ANNUAL BOOK SALE

The annual Library Book Sale will be held April 21-22 at Buell Armory. If you can volunteer to help during the two days of the sale -- and especially if you can help in setting up on Thursday morning, please call Paula Pope at 7-9401. We still need grocery bags for packing books for customers; you can bring your donated bags to either Paula Pope or to Trudy Day in Collection Development.

The Library Staff Organization will have a separate table for book sales at the sale, with proceeds going to LSO. There is still time to bring in books for LSO to sell; books may be brought to the bindery unit on the third floor to store until the day of the sale.

GOVERNMENT PUBLICATIONS DEPARTMENT NEWS

Since April 4, library patrons and staff using the Government Publications Department have been retrieving their own materials from the basement stacks and level B in the core stacks. GPD staff will supply a map of the area where the material is located and provide patrons with a stack number to look for, as well as the call number.

The staff have been conducting tours, through today of both the basement and level B, and will be happy to schedule additional tours for groups of two or more on request. For more information, or to request a tour, call Sandra McAninch at 7-8400.

"MANAGING THE ONE-PERSON LIBRARY"

Special Libraries Association will be conducting a two-day program, "Managing the One-Person Library," on May 6-7 in Pittsburgh, PA.

Instructor for the event is Guy St. Clair, a widely recognized consultant, author and lecturer on the management of small libraries. He is also the publisher of The One-Person Library: A Newsletter for Librarians and Management and the author of Managing the One-Person Library, a comprehensive guide published in 1986.

CAREER CROSSROADS WORKSHOP

University of Kentucky Academic Support Services for Adults and Career Planning and Placement are offering a half-day workshop on May 10 for adult students and potential students who are anxious about opportunities in the job market.

The conference is designed to provide information about researching the job market and about current trends in selected career fields.

The conference will be held in Room 230 of the New Student Center from 8:30 a.m. until 12:15 p.m. Cost of registration is $5. More information is available in the GB office or from Academic Support Services for Adults, 106 Frazee Hall; telephone 7-3383.

TELECOMMUNICATIONS COURSE IN 4-WEEK SUMMER SESSION

The Department of Telecommunications will offer Tel/Com 319: "World Media Systems" during the four-week summer session from 10:00 a.m. -12:00 Monday-Friday.

The course is a comparison of the communication media in different countries of the world, and an exploration of the theories explaining why these media systems exist. The course covers how various political and social systems affect the media and how the media, in turn, affect the societies in which they have developed. The first half of the course focuses primarily on the structures of the communication media (both domestic and international) throughout the world. The second half of the course covers the functions of these media in First, Second, and Third World countries. In the second half of the course special emphasis is placed upon social, economic, and political problems created by communication inequities, exportation of technology, and information flow.

For more information, you may call the instructor, Dr. Milton J. Shatzer at 7-4241 or the Department of Telecommunications at 7-1730.

THOMAS NOBLE EXHIBIT AT UNIVERSITY ART MUSEUM

An exhibit of works by the nineteenth-century Kentucky painter Thomas S. Noble opened at the University Art Museum in the Singletary Center for the Arts on Sunday, April 10 and will remain hanging through May 29.

Dr. James Birchfield, assistant director for Collection Development in the University Libraries, had a major role in the research and preparation for this exhibit.

SPRING 1988 KHECC CONFERENCE

The Spring 1988 Kentucky Higher Education Computing and Telecommunications Conference will be held May 19-20 in the Perkins Building conference center at Eastern Kentucky University. The conference theme will be "Reaching for New Horizons in the Midst of Fiscal Constraints."

The conference registration fee is $50; the fee includes meals on both days of the conference.

Further information is available from Carol Teague, Academic Computing Services, ECU, Combs 207, Richmond, KY 40475-0940 or in the GB office.
