My dear Miss Mason:

I share your pleasure in our meeting and sincerely hope that it may be repeated in the near future.

Unfortunately, I do not dare make an engagement to go to you in March, April or May. As soon as I return from my Mid-Western lecture tour, I expect to sail for Europe to produce THE ENEMY in London, and I do not expect to return before mid-summer.

One of the actors in our company, Frank Sylvester, does a most delightful reading from the play. I'd be very glad to arrange to have him go to you with my compliments.

Meanwhile, I hope many of your young people will come to us and sincerely thank you for your effort to send them.

With best regards, I remain,

Earnestly,

Channing Pollock
