Efforts To Provide UK Medical School Will Be Continued

Papers Have The Facts, Give Wrong Impression

UK's chances for a medical school remain unchanged, in spite of various news stories to the contrary.

Gov. Lawrence W. Wetherby, contrary to stories carried in the Lexington papers and the Louisville Courier-Journal after he presented the budget to the General Assembly on Tuesday, did not ignore the recommendations of an advisory committee on medical education to establish a medical school at the University.

Dr. Francis M. Masie, chairman of the Fayette County Medical Society's committee on medical education, said in a Tuesday-night interview with a Kernal reporter that newspaper coverage of the stories for the local papers had the right facts but the wrong impression.

Intended For 1956 Legislation
He explained that the committee's recommendation made last month in a report prepared by the Legislative Research Commission, was intended for the 1956, not the 1954 legislation.

Dr. Masie said that Gov. Wetherby did not mention the medical school in the presentation of the budget because it was not included, or intended to be included, in the 1954 agenda.

Belief that the 1956 legislature will appropriate funds for the proposed medical school at UK was expressed by Dr. Masie, although he emphasized the fact that his committee will continue its efforts to raise funds from private sources.

Over a month ago, during the first week of December, 1953, Dr. Masie pointed out that any appropriations from the Kentucky Legislature would be independent of the funds the committee is now seeking to raise.

Campaign To Be State-Wide
At that time, the plan was described as an attempt to make a state-wide campaign for funds.

Recommendations of the University were based on the fact that there are less doctors per capita in Kentucky now than there were 40 years ago.

Another reason for the recommendation is the lack of sufficient

Limit For Sororities Changed To Seventy

Sorority quotas will be raised to 70 members next semester as a result of action taken at the last Panhellenic meeting Monday afternoon. Passed to enable new students and girls who did not pledge in the fall to receive bids this spring season, the plan was the final solution Panhell worked out to the problem that faced them last semester of too many girls out for rush and not enough vacancies.

As the motion is stated, the quota increase will be effective only for the spring semester. Provisions for the fall rush season will be made later on and based on the results of the next month.

Propose Plans
Several plans for taking care of the nearly one-third of the fall rushers who did not pledge any sorority had been proposed to Panhellenic and referred to the executives. The quota raise was seen as the most satisfactory and workable plan by the majority of the members.

Formal rush will begin for all sororities Feb. 13 and will continue through Feb. 15 and will continue through Feb. 15 and will continue through Feb. 15.

Rush Rules Include
Unchanged since last fall, the rush rules include:

- 1. Silence in the dormitories on preference night.
- 2. No more than five personal contacts with a rushee, and three of these can be planned parties.
- 3. No men other than professional entertainers may be present at a party or tea.
- 4. No girl may be invited to more than one party at a time.
- 5. No rushee may spend the night with a sorority member or at a sorority house the week of rush.
- 6. No oral bidding.
- 7. All planned parties must be cleared through Panhellenic.

A sorority may ask a girl to go out for rush, but there can be no understanding or promises made either the rushee or the sorority.

EDDY GILMORE To Lecture Here

Gilmore Scheduled In Lecture Series On Russia Monday

By JIM BARRICKMAN
Eddy Gilmore, veteran Associated Press reporter, will appear at the Memorial Coliseum at 8:15 p.m. Monday in a forum discussion entitled, "Report on Russia."

This program, one of the Community Concert Series, had originally been scheduled for last Thursday, but the change was made at the request of Gilmore.

Gilmore, 46, and a native of Selma, Ala., recently returned from Russia where he served as chief of the AP's Moscow bureau. During his 11-year stay behind the Iron Curtain, he became an expert on French and Spanish, and for 1000 Soviet-American relations.

Wins Pulitzer Prize
Interested in Communist Russia has brought Gilmore several journalistic awards. He was awarded the Pulitzer Prize in 1947 for his written interview with Premier Joseph Stalin at the start of the Big Four talks. In 1946, he was presented with the Headliner and Sigma Delta Chi awards for the best foreign correspondence.

Gilmore, however, seemed not to be content with reporting only the serious side of Russian news. It was he who revealed, through the facilities of his press service, that the Volga boatmen didn't know the Song of the Volga Boatman.

The veteran newsman graduated from the Carnegie Institute of Technology in 1928. Through lack of experience, however, his search for a job was unsuccessful until he landed a position as police reporter on the Atlanta Journal.

He moved to Washington as a publicity man and later to the staff of the Washington Daily News. In 1935, Gilmore joined the Washington bureau of the Associated Press, where he concentrated on the lighter side of the news.

Meets Wilkie
On assignment to London in 1941, Gilmore became friendly with Wendell Wilkie, while the unsuccessful presidential candidate was on an inspection tour of British defenses. It was Wilkie, two years later, who appeared personally to Stalin and made the possible for Gilmore to marry his Russian ballerina-fiancee, Tamara Chernushina. The Gilmores now have two children, Vicki, 8, and Susanna, 3.

During the war, Gilmore reported from the front lines in the Pacific. He told in his stories how the Russians moved entire industrial cities to safer locations behind the Ural mountains.

In 1946, the Gilmores and Vicki visited the United States. The reporter returned in 1950, but his family was not permitted to accompany him.

Fights Russian Officialdom
Gilmore fought Russian officialdom for three years for permission to allow his wife and children to leave the country. Permission was denied until last June 9, after Stalin's death when the Russians agreed.

UK Budget Plan Cut By Over Two Million

Kentuckian Prices Will Be Raised

Last chances to buy a 1954 Kentuckian at the regular price of $5 will be given during registration for the second semester. Ray Jones, Kentuckian business manager, has announced. After this time, Jones said, prices will be raised.

State Funds Fail To Cover Deficit

UK's budget request of $11,493,520 for the next two years was cut to $9,413,000, a reduction of over two million dollars, in the budget bill presented Tuesday before the General Assembly by Gov. Lawrence Wetherby.

Seven Students Initiated Into Phi Beta Kappa

Six UK students and one former student now enrolled in the University of Louisville Medical School were initiated into the Alpha of Phi Beta Kappa chapter of Phi Beta Kappa last week.

One of the initiates, Floyd Cammack, graduate student in modern foreign languages, recently won a Rhodes Scholarship to Oxford University.

Other initiates, their home towns and majors include Douglas (Dick) Allen, Lexington, philosophy; Patricia Harvey, Mountain Lakes, N. J., modern foreign languages; Sally Hill, Ashland, library science; Mary Orrell Ray, Dyers, anatomy and physiology (now at U. of L.); Nancy Rhodes, Scholarship to Oxford University.

Dr. Carl B. Cone, president of the Delta Zeta chapter, conducted the ceremony. He was assisted by Dr. Maurice Hatch, treasurer, and Miss Margaret Bell Humphreys, secretary.

A tea for the new initiates was held at the UK Faculty Club following the program.

Phi Beta Kappa was founded in 1776 to recognize high intellectual attainment in the field of liberal arts and sciences.

Music Honoraries Sponsor Musicals In Memorial Hall

Phi Beta and Phi Mu Alpha, national music fraternities, will co-sponsor the Sunday Afternoon Musicals at 4 p.m. Sunday in Memorial Hall.

Featured soloists for this concert will be Sally Hoffman, soprano; Jo Anne Thomas, mezzo-soprano; and David Schmieder, tenor.

The program includes "Concerto for Trumpet" by Vittorio Giannini, "Concertino" by Ernest Bloch, "Mandrill" by Richard Heppner, "Three Contraltos for Woodwind Quintet," Opus 38, by Norman Corwin, "Four Figures in Time" by Barrie Phillips, "Prelude for Two Pianos" by Beryl Rubenstein, "Joy" and "The Junk Man" by Howard Hanson, "Sonata for Organ and Strings" by Daniel Pinkham, and the finale, "Introduction and Allegro" by Robert Beall, which will be presented by the brass choir.

Barbara Wessner, a senior in the Music Department from Indianapolis, is president of Phi Beta, and Dr. George W. Radimerski of Michigan State College, is president of Phi Mu Alpha.

The next musical will be presented on Feb. 14 and will feature James King and Anna Kivimaki, members of the music faculty.

Archaeologists Will Sponsor Lecture Series

The first in a series of lectures to be sponsored by the Kentucky Society of the Archaeological Institute of America will be given tonight in Memorial Hall.

Tonight's speaker is Dr. Schuyler Gammon of the University of Pennsylvania Oriental Museum. He will use as his subject "The Reconstruction of Old Anatolia."

According to Dr. Gammon, the society and head of the Department of Ancient Languages at the University will present seven lectures during the current school year.

Dr. Skiles has listed the other speakers as: Raymond H. Thompson, Curator of the Museum of Anthropology at the University of Kentucky, Jan. 18, "The Problem of Interference in Archaeology"; Dr. William S. Webb, UK professor of anthropology and head of the Physics Department, Feb. 25, "The Prehistoric Village at the Mouth of the Jonathan Creek on the Tennessee River."

1953-54 Budget Cut
The General Assembly's allotted $4,412,500 to the University for the current fiscal year, but this was reduced to $2,878,500 last July when the governor found that the state would not receive in income for general purposes enough to cover the amount estimated in 1952 and appropriated to various agencies last year.

This fall, in asking for an increase in its appropriation for the 1954-55 fiscal year, Dr. Donovan based the request on five factors: (1) To restore to the budget appropriations for the University the cut made in July, (2) To make up depleted reserves built up during the post-war years and used to supplement state appropriations, (3) Critical needs for salary adjustments for academic and non-academic personnel, (4) To meet the continuing impact of inflation upon cost of supplies and materials, and (5) To strengthen the program to serve better the people of Kentucky.

UK Committee Cites Need Of Med School

Kentucky is now the only southern state without a state medical school either in operation or being built.

This is the finding of a UK faculty committee, appointed over a year ago by University President Herman L. Donovan to study medical education in Kentucky and to consider the possibility of establishing a medical school at UK.

The committee's report, which had already been submitted to the Kentucky Legislative Research Commission, was made public yesterday.

A summary of the committee's report is as follows:

- 1. There is an urgent need for more physicians in Kentucky.
- 2. In order to have these physicians, it is necessary to train them here.
- 3. One medical school, at the University of Louisville cannot train all of them.
- 4. The people of the Commonwealth must establish a state medical school to train the physicians they need.
- 5. The state medical board must be a part of the state university.
- 6. The University of Kentucky must affirm its obligation to train physicians.
- 7. Lexington is the best site for the medical school and its auxiliary functions, including those of a state hospital.
- 8. The Commonwealth can build and support a medical school of excellence at UK.
- 9. The medical school of the University will work with presently existing medical schools to meet joint educational responsibilities; its presence will be an aid and not a hindrance to existing schools.
- 10. The presence of a superior medical school at UK will greatly extend the service of, enlarge the support of, enhance the prestige of, raise levels of scholarship and raise salary scales in the other divisions of the University.
- 11. A population-per-physician ratio in Kentucky of 1,256 to one was given in the committee's report, along with a national ratio figure of 750 to one. This means that there is now a shortage of 1,400 physicians in the state.
- 12. The report was concluded by asserting that "a new school here would meet that lack for medical education facilities and strengthen the existing medical school by taking off the pressure for it to serve inferior quality for quantity. We have

Book-Exchange Set Up As Non-Profit Service

By ELAINE MOORE
A student book-exchange is being set up for UK students to provide a means of exchanging this semester's books and notes for next semester. The exchange will be operated on a non-profit basis as a service project by Wesley Foundation, student Methodist group, at the student center, 151 E. Maxwell, across the street from the Shriver's Hospital.

No money will be exchanged until the book is sold. If students participate this semester the project will be continued in the future. Wesley Foundation will bear all expenses of operation.

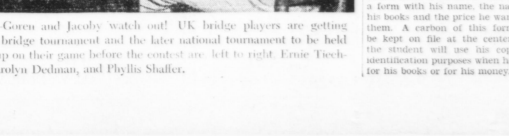

The Exchange will be operated as follows:

At least one student will be at the center from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. the week of final exams, the week of registration, and the following week to keep a record of the books. When students bring in their books to be exchanged, they will put their own name, the name of the book and the price they want for it on an envelope. This envelope will then be put in the back of their book.

Books will be sold only at the price marked on the envelope in the back of the book. When a book is sold, the envelope will be taken out of the book and the money for the book will be put in the envelope which will then be sealed and placed on a post card.

A post card will be sent to the owner informing him that his book has been sold and he may pick up his money. People not receiving postcards will automatically know that their books have not been sold.

A student must at any time pick up his books without any cost to himself. When a student first brings in his book or books, he will fill out a form with his name, the name of his book and the price he wants for them. A carbon of this form will be kept on file at the center, and the student will use his copy for identification purposes when he calls for his books or for his money.

Cats Drub Tech, 105-53 To Take First SEC Tilt

The Wildcats made rambling wrecks of Georgia Tech last Saturday night as they walloped them, 105-53, before 10,000 enthusiastic fans.

The winning margin of 52 points was one of the biggest ever amassed by a UK team on its home floor. Cliff Hagan with 35 points; Lou Thompson with 20 and Frank Ramsey with 19 paced the determined Wildcat attack as the Cats won their 17th straight game at home.

This was Kentucky's first Southeastern Conference game of the season and fans were interested in seeing how Kentucky would treat teams in the loop that suspended them.

It was apparent at half time that the Cats had a good shot at the 100 mark as they led 53-21, and had hit 43 per cent of their shots. After a cool third quarter they tore the Engineers apart in the first five minutes of the fourth period by scoring 22 points. During the entire period they netted 31 points.

LUCKY STRIKE CIGARETTES
L.S./M.F.

In 1952, a survey of colleges throughout the country showed that smokers in those colleges preferred Luckies to any other cigarette. In 1953, another far more extensive and comprehensive survey—supervised by college professors and based on more than 31,000 actual student interviews—once again proves Luckies' overwhelming popularity. Yes, Luckies lead again over all other brands, regular or king size... and by a wide margin! The number-one reason: Luckies' better taste!
