as of thy extensive acquaintance with some of the Olden time, as well as Literature and Literary Men of the modern. Such plaudits are apt to be most temptingly provocative of a wish to become acquainted with thee on the part of us Minor - for Fanny as well as Percy, intrance a Man to stamp'd
- fellows - Not that I see any chance of our becoming such - for I never heard Woodbridge, at least the exceptions are so rare, as to prove the general rule which I see 10/10/

then fixed my locality - and I presume this act of possible help likely to come there with should any of the world's most unaccountable contingencies of the "Institutions" that please ever, undoes them to pay, to take a night it would go I said with me if I did not go I would make to make this - a seven miles to one, so little low - more as I am, is not every day journey - it is a distance part of a distance in the "Institutions" - a thing to be first planned - I afterwards executed - This statement requires it for my being likely to do my off the foreground of some that are "Institutions" "Institutions" of the even as to come to town I should certainly try to do so - accept my best thanks for the copy of the "Institutions" book of the such or another name - be welcome in any imagined society of them - not the less but when interested to one's acquaintance by such a congeniality of courtesy in the part of a stranger, as to understand a feeling for the part of almost familiar friendship, at my part of gratitude & kindly regard towards the "Institutions" - the "Institutions" of "Institutions" is surely, I presume, the "Institutions" of "Institutions" "Institutions" of the "Institutions" I seem to me as "Institutions" "Institutions" as the almost unaccountable dramatic "Institutions" of the "Institutions" in their original form could warrant one to anticipate or even hope - To many, the myself, such "Institutions" into a dramatic form may seem easy - but I can conceive nothing more difficult, how to do it with any degree of success - Even, I presume, when these works are made - but in his mind's eye all the "Institutions" are so readily depicted and imagination evokes a "Institutions" of her eyes to which the "Institutions" is the operation & insight - which perhaps no effort of another can fully realize - To say, that the "Institutions" was interested & satisfied me, after thus considerably enjoying my "Institutions" of the "Institutions" difficulties of the "Institutions" in writing to the "Institutions" -

Did not Mr. Galt
to your "Institutions" to "Institutions" with a "Institutions" in "Institutions" of the "Institutions" "Institutions" - with "Institutions" to all the "Institutions" "Institutions" of the "Institutions" questions chiefly on behalf of a "Institutions" friend of mine in the "Institutions" which is anxious to have a "Institutions" "Institutions" of "Institutions" - I must be honest as to find from what "Institutions" "Institutions" of it - It will be expressing a "Institutions" "Institutions" impulsions - Perhaps they "Institutions" to my former "Institutions" - so I "Institutions" my "Institutions" much rather to buy, and if the "Institutions" not "Institutions" -

Re Scott
D. D. D.

1298 (B)

George Daniel Esq
No 2 Hopkins Building
Sellington

Bernard Boston

