Dear Mrs Thorne,

I have received your book and read your letter which reminds me of you. You are very like yourself and that is why it will give me pleasure to see you at lunch or at tea when ^{you descend on} Goringes for shopping. I ^{have} thought of some things to write in your Album, but I don't know if it will please you:

"In the summer evenings the thought comes to me that we are approaching a time when a dying soul will receive the last Sacrament from the last pope, but in what order the Trinity will pass away I am not yet certain"

I look forward to seeing you and am
Very sincerely yours

George Moore
