

BOX HILL,
DORKING.

OCT: 10th 1944

Dear Mrs. Gill,

I propose to send you two further "
chapters of "The Am<sup>g</sup> Marriage"
on Friday. I want them rolled off speedily.
Be so good as to let me know how long
the MS of 40 pages
will take you. Thank

BOX HILL
DORKING
will be a final Chapter.

When you
post your copy,
ressure your
duplicates for
the next post —
as a precaution
against postal accidents.

You will be pleased to hear of my

having news from
my "Bliss" in Jerusalem, that he is well.

Yours truly
Ferdinand

MEREDITH, GEORGE (1828-1909). Author. Dorking.

- a) A.L.S. to Mrs. Gill. 10 Oct. 1894.
2-1/2 p. (double sheet, octavo).
Embossed with address of Box Hill.
- b) A.N.S. to Mrs. Gill. 22 Nov. 1894. 1p.
(double sheet, octavo). With embossed address of Box Hill. Wax stained.
- c) A.N.S. to Mrs. Gill. 11 Dec. 1894/ 1 p.
(double sheet, octavo). With embossed
address of Box Hill.

Three letters from Meredith to his typist, giving her instructions about the manuscript of The Amazing Marriage. The progress of the final part of the book can be traced. The novel appeared serially in Scribner's Magazine, Jan-Dec. 1895. it appeared in two volumes on 15 Nov. 1895. The manuscript of the book is in the Pierpont Morgan Library.