

2
Sir, The honor you have done me by promising to insert my Pillow - has made me bold -
- I hope not troublesome - it would be superfluous to say how much it would add to my happiness in finding the preceding lines worthy your appreciation - but should they not - I have to request, that, in your notes to correspondents you will not insert the name of Mr Adams - but merely say - "the lines by W P"

with this hope for indulgence
I beg leave to subscribe myself Sir,
your most humble,
and devoted serv^t

June 2 - 1799

W Lucas

171.502.2

I have just sent Lord Mombodder
Head to Bridley —

Editor of the Monthly Mirror

to 1787-1799
Belle

William Lucas
1750-96
Poet

542

Thos Blackwell
1701-1767
Classical
author
442