Mr. Harvard is a calligrapher and designer at Stinehour Press, Vermont, one of the leading quality printers in the country. He is also the author of a book on the typographer Christopher Plantin.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are designers, authors, and proprietors of the Press in Tuscany Alley in San Francisco.

Agriculture Librarian Authors Guide

Antoinette Powell, Agriculture Librarian, is the author of Preserving Land-Grant Agricultural Documents, a guide to prepare documents for microfilming. The guide emphasizes the bibliographic aspects rather than the technical requirements of microfilming. Ms. Powell hopes the guide will help others involved in similar projects avoid some of the problems which she and her staff encountered.

The microfilming of the University's agricultural documents came about as a result of a cooperative agreement with the National Agricultural Library, Beltsville, Md. According to Ms. Powell, many of the early Kentucky agricultural publications were deteriorated to such an extent that disintegration was inevitable. The microfilming project was essential to preserve the material for future use.
