

Dear Hannah, Apr. 11. 1879.

Com A. Moore Esq.

Dear Sir

I have been delayed from answering your letter several days by literary work and other causes, but I now send you something as a souvenir of me. It is on the other leaf.

truly yours

Theodore D. Worsby,

Better is childhood's thoughtless trust

Than manhood's daring scorn;

The fear that creeps along the dust
Than doubt in heart forlorn.

Better the instinct of the brute
That sees its God afar,

Than reason, to his praises
mute,

Talking with every star.
