

London 8. February 1837. Rachel Talfourd in Rutt.
Sergeant (Thomas Noon) Talfourd M.P. for the Borough of READING (writing by) afterwards Sir J. N. Talfourd Bart. Lord 3 C. C. Oxford & Judge of the Common Pleas.

Rachel Talfourd. (Wife of Mr Noon Talfourd M.P.) born Rutt 8th February 1837.
London

My dear Sir
It is more than probable that you've already receved our acknowledgement of your late kindness to our heretofore nearly destitute sister.
But I'm not inclined to make too close enquiry lest my writing should appear superfluous & indeed so diligent is the recollection of our former intercourses that I quite catch at this opportunity of its removal. I have shown out our mutual friend Mr. Robinson without enquiring

London February 8th 1837
W. H. Jackson Esq.
W. Johnson Esq.
J. N. Talfourd

whether you were ever in town & remarking that I would gladly go some distance for a sight of & we were not a little confused at seeing your names in the visitor's book at Bus-sells which shewed how miraculous we had missed you so the hope that Russell Square may not be always incompatible with other objects & that we may thank in person I am your obliged & affectionate Cousin

R. Talford
