August 5, 1908.

Mr. Richard V. Oulahan,
1 Madison Avenue,
NEW YORK CITY.

My dear Sir:

Sometime, within the next few days, I am anxious to have a personal conference with you, especially before any definite work is decided upon among the Colored people, so far as the literary end is concerned. I shall be passing through New York toward the latter part of this week and shall be in New York again during the first part of next week and can easily see you. When in New York, I usually stop at the Hotel Manhattan, and if you would send a line there indicating when and where I might see you, I shall be very glad to avail myself of the privilege.

Yours truly,

S.
