

Journal

Indian Hill Farm, near
Newburyport, Mass., Feb. 1, 1875.

My Dear Sir,

I take the liberty of informing you that I have been requested, by the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Massachusetts, to write its history, commencing with its organisation in 1630, as an offshoot of the Great Artillery Company of London, the arms of which are given above.

If you can direct me to any information concerning the company, or its Officers, you will greatly oblige

Very Respectfully

Your Obedient Servant,

Ben: Perley Poore,

Past Commander A. & H. A.