

Beauty's voyage with Love to the Island of Matrimony

1
Beauty tir'd of her state, on Discovery bent, with young Love took a voyage of late To <sup>find out</sup> ~~discover~~ the Island of Marriage they went and embark'd at Uncertainty's strait.
At Point Introduction they took in supplies and at Cape Admiration brought too at Billet Doux Islethorus they feasted their eyes when Courtship's Bay soon came in view

2

Through the ocean of great admiration they sail'd and the state of Flirtation essay'd When anchor they cast, like Love's trade winds prevail'd and point resolution they made
But some light breezes rose, with a few clouds and show'rs, Ere they harbour'd at Port Declaration as they Jealousy's Trick near'd, but soon a few hours brought them to that blest coast Acceptation

Now Hy mens Land gain'd, and the Soundings laid down, Quite correctly by settlements charts,
 The regions of colonization to crown,
 They made for the channel of Hearts,
 But alas soon Indifference peak they both turn'd,
 As they look'd out at Mount Observation on the quicks sands of scandal each other they and parted at Cape Separation!

Decr. 13. 1034.

M. J. Manriff

Hero & Leander.

---

(By T. Hood.)

---

Why, Lover, why,
Such a Water Lover,
Would she love thee more
For coming half seas over?

Why, Lady, why,
So in love with dipping,
Must a Lad of Greece
Come all over dripping?

Why, Cupid, why
Make the passages brighter,
Were not any Boat
Better than a lighter?

Why, Maiden, why