A sample demonstration search on the computer terminal will be included.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY AT THE MARGARET I. KING LIBRARY, UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY, LEXINGTON, KY. 40506

MICHIGAN LIBRARY SCHOOL OFFERS RESEARCH LIBRARY
SPECIALIZATION

The University of Michigan School of Library Science has received a grant from the Council on Library Resources for the purposes of providing an expanded program for the professional education of research librarians. With the support of this funding, the School of Library Science will offer, effective Fall, 1981, a specialized curriculum in research librarianship requiring twenty months of study. The program will incorporate four trimesters of formal course work, including considerable study in cognate areas; a four-month internship in a research library; and the substantial involvement of research librarians.

The School of Library Science will be awarding within the next several weeks a limited number of fellowships to qualified applicants. These fellowships will cover all tuition and fees (approximately $11,500 for out-of-state students and $5,500 for in-state students) and will provide each student with a stipend of $7,200. Persons accepted into the program must meet all regular requirements for admission to the School's master's degree program. In addition, it is desirable for them to possess strong analytical, mathematical, and communications skills.

Graduates of the program will receive the A.M.L.S. degree. They should have an advantage over other graduates in seeking responsible employment in a research library, and it is expected that they will tend to advance relatively rapidly into middle and upper level management positions.

Interested persons should apply by June 1!

The Library has filled the following positions on a regular basis:

Ebba Jo Sexton	Law Tech Services
Cathy Frank	Law Circulation/Reference
Cathy Hunt	Music Library
