My dear Grandmama,

We now write to thank, you, for your kind letters; as likewise we are indebted to you, for two letters from Grandmama P. & for one from G. I. to whom also we expect ^{to} be indebted for another as soon as convenient - we are ^{very} much obliged to you both and shall be very glad to hear from either, as soon, as convenient - I like Newberry's History of England very much, indeed, one passage ^{is} ~~very~~ according ^{and} with Manma & I think will be an argument in its favour, to her - "One sign of deficiency of sense is that of always telling stories" - This is in speaking of Charles 2nd M^r. & M^s. Yockney said that they thought I was more like you upon our victory over Algiers. Beg, in treat, ask, dear papa to write to us; if Mamma will, write to us, it will give us great pleasure. I am glad to enjoy September 1816.

the country & her walk with Mr. Newton. I hope you like Dr. Maugh. We sent a letter to Uncle H yesterday. Give my love & duty to papa & Mamma hoping that they will write soon our love to Mr. & Mrs.
