WILDCATS VICTORIOUS IN SECOND GAME, 37-21

Hayden's Cagers Too Much For Cumberland Quintet.

TEAMWORK IMPROVES

Captain Hayden and his onrushing Wildcats downed the quintet from Cumberland College last Saturday night by the score of 37 to 21. This was the second game of the season and the Kentucky basketeers showed a marked improvement in their playing over the first game. The Williamsburg lads fought hard and at times played real basketball but they were snowed under by the superior passing and goal shooting of the Wildcats.

At times something that approached teamwork was indulged in by the Wildcats but there is still room for improvement in that line. The game was too one-sided for any real interest to be shown and the University team was not forced to exert itself in order to maintain a comfortable lead.

Hayden led in the scoring, having eight baskets marked to his credit, one of which was from the middle of the floor. Adkins, the lanky center who starred in the opening game, played an excellent game, caging two goals out of three attempts. He labored under difficulties, since he was playing against the team on which he played last year. He had little opportunity to star as he was continually watched and two men were on him whenever he got possession of the ball. King, who has been suffering from tonsillitis, played a good game and his floor work was a feature of the contest.

Ridgeway played havoc with the foe as he seemed to have a habit of breaking up their plays and keeping the score from piling up in their favor. Lavin played his usual stellar game, capturing two baskets and smashing the hopes of the Mountaineers by his excellent guarding.

In the second half the entire second team was substituted and the scrubs were more than a match for the enemy. Fest caged three baskets, Smith shot a long one and Fuller added another to his list.

The floor work of Cumberland was very poor, with the exception of the guarding of Davies, who was the outstanding player for the visitors. Most of their passing was into the hands of an awaiting Wildcat.

STATE AND SOUTHERN ORATORICALS SOON

Meeting To Be Held This Week To Set Dates

Applicants for the spring oratorical contest are now asked to report to Professor Mikesell. The State Intercollegiate Oratorical Association will meet this week in the Phoenix Hotel and set a definite date for the yearly contest which will take place sometime in April at Berea College. Also, the Southern Oratorical League will hold its annual contest in April in Chapel Hill, North Carolina, and to this contest Kentucky will send her best orator.

Johns Hopkins, University of Virginia, University of North Carolina, Vanderbilt University, University of Alabama and the University of Kentucky are members of the Association.

The subject for the oration is to be of a social, political or economic character and not to exceed twenty minutes. The eliminating contest will take place three or four weeks prior to the date for the yearly contest.

"ROBIN HOOD" WEDNESDAY-THURSDAY

Baseball Coach To Be Selected Soon

In preparation for the coming baseball season, "Daddy" Boles has been casting his eye about for a suitable coach to pilot the Wildcat horsehide artists to another state championship. Up to this time no one has been definitely decided upon although several offers from competent mentors have been received. One of these, from a former Chicago White Sox infielder, was the last to be received, but it is doubtful if he will be signed up.

One of the Lexington papers published a story recently in which it was declared a certainty that a coach had been selected, but such is not the case. At present several good men are being considered for the position, among whom are several local artists who have graced the big league diamonds. It is expected that the decision will be made in the near future and that Kentucky will have the best that can be obtained in the coaching field.

Professor Lampert and Herndon Evans Adding Finishing Touches

CAST OF SEVENTY

Wednesday Matinee For School Children, Thursday Night Public.

SAX IS DESIGNER

Too much praise and publicity can not be given to "Robin Hood," the first large production of the musical department of the University, to be presented Wednesday afternoon and Thursday evening at the Lexington Opera House. Professor Lampert whose work is always marked by artistic finish and charm, has trained the voices of the seventy men and women who will sing in Reginald de Koven's celebrated contribution to American opera.

Herndon Evans, now unique in campus history, for managing at the same time the two biggest University shows, has given the cast and chorus expert direction in their dramatic requirements. The time of the opera is during the Crusades and Mr. Carol Sax, head of the art department, has availed himself of the quaint styles and gorgeous color in designing costumes and scenery to be correct in every detail.

The cast composed of well-known University students is headed by J. R. Curry in the title role, who as the gay, daring outlaw, wins power, and the lovely Maid Marion when the opera ends. The part of his ladye faire and queen in Sherwood's green glades, is sung by Martha McClure, whose soprano voice of lovely rich quality will delight her hearers.

In Jack Derringer, as Guy of Gisborne, Professor Lampert believes he has discovered a true tenor, of professional quality. His future in musical circles in or out of the University, is assured. Neal Sullivan, C. C. Anderson and Tom Brooks, remembered as members of the successful Men's Glee Club, will acquire additional honors in their respective parts of the wicked Sheriff of Nottingham, Will Scarlett and Little John, dashing outlaws of the bold archer's band.

Margaret Smith, whose voice has already been tested in "The Feast of the Little Lanterns," is abandoning herself in her role of the devil-may-care Allan-Dale, with a boyish eagerness that is irresistible. Lucie Smith lays aside her girlhood as the wrinkled Dame Durden, who becomes Dame Burden to the harassed Sheriff when she announces that she is his wife. Justina Heintz, a Sophomore, will reveal in her first appearance before a college audience, a voice of winning sweetness, in her part of Dame Durden's daughter, Annabel, a sentimental village lass.

The first performance on Wednesday afternoon will be given for the school children of the city. Arrangements have been made with Superintendent Cassidy to dismiss the children for the afternoon. It is the aim of the musical department that they become acquainted with this best production of an American composer.

Tickets for the opera range in price from 50 cents to $1.50.

MODEL HIGH VICTORS IN DOUBLE HEADER

Model High School defeated Richmond High School basketball team 29 to 17, in the University Gym, Friday night. It was a hard fought contest, but the Model High boys outclassed their opponents in every respect. Berryman starred for Model High.

The girls team also defeated the Richmond girls by a score of 6 to 1. "Bob" Lavin refereed both games.

Kentucky Teams Have Real Wildcat Mascot

"Jim Server," the Wildcat mascot of the athletic teams of the University, was secured by "Dick" Webb at San Antonio, Texas. It is now being tamed by "Big Jim" Server, the captain of the 1921 football team. This ferocious animal will be seen on the field at every contest in which the University takes part from now on. The Wildcat is about three-fourths grown and is ferocious and almost untamable. Like the Wildcat teams of the University in their contests.

At the recent fire at the Mammoth Garage, which destroyed about ten automobiles, the wildcat slept peacefully through the entire excitement and was uninjured.

When this unusual mascot is seen upon the field, it will create more attention than the teams. When it is taken with the team to play other colleges, the Wildcats of the University of Kentucky will always be remembered by their "Wild" mascot.

KENTUCKY SENIOR TO BE STATE DIETITIAN

Anne McAdams, Lexington, Demonstrates Ability To Save

REMARKABLE RECORD

Miss Anne McAdams, Senior in the Home Economics Department of the University of Kentucky, has been appointed State dietitian to superintend the preparation and purchase of food used by the seven State institutions under the board of Charities and Corrections, it was announced Friday at a meeting at the Agricultural College of all the superintendents of State institutions.

One month ago Superintendent H. B. Hickman asked Miss McAdams to take charge of the diet of the Greendale Reform School, and working under the direction of the University and continuing her work there, she assumed her duties and reduced the cost of food for the 550 inmates and officers of the institution $4040 in one month. In a financial report of the Reform School made by Major Hickman it was shown that the dietary expenses for the month of September amounted to $8,850.80, and in order to cut down the enormous cost the Home Economics department of the University was asked to help. With a careful preparation of menus and choice of food with the proper amount of calories, Miss McAdams reduced their expenses to $4,810.81 for the month of December.

Miss McAdams is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. K. McAdams of Lexington, and will be graduated from the University the latter part of this month and will take up her duties with the State institutions February 1. During the present month she will continue her work at the Greendale Reform School and next month will begin work at the Home for Feeble Minded at Frankfort and will then devote a week to introducing the new system to each of the institutions in turn. After the work is well under way she will visit each of the institutions at least once a week to superintend the system. Her work will include the preparation of menus of three meals a day, the making out of the quarterly requisitions for groceries, meals and other supplies. The menus will be planned and

FRIDAY DEBATE WON BY FIELDER AND JOHNSON

Woman's Privilege To Hold Office Is Decided Against By Judges.

"Resolved: That it is to the best interests of the country to have the women hold political offices on equality with the men." was the subject of a hotly contested debate between the Philosopher and the Patterson Literary Societies in Chapel at the fifth hour, Friday, January 14.

Lucille Moore and Hallie Hunt assumed the affirmative side of the question, the women's rights. L. C. Fielder and R. T. Johnson favored the negative side of the question. The debaters on both sides brought out very strong arguments, which had been promoted by original ideas of the speakers. Rebuttals were ably given on both sides.

Miss Frances Jewell, Mr. Carol Sax and Professor Dantzer were judges of the debate. They came to an unanimous decision in favor of the negative.

BASKETEERS TO MEET GEORGETOWN QUINTET

Wildcats To Clash With Tigers Tuesday on Local Floor.

CHATTANOOGA NEXT

The Georgetown College Tigers will be the third victims to be taken on by the Wildcat quintet this season when the two rival teams meet on the local court tonight at 8 o'clock. Georgetown has started on a successful season, having already defeated the strong Lexington Y. M. C. A. team and the Frankfort "Y" team.

The Wildcats have improved a great deal since the last game and will present for the approval of the visiting team, a quintet that will startle them by their fast floor work and accurate goal shooting. Captain Hayden has practically recovered from his injury and will be able to play up to his usual standard which is as good as any forward in the South. "Bill" King, who has been suffering from an attack of tonsillitis, will be able to get into the game which will add materially to the strength of the Wildcats.

It has been a problem for Coach Buchheit to pick a team out of the large amount of excellent material available this year and the men who have played in the past two games may or may not be the ones to start in tonight's performance. The probable line up will be: Adkins, center; Hayden and King, forwards; Lavin and Ridgeway, guards.

The fourth game on the Wildcat schedule is to be played on the local floor next Friday night with the University of Chattanooga quintet.

KENTUCKY GRAD VISITS CAMPUS

Mr. A. S. Behrman, chief chemist of the International Filter Company, Chicago, and a 1914 graduate from the course in Industrial Chemistry, visited the University on January 7, and addressed the students of that department on "Water Softening." After his graduation from the University, Mr. Behrman was connected with the Bureau of Science, Manila, which he left to become Captain of the Sanitary Corps, First Army Water Supply Service, A. E. THE FIRST STEP

The University of Kentucky has been criticised by friend and foe alike on the fact that Kentucky dramatics, athletic events, et cetera, are not attended by Kentucky students and faculty members as they should be.

It is the earnest desire of The Kernel that there be an immediate awakening on the campus, and that there develop at Kentucky a school spirit that will be unequalled in the country.

In the production of "Robin Hood" by the student talent there lies a wonderful opportunity for instructor and student to patronize a Kentucky effort in dramatics, and to benefit themselves by attending an excellent opera.

U. K. CAFETERIA A SUCCESS

The Kernel is pleased to note the amazing growth of patronage at the University Cafeteria. There is really nothing amazing about it, however.

poose that lays the golden egg, tired of having its neck wrung, has finally squawked in favor of the Cafeteria. The problem now before Miss Purnell and her assistants is to hold the great body of students when Lexington boarding house keepers finally see the light and begin to lower their prices.

RESOLUTIONS

The year 1921 has started out in a cloud of sorrow for the members of the Sophomore class of the University, on account of the death of one of its best known and best liked members, Harvey C. Smith.

He was operated on in Louisville during the holidays and did not survive the shock attending thereto.

Harvey came to the University from High School in Richmond, Ky., and soon made a host of friends in all classes. He was a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity, Keys, honorary Sophomore fraternity, and was active in social and scholastic affairs.

Be it hereby resolved that as members of the Sophomore class we shall pause in our daily walk of life and pay respects to one of our fellow classmates in token of the high esteem in which he was held by all who knew him.

Be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be published in the school paper and also spread on the minutes of the Sophomore class.

THE KENTUCKY SPIRIT

A new spirit is taking hold of former students and graduates of the University, revealed in the queries that come to the Alumni Secretary, the suggestions for betterment of general conditions and the interest in alumni clubs now being established.

The older sons and daughters of the institution, learning more about the accomplishments of the University and its plans, want to have a part in its advancement. Younger alumni still imbued with the idealism of undergraduate days are anxious to be of service.

Alumni clubs are a vital factor in the upbuilding of a powerful general association and in rendering service to the University. Their organization throughout Kentucky and in large and representative student body and adequate financial support for the University.

TETRAZZINI

Will Sing at Auditorium February 7.
Seats Now On Sale.

The wealth of good music procured for Lexington this season seems to be topped by the announcement that Luisa Tetrazzini will come for a concert at Woodland Park Auditorium, Monday night, Feb. 7. There is no other voice in the world today like Luisa Tetrazzini's. Something more than the sunshine of her native Italy has crept into it and given it both dazzling splendor and its beautiful warmth.

Tetrazzini made her debut at the Theatre Verdi, in Florence, taking the part of Inez in Meyerbeer's "L'Africaine." Her salary at that time was $100 a month. Subsequently she sang at the Teatro Argentina, in Rome. Next came her first South American tour, which included operatic triumphs in Buenos Ayres, Rosario, Montevideo and Rio Janerio. Finding herself famous on her return to Europe, she obtained an important engagement at San Carlo Theatre, Lisbon, and later went to Madrid and then to Russia, appearing at St. Petersburg, Moscow, Warsaw and Tiflis. By this time her fame was advancing with enormous strides.

On her return from Russia, she won brilliant triumphs in her own Italy, singing with Caruso, Tamagno, Battistini and others equally great. Afterward she journeyed to Mexico and then to San Francisco where she created an operatic furor. She made her New York debut at the Manhattan Opera house as Violetta in "La Traviata," Jan. 15, 1908, before one of the most enthusiastic and enormous multitudes ever gathered inside a New York theatre. Her repertoire included thirty-three operas.

Seats are now on sale at the Lexington College of Music, telephone 639X. The box office sale will open Feb. 3.—Adv.

Miss Adelaide Crane, of the University, has returned from a visit to her brother in New York.

Workers Wanted in Dramatic Production

Professor W. H. Mikesell is inviting additions to his class in Dramatic Production for the second semester. While the class has been convening since the first part of the year, applicants who have had sufficient experience in amateur dramatic work will be accepted for the second semester. The program for the second term of the year will be devoted exclusively to Play Production. The class will be divided into groups and definite weeks set aside for the various groups to present their plays. Students who had taken Dramatic Production last year could be granted permission to take it this year, although double credit would not be given. It is required that those desiring to take full class work will duly register with Dean Boyd or receive permission from him to take extra hours. However, Professor Mikesell would like to see personally all those who desire to take up Dramatic Production.

Men of the Stroller organization are especially invited to take part in certain plays which will be given from time to time by the Little Theatre Class. In this case the men would not sign up for the whole course but would simply register their willingness to take part in one or two of the plays given during the semester. Attendance would not be regularly required, but only during the week in which the play is given in which they are taking part.

Those wishing to sign up will see Professor Mikesell as soon as possible

The slush was deep,
But Polly hesitated not—
She took the leap.
The proffered hand
She calmly canned

And she did land.
She fell in flat,

Her fur coat hid from human sight
