

in the box mouth
in which we are still living -

You are fortunate, I think, with the prospect ^{state} we have of a continuance of the disorders ^{which} discredit the House, ^{so much last session} not to ^{be a man} = best of it ^{at present} remain Yours very truly
C. J. Vickers

4th Nov 1890
50 Cadogan Place

Dear Sir Baldwin

I am very sorry to have ^{the other day} missed you, when you were good enough to call - I wanted particularly to thank you for that interesting piece of

biography which you had sketched of your late friend Mr Tallot - I know his father a little ever since he married first, &
while he was in the House afterwards - he was always much

In his fidelity, ^{to} appreciated ^{by} the liberal party, &
as I always heard, & much respected when = ever he was ^{well} known - with the peculiar & ^{intimate} religious views of your friend, he pro-bably had no desire to remain