My dear Sir
Accept my best thanks for your kind note, for the copy of the "Bookman" which followed it a few days later.
I am greatly delighted that Wm Lamb's Ante-vivisection Society Pamphlet should have at last come to light, and I congratulate Mr Livingston on his discovery. I have been in pursuit of it for years. It will make a very interesting additional note to my Edition of ^{Lamb's} letters, if ever I should revise the work -

I congratulate you also on acquiring Woodworth's own copy of Elia - a most precious possession.

With renewed thanks for this last, & many past kindnesses,

Yours truly
Alfred Conner

I wonder if the "Philanthropist's Magazine" with Charles Lamb's "Confessions of a Drunkard" in it will ever turn up. I possess a copy of Basil Montagu's "Some Inquiries" etc. with the outline of the Correggio's drawing, referred to in the article.
