Dear Capt Phadwell

Thank you very much for your book which is a charming piece of craft work & I hope to read it soon. Of all American poets I much prefer Walt Whitman, that grand old streamer of marvellous rhythms, but I like, too, Emerson & Emily Dickenson. None of the moderns have taken my fancy at all, but then real poets don't occur every week, for which God be praised — otherwise we would never stop reading

My best wishes to you

Yours sincerely

A. Edwards
