

ASHLEYDENE,
ROXBURGH ROAD,
WESTGATE ON SEA.

Feb. 27, 1901.

My dear Fletcher Moulton

I must lose no time in sending you my most cordial Congratulations on the announcement which I have just read. No one of whom I know anything deserves happiness more than you do, or is better qualified to ~~be~~ confer it. No friend of yours owes you more gratitude and friendship than I do - and I can now only show my feelings by wishing you every happiness in the coming event.

My daughter joins me in affectionate congratulations and good wishes.

Ever your friend

Justin M. Carthy.
