

Thus she has called a good deal for the moment, but hope is not held out.

Affectionately yours
D. Caputi

(4) Monday evening

My dear Mrs Sumner
Today & Tomorrow
(Thursday) would not I believe have been suitable to you for sitting.
Either Wednesday
or Thursday would suit me perfectly.
So would you kindly fix which day it shall be? And shall we say 12-30 as the hour.

in these very short
days? But later
of course, if this is too early for you.

Mr. & Mrs Temple
have most generously
bought a second
picture by W. G.
Kneveton - a different one from the one of his which is to be raffled. The price was £50,
so between that
& the raffle, he was truly get a chance,

poor fellow, which he needed much in his present state
of health.

I saw my sister again
yesterday at All Saints, Home, & little altered
to appearance, & as clear & lively in talk as before. Between this visit & my former one, she had, however,
been so reduced,
as only to be able sometimes to see
even her mother
for a quarter of an hour in the day.
