

London 19 July 1830

Mr

I am much obliged by your favor, enclosing a card of your wife's fines, & although having no present occasion for such a defence against the ravages of hares & rabbits, I cannot help expressing my thanks, for your ingenious contrivance to save the farmers from the destruction of their crops.
Depend upon it that a few years of free trade in corn will save future tenants from being turned out of their farms for using your fences -

Yours
R. Cobden

Saml Taylor Esq
