

Dulwich,

June 21. 1880.

My Dear Professor,

I quite understood that it was on Murray that you thought you had a claim, not on me. But as I have been brought a good deal in contact with you lately and have given you trouble, I had it in my mind to offer you some little "pique amicitiae", and when I found that you had not received vol. 2 of the X.C.A., I thought I perceived a favourable opportunity to execute my purpose.

I am very glad that you have been induced to undertake origin for the X.C.B.

You are no doubt aware that I took my X.X. Dejea on Saturday.

Yours very faithfully,
S. Cheetham
