interest in such work. On the other hand, the very fact that college students are sought out by business at all is a fair indication that their abilities are worth bidding for.

However, as more conservative employments will not seek the student, the student must seek them. Most business houses recognize the filing of an application as the established requisite of consideration before accepting the services of anyone. Through an estimate of the application the employer is able to discern whether the qualifications of the applicant meet the necessities of his particular business. Although it is customary for a carefully typed, frank statement of an application and the listing of his qualifications until his prospective employer asks that he do so, the Kernel suspects that in order to favor the college student. Surely a carefully typed, frank statement of qualifications, accompanied by suitable recommendations, placed in the hands of any business executive at an early date cannot but gain more thorough and favorable consideration than an application filed in the hazy time of student job hunting that will begin with the close of school in June.

If you want work this summer let your prospective employers know about it.

O. D. K. and the Men's Student council announce the marriage of Prof. R. D. McIntyre—lose the Missus was among those present at the organization's dinner dance Friday night. However, Delmar Jacket Vest who discovered her listed among the chaperones on the program of the organization's dinner dance Friday night has neither been able to learn her identity nor to bring a confession from the erst-while bachelor.

MOTHER'S DAY

I think when God planned mothers first,
The blessed song birds knew,
And each proclaimed in joyous lay,
"There's something happy on the way,
And God sends love to you."

So sweet the gift of heavenly thought,
The blossoms, gemmed with dew,
Sent petalled perfume forth to say,
"There's something lovely on the way,
To bear God's love to you."

And ages have not changed that gift,
A treasure, rich and true;
Amid the birds and flowers of May,
In gratitude we keep this day,
O, mother dear, for you!

CALENDAR

May Day Week unfolds in a series of convocations, banquets, teas, and dances, which make the time from then until commencement the busiest of the year, and which involve almost every student of the campus in some way.
This week's activities will be opened tonight with the Theta Sigma Phi and Sigma Delta Chi dinner at the Phoenix hotel. The executive committee of Pan Polikton will meet at 8 o'clock tonight at Maxwell place. Friday, in addition to the May Day convocation and parade and convocation in the afternoon, the combined university glee clubs will go to Paris to give a concert that night, and Suky will be in charge of the annual gingham dance.
On Saturday night, the strollers will entertain with an informal dance in the Alumni gymnasium.

Advance dates are the Guignol play, "Rebound," beginning on May 9; a tea given by the Phi Beta Kappa, honoring the actives, May 13; Phi Beta initiation and banquet, May 14; and the dramatic production class play, "The Yellow Jacket," May 23.

Motor Board will initiate its new pledges on Sunday, May 22, at the Phoenix hotel.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Charles K. Beck, 2134 Bonnycastle road, Louisville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Eleanor Carson Beck, to Mr. Thomas L. Riley, Henderson, and Cincinnati, Ohio.

ADMIRAL RICHARD E. BYRD

Winfield, Kans.—The election of Admiral Richard Evelyn Byrd, Boston, Mass., as honorary national president of the National Science Honor society, Pi Gamma Mu, has just been announced by Dr. Lefroy Allen, dean of Southwestern College and executive secretary of that organization at Emporia, Kan.

Admiral Byrd's election was authorized by the third national convention of Pi Gamma Mu which met at New Orleans, December 31, and has been consummated by formal vote of the National Board of Trustees and acceptance of the office by Admiral Byrd.

Pi Gamma Mu was established by Dr. Leroy Allen at Southwestern College in 1924. It has since become a great national organization with chapters in 125 colleges and universities all over the United States and one at the University of Hawaii. There are chapters in such universities as the University of Pennsylvania, Syracuse University, George Washington University, and New York University.

The purpose of Pi Gamma Mu is to inculcate the ideas of scholarship, industry, and social service in the social sciences. It is a general college honor society and covers the fields of sociology, economics, political science, history, geography, anthropology, and education. It also covers the fields of natural science, which include physics, chemistry, and biology.

As national president is Dr. Charles H. Johnson, of the University of Pennsylvania. Other national officers are Dr. George Hartman, secretary, George Hartman, treasurer, and Dr. W. H. Williams, University of California at Los Angeles, and Dr. J. Howard Patterson, University of Pennsylvania.

Admiral Byrd was chosen honorary president because of his well-known leadership in ocean science and his application to social problems. He became a member of Pi Gamma Mu in 1924, and was appointed a member of the National Advisory Council.

Admiral Richard Byrd carried with him on his expedition to the Antarctic the blue and white checkerboard color scheme of the society, each square representing a chapter and the whole symbolizing the checkerboard of the world and the intricacy of social problems.

Examinations have been definitely postponed by the board of trustees at the University of Pennsylvania, reports the Pennsylvania State. The board has decided to postpone the two-week interval during the last part of May and early June, which was to be a period of instruction and vacation. At the end of the first week of this time a one-hour test, similar to regular monthly quizzes, will be given, while there will be no classes at all during the second week.

Is the student body at the University of North Carolina wet or dry? This is the question which will be answered in a poll to be taken simultaneously with student body elections.

A waiter's training school, the first of its kind in the country, will make its appearance next quarter at Ohio State University, according to the Lantern, newspaper publication, there will now be no excuse for waiters who spill soup in customers, lays or jab patrons in the eye with a stray fork.

The female body at Louisiana State is agog over the mysterious appearance, or rather disappearance, of what has been termed the Madcap Ogleto. He writes love notes to the campus beauties and otherwise makes himself known around the campus. He has even been accused of throwing wild parties in a sorority house.

"A lack of uniformity in the methods of admitting students to American colleges is the cause of the weaknesses of the present educational system," said Dr. Carl A. Jensen, special director of the Office of Education at Washington, in a report this week to the Interstate Teachers' Conference.

Dr. Jensen points out that in a survey of 323 American educational institutions, more than thirty-six per cent of the standards of admission were found in use, many of them embodying complex and unscientific features. "The majority of institutions employ both college entrance board examinations and individual requirement examinations for admitting students to college."

"The result of such extensive diversity, increasing complexity, and general lack of scientific evidence" for college entrance requirements has led to the inauguration of state-wide studies of the question in Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Minnesota, and to the proposal that a national unified system be adopted.

now in a class with the circus performer, actor or other professional figures. This year's state track meet was uninteresting in that the high schools did not produce any material that showed up better than the university track men.

There was a bright spot on the afternoon's card in the Kercheval-Noble dual. In that event spectators were treated to a sight that never before has been, and may never be repeated.

Noble came within one foot and seven inches of his record heave when he threw 127 feet, and Kercheval went one up on him when he booted his pigskin 197 feet nine inches.

Last week news came to the sports world that Robert Pribble's fox found pack had been found. Sam Woolridge found Robert exactly seven days after the memorable hunt.

During the time Robert was lost the athletic staff had so much to do at Pribble's expense that Mrs. McKinney for so long lamented her "I don't see how any one can make fun of another fellow's misfortune."

Here's a little bad news for the tennis players! It has been necessary for the university officials to make a change in the use of the Rose street tennis courts this summer.

And now that the Literary Digest has completed the national pollution polls and an every-day insure beer will return, it might be appropriate to tell of a little game some Swedish students in the University of Berlin invented.

The game is simple and intriguing and is played thusly. Three or more students sit in a beer garden drinking beer and singing steele songs when one of the students gets up and leaves the room.

Personally, the thing we shall never remember about the Stroeller's play was the trumpet solo played by Gene Rovse during the intermission.

Shortly after Ben Eastman broke his two world records we burst forth in praise of his feat. Today he is the sensation of the national sports world.

TILDEN COHORT PRESENT FINE EXHIBITION By SUNNY DAY Varying their opponents and sequence from the order previously arranged, Nusslein defeated...

"Big Bill" handled the German professional, Roman Najuch, easily. At no time did he appear to be tending himself. The gallery waited in vain for the "Cannon-ball" service which he had promised.

The young German, Hans Nusslein, exhibited a speedy, cool game and so accurately placed his drives that Emmert Pars, National Clay Court champion in 1929, had to play hard to keep the score below larger than it was.

The first match was umpired by Prof. Victor Portmann, the second by Whitney Dunlay, and the third by Algan Wells.

STATE COLLEGES SEND DELEGATES TO U. K. MEETING

Dr. Fred J. Kelly, Chief of U. S. Bureau of Education, To Be Speaker CONFERENCE TO OPEN AT 10 A. M. SATURDAY

Approximately 100 educators representing all colleges in the state are expected to be present to hear Dr. Fred J. Kelly, chief of the division of colleges and professional schools of the United States office of education, who will be one of the principal speakers at the Kentucky conference on educational reform in the field of higher education at the university Saturday.

Some of the most important problems of college education will be discussed at the conference. The chief consideration will be research work which has for its purpose the improvement of college education.

The conference, which will be held at McVey hall, will open at 10 o'clock Saturday morning and will include both morning and afternoon sessions. Dr. Frank L. McVey will preside and several of the university faculty will make addresses.

Prof. E. J. Asher, department of Psychology, will speak on "Use of Tests at the University of Kentucky." Dr. C. C. Ross, College of Education, will deliver an address on "Relation of Student's Achievement of a Knowledge of His Progress." Miss Alice Keys will speak on "Relation of Student's Achievement of a Knowledge of His Progress."

Dr. J. B. Miner, Dr. Jesse E. Adams and Dean Paul F. Boyd, of the University of Kentucky, are in charge of arrangements for the conference.

Male High School Wins Scholastic Meet

(Continued from Page One) local entry, scored seven and a half points on a fourth in the 440 relay. Golden fifth in the low hurdles and fourth in the broad jump.

The Berea Academy boys, who ran first and second in the mile and half in the last year, were back again this year, but failed to repeat their triumph; being able to take a third in the half mile and a fourth in the mile.

A special entertainment was offered the fans during the afternoon, in the form of a contest between the distance boomer of Ralph Kercheval, Wildcat track and football luminary and Harry Noble, holder of the state interscholastic javelin record to determine which performer could get the better distance.

Noble had the better average; but Kerch kicked the oval 187 feet, 9 inches to top Noble's best toss by nine inches.

Here, MEN, smoke a man's smoke

A PIPEFUL of good tobacco is distinctly a man's smoke. The men (long may they wave!) taken over most of our masculine privileges. But pipe smoking still belongs to us.

In every walk of life you'll find that the men at the top are pipe smokers. And most college men agree that the pipe offers the rarest pleasures a man could ask of his smoking.

When you smoke a pipe, be sure you choose the tobacco that will give you the greatest enjoyment. In 42 out of 54 colleges Edgeworth is the favorite. You can buy Edgeworth wherever good tobacco is sold.

Or for a special sample packet, write to Larus & Bro. Co., 105 S. 22d St., Richmond, Va. Sample is free.
