

Concert Series To Feature Gershwin Festival Thursday

By JEAN GRANT

A Gershwin festival to be presented at 8 p.m. next Thursday in Memorial Coliseum, will be the first Community Concert of the second semester.

The festival will be presented by the Gershwin Concert Orchestra Company and a company of soloists. Organized by permission of Ira Gershwin and the Rose Gershwin estate, the concert orchestra has the approval and active interest of those who were closest to the late composer.

His sister Frances helped initiate the idea for the festival, and Ira, besides for most of his compositions, is its principal program consultant, assisted by Robert Russell Bennett, who did the original orchestrations of much of George Gershwin's music.

Soloists To Perform
Heading the company of soloists, who will appear on the program with the orchestra of 25 musicians conducted by Lerin Maazel, Koussevitzky's last protégé, will be Gershwin's friend and protégé, the pianist, Jean Maria Sammons, who's accompanied her at all her performances of the Gershwin piano works with leading orchestras have made his name almost synonymous with those of the "Rhapsody in Blue" and "Concerto in F," both of which he has recorded.

Singing stars will be the American soprano, Carolyn Long, and baritone, Theodor Uppman, who recently performed the title role in Benjamin Britten's opera, "Billy Budd," at its first performance in London.

The program will open with the "Cuban Overture," performed by the orchestra, followed by the Allegro Adagio, and Allegro agitato, from the "Concerto in F" for Piano and Orchestra with Sammons' soloist.

A Gershwin fantasy arranged for the orchestra by Peter Bodde, will feature "I Got Rhythm," "Fascinating Rhythm," "Strike Up the Band," "Who Cares," "Love Is Sweeping the Country," and "Somebody Loves Me."

To play "American in Paris" following permission the group will perform "An American in Paris," and songs from musical comedies which will include "The Man I Love," from "Lady Be Good"; "Love Walked In," from "The Goldwyn Follies"; "Soon" from "Strike Up the Band"; and "S Wonderful" from "Penny Lane."

The Gershwin festival will close with the playing of the composer's famous "Rhapsody in Blue."

New orchestrations for the festival were written by Peter Bodde. The entire festival was produced by Howard Lenim Management Inc. of Philadelphia.

Registration Time Again - All returning students and newcomers became part of a mass confusion Tuesday and Wednesday in the Coliseum when second semester registration began. More than 4,500 students enrolled at the University for the new term. Although this figure is approximately 500 less than the enrollment last semester it shows an increase of 88 students over this last year.

4,608 Enrolled on UK Campus By Wednesday

500 Less Students Register This Term

By BARBARA HICKEY

Second semester registration had reached the 4,608 mark on the UK campus by Wednesday afternoon, according to Dr. Richard L. Tuttle, registrar. Figures were unavailable on the enrollment at Louisville and the Northern Extension Center at Covington.

The early enrollment figure brings a difference of 88 students over the 4,520 who registered for the second semester last year. "We have definitely pegged the downward trend in enrollment," Dr. Tuttle said. He believed the trend is reversing itself in favor of a larger enrollment this year.

There are approximately 80 new Korean veterans at UK this semester, Curtis Phipps, head of the UK veterans office, said. He estimated this brings the total to 210. A number of veterans, however, were late in applying for their G.I. permits and Mr. Phipps expects a somewhat larger increase.

The number of students on the old G.I. bill has not yet been ascertained, although the veterans' official said they are fewer in number. It is not a big drop as expected, Mr. Phipps said, and new veterans will more than make up for the difference.

More than 200 new students have been tested by the Personnel office, according to Dr. Robert North, head of the Personnel Testing office. This includes both new freshmen and transfer students, he said. However, 1,800 students were tested at the Extension Center and 241 students completing the tests actually registered at the University.

There were approximately 1,500 new freshmen and students attending UK for the first time.

Guignol To Help Stage Shakespeare Festival

UK's Guignol theater will join with the dramatic departments of three other Kentucky colleges in the staging of the state's first "Shakespeare Festival," Feb. 25 through March 2.

The drama departments of Eastern State College, Morehead State College and Georgetown College will co-operate with the University theater group in the festival to be held in the Guignol theater.

Wallace Bragg, Guignol director, has announced that plans call for the production of three Shakespearean comedies and one tragedy, all performed on a modern adaptation of the Elizabethan stage.

A theatrical group from the Guignol group will open the festival activities on Wednesday night, Feb. 25, by presenting "King Lear." Other performances of this play will be given Thursday night, Feb. 26, and Saturday night, Feb. 28.

A theatrical group from Morehead State College, under the direction of W. F. Covington, will appear Friday night, Feb. 27, in "The Merry Wives of Windsor." Productions by all colleges except the host "UK" players will be given one night only.

"As You Like It" will be presented Monday night, March 2, by the Lexington College Matinee. Mrs. Rena Calhoun will direct this production.

Eastern State College's contribution to the festival will be "Twelfth Night" and is planned for Tuesday, March 2. Directing this production will be Keith Brooks.

Rehearsals of the Guignol's "King Lear" already have begun and the cast, as announced by Prof. Bragg, includes William Nave, Lead; David Stull, King of France; Buddy Purdon, Duke of Burgundy; Don Harford, Duke of Cornwall; Bill Eddy, Duke of Albany; Len Tracy, Earl of Kent; Jim Harmon, Earl of Gloucester.

John Hall, Earl Jones and Tom Gorch will be attendants for the production.

Mrs. Charlotte Watson McGuire, a 1951 graduate of the University, is choreographer for Eastern State College's production of "Shakespeare's Twelfth Night."

Students Required To Register Cars

John Redden, chairman of the SGA Judiciary committee, has announced that all second semester cars must be registered with the Dean of Students' office.

Students who feel that they need a parking permit may apply for one in Dean A. D. Kirchner's office and three local high schools to join UK in the observance.

Redden warned that any student who parks a car on campus without a permit will be fined and that parking an unregistered car on campus would result in a five-dollar fine.

UK School Service is Oldest In Nation

In observance of its silver anniversary, the University's Bureau of School Service has published a special bulletin which reviews the complete history of the agency and cites plans of the immediate future.

Announcement of the publication of the anniversary booklet and the release of the bureau's proposed activities was made last month by Dr. Robert L. Hopper, bureau director.

Also included in Dr. Hopper's announcement is the information that the UK agency is now recognized as the oldest active school service unit in the nation. This confirmation was received recently, he said.

Resources of the bureau will be available during the coming year to assist in the establishment of a foundation program of education for Kentucky, the bulletin disclosed.

Unique Program Set For Founders' Day

This year's UK Founders' Day program will be "a musical and dramatic production, far different from those programs of the past eight years," committee members in charge of the event announced this week.

The 88th birthday celebration will be at 4 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 22 in Memorial Coliseum. Plans also have been made for Lexington's Transylvania College and three local high schools to join UK in the observance.

The decision to hold the program on Sunday rather than during the week is expected to draw more UK alumni and friends than any previous celebration.

Organizations participating in a musical panorama in the first part of the event will include the University Band, Orchestra, Glee Club, Chorists, Henry Clay High School Choir, Lafayette High School Choir and Charmettes, University High School Choir, and the Transylvania College Choir.

The observance will be climaxed by the reading of a dramatic script written by Dr. Hollis Summers, assistant professor of English, and novelist. The script traces the outstanding developments of the University since its founding. The various musical groups will provide a melodic background for the reading.

The institution, now known as the University of Kentucky, came into existence Feb. 22, 1865, when the General Assembly chartered the Agriculture and Mechanical College and made it a part of the older Kentucky University, now Transylvania College. In 1916 the school was given its present name.

Founders' Day has been observed on the campus since 1944 when it was held in Memorial Hall. After the war only seniors were admitted due to lack of space. When Memorial Coliseum opened, all students, alumni and friends were invited to take part.

Mardi Gras Queen Will Be Selected To Reign At Ball

Judging of queen candidates for the Newman Club's fifth annual Mardi Gras ball will be held at 7 o'clock Monday night in the Student Union.

The queen, who will reign with Rev. Virgil Christian Jr. of the College of Arts and Sciences, will be selected from candidates of fraternities, sororities and independent organizations. Five finalists will be chosen by three official judges, with the four runners-up to form the queen's court. They will be presented at the Mardi Gras ball, Feb. 21. The judges are Paul Cowley, WLEX radio announcer; Mrs. R. J. Long of the Lafayette Studio, and a third who has not yet been chosen.

Royal guest for the ball will be Marian Spielman, WLVZ vocalist, who will be escorted by members of the fraternity winning the ticket-selling contest.

In the Mardi Gras tradition, organizations will also nominate costume candidates, who will attend the dance in costume. The Troubadors will play for the dance.

Queen candidates and their sponsors include Tina Massey, KY; Barbara Cohen, PHSS; Dorothy Moberly, ZTA; Barbara Smith, KKG; Jane Brandenburg, McWhorter House; Ann Craig, Hamilton House; Barbara Bodelmier, AGD; Bettye Jennings, ADP; Margaret Ford, KAT; Maureen O'Brien, Lydia Brown House.

Religious Groups Will Have Joint Prayer Service

In the first UK interdenominational observance of the Universal Day of Prayer for Students, campus groups associated with the United Student Christian Council will meet at 8 p.m. Sunday in the College of the Bible chapel.

The 6th annual Prayer day program has been planned by Baptist Student Union, Disciple Student Fellowship, Canterbury Club, Westminster Fellowship and Wesley Foundation members, at the same time that thousands of students from 50 countries all over the world will be holding similar meetings.

The student-led program, Carol Sue Cullen, Westminster Fellowship president, said, will follow the same pattern as all other observances, both in text and in hymns. She emphasized that all groups and individuals are cordially invited to share in the prayer and worship service.

Other planning committee members are Ruth Ann Maggard, Sally Maggard, Don Slagel, Bruce Poundstone, the Rev. Yandell Page, and the Rev. Bill Switt.

Local school groups especially are invited to visit the museum, located in the greater and worship service, housed in the building which housed the University's library before the construction of the Margaret L. King Library. The building was first opened as the Museum of Anthropology in March of 1933.

Among the outstanding early displays which are still exhibited in the museum are the exact reproductions of several ancient Indian graves, containing the skeletons and mummified remains of the people of the late Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, former dean of the UK Graduate School and head of the Department of Zoology.

Dr. William S. Webb, professor of physics and former head of the Department of Physics and Anthropology, supervised operation of the museum for many years and still maintains an office in the building.

Holding the rank of an assistant professor, the present curator is teaching one class in the Department of Anthropology in addition to his duties at the museum. He holds a master's degree in anthropology from Harvard University and a bachelor's degree in geology from Tufts College.

Union Committees Planning To Have Membership Drive

Registration for membership in Student Union committees will be held Feb. 16-20. Miss Bruce Cruise, Union social director, said this week.

The activities committee is planning a bridge tournament to be held early in the semester. Chairman Lucy Ward said. The committee will continue to compile and post a schedule of outstanding TV programs to be seen in the TV room of the Student Union.

Coffee Chat will continue providing discussions on current events. Chairman Ruth Sandover said that the atom and atomic power would be one of the topics to be discussed this semester.

Jojo Miles, chairman of the art and poster committee, said plans are being made for an art exhibit in the spring. Her committee has charge of all poster and art work concerned with Student Union activities.

Principal speaker at the commissioning exercises was Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain, University vice-president. Col. Edward G. Davis, professor of air science and tactics, was master of ceremonies. Col. Charles N. Mount Jr., professor of military science and tactics, assisted during the event.

Interfaith Council To Sponsor Week Stressing Religion

Religious Emphasis Week, sponsored by the Interfaith Council, will be held during the week of March 8-12. Eight outstanding speakers, most of them acquainted with college students through first-hand experience, will be available for talks in classrooms in addition to their scheduled lectures.

The speakers are Dr. J. Edward Dirks, Lake Forest College; Dr. Richard R. Cummerson, Concordia Seminary, St. Louis; Fred Smith, Williams Powell, Co. Cincinnati; Rabbi Jacob J. Guttmann, Congregation Adath Jeshurun, Louisville; Father Raymond Miller, Catholic Church, Carlisle; Dr. N. D. Pascoch, University of Tennessee, Knoxville; Dr. Raymond J. Seeger, Wesleyan University, Washington; and the Rev. T. B. Scotty Cowan, Everybody's Church, Lexington.

The Council has sent a list of the speakers with their qualifications to University instructors so they may select a speaker and a subject for discussion in the classrooms if they so desire. These selections should be turned in to the Interfaith Council, 214 Student Union, as soon as possible.

By having the speakers lecture in the classrooms many students are reached which could not otherwise be contacted. In addition to having the speakers in the classrooms, there will be assemblies in the various colleges.

Last year's Religious Emphasis Week, Feb. 24-28, was on the theme "Focus on Faith." This year's theme has not yet been announced.

29 UK ROTC Cadets Receive Commissions

All 29 officers are expecting active duty assignments in the near future. Several of the Air Force lieutenants already have been chosen for flying training.

cadets winning commissions in the Army Reserve were Henry Thomas Fillion Jr., Edmond J. Hays, Robert E. Jones, Charles W. Kivell, Lewis Carl Rebersdorf Jr., Harold James Stumba, and Reginald Williams III.

Air Force Reserve commissions went to John D. Baldwin, Wallace T. Bennett, Wilton Evans Jr., Robbie Hackworth, Joe Haycraft, James H. Holland, Thurman R. Hopkins, and the Rev. T. B. Scotty Cowan, Kenton.

Paul T. Knapp, George M. Lawson, John H. Newkirk, Charles M. Newton, Robert L. O'Neil, John A. Rodgers, Donald W. Schardt, William J. Semolin, Roy O. Sunk, Donald D. Wilson.

Principal speaker at the commissioning exercises was Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain, University vice-president. Col. Edward G. Davis, professor of air science and tactics, was master of ceremonies. Col. Charles N. Mount Jr., professor of military science and tactics, assisted during the event.

King, Wright To Give Joint Recital Sunday

The first Sunday afternoon musical recital of the Christmas holidays will be given this Sunday in Memorial Hall by Kenneth Wright, violinist, and James King, lyric baritone.

At the University he is a voice instructor and director of the Men's Glee Club.

Ardis King will be her husband's accompanist. Nathaniel Patch, associate professor of music, will accompany Dr. Wright.

Mr. King will open the program with "An die ferne Geliebte" by Beethoven. Later in the recital he will sing "Don Quichotte a Dulcinea" by Hans and "Four Gammas" by John Jacob Niles, entitled "The Robin Gambler," "The Gambler's Lament," "Gambler," "Don't Lose Your Place," and "Gambler's Song of Big Sandy River."

Dr. Wright will play the "Suite in A Major" by Franz Liszt, "The Pretude Allegro Corrente Recitativo" by Ciaac, "Sonata, Opus 94," "Chamberlains' Romance," Opus 84, Hoffman, "Carmen," "Hangel and Gretel," and "La Traviata." He has Saint-Saens.

Grill Jam-Session Scheduled Friday In Student Union

The Student Union grill and cafeteria will be open from 12 p.m. to midnight next Friday for a jam session and dancing. Miss Bruce Cruise, Union social director, announced this week.

Mourner Board and the Student Union Board were instrumental in organizing this Friday night session. Other organizations sponsoring this affair are IFC, SGA, Panhellenic, Saky, College Chamber of Commerce, ODK, and Phi Mu Alpha.

There will be a combo for the first session the first Friday night. After the jam-session there will be several hours of dance music. The tables are being rearranged to give space for dancing in the cafeteria.

The grill will be open to serve cold drinks and sandwiches. The atmosphere and dress will be strictly informal.

Miss Cruise said all UK students are urged to attend. If the students show sufficient interest, the sessions will become a weekly affair. There will be no admission charge.

"Now is a good time for such an event to be held since students have been asking for it," Miss Cruise said. The idea of having dancing in the grill was brought up last spring by several persons and was suggested this year by a student through the Kern's letters to the editor column.

University Chosen As Research Site By Armed Forces

UK, along with five other universities, has been chosen as a research site by the U. S. Department of the Army and Department of the Air Force in their research on a grant to develop a system of grants aid to ROTC students.

UK was chosen because it contains an Army ROTC and an Air Force ROTC. All Military Science IV students began the required testing program on Tuesday. It consisted of written forms given at the Biological Sciences auditorium and a physical proficiency test in Alumni Gym.

From these results a suitable test battery can be developed whereby all the results can be taken and compared to be used in the selection of students for this program of sub-sidation or support.

The soundness of the test battery is of great concern so scholarship and interest will play a considerable part in determining this test battery.

Crafts Of Hopi Indians Shown In UK Museum Of Anthropology

Kachina dolls and crafts of the Hopi Indians are on exhibit in the UK Museum of Anthropology. Prof. Thompson said the display marks the beginning of a complete renovation of the 20-year old museum.

Mr. Thompson arrived on the UK campus in September to take charge of the museum, and shortly after his arrival disclosed that he would undertake the reconditioning of all exhibits and the installation of several new displays.

Formal opening of the first of the many proposed exhibits was planned to coincide with the beginning of the University's second semester. Although the museum is maintained mainly for UK students, it is open throughout the year to the public.

Many doll collectors will be glad to hear that our first new exhibit includes kachina dolls and crafts of the Hopi Indians," Prof. Thompson said.

Hopi Culture Recognized
It is among the choice of the first major display the new curator pointed out that the significance of the Hopi Indian culture has been recognized internationally, and that the Hopi kachina dolls have come to be treasured by both collectors and working anthropologists.

"Northern Arizona, home of the Hopi Indians, is far from the UK campus of course, but in our renovation of the museum we hope to present exhibits typical of cultures in all sections of the world," Prof. Thompson said.

Three wooden kachina dolls, all made and painted by Hopi artists, are exhibited in the new display. According to the museum curator, all kachina dolls represent supernatural beings whom the Hopi believe live on certain high mountains in Arizona.

Dolls Play Important Part
The kachinas play an important part in both the religious and social life of the Hopi Indians, and the dolls representing the many kachinas are treasured and studied by the children," Prof. Thompson explained. "These dolls serve as visual aids which have no interest in the kachina dolls have captured the attention of many collectors and students who have no interest in the anthropological significance of the models."

Prof. Thompson said "that this exhibit will be a treat to both those who have professional interest in the dolls and certain scholars who may gain further understanding of the Hopi culture."

Local school groups especially are invited to visit the museum, located in the greater and worship service, housed in the building which housed the University's library before the construction of the Margaret L. King Library. The building was first opened as the Museum of Anthropology in March of 1933.

Blue Marlins Will Present Swim Show

The aquatic Blue Marlins will present their annual water ballet on Feb. 24, 25 and 26 in Memorial Coliseum swimming pool. The theme of this year's show will be "Marlin Mardi Gras."

Members of the male swimming team will assist the Blue Marlins in their presentation. The show will consist of two parts—first the parade, and then the Marlin Gras Ball, complete with the coronation of the king and queen.

The Blue Marlins started out as an advanced swimming class under the direction of Nancy Poe. The club now has 32 members and was recently recognized as an organized club. New members must start out as "guppies" before they can graduate to the Blue Marlin class.

The first water ballet presented by the Blue Marlins was in the spring of 1951 and was called "Waterways." The next spring they gave "Enchanted Waters" which showed life on the island of "D of K Poola."

The swimming club designs and makes all costumes and scenery. The proceeds are used to finance the next year's water ballet and to buy properties and permanent items for the club.

Masked Marlins—These nine aquatic stars are members of the Blue Marlin swimming organization which is presenting its annual water show Feb. 24, 25, and 26 in the Coliseum pool. #### Brown Derby Marks Grad As 'Al Smith Of Pikeville'

J. L. Ames, Ph.D. '34, of Pikeville, 78-year-old graduate of the University's School of Pharmacy in Louisville, was the subject of a feature story by Gerald Griffin, '22, chief of the Courier-Journal East Kentucky Bureau, which appeared in the Jan. 23 issue of that newspaper.

Termed "The Al Smith of Pikeville" by Mr. Griffin, because of the brown derby which the pharmacist wears, the story relates that Mr. Ames, at 78, works 70 hours a week and "is still going strong."

"J. L. Ames has been in the drug business since he was nine," writes Mr. Griffin. "He chuckled in revealing that the only pay he receives for his first six months in Hoffel's Drugstore at Caseyville, down in Union county, was the privilege of an occasional ride on the owner's saddle horse."

"Born on a farm at DeKoven, Ames might never have become a pharmacist if it hadn't been for Old Man Hoffel's horse. The chance to ride that horse got him started working in a drugstore. He liked his job. He has been at it ever since."

The Rev. Frank Gulley Jr., '32, of Lexington, has assumed his duties as assistant pastor of the Peachtree Road Methodist church in Atlanta, Ga.

The Reverend Gulley taught astronomy at the University and later studied theology at Emory University in Atlanta.

Elliott N. Chambers, '40, of Lexington, has been appointed general agent for central and eastern Kentucky of the Provident Life and Accident Insurance Company of Chattanooga, Tenn.

C. O. Mook, BSME '23, M.E. '26, of Lexington, has resigned his position as associate professor of 38.

engineering drawing at the University to accept a similar post at the University of Tennessee.

Joe L. Campbell, BSCE '34, has been with the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads since 1945. He is now in Ecuador, while in the States, he worked on the Federal-Aid program in Pennsylvania and Virginia, and in Ecuador he is under the Inter-American Regional Office of the Bureau.

David W. Young, BS in Industrial Chemistry, '31, M.S. '35, a senior research chemist with the Standard Oil Development Company at Linden, N. J., was honored recently, along with two other research chemists with Standard Oil, who have attained 100 United States patents.

A dinner was given for the three men and an engraved gold watch was given to each by a vice-president of the company.

Mr. Young, a senior research chemist in the Esso laboratories, was associated with the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station for a number of years, where he developed methods to analyze trace elements in plants and animals. He has specialized in the field of anti-oxidants, synthetic lubricants and new uses for polymers and resins. It is in these fields that Mr. Young holds the majority of his patents.

Maurice W. Davis, BSME '36, formerly of Lexington, is with the Community Public Service Co., at Whitesburg, Tex.

Theta Sigma Phi, women's honorary journalistic society, will meet at 5 p.m. Wednesday in the Journalism Building in the Marquette McLaughlin Room, Barbara Hickey, president, announced today.

Library Lacks Space For Typing Facilities

"We just don't have enough room in the library for all the things we need," Dr. Lawrence S. Thompson, director of University Libraries, explained today in response to the question of why there is no place in the building where a student may use his own typewriter to fulfill classroom assignments.

"Although the request has been made for this appropriation, it will be a long time before we can hope for the funds," Dr. Thompson said, "since we are ninth on the list of priorities."

"Until that time, the library will just have to do the best it can with the space available," he said. "We are practically bursting at the seams, he continued, because we have no storage space at all."

To give some idea of the pressing need for space, he said that within the next two months over 100,000 seldom used volumes will be moved from the library to storage garages on the top floor of the Maintenance Building.

Dr. Thompson said he realized the seriousness of the situation but that he is waiting for the day when and if the appropriation for the library annex comes through.

One feature for the new annex calls for a large, well-lighted and well-ventilated room where students will have access to typewriters, manuscripts, and tables for group study. Smoking would be permitted in the room.

"That day is still some time off," Dr. Thompson said, "but it is worth waiting for."

five or six students can be accommodated there.

If you need to type in the library, then go to the Circulation Desk, Dr. Thompson said, and inquire about the possibilities there. If Room 114 is not available it might be possible to type in one of the cubicles located in the stacks.

A few years ago several tables were located in the foyer of the library and it was possible to type there but they were returned to the stacks. Since the return of these tables, there are now 79 study desks in the book stacks.

Dr. Thompson said he realizes the inadequacy of the situation but that he is waiting for the day when and if the appropriation for the library annex comes through.

Cleaner, Fresher, Smoother!

Ask yourself this question: Why do I smoke?
You know, yourself, you smoke for enjoyment. And you get enjoyment only from the taste of a cigarette.

Luckies taste better—cleaner, fresher, smoother! Why? Luckies are made better to taste better. And, what's more, Luckies are made of fine tobacco. L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco.

So, for the thing you want most in a cigarette . . . for better taste—for the cleaner, fresher, smoother taste of Lucky Strike . . .

UK Swim Team Faces Eastern At Coliseum

Coach Algie Reece's swim squad will go after their fifth straight victory tomorrow as they face the team from Eastern State of Richmond at the Coliseum pool. The meet will begin at 3 p.m.

Kentucky and Eastern have both faced one common foe, that being Tennessee. The Manions fell before the Vols by a 53-31 score while the Cat Tankers downed the boys from UT 62-22.

"This skein of four straight wins is one of the best for Coach Reece in recent years, thanks mainly to the efforts of Roger Messick, Jack McDonald, George King and Lou Karibo, diver. These boys have consistently taken first place in their events. With most of these boys back next year, the future is bright.

Messick has already bettered the Southeastern Conference mark in the 50-yard freestyle when he covered the distance in a nifty 23-1 against Tennessee last week. Pool marks, team marks, meet marks and most any other record in the book have been improved by this speedster in the 50 and 100 yard freestyle.

Captain Jack MacDonald and George King have consistently hauled down first and second place in the 200-yard back stroke. MacDonald set a pool record already this year bettering his own mark.

Lou Karibo's grace and skill from the high and low diving boards has entranced fans at the meet. He also has won his share of first places.

By LARRY MEYER

It is nice to see some sports scribes over the country give the Kentucky basketball squad a break in publicity.

Pat Harmon, sports editor of the Cincinnati Post, was present at the basketball exhibition put on by the UK squad during the mid-semester holidays for the Kentucky Farm and Home Week. Harmon had this to say about the schedule quip Kentucky has letters. "One of the most impressive things about the public workout was the poise of the freshmen on the squad." According to Coach Rupp, this is the result of association with the returning veterans.

Harmon went on to expound the amazing ball handling by the team. This is one point that has amazed most spectators all season and is the result of the time put in on practice rather than preparation for the next game coming up.

Kentucky fans will be pleased to hear that the annual intra-squad game, usually played at the end of each spring practice, will be replaced this year by an Alumni game sponsored by the newly reorganized K-Club. The game will be played in early May or late April.

Among those alumni greatly interested are: Babe Parrilli, Bob Cain, Don "Dopey" Phelps, Gene Donaldson, George Blanda, Wilbur "Shorty" Jameson, Don Fucci, Jay Rhodeney, Al Bruno, Wash Serini, Wah Wah Jones, Harry Ulinski and Doug Moseley. There are many others whose names will be announced in following weeks by this column.

It will be great to see these luminaries of Kentucky grid history performing again on Stoll Field.

The six members of the Kentucky track squad who journeyed to Florida were done up right in accommodations and publicity by a freshman member of the University of Florida squad, Earl Poucher.

Earl is the brother of Leroy Poucher, SEC pole vault record holder, who set the record of 14' 2 3/4" in last year's conference meet. Young Poucher has been groomed all the way through high school as a sure bet for the 1956 Olympics. According to Jay Wallace, Kentucky middle distance man, he was clearing better than 13 feet while the UK squad was down there.

Poucher put the six Kentuckians up at his home for the week and helped secure publicity for them in the local papers and the University of Florida paper. The squad trained at St. Petersburg where they met Poucher.

Despite the fact that there was no school at the time of the last basketball intra-squad game, approximately 10,000 fans came out for the occasion. This proves that, despite the mud being thrown from all sides in this year of inactivity, the fans from Kentucky and the Bluegrass region are behind "Der Baron" come rain or shine.

Baseball Schedule Released By Shively

The UK baseball team will play a 22-game schedule within the next two weeks. The schedule includes sixteen Southeastern Conference rivals. Athletic Director Benno Shively has announced:

The baseball season will start officially for Kentucky baseballers when they meet Florida and Georgia in a two-game series on a Southern trip, April 3 and 4.

This year's squad will be bolstered by the return of ten lettermen from last year's team which compiled a record of eight wins against seven losses.

The schedule: April 3-4 at Florida; 6-7 at Georgia; 11, Eastern here; 13-14, Florida here; 18 at Centre; 20-21 at Vanderbilt; 24-25, Tennessee here; 27, Centre here; 29, Georgetown here. May 1-2, Georgia Tech here; 4-5 at Tennessee; 6-7, Vanderbilt here; 9, Transylvania here; 12 at Eastern.

One for the man y, two for the shore, three to make ready— and Freshman swim sensation Roger Messick is set for another attempt to break a record. He has bettered at least one record in each of the four meets this year. The UK swim squad which is undefeated thus far in these meets, faces Cincinnati tomorrow at the Coliseum pool.

UK Tracksters Take Part In State Relays

Four Kentucky trackmen will leave this morning for East Lansing where they will participate in the Michigan State Relays tomorrow.

They are Ray Jones, Jay Wallace, Doug Adamson and Larry Jones. Jones and Wallace will run in the 1000 yard event while Adamson will take part in the 600 yard run. Jones will do his part in the broad jump and is expected to finish far up in the running.

Larry finished second in the ABC broad jump last year in the Conference meet at Birmingham with a jump of 29' 1 1/2" to finish behind L.S.U.'s Johnson.

The field will present some colorful squads as was the case last year. Among the participating schools are Michigan State, University of Michigan, Oklahoma, Drake, perennial track power, Ohio State University, Purdue, Notre Dame, Wheaton, Miami of Ohio, and Northwestern.

Olympic Runners Entered Individual color will be present in the 100 meter run as Northwestern's Jim Golliday, Olympic star of last year who pulled an ankle in practice and was unable to perform, will run.

Another outstanding participant will be Michigan's Van Bruner, another Olympic hopeful for 1956.

Marks Second Trip This year's appearance will mark the second for Wallace and Adamson who traveled north last year for the State Relays. Price and Bill Wallace, hurdler, also were entered last year but none of the four finished in the running.

On the 28th of February, a group of representatives, as yet unnamed, will journey south to Southern Conference Indoor Games in North Carolina. Last year Price and Wallace entered the 880 yard run and the mile run respectively. Wallace won the 880 and Price finished fifth in the mile against strong competition from many southern powerhouses.

Hi there! Well, let's talk new records this week, plus a few other items, we hope, of interest. First off, in the new releases, Al Martino has belted out another new one called "Rachael." From all indications, it could do big things for this Philadelphia boy. Also in the male selections, check Arthur Godfrey's boy Julius La Rosa and his new Cadence disc, "This Is Heaven," backed by "Anywhere I Wander." "This Is Heaven" seems to be getting quite a big amount of reaction from all you boys and I'm kinda glad about this because the tune was written by a Boston disc jockey, Sherm Feller. You know we disc jockeys got us stuck together. Perry Como has come up with a unique tune called "Wild Horses." Give a listen, I think you'll like it. After listening to it, it makes you feel like saying, "Gosh, why didn't I think of writing something like that." They take the old idea of the saying "wild horses couldn't keep me away," and convert it into a tune.

Street scene in Tehachapi after last July's earthquake.

...EARTHQUAKE...

In the pre-dawn of last July 21, the most severe California earthquake since 1906 struck the small town of Tehachapi.
Walls were collapsing, buildings were falling. The town's telephone office shook to its foundation. But the night operator remained at her switchboard until it went dead. Main cables to the office were pulled to the ground when a nearby wall caved in.
This was at 4:50 A.M.
By 8:30 A.M. telephones were set up on the edge of town for use by the Red Cross and other emergency workers.
By late afternoon, the telephone switchboard was working. Tehachapi residents were able to contact friends and relatives concerned about their safety.

By 9 P.M. two TV stations were sending live telecasts of the damage. Telephone men had established a radio-relay system in less than 12 hours.
It was a typical disaster—brutal and unannounced. But telephone men were prepared. They quickly restored communication when it was needed most. They demonstrated the resourcefulness and technical skill typical of telephone people.
These are some of the qualities we seek in the college graduates we hire. Your Placement Officer can give you details about opportunities for employment in the Bell System. Or write to American Telephone and Telegraph Company, College Relations Section, 195 Broadway, New York 7, New York, for the booklet, "Looking Ahead."

Farm-Home Convention At UK Well-Attended

By LOUIS DEROSSET

Several thousand Kentucky farmers and their wives, as well as hundreds from out-of-state, attended the Farm and Home convention held on the UK campus Feb. 3-4.

Specialized meetings were held for farmers on such subjects as soils and crops, agricultural engineering, dairying, poultry, beef cattle, forage and grains, animal husbandry, and farming outlook.

More than 2,500 women attended a style show held in Memorial Coliseum during the convention. New styles shown included spring clothing for both children and adults.

Stylist Arranges Show

Miss Olive C. Berry, educational stylist for the Simplicity Pattern Company, New York, attracted and directed the fashion show. All styles shown were made from patterns which can be easily duplicated by the home sewer, Miss Berry said.

The models for the new clothing were members of homemakers clubs throughout Kentucky and their daughters. The homemakers also attended a program of organ and piano music by Mrs. Joan Tandy and Miss Barbara Akers of Carrollton.

Two new officers for the Kentucky Federation of Homemakers were elected. They are Mrs. R. F. Mitchell of Covington, president, and Mrs. J. T. Brockschire of Har-dinsburg, secretary. Both will serve for a three year term. The membership of the Kentucky Federation of Homemakers now totals 29,869.

Two Wives Honored

Mrs. Henry Hall of Somerset and Mrs. J. Lewis Judy were named as Kentucky's Master Farm Homemakers. Both are farmers' wives. Mrs. Hall represented the Wolf Creek Dam district and Mrs. Judy the Northern Kentucky district.

38 Girls Initiated By Home Ec Club At Annual Dinner

The Home Economics Club initiated 38 girls at its annual initiation banquet Jan. 22 in the Student Union football room.

Cissy Greer, home consultant for the Louisville Courier-Journal, was the guest speaker. Her topic, "Strengthening Fundamental Values in Family Life," was based on the theme for the American Home Economics Association this year. In discussing different home economic careers, Miss Greer emphasized that a good homemaker is more than "just a housewife."

During the program Inez Tooley was awarded a pin for being the first to get the 100 points required for membership. Dr. Stacie Erickson gave the charge to the initiates, and Lois Taylor, Nancy Gault, Julia Collier, and Lee Ann Helt sang "My Hero." Betty Wheeler accompanied on the piano.

New initiates are Barbara Berryman, Conchita Brashear, Genevieve Brashear, Dolores Jane Cummins, Martha Clark, Mildred Corvell, Lou Enderlin, Mary Lou Farmer, Stella Ray Flowers, Cynthia Herndon, Mary Ann Huffing, Patricia Hutchison, Martha Ann Haynes, Margaret Holyfield, Lydia Johnson, Eleanor Kinoshin, Mary Boyd, Ruth Lewis, Thelma Jo Kash.

Sociologist Studies U.S. Social Mobility

Dr. C. Arnold Anderson, UK sociologist in collaboration with two associates, James C. Brown and Mary Jean Bowman, has made a study of the amount of social mobility of American men.

Using results from a study of the Office of Public Opinion Research, the writers were able to show that on the average each man improves one occupational level, up or down, in comparison with his father's position.

The study concluded that somewhere in the neighborhood of one-half of the occupational mobility now going on in the U. S. is bringing about a better adjustment of intelligence and jobs.
