ANNOUNCERS ARE NEEDED

Tryout Auditions for Candidates to Be Held Tuesday, January 21 at Radio Studios

Auditions will be held at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday afternoon to fill vacancies on the announcing staff of the University of Kentucky radio studios, it was announced by E. G. Sulzer, studio director. Those auditions will take part in the university's fifteen programs per week schedule over WIAS, in Louisville.

Preference will be given to students living in Lexington or close enough to be able to continue announcing during the coming summer. All auditions will be private in that they will only be listened to by the studio staff.

POLICIES OF NBC CBS ARE CONDEMNED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(INS)—A statement criticizing the two national broadcasting chains, the NBC and CBS, for "favoritism" and refusing to sell time on the air to those who would attack the Roosevelt administration was issued here today in the name of Gov. Eugene Talmadge, of Georgia. The statement emanated from Washington headquarters of the convention of constitutional Democrats.

"Whether the radio companies are being influenced or coerced by the New Deal or whether they are going out of their way to conciliate the New Deal is open to question," said the statement, "but there can be no question but that the abuse of power of the radio cannot and will not be tolerated."

HOPE HELD FOR EXPLORER

LONDON, Jan. 16.—(INS)—Hope for the safety of Lincoln Ellsworth, American explorer missing for nearly two months in the Antarctic, was suddenly revived today. A committee in London in charge of a formal dinner to give Ellsworth a radiogram from the master of the expedition ship, Discovery II, inquiring a man has been sighted on the Bay of Whales and that an airplane had been located at Little America.

"Last of Pagans" To Have District's Premiere In City

Lexington has been chosen for the premier showing and presentation of "Last of the Pagans," an absorbing drama of life on primitive islands. The object is to record the public reaction. The new picture, starting Thursday at the Kentucky Theater, has a plot aimed at its height as it follows the travels of a boy and a girl in the island of paradise; of their separation through the agency of a rascally white trader, and their triumphant reunion.

There are thrills a-plenty—the battle between the native hero and the wild boar, shark and swordfish hunting, and the terrific island typhoon flamed at its height as it rages island buildings. A cave-in in a peat-hill here of the new picture. Delightful native music embellishes the saga of Polynesia. Maia, the Eskimo actor, plays the stalwart hero of the new picture, providing a powerful dramatic performance and providing himself one of the really romantic figures

TRUSTEE BOARD HEAD IS NAMED

Gov. A. B. Chandler Chosen As Ex-officio Head of U. K. Body

The Board of Trustees of the University, was authorized to hold yesterday at the University, named Gov. A. B. Chandler, ex-officio chairman of the board, and Judge Richard C. Stoll as the representative at the Harvard university founding celebration to be held this year.

Dr. Frank L. McVey, president of the University, was authorized to appoint a committee to work with him in preparation for the November meeting of the Association of Governing Boards of American Universities. It is expected that approximately 50 nationally known delegates will attend the conference here.

Doctor Murray and Dean James H. Graham were praised by the members of the board for their work in connection with the PWA building program.

In addition to Governor Chandler and Judge Stoll, others in attendance at yesterday's meeting were Harry Fergus, newly elected State Superintendent of Public Instruction; Garth K. Ferguson, new Commissioner of Agriculture; G. C. Wells, Paintsville; J. B. Andrews, Newport; John Cooper, Somerset; Dr. George H. Wilson, Lexington, all trustees; President McVey, Dean Graham, and D. H. Peak, secretary of the board.

GRAHAM WILL SPEAK

Col. James J. Graham, dean of the College of Engineering, will address an open meeting of the University chapter of the American Association of University Professors at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening, in Room 111, McVey hall. Today will be "The New Building Program of the University of Kentucky."

BLANDING DINNER GUEST

Dean Sarah Blanding was guest of the sophomore Foods class of the Home Economics department at a formal dinner given Wednesday evening, January 15, in the Agricultural building. A four-course dinner prepared and served by the girls under the supervision of Miss Barkley, instructor in the department.

RUSSIA MOBILIZES ARMY

MOSCOW, Jan. 16.—(INS)—Soviet authorities called today when the Union was rejoicing over the revelation that 1,300,000 soldiers, the world's biggest army, stand ready to fight against "Japanese and German aggressive intentions" to make public today forbidding developments in the Eastern situation. A new clash on the border of outer Mongolia, which is under Soviet domination and Japanese-controlled Manchukuo was related, while terms of a brisk diplomatic exchange between Mongolia and Manchukuo were barred.

Winner Of Oratorical Contest Will Represent U. K. At Various Meets

ALL STUDENTS ARE ELIGIBLE TO ENTER

Plans For Province Conference To Be Held Here Are Incomplete

Nu Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa, honorary leadership fraternity, will sponsor an oratorical contest at the University some time in February, Prof. R. D. McIntyre, adviser of the fraternity, announced yesterday.

Plans for the contest were discussed at the meeting of ODKK which was held Monday afternoon at 5 p. m. The winner of this oratorical contest will represent the University in the state oratorical contest and will go to the national contest if he wins the state meet.

Every student in the University is eligible to enter the contest. Complete rules have not been agreed on but will be announced later.

The province conference of ODKK which will be held at Kentucky among the state leaders to be first week in April and plans for the meeting were discussed Monday. A definite program for the conference has not yet been set out but will be announced sometime next month.

Plans for an inter-fraternity sing which will be held in March were discussed.

Features Will Be Main Theme of '36 Senior Year Book

Unique Make-up of Volume To Be Built Around State Traditions

The 1936 Kentuckian, which will appear on May Day, has many new features among which will be pictures of the society and fraternity houses, a page dedicated to the home mothers, and pictures of the football team in action. The beauty section will be in charge of topography, while the sport section will be made up of three columns of newspaper material using Associated Press copy.

The opening section will be in two colors. The theme of the book is "Kentucky Traditions" and is dedicated to the six traditional things, women, colonels, horses, dog, Judge tobacco and pioneers. There will be twelve snapshot panels.

Remarks Grow Hot As Morgan, Clark Clash In Hearing

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(INS)—In a somewhat acrimonious tiff, F. Morgan and W. C. Clark, members of the Senate Munitions committee for what he termed its inferences against the banking house of Morgan.

He exchanged a series of acid remarks with Senator Clark (D) of Missouri, who was speaking against the latter arose when Thomas W. Lamont, one of the Morgan partners, in response to questioning, observed: "You can't put us in a position of defending the Germans. We thought they were all wrong."

To this Clark replied: "I should probably have the same feeling if I were a member of a firm that had profited by $50,000,000 handling British orders in the war."

This brought a flush to Morgan's face. He leaned forward in his chair, resting his chin on his hand, and said: "Your inference has been," he replied, "that we were practically bought by the allies."

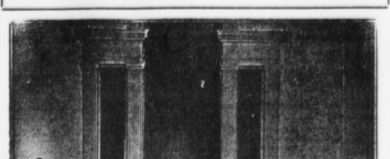

GRAD DINNER ANNOUNCED

The annual mid-year Alumni banquet, given in honor of the mid-year graduating class, will be held at 6:30 o'clock Friday night, January 24, in the University Commons. Judge Brady Stewart will give the principal address. The committee of arrangements is composed of Miss Marguerite McLaughlin, Mrs. Ada M. Giles, Mr. Robert Salvary, Mr. James Threshpore and Edw. Sarah Blanding.

HOME EC CLUB MEETING

The Home Economics club will hold its regular bi-monthly meeting Monday evening, Jan. 20, in the Agricultural building. Dean Sarah Blanding and Miss Cleo Smith will be the principal speakers.

University Men's Glee Club

The Men's Glee club, of the University, under the direction of Prof. C. A. Lampert, head of the Department of Music, will give a program at the Midway Orphans' school Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Thursday, Feb. 6, the club will give a joint concert with the Western State Teachers' College Glee club in Bowling Green. A combined group of 20 men and 20 women from the University Glee clubs will give a program at Carle high school Thursday evening under the direction of Mildred Lewis.

TRENTON, Jan. 16.—(INS)—Professor Albert Einstein, famous physicist, was well on the road today to becoming an American citizen and to receiving the Naturalization papers here, a $250 fee and received his first papers. He is a member of the faculty at the School for Advanced Study at Princeton.

U. K. Doctor Is Knighted By King Alfonso of Spain

All of you who have visited the University dispensary at one time or another know Dr. Pinney, surely you who have not had the pleasure of meeting him have heard of him. But how many of you know anything of the wealth of experience that lies behind this man?

Dr. Pinney was graduated from the University of Cincinnati medical school in 1903. Upon graduation he took a position as instructor of physiological chemistry at the same school, where he taught for four years. From there he went to the London School of Tropical Medicine, specializing in tropical medicine and parasitology. As a specialist in tropical medicine, Dr. Pinney was sent to Africa as a medical missionary for the Presbyterian church. There he remained in the tropics for ten years. During this time, in addition to his medical work, he collected tropical parasites for the British Museum of Natural History. This collection is still in the institution.

Ten years passed, and then in 1914 the world was plunged into the great World War. Dr. Pinney left

Shakeup To Raise Scoring Punch May Result In Benching of Forward Joe Hagan

TEAM PREPS HARD FOR GREENIE TILT

Much Defeated Tulane Quint Hopes To Hit Stride Against Cats

Much displeased with the manner in which his Wildcat basketball team performed last Tuesday night against the Xavier Musketeers in Cincinnati, Coach Adolph Rupp sent his charges through some stiff workouts the last two days and may make some drastic changes in the lineup before the Cats take the floor tonight against the Tulane University Green Wave in the Southeastern Conference.

The downtrodden Greenies will furnish the opposition for the Big Blue here in the line-up games, one tonight and one Saturday night.

In order to get more scoring punch in the Wildcat lineup the Kentucky coach may bench Joe Hagan, rugged sophomore, who was held scoreless in the N. Y. U. game and to a lone field goal in the Tulane game of the past. Although defeated in both their games with Alabama the Green Wave forced the Crimson to shoot a lead and lost. Dauber's team this year has more height than the team of a former Greenie, Leggett and Captain Ernie Carreer, at forwards, are both above six feet in height. "Richie" Skylene, a kind, sophisticated forward, stands at six feet, four inches. Bobby Monstet and Boise McCloskey, the guards, are quite so tall but are very fast.

The Wildcats have defeated Georgetown, Berea, Pittsburg, and Xavier so far this season, and lost only to New York University. They will be on their toes tonight to defeat the Green Wave and get started on the right foot in the race for top honors in the Southeastern conference basketball battle.

Education College To Edit 'Who's Who'

Placement Bureaus To Issue Annual Bulletin For Education Grads

Plans are being made for the 1936 edition of the annual bulletin, "Who's Who Among University Teachers," published by the Placement Bureau of the University.

This book is an effort on the part of the graduates of the College of Education to place themselves before boards of education, superintendents, and other employing officers. The principal content consists of photographs of the graduates and brief sketches giving an outline of their education and training for teaching. The graduates are divided into departments according to the field of work in which they majored, such as art, coaching and physical education, commerce, elementary work, and other departments.

This is the second edition of this bulletin and it has proved a great aid to the graduates as a large number of those represented in the last edition have received positions.

Kampus Kernels

Students owing applied music fees must pay same by January 20 or else be excluded from the final examinations.

Strollers will meet at 4 p. m. today in the basement of the Administration building. The formal dance of Kentucky Epistol chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon will be postponed due to the fact that the date of February 1 set on the calendar comes immediately following mid-year examinations.

SEEN FROM THE PRESS BOX

By JOE QUINN
Kernel Sports Editor

Kentucky's latest victory, in case you are interested in past history, was achieved only after a bit of a struggle. In fact, the Wildcats just about got over "little" Xavier by the skin of their pearly white teeth.

Before the game we had heard that the Musketeers were going to be plenty tough but we had heard that story coming out of Cincinnati so often that we were a little inclined to doubt the veracity of the most recent tales.

So when the game got started and Ralph Carlisle started his assaults on the netting, we began to feel quite smug about the whole affair. But not for long. Xavier soon demonstrated that it was not feeling at all. Their unique defense began to operate not so much as it did, the Cats began to feel the effects.

The Muskies selected their opponents and never left them. They went far into the Kentucky territory to follow their men and stayed so close to them that Coach Rupp's charges were unable to find any openings for passwork. The Blue representatives grew a little panicky, it seemed, when they were with this annoying method of defense. However, in their eagerness the Muskies were forced into mistakes and Kentucky rang up a fair enough percentage of their free tries to keep them in front.

The Wildcats were not wholly without error, though, and Xavier had his share of free throws to work with. The contest grew almost monotonous with fouls and most of the points scored in the first ten or twelve minutes were made from the fifteen-foot line.

Evidently Ralph Carlisle likes the going rough as he has been the high scorer and individual highlight in Kentucky's last two games, both of which featured plenty of body contact. Carlisle didn't seem to mind the pace a bit in either game although he was bumped and pushed all over the floor while doing his duty. Carlisle's peculiar style of dribble in which he stays close to the floor, leaning away from his opponent, and then comes up shooting make him a hard man to stop without deliberately fouling him. To date he has been Coach Rupp's main offensive weapon and has carried the Kentucky scoring burden almost single-handedly.

Another feature of the Xavier battle was the neat shooting exhibited by Warfield Donohue whose final field goal provided the Cats with the points to win. Donohue stood far out on the court and connected three times, each at an opportune moment. The Wildcats stand in need of guards who pack a scoring punch along with their defensive ability and if Donohue can keep up the pace he may be the answer.

Many of the local rooters have been disappointed in the showing of "Smoker Joe" Hagan in the last two games. After his great performance against Pittsburgh, the local critics expected Hagan to be a sensation. The fact that he has been held to one lone field goal in the New York and Xavier games has caused the experts to sour on him a little. They figure that he needs more experience than a sophomore is likely to have and that he is not quite ready for a regular berth.

The Greenies of Tulane come here tonight to open a two-game engagement with the Wildcats, bringing with them what is expected to be an improved aggregation over that which played here last season. The Tulane battles will open the conference season for the Cats.

Included on the Wave squad will be several holdovers from last year and a sophomore center who is reputed to be the starplayer of the Greene offense.

The Tulane team has not had too much success in the games played to date. They split two games with the Bulldogs of Georgia, dropped a single game to Pittsburgh and lost in two encounters with Alabama at Tuscaloosa. The Alabama games, the last played, showed that each game was nothing an improvement in the Wave's play. They fought Alabama to a standstill and only their inability to count on their free tries cost them the second tilt. If the team has

BRUNO'S WIFE MAKES VISIT

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 16.—(INS)—Bruno's Richard Hauptmann's wife, Anna, visited him in the state prison today for what may be the last time and told him it seemed that "all hope is lost"—that he must die in the electric chair tomorrow night. She was dry-eyed throughout the interview which took place before the screen mesh of Hauptmann's cell but her face was pale and deeply lined with marks of sorrow.

LINDBERGH'S SEEK HOME

ROME, Jan. 16.—(INS)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh were reported today to be seeking lease of a villa at Albaso, little town on the Italian Riviera less than 100 miles east of Nice and Rome Carlo.

RUPP PREDICTS WIN OVER NYU NEXT YEAR

"The Wildcats will defeat the New York University team next year and make the 'Violets blue' said Coach Adolph Rupp when he spoke at the weekly Lions Club luncheon this week at the Lafayette hotel.

Declaring that basketball particularly is a judgment game insofar as fouls are concerned, the Kentucky coach expressed belief there is no justification for variance in application of the rules of the game in different sections of the country. Kentucky, he said, has been credited with doing more than any other state in removing sectionalism from the game. As proof of this he cited a recent editorial which was sent to him by the sports department of the Hearst newspaper organization praising his stand on this matter.

Removal of sectional lines from college sports was recommended by Rupp.

Commenting on this year's team of the jovial Kansas expressed confidence in his boys and asserted that he had been unusually well pleased with the material for a championship team "until the boys got to studying high finance."

Another change which was recommended by Mr. Rupp was that of the scoring system. He thinks that field goals should be good for three points and free throws one point. "This would eliminate close games between teams that lack ability to score field goals but get many free throws and keep in the running by this method," said the coach.

played on the latter's court tonight. The Bobcats are coached by C. D. Blair, former member of the Kentucky Wildcat basketball squad. Coach Paul McBrayer has a tall, rangy group of players that should have little trouble with the high school team. His starting lineup will average six feet or more in height, and will be composed of such players as Adams and Thompson, former Jeffersonville, Indiana high school stars, at forward and center respectively. Curtis of Nashville, Tenn., will be the other forward. The guard posts will be held down by Opper, of New York and Hodge, former star at Paris, Ky., high school.

The Kittens have defeated Lawrenceburg and Mammal high schools and the Morehead and Georgetown freshmen in games played this season.

CHICAGO PRIZEFIGHT TO ATTRACT 20,000

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—(INS)—Thanks to the lethal wallop of Joe Louis, an unostentatious young negro, the Chicago stadium tomorrow night is expected to gather in something like 100,000 from more than 20,000 prizefight patrons. This is the price the customers will pay, according to advance indications today, to see the official heavyweight champion of the world keep an engagement with Charley Retzlaff, the man who is going to be knocked out.

XAVIER'S DEFENSE IS TOUGH NUT FOR RUPPEN TO CRACK

Forced to battle desperately in the final few minutes of play, Kentucky's Wildcats came from behind to nose out Xavier University, 36-32, Tuesday night at Xavier field-house before 3000 excited fans.

After seven points shortly after the second half was underway, the Kentuckians steadied only in the closing minutes of the fray to even the count and finally forged ahead to register the margin of victory.

It was the unorthodox Xavier defense that baffled the Wildcats, causing them to practically abandon their passing game and rely on individual ability. The Muskies adopted a man-to-man style of defense and continually went into Kentucky's backcourt to throttle passes before they could get started. The rushing game played by the Musketeers, however, caused the officials no end of trouble and throughout the first half both teams piled up a total of 28 fouls.

Kentucky got away to a fast start when Ralph Carlisle, who was once again the individual standout on the floor, dribbled in for a crisp shot which was fouled at the same time by little Leo Sack. Carlisle made his foul try and a minute later counted again from under the hoop. There was but three minutes of the contest played before the parade to the foul line began. Donohue, Carlisle, Kruse, Sack and McKenna all made good on their tries, while a number of others were muffed.

Warfield Donohue made his first field hoop of the evening, while Anderson was taken out with three personal charges against him, in favor of Big Jim Goforth. It was not until 13 minutes of the tilt had passed that Sack counted from out on the floor with Xavier's first field goal. Sack threw in another shortly after and brought the Muskies to within two points of the Cats.

As the half drew toward the end both teams started to hit the hoop with Xavier having a slight edge in shooting. Just before the whistle Goforth made two foul tries to give Kentucky a narrow margin at the intermission, 20-18.

Lewis and Anderson were back in the Wildcat lineup when the teams resumed play. Sack went on an individual scoring spree and out the drapes three times in the first two minutes to put Xavier out in front for the first time. After taking time out, the Cats knotted the count again on Donohue's long heave and a one-hand throw from the side by Carlisle. Both teams missed several easy tries and neither was able to forge ahead to any considerable degree.

With three minutes remaining, Sweeney tied the score for the Muskies with a long shot. At this point Carlisle and Koprovski got excited and started swinging and both were banished. Donohue threw in his third long shot of the evening with a minute left. Lewis took the next tap and the Cats held the next tap and the Cats held the lead in for a crisp to put the game on ice.

It was Carlisle's accuracy which kept the Cats in the running throughout the game coupled with Donohue's long range hitting.

The summary:
Kentucky (36) (32) Xavier
Carlisle (17) (15) Sack
Hagan (6) (7) McKenna
Lewis (6) (7) Kruse
Donohue (7) (3) Kucia
Anderson (2) (1) Sweeney
Substitutions: Kentucky, Walker (1), Goforth (3), Ellington, Xavier, Koprovski (1).
Officials: Dr. Dave Reese and Harry Schwab.

While secrecy surrounded the latest, desperate move of Hauptmann's lawyers, a petition for leave to seek a writ of habeas corpus was expected to be laid before the court. With this appeal would be coupled a request for a stay of execution, set for Friday night, pending action by the high tribunal.

IS DENIED NEW TRIAL

WISE, Va., Jan. 16.—(INS)—Edith Maxwell, 21-year-old mountain school teacher under sentence of 25 years for patricide, today was denied a new trial when Judge H. A. W. Siken ruled new evidence presented by defense counsel was insufficient to controvert the original verdict. Counsel for the girl, who was convicted of beating her father, Tvice Maxwell, to death with a high-heeled slipper when he would have flogged her for staying out "till high onto midnight," was granted 60 days to file a petition with the Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals.
