

Tell me, sages, wise and true,
What is beauty?— say— a hue?

A form?— a wavy grace?

Tell me how it's life begins,
Why it moves, and melts, and wins

At every time and place?

Wm. W. Chider

A. D. 1810