Sir

I have this day received your parcel, which appears to have travelled from Liverpool to London. I thank you for the book & for the Tracts, & have already looked into them enough to see much that I approve, & nothing which I hesitate to approve, except the opinion which you have expressed of Boehmen. - Be that as it may, - the extracts which you have given will certainly induce me to become better acquainted with the writings of Mr. Law, & there is a wise, & charitable, & truly Christian spirit in the original part, which entitles the author to my respect.

I remain therefore dear Sir respectfully & thankfully
Yours
Robert Southey.
