

McVEY TO SPEAK AT 63RD ANNUAL K.E.A. MEETING

Outstanding Educators Will Gather in Louisville for Four-Day Session

WYNNE TO ADDRESS GROUP FOR FIRST TIME

University Men's and Women's Music Clubs to Furnish Music for Reception

Outstanding Kentucky educators, including Pres. Frank L. McVey, Athletic Director Chet Wynne and several other University faculty members, will give the principal address at the 63rd annual meeting of the Kentucky Educational Association to be held in Louisville Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of this week.

Out-of-state speakers scheduled for the general sessions include Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, New York; Raymond Hobson, Washington, D. C.; G. Bromley Oxnam, president of DePauw university; Edgar W. Knight, University of North Carolina; Jesse Gray, president of the National Education Association; Harry Clarke, superintendent of schools in Lexington; Dr. H. L. Dennis of the American Vocational Association; Dr. Osborne McConathy, author and instructor in music; and Dr. Karl S. Bolander, artist and lecturer.

Kentuckians who will make addresses at special sessions include Pres. Frank L. McVey; James H. Richmond, superintendent of public instruction; William J. Hutchins, president of Berea college; Sam Clay Jr., Paris, winner of the K. E. A. discussion contest; Mrs. James G. Sheehan, president of the Kentucky Association of Parents and Teachers; Mrs. Fannelle Sutherland of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs; Ben Kilgore, secretary of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation; Dr. R. E. Jagers, director of state teacher training; and Dr. Jesse E. Adams, director of University summer sessions.

Headquarters for the University during the meeting will be maintained in the Brown hotel beginning Wednesday noon and closing Saturday noon, being open from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. daily. A placement bureau in charge of staff members of the College of Education will be available during this period. Both those persons making inquiries for teachers as well as those desiring positions will be registered at the headquarters of the University will be present to give information on summer school, extension courses, and other matters. Alumni and friends are invited to visit the booth.

Louisville alumni of the University and many other Kentuckians will receive their first opportunity to hear Coach Chet Wynne, newly elected athletic director at the annual University of Kentucky-Kentucky Educational Association reception to be held in the Brown hotel Tuesday night. Coach Wynne will be introduced by Dr. Frank L. McVey. Music will be furnished by the combined men's and women's glee clubs of the University. The U. K. reception during the meeting has been an institution for years and has provided means for former students, present students, faculty and friends to renew contacts. A complete program of musical features has been arranged for the Friday night sessions of the meeting and includes a reception by the officers of the association who will be elected Friday.

The names of students who do not appear at the office of the Dean of Men when so notified because of traffic violations will be placed on record. This will be counted as the first offense. The second offense is punishable by the fine of $1.00. The fact that one does not receive his notification will not be counted as an adequate excuse. All notices are placed in post office boxes.

LIBRARY SHOWS KEATS'S DISPLAY

Ten Day Showing of Exhibit Includes Pictures, Letters, Poems of Famous Poet

OPEN TO PUBLIC DAILY

A display of Keatsiana, owned by Mr. Louis A. Holman, Boston, Massachusetts, is being shown at the University for a 10 day period beginning yesterday in an exhibit in the main foyer of the University library. The collection contains 600 pictures, letters, and other material on the life of John Keats. Mr. Holman, a prominent in campus activities and a member of the sophomore commission of the Y.W.C.A.

She will make this trip with "C" company, which has enjoyed much success. Of particular note in this group are the pictures "After the Fire" by Joseph Boosing, "Tulips" by Eleanor H. Bate, and "Boats on the Cayuga" by Thomas Clough. This exhibition showing "The Art of a City" is circulated by the American Federation of Arts, a national organization for the cultivation of the arts, with headquarters in Washington, D. C.

Rupp's Contract For 1-Year's Term Remains Unsigned

Coach Adolph Rupp has not yet signed the new contract which was offered to him at the meeting of the Athletic Council at the University office of Chet Wynne, new director of athletics. The contract calls for the services of Rupp as head basketball coach for one year at an increase of salary which was not announced.

The council announced that it would offer only one year contract in the future, sighting the fact that faculty members were given contracts annually. The council does not effect the contracts which are already in force for members of the athletic department.

Alumnus Speaks At Convocation

"I believe that we are on the right path, but at any rate we are on the way," said Dr. Angus N. Gordon, Shelbyville, in concluding his address on "Social and Economic Conditions in Kentucky" which was delivered at the general convocation at 11 p. m. Friday, in Memorial hall. Doctor Gordon, who is an alumnus of the College of Agriculture and one of Kentucky's outstanding ministers was introduced by Pres. Frank L. McVey.

CATS DEFEATED BY MISSOURI STATE

Both Southern Contests Are Lost by Overexhausted Merit

First Game by 9-7 Count, Final Fray 11 to 4

Apparently suffering from stage fright and "over-exhaustion" and lacking the punch of an experienced ball club, the new Wildcat baseball team was initiated by being defeated twice in a two-game series by the Mississippi State college nine last Friday and Saturday at Nashville, Mississippi, by the scores of 9 to 7, and 11 to 4.

The second game of this series was more exciting than the first, as the Blue team lacked their headiness and experienced a "batter's block" which led to disaster. Although hitting with as many slugs as that of the Mississippi boys, the Blue team lacked their headiness and experienced a "batter's block" which led to disaster.

With one man on in the first inning of the first game, Jesse Haley stepped to the plate and cracked a great four ball, but Bolton, pitching great ball for the Mississippi boys, forced Haley to foul out, and then struck out DeMoisey.

In the second game of this series the DeMoisey and Bolton on the mound both teams went hitless till an eventful fifth inning, when each team uncoiled and scored five runs in the sixth and seventh.

Tony Simone, the Wildcat's taken over in the sixth, but was dinked out when Bolton crashed a double against the fence. Bill Cresswell, pitcher, forced Haley to foul out, and then struck out DeMoisey.

The Blue team's next game will be played here Saturday against Eastern State Normal college at Epping's park.

Y First Game With Plans Study Trip

The Social Service group of the YWCA will meet at 3 p. m. Wednesday in the Women's building. A trip will be taken to the Family Welfare society in order to study the welfare work which is done there. Rebecca Dudley will lead the group and girls who are interested are invited to go.

Mrs. Dudley South, well known glee singer, will sing at the Dutch Lunch club at their regular meeting Friday noon in Patterson hall. Girls who were at the last meeting are asked to give their names to Augusta Roberts in the Women's building by Thursday noon.

'Art of a City' Is Exhibit Title Now on Display

Art Center Is Site of Paintings by Well-Known Cleveland Artists

"The Art of a City" is the title of the exhibition of paintings being shown at the Art Center. The showing will extend through April 25.

It is an exhibition of paintings representing four different groups working in the city of Cleveland, Ohio. These groups, having on display six paintings each, are: professional artists; laymen; with painting as an avocation; art students; and school children.

The professional group includes well known Cleveland artists whose works have been recognized and acclaimed. In the sense that they have not followed art as a career, but have had only incidental instruction, the laymen group has enjoyed much success. Of particular note in this group are the pictures "After the Fire" by Joseph Boosing, "Tulips" by Eleanor H. Bate, and "Boats on the Cayuga" by Thomas Clough.

Work Begins on Patterson Memorial

The ground has been broken for the foundation of the bronze statue of James Kennedy Patterson, president of the University of Kentucky from 1889 to 1910. The statue, which will be placed in the quadrangle between the Administration building and the Museum, is being modeled by Col. Augustus Lohman, a Kentucky colonel of New York.

This memorial is the result of a campaign which has lasted for at least 12 years and is being carried entirely by private donations of friends of Dr. Patterson at a cost of approximately $20,000.

It is planned to have the memorial completed before the June commencement exercises take place.

LEGAL FRATERNITY INITIATES FOUR MEN

Phi Delta Phi, professional legal fraternity held initiation Saturday for the following men: Woodrow W. Burchett, Prestonsburg; Eugene C. Royce, Maysville; John Geyer, Lexington; and George Skinner, Lexington.

The initiation was followed by a dinner at the Phoenix hotel. Pres. Frank L. McVey and Dean Alvin E. Evans of the Law school were the principal speakers. The following were inducted into office: Harry Porter, Dells, magistrate; William B. Mellor, historian; Jack Shepherd, clerk; and James M. White, exchequer, and Jack Clarke, tribune.

BOOK CLUB TO MEET TUESDAY, IN LIBRARY

The Book club of the University of Kentucky Women's club will meet at 3 p. m. Tuesday in the Staff room of the University library. Mrs. James W. Martin will preside.

"Careers for Women," by Katherine Tiltne will be reviewed by Mrs. M. M. White and "Wives and Wives" by Louis Adamie will be reviewed by Mrs. Amy Vandenberg. Members of the club are invited to bring tea for the meeting.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Walter A. Price, Mrs. James Burkin, Mrs. E. W. White, Mrs. D. M. Lunde, Mrs. Leo Chamberlain, Mrs. L. A. Pardue, and Mrs. Leon Vennis.

LET'S DO OUR PART!

Fellow students, do you want a Student Union building? If so, the first step you can take toward getting it is signing the petition now being circulated on the campus indicating that you would be willing to pay an additional $2 each semester for the use of the building, which fee would be applied on the debt incurred in constructing it.

This petition will be presented to the board of trustees to indicate that the student body wants such a building sufficiently to be willing to do its part toward financing it. It is then up to the board to take action upon the matter.

Application will be made to the Public Works Administration for a loan of approximately $350,000 for the purpose of erecting and furnishing the building. At least 30 per cent (and a bill is now pending to make this percentage greater) will be an outright gift. The remainder will be paid over a period of 30 years by setting aside the earnings of the building and the $2 fee.

The state cannot be asked to finance the structure. It is to be YOUR building and it must be procured through YOUR efforts! The Student Union building will provide a meeting place for students, a ball room, rest rooms, a place to eat, offices for student organizations, a place to study, locker rooms, and other facilities. It is quite apparent that it will be a tremendous addition to student life on the campus. We should be willing, therefore, to sacrifice a little to obtain it. And after all, when we think of tuition in terms of $50—$75 or $80—$100 instead of $45, when by paying this additional small amount we can aid the University and ourselves to such a great extent?

Let's vote for a Student Union building by signing the petition. Let's do our part!

GREEK CONCLAVE TO BE HELD HERE FRIDAY, APRIL 20

Dr. Francis Sheppardson to Deliver Principal Address

FRATS TO ENTERTAIN HONORED VISITORS

Festivities Will Be Concluded with Annual Interfraternity Dance

The program of the second annual Greek conclave, to be held next Friday, will include a general convocation, discussion groups at four of the fraternity houses, an afternoon session in Memorial hall for all fraternities, and the annual Interfraternity banquet at the University Commons, and the annual Interfraternity dance.

All fraternity men will be excused from their classes on Friday afternoon to attend the conclave.

The principal speaker at the convocation will be Dr. Francis W. Sheppardson, Granville, Ohio, national president of Beta Theta Pi, and president of the Association of College Honor Societies. His subject, "The Challenge of Life's Loyalties," which will be of interest to independents as well as fraternity men, Dr. T. J. Jones will preside at the convocation.

All fraternal speakers will be entertained at the chapter houses of their fraternities for luncheon. The Lexington alumni of Beta Theta Pi, the members of the fraternity on the University campus, and the chapter at Centre college will sponsor a luncheon for Doctor Sheppardson at one of the hotels.

Two discussion groups will be held at 1:30 p. m. and two more at 2:30 p. m. At the first group, Dean W. J. Sanders, will lead a discussion on "The Fraternity Freshman" at the Sigma Chi house and Doctor Sheppardson will lead a group on "The President of the Chapter and His Duties" at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house. Discussion of the pledge master and his duties will be held at the chapter house of the Phi Kappa Phi.

MANAGING NAMED TO AD T.V.A. WORK

Political Science of Professor Elected Chairman of Committee Which Will Assist in Governmental Work

Prof. John W. Manning, instructor in the political science department, was elected chairman of a committee organized to assist in stimulating, coordinating, and directing governmental research in the Tennessee Valley area.

The committee was created at a meeting sponsored by the American and Southern Political Science associations acting in cooperation with the Tennessee Valley Authority, held April 12 and 14, at Knoxville. The committee will serve as a link between the two Political Science associations and the TVA.

The purpose of the meeting was to develop a program of governmental research, centering around the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Prominent political scientists in the South, together with A. N. Holcomb, Harvard university, chairman of the American Political Science Association; and various members of the TVA staff, including C. M. Morgan and Floyd Reeves, director of personnel and training, attended the meeting.

HE DIDN'T KNOW THAT!

The following account may be taken as evidence that the University is not going to let the dogs. The rabbits are taking it.

Several days ago a rabbit was seen to scamper hurriedly from the administration offices toward the science building. He was a fine specimen, scientifically minded, but he should have known better. He was dissected in that building.

Liberty Engine Is Subject of Singer's Talk

David Singer, instructor in the Engineering college, was the principal speaker at Morton Junior High school Friday night. His subject, "The Liberty Engine," was addressed to the Aeronautics class sponsored by the Lexington Aero club.

The Liberty Engine, designed by Singer, the Liberty engine was designed in two days and nights at the outbreak of the World war. It was so simple, though it was designed in such a short time, it was the outstanding engine of the period.

Dr. Singer has been asked to speak at a regular meeting of the Lexington Aero club. This meeting will be open to the public. It is expected also that a Cincinnati parachute expert also will be present at the meeting and will explain new and improved accessories in the parachute field.

New Appointments Made by Editor

Three new appointments on the staff of The Kernel were made during the past week by John F. "Sun" Day, assistant editor.

IS FLAMING YOUTH FLAMING?

What effect has repeal of the 18th amendment had upon the youth of today? With its abrogation from the United States' constitution, a serious question, one which might transform young America mentally, morally, and physically, has been presented.

How has our so-called "flaming youth" responded to a new, unrestricted liberty? Were it to heed the warnings of moralists, preachers, reformers, and ministers, one would shrink with horror from the picture which they paint, a picture of open saloons, debauchery, and immorality, if such conditions were expected to result from repeal of prohibition, one might reasonably do so. It is our contention that, although the return of liquor was inevitable, there never shall again exist conditions comparable to those of the "gray nineties" of our fathers' day.

We base our stand upon the integrity and foresight evinced by our modern civilization, a generation having as its guiding lights, tolerance and intelligence. Young America is serious in its intentions, made so by the sobering influence of two prodigious calamities, the World War, and the depression.

So much for the capabilities of modern youth to cope with a new and possibly dangerous situation. And now, let us turn our attention for a moment to a consideration of the actuating agent itself, and its dispensation.

Liquor, as it appeared before prohibition was repealed, might have been classed as good, bad, and worse. Prescription whiskey was too high in price for the average person, and its distribution was made at the fancy of our doctors; bootleg whiskey, as racketeered on a large scale, consisted of synthesized alcohol, water, and a "kick" could be procured at a nearby speak-easy; "rot-gut" whiskey was, as the old-time descriptive name implies, a concoction of undetermined formula, guaranteed to blind, kill, or paralyze, and could be obtained from independent retailers.

Legal whiskey is manufactured under government supervision; it is pure; taxes levied upon it send enormous sums of money into the coffers of the United States treasury. Thousands of men are being employed in its manufacture and distribution. Backsteering and bootlegging are being wiped out. A feeling of guilt and cowardice has been banished.

Food, or even water, if taken in excessive amounts, may prove to be harmful; likewise, liquor, even though it is free from contamination, may do bodily harm. Tolerance, which must be exercised in all things, is one of the outstanding characteristics of our youth of today.

We believe, therefore, that the return of liquor will not be detrimental to the progress of "flaming youth."

NEW ATHLETIC CONTRACTS

Planned so as, to make the terms of all coaches expire at the same time, a new policy of one-year contracts for all men employed in the Athletic department as coaches has been put into effect by the Athletic Council with the drawing up of a new contract for Coach Adolph Rupp, head basketball mentor.

Whether this policy is better than the old method is yet to be seen, and a plausible illustration of what might happen under it seems in line. Let us suppose that prospects for a winning team in any sport are none too bright for the next season. Since the contract of the coach in that sport expires at the end of the year, he is at liberty to "run out" on the University to save his reputation as a coach, whereas this would not be possible should the contract be for a longer period.

Prospects are not expected to be gloomy for the coming season; let us hope that this bright outlook will be a reality and not just a mirage. The men now employed as coaches are not the kind to desert their posts, when things look bad, but is it not possible that in future years, since better offers may lure them to other institutions, that the same high type men will not be employed?

The above cited possibility under the new system probably is outweighed by merits, one of which is the ability to dismiss a coach who has proved unsatisfactory within a short time without necessarily holding him on as a result of a two, three, four or five year agreement. This is one of the greatest of the merits.

In installing the new policy, contracts in force were changed with the exception of that of Chet Wynne, head football coach and newly-appointed athletic director of the University; at the end of his present contract, any offered him in the future will be for a one year period. The contract of Coach Rupp, which expired this year, has been renewed with a one year contract and a raise in salary. Coach Rupp asked for a three year agreement.

The workability of the new policy to an advantage is to be questioned, but any attempt to better conditions is worthwhile.

JEST AMONG US

It is just our imagination, or do the motorcycle cops really have a disappointed look on their faces when we do manage to stop at red lights?

Here worship is on a new high plane now, with Rudolph Valentino and Bing Crosby being replaced by Joe Penner and Popeye, the sailor.

Gussie says: "Our co-eds may be the cream of the crop to some people, but they're just so much skim-milk to me."

Writers of our scandal column complain that students "kick" if their names appear therein, and "let out a howl" if they don't.

PETITE PIECE

By LORRAINE LEPERE

One of the current magazines carries an article on how the backward girl can be popular and can arouse the interest of male creatures around her. Every wall flower sit up and take notice! If you're at a party, the writer says, and you don't know who's going to take you home, make a few diplomatic statements so as to find out which of the boys have cars and then ask one of them for a nickel to call a taxi and see what happens. If he takes you home, you invite him in to smoke a cigarette. Then you strike some interesting pose against the fireplace of the grand piano and sit at his feet on a cushion. When he leaves you offer him your hand to kiss because, as the author expresses it, it makes you seem so obtainable. If you master all this line, you should have a gleaming teeth and a beautiful smile, make all your own clothes and speak to the waiter in perfect French.

If you like musical comedy, you can't afford to miss the Strouler revue, "Hit the Deck." Even without the music, it is a most laughable and enjoyable play. For the lines are well written in true navy style. And with a boys' and girls' chorus and singing thrown in, it's going to be something for Jake to write to the folks in Paintsville about.

They do say... the scandal section of the Kentuckian will make ladies weep and strong men shudder. It is, they tell me, that the Kampus Kat should have been asked, she

SCANDAL SNICKERS

By SNOB SISTER

Folks, here's our attempt at dishing the dirt. We hope that you'll dislike it so much it will be popular!

The outstanding ed of the week is ATO Bill Daniel who deserves the title of the champion beer... who did consume 14 glasses of beer the other night... count it up for yourself... it's more than a gallon!

'Tis rumored that Sigmach Bill Dawson has been going with two cities... Chis plegdette Jane Goodman and Kapys Nell Crank... the former, it is rumored is "The girl for Bill... but the other night when Bill's brain was stimulated he pinned the latter... Funny ain't it... Or is it so funny Bill!

The outstanding pinning of the week is that of Kappasg Charley Woodridge and Kaydee Mary Carolyn Terrell.

We wonder if Sigmach plegde George Archer ever got all the black shoe polish off that Dutch Kreuter painted on him a few days ago... what was the sensation when you awakened and found a lilly in your hand George?

'Tis rumored that Slep Johnny Dorsey got a good blistering from the boys at the house the other night for his "mush-out"... we wonder what Mary Edith thinks of it Johnny!

Triangle Hamilton Greemp was passing out cigars the other night at the frat house... it seems that he finally persuaded Alphonset Margaret Scotto to accept his pin during Easter vacation.

Alphonset Nancy Alverson was finally chosen by Triangle Larry Salys as his fiancee... looks as if the Triangles and Alphonset chapters are ONE.

Kaydee Phyllis Caskey and Phitau Claude Terrell were in a wreck... Phyllis was thrown on the floor of the car when she raised up and gave one of the occupants (uninjured) a black eye!

Elma Quarles (pronounced quarrels) and Lambdachi Ralph Salyers are no longer pinned... can you guess... from the names?

Mary Lou Jackson, Bull Durham course broke the Siger's heart the other Sunday pitching peanuts against the wall at the frat house.

To see Ralph Kercheval, better known as "Kerchy," and SAE Gene Bryant at a "famous" night club Saturday night... We wonder how much money you won "Kerchy"... or did you lose?

Who was the red that failed to show up for the Lances pledging, the night of the Prom?

'Tridell Ann Kraft and a Sigmachi were pinned during Christmas, but decided that it wasn't worth it, and called it quits... so now she's in the market for a new love... looks as if it will be an SAE too!

We did see Independent Virginia Robinson and a freshman ed strolling in the Botanical Gardens... it could be love!

What popular KA ed climbed the fire escape of Boyd hall the other night and let... the fire bell rang! He merely wanted to attract the attention of his date so she could return his forgotten pipe which he, in his hurry had left... needless to say that he attracted the attention of both halls.

'There are ways and means of getting out of a jam," according to Tridell Dot Whitt... it seems that she is being stealed... and thinking variety is the spice of life, she gives a date to someone else for the Fri-

LITERARY

Conducted by DOROTHY WHALEN

One of the best plays ever given by the Guignol was last week's play, "The Animal Kingdom," written by Philip Barry. There were so many outstanding performances among our home talent that it is difficult to point out one certain personage as being the best. The actress with whom we are more in sympathy with than any other is Mrs. William Pettit (Dunster Foster Pettit) who plays the part of Daisy Sage. I venture to say that Mrs. Pettit has given to the little theater goes one of the most enjoyable performances that they have ever seen. The portrayal of Daisy Sage is quite a ticklish job in order that the audience may not misunderstand and gain the wrong impression of her. Mrs. Pettit was quite superb in handling her part; it is a striking coincidence that Mrs. Pettit should resemble so distinctly Ann Harding who played the part of Daisy Sage in the movies.

Marjorie Powell shares her part with Dunster Foster Pettit. Miss Powell is a lovely creature who really lives in the character of Cecilia Henry, a beautiful, devastating, money-mad society girl. Even when we realize that she is a heartless girl who cares only for money and prestige, we admire her strategy and secretly applaud her courage and faith that she has in her beauty. Myrna Loy portrayed Cecilia Henry in motion pictures.

The man in the eternal triangle is played by Frank Fowler, incidentally the producer of the play for the Guignol, who has, as usual, chalked up another victory in the little theater. The man in question in the play is Tom Collier, a rather carefree young fellow who likes the printing business and everything connected with it. Tom is a likeable sort of chap and exasperates his father by his too apparent amiability. His father, Rufus Collier (L. L. Dantzier) is a gruff but well-meaning old gentleman who just can't understand his son. Professor Dantzier treats the character of Rufus Collier like a veteran and he completely dominates the audience by his magnetic personality.

Ollie Williamson has given every one quite an agreeable surprise by his characterization of Richard Reagan, Tom Collier's butler. The humorous elements in the play rest entirely upon Reagan and Grace Macomber, a society friend of Cecilia's. Reagan is the type of man who likes for his boss to treat him as a brother and not as a servant; he is also a prize fighter, which Ann Harding who played the more comical, Grace Macomber is played by Virginia Druce Boyd who is the typical society woman who is continually angling for individual and unique personages for her Sunday morning breakfasts.

Owen Arthur, who is in love with Cecilia, is played by Howard Smathers. The part is a weak one but is made prominent by the marvelous acting ability of Howard Smathers. Robert Shannon, Both are promising young players and we may expect more from them in the future. The little theater is an asset to the cultural life of the University. Why not make it a point in your social calendar to spend one evening each week of real enjoyment?

There's Bounce in a PALM BEACH SUIT

RESILIENCY! COME-BACK! RECOVERY!

Hang it up over-night, and the wrinkles bounce out. The suit comes back to its normal beauty and shape, almost as well as if pressed with an iron. This is due not to any added finish which might vanish in the laundry... but to new developments in the actual construction of the fabric.

Showing how Palm Beach Suits retain their smooth lines. Each of these summer suits, made of four totally different summer fabrics, was subjected to precisely the same musing treatment. Two sets of photographs were taken: (1) immediately after musing; (2) after hanging the suits up over-night. The Palm Beach Suit not only wrinkled or mused less than the others... but also showed truly amazing facility in the matter of "automatic recovery." (See actual photographs. SEEN FROM THE PRESS BOX

By JAY LUCIAN

We were somewhat surprised at the outcome of the two games the baseball team had with Mississippi this last week-end. Although the Cats were defeated, the games were fairly even, and only a difference in experience decided the games.

We want to congratulate the team and "Pat" Devereaux for their work so far and hope that they will keep improving this season at the same rate they are going now. Next Saturday, the Eastern State Normal college nine will play the Wildcat team at Egging's park.

Last Thursday's football game brought to a close spring practice scrimmages. The way the teams went into action was certainly a revelation. It hardly seemed possible that these were the same group of boys that the newspapermen called the "Hitless Wonders."

Coach Wynne has taught the boys a wide open offense that is a sure point getter. Although both teams were aware of the plays being used, the yardage gained was very impressive. On successive plays with Johnson and Pritchard carrying the ball, the White team made 70 yards for a touchdown.

The best men in the line were Jobe, Nevers, Potter, McClurg, My-

VARSITY SQUAD PLAYS FOR RANKS

During the past week Coach Downing's net squad played for rankings for the first engagement of the season, which probably will be with Louisville this Saturday on the U. of K. courts.

"Red" Parrish kept up his winning ways against Vanderbilt Saturday and took four firsts out of five to clinch a win for Kentucky. Coach "Bernie" Shively's track team seems headed to go places this year. The fact that they took 11 firsts and one tie out of 14 events shows capabilities that will be hard to surpass.

The tennis team has matches again this year with some of the top-notch schools in the country. Hundreds of plants and shrubs in the University's five gardens have it were made a major sport here the cost would be the same but the improvement would be enormous.

Whereas, some major sports are only seasonal and the boys report during that period, tennis is a year-round sport. Starting in September they play outdoors for a position on the team. Then when the weather changes, they play during the winter months on the indoor courts.

Plants on Campus Point to Signs Of Spring Time

By JOHN D. DARNELL Hundreds of plants and shrubs in the University's five gardens have it were made a major sport here the cost would be the same but the improvement would be enormous.

The largest garden on the campus, the Kentucky botanical garden in the rear of White hall, is being financed and planted by the Lexington Garden club, the University, and over 25 nurseries from over the country.

The garden at the side of White hall contains a beautiful plot of azaleas which were donated by the United States department of agriculture from the Bellingham, Maryland station. This garden is expected to bloom for the first time this year.

In the rear of the Art Center, there is a formal Spanish garden with flag walks and interesting developments in planting and growth.

Another beauty spot on the University campus is the rock garden, which slopes down toward Memorial Hall and covers the natural contours of the ground with a large number of fine native and Alpine plants collected by the late Dean F. Paul Anderson.

Greek Conclave To Be Held Friday

(Continued from Page One) at the Pi Kappa Alpha house at 2:30 p. m. and at the same time another discussion will be held on "The Religion of the Local Chapter to the National Organization," at the Phi Delta Theta house.

At the afternoon session, Dean Sanders will speak on "Fraternity Criteria." Dean Sanders is dean of men at Ohio Wesleyan university and is a member of Sigma Chi, national vice-president of Omicron Delta Kappa, educational advisor of the National Interfraternity conference and chairman of its educational advisory committee.

Dr. J. Holmes Martin, editor of the "Suckle and Sheath" of Alpha Gamma Rho, will speak on "The Growing Menace of Honoraries." Doctor Sheperdson and Dean Sanders will speak also at the banquet which will be held at 6:30 at the Commons.

Closing the day's festivities will be the annual Interfraternity dance which will be held from 9 to 1 in the Alumni gymnasium. Music for the dance will be furnished by Fletcher Henderson, a well known band of 15 musicians.

The Diamondback undergraduate newspaper at the University of Maryland, is carrying on a campaign for the elimination of final examinations.
