Sorority Pledges Prepare For 11th Sigma Chi Derby

Sorority pledges are preparing for the 11th annual Sigma Chi Derby to be held at 1 p.m. tomorrow on the old intermural field behind the SUB.

Jim Todd, Sigma Chi social director, said nine events have been planned with the afternoon festivities ending with a beauty contest.

Todd said a new rotating trophy would be given the sorority of the pledge winning the contest. The winner will also receive an individual trophy. Sue Ramsey, representing Alpha Delta Pi was last year's winner.

The derby winner will be determined on the total points accumulated during the afternoon. There will be five winners in each event with a point range of five points for first place to one point for fifth place.

The pledge group with the greatest number of points will win the rotating all-participation trophy. Last year's winner was Alpha Delta Pi.

Todd explained that the derby is a nation-wide event for his fraternity. Though not called the Sigma Chi Derby at all chapters, Todd said the purpose of the event was the same.

The derby events include a derby chase which will begin at 6 a.m. tomorrow. Todd said this was a new event where the Sigma Chi members will be wearing derbies and the pledges will attempt to grab them all day.

Other events are the egg toss, pie eating contest, flag chase, tomato toss, sorority grab, relay race, beauty contest, and a special mystery event.

Saturday Named Law Alumni Day

The finals of the moot court competition at 2:30 p.m. today will begin a weekend of activities for College of Law alumni. Saturday has been designated Law Alumni Day.

The festivities will include a reunion, general meeting of the Law Alumni Association, picnic, and the UK football game Saturday night.

A banquet honoring the Kentucky Court of Appeals judges will be held tonight at the Phoenix Hotel. Dr. Robert J. Farley, dean of the University of Mississippi Law School, will speak.

Dr. Farley has been mayor of Oxford, Miss., president of the Mississippi State Bar Association, and is a member of the Uniform Laws Committee of the American Law Institute.

Finalists in the moot court competition are James G. Osbourne, South Fort Mitchell, and Richard Davis, Lexington, representing the Vinson Club; and Frank F. Wilson, Lexington, and Harold M. Wilson Jr., Henderson, representing the Rutledge Club.

The competition will be judged by the justices of the Court of Appeals.

Archaeology Institute Now Being Held

A two-day experimental institute on Kentucky archaeology is being conducted by Dr. Douglas Schwartz, associate professor of anthropology and director of the UK Museum of Anthropology.

The first session was held last Saturday. The concluding session will be conducted tomorrow.

The experiment is being conducted for teachers from elementary, junior high, and high schools. If successful, the information obtained can be used to enable students to relate many of their subjects to Kentucky prehistory.

Dr. Schwartz explains, "The idea is to see what techniques can be used to cut the time gap between the researchers and the public, the unfortunately long time that elapses between discovery of a significant fact by researchers and the time the general public is able to glean it from scientific journals."

He feels that by informing teachers of science, history, biology, and history about the archaeology of their own state, they will be able to relate much of their class instruction about the world to things which students see around them every day.

Tickets Sales 'Good'

Brothers Four Sing Tonight At Coliseum

Reserved ticket sales have been good for the Brothers Four concert tonight, but the success of the program depends on general admission sales, according to Fred Schultz, co-chairman of the concert.

The quartet will begin their medley of folk and pop songs at 8:30 p.m. in Memorial Coliseum. Phil McClure, WVLC disc jockey, will be master of ceremonies.

Disappointed with the advance publicity, Schultz said one girl even asked him if they (co-sponsors, Lances and Keys) were "Trying to keep the concert a secret."

Schultz pointed out that the posters arrived late and were only put up on campus bulletin boards Tuesday night.

Student Congress voted to underwrite the $1,500 event. Lances representative Bill Sprague said that this was done not because they were afraid the money wouldn't be made, but to insure payment in case something did happen.

The group, who started their career singing for "kicks" at the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity house at the University of Washington, performed at Morehead State College last night.

John Payne Stumps For Republicans

TV Star Says Think Before Voting

By MIKE FEARING
Wednesday News Associate

Taking the role of an old-fashioned soapbox speaker, television star John Payne yesterday appealed to a crowd of students to think for themselves when they vote in November.

Speaking at the Student Union, Payne said, "The candidates for president and vice president are presenting their wares for your approval, both are qualified and intelligent, but it's up to you to decide."

Payne, star of ABC-TV's "Restless Gun" series told the students that they must decide how to vote through their interpretation of the words and gleaned facts of the candidates.

"Then," he said, "only you can decide. Look deeply into your own heart and then vote. In this way you'll know you're right."

One of about 20 Hollywood celebrities traveling the country in behalf of Vice President Richard Nixon, Payne gave his reasons for voting the Nixon-Lodge ticket.

"I think he (Nixon) wants to save the good historical qualities of the country and work them as a base," Payne said. He had explained earlier in his talk that the constitution was based on those qualities that advocate morals before treaties, for example.

Of Henry Cabot Lodge, Republican vice presidential candidate, the Hollywood celebrity said he had a "keen intelligence and wit that has been whetted to a razor edge on the hides of Russian delegates for years."

It wasn't until after Payne had ended his speech that a student asked him what he thought of Sen. John F. Kennedy, Democratic presidential candidate. "I think he is bright, quick, and glib. But I don't think 18,000,000 Americans go to bed hungry unless they live on Metracal. The only thing he hasn't got is the president's chair—and papa wants that for him."

About Lyndon Johnson he only said, "There are some Texans who have put saddles on all the fences so that Johnson won't feel out of place when he comes home from Washington. And that's not to say he rides the middle all the time."

Following his talk from a small wooden platform, Payne was surrounded by students asking for autographs and shaking hands. Finally he was escorted to a motorcade and taken to Sorority Row.

There was a mad scramble when Payne arrived at the houses.

He described his visit there as "nonpolitical." "Just wanted to get acquainted with the girls," he said, not mentioning how the girls wanted to get acquainted with him.

The TV western star's appearance was sponsored by the University Young Republican Club.

Blythe Is Awarded Science Fellowship

Prof. David K. Blythe, head of the Civil Engineering Department, has been awarded a Senior Visiting Fellowship in Science to the University of Durham, King's College, England.

It is one of 27 such fellowships granted by the National Science Foundation and the Organization for European Economic Cooperation which will send Prof. Blythe to England in February for a three-months' stay.

His purpose will be two-fold: He will present a paper about planning urban highways and their impact on business and land use at an international symposium in April on "Urban Survival and Traffic." He will also assist the Civil Engineering Department at the University of Durham in the organization of the program for this meeting.

His second assignment will be to participate in a research project currently in progress at the University of Durham.

The study deals with the production of mathematical models for a general theory of traffic generation in urban conurbations and utilizes the Pegasus Electronic Computer. "Conurbations" are centers in which there is a great aggregation of individual urban communities, such as Chicago or Cincinnati. Prof. Blythe hopes to create interest in an agency to study the conurbation problem in the Blue Grass area upon his return from England.

"There is a great need for a central planning of highways through conurbations because of the complexity of problems that arise when more than one government is involved in their construction," Prof. Blythe said.

His family will accompany him to England. They will travel by ship and live at Newcastle where Durham University is situated.

Decreased UL Enrollment Blamed On UK Expansion

John M. Houchens, registrar at the University of Louisville, has released figures indicating that UL enrollment has dropped due to the expansion at UK.

Figures showed that the enrollment at UK dropped 303 full-time students and 325 part-time students as compared to last year.

Dr. Murray Kinsman, dean of the Medical School, stated that this year there are 18 less students enrolled in Med School. The Freshman class capacity is down five students compared to last year's enrollment.

Kinsman feels that the drop in enrollment was due to UK's new Medical School with its lower tuition and increased attraction for possible UL applications.

Charles F. Elton, dean of admissions and Registrar, said, "I don't know for sure, but it seems only natural that the University Medical School would attract some of the UL medical students."

WBKY Adds 7 Hours To Daily Broadcasting

WBKY, the University's student-operated FM radio station, has added seven hours to its daily broadcasting schedule while conducting a programming test.

The educational station is now signing on at 9 a.m. Monday through Saturday, whereas formerly it went on the air at 4 p.m.

From 9 to 4 o'clock, the station broadcasts background type music, and at 4 o'clock it begins its regular programming which continues until 11 p.m.

Ronald Russell-Tutty, instructor in the Department of Radio, Television, and Films, said the new schedule, which was put into effect Wednesday, is on an experimental basis now.

He said the schedule will be maintained through next week, but what happens after that depends on the listeners' response.

"It's a lot of work for the station's staff, so we won't continue it unless we receive enough favorable response," said Mr. Russell-Tutty. "However, we certainly want to continue it if our listeners like it."

He said WBKY has never before broadcast 14 hours a day and added that it is the first FM station in the Lexington area to do so.

Judging by the number and kind of phone calls the station has received since Wednesday, the innovation of seven hours of virtually uninterrupted recorded music is being received with approval by WBKY's audience.

"Already there are many professors on campus who are using it as background music in their offices," said Mr. Russell-Tutty. "There are all kinds of possibilities of piping this music into places such as the SUB and dormitories that have built-in sound systems."

Fall Weekend Looks Crisp, Cool . . . Not Calm!

By ALICE AKIN
Kernel Society Editor

I just love the Brothers Four. Without them there might not have been a column this week. Not that the concert is the only thing happening this weekend, but it helps.

Anyway, let's chat about it for a couple of paragraphs. The Fjies are almost spastic that their brothers are going to be around tonight.

They have been busily making arrangements all week for their arrival and after the concert tonight they're having a party at the house in honor of them. Bob Edwards and the Red Coats will furnish the music.

Unfortunately the whole campus won't be able to get on intimate terms with the quartet because the party is by invitation only. This is very understandable . . . fraternity houses aren't built to accommodate 10,000 people.

Members of Lances and Keys are also excited about tonight. They should be because they're the ones sponsoring this concert and they're the ones who are going to take in the money.

In fact these two honoraries are excited about the whole weekend. Tomorrow night after the game they're strolling down to the SUB Ballroom for a jam session until 12:30 p.m.

Edwards and the Red Coats will again furnish the music. (Might add that the Phi Tau's will be there to listen to Edwards, their fraternity brother.)

Believe it or not, I really don't have a crush on the Red Coats but I have to mention them once more in connection with this afternoon. Kappa Alpha Theta is having a jam session. The Thetas always have a jam session about this time of year for their pledges.

Why don't you canter over there this afternoon about 3 p.m.? (Bob Edwards is going to be there!)

Tomorrow afternoon is bound to be fun with the annual Sigma Chi Derby taking place. The Sigs have thought up some real excruciating events for the sorority pledges to compete in.

In addition to the selection of the Sigma Chi Derby queen there are other things which might appeal to the feminine fancy such as the egg throw, tomato toss, sorority scramble (aren't they always scrambling), and mystery event.

The derby was going to include an event in which the girls chased chickens, but the administration thought it would be too hard on the girls and Panhellenic thought it would be too hard on the chickens.

Speaking of poultry, I've seen a lot of chicken wire around sorority row lately. It's quite obvious that the big homecoming display disease has started its infection.

For the next few weeks we'll be suffering from "stuffitis" in an effort to show the visiting alums we still have the money to buy crepe paper.

Nominees for homecoming queen have been elected and the campaigning is apt to occur anytime. Get ready for the flood of campaign posters, etc.

The dance will be at the SUB as usual and in case you haven't heard, Pappa John Gordy of Nashville will be at the dance (band in hand) to play for the event.

I've talked about everything I can think of except the weather. Socially, the weather is getting a bit cool and stiff, but I'm glad to see fall on the ball instead of all this hot stuff.

Well, before the column terminates I have to confess, correct, and impress upon you that a blooper was made in last week's edition of the society news.

It was the Empires, not the Satellites who played at the Kappa Sig open house last Saturday. (Sorry boys . . . I was in outer space when I shouldn't have been, but it won't happen again).

Constitutional Information

University students and personnel are generally considered to be better informed of government issues than most other persons outside the government.

Nevertheless, it seems that many persons here are as confused about the approaching referendum on the Kentucky Constitution as are their counterparts in nonacademic circles.

The most common misunderstanding of the referendum is of what will be voted on.

The simple fact is that Kentuckians are being asked to approve or reject the calling of a convention to consider revising certain sections of the constitution, no more, no less.

There is no danger of such a convention completely revamping the constitution because the Court of Appeals has ruled that the convention may consider only 12 subjects. Also, the Bill of Rights is specifically exempt from any consideration.

If Kentuckians do approve the calling of a convention, they will elect delegates to it from each of the present 100 districts of the Kentucky House of Representatives in November, 1962. These delegates will meet in Frankfort within 90 days after their election.

The convention will choose its officers and make its own rules. It will then get down to the business of revising the constitution, limiting consideration to the 12 specific subjects.

The revised constitution will be presented to Kentuckians at least 90 days before they vote on it, giving them ample time to study it. Finally, a majority of the voters will have to approve the revised constitution to make it effective; otherwise the present constitution will remain in effect.

We hope this outline of the proposed constitutional revision program will clarify the issue for our readers. And we also hope they now understand that a yes vote on the constitutional revision question will certainly not harm and may benefit the commonwealth.

The Readers' Forum

To The Editor:

The following comments are written in choleric about dusk on Oct. 18. Because of my timidity and innate bashfulness, I did not type them up and send them to you. After having looked at the slickest Kernel of the year, however, I have decided that private tapping of my spleen is not enough. I trust my comments are still pertinent.

1. The article reporting the interview with Debate Coach (Gifford) Blyton perhaps is not symptomatic of covert Republican sympathies on the part of the Kernel, but it does reveal the political allegiances of (Dr.) Blyton. I am thankful for (Dr.) Blyton's observation that Nixon's training as a college debater has sharpened his "intelligence and perception" and that the lack of such training has forced Kennedy to resort to "emotional appeal." (Dr.) Blyton's comments also lead me to wonder if we might not be better off if we abandoned our wasteful and extravagant system of electing office holders. Think of the leaders we might obtain if we gave the choice over to debate judges.

2. President Dickey might be correct when he deems the Kernel editorials "well chosen" and "most constructive," but the jaded and hackneyed prose of his letter makes me wonder if he is not an incompetent judge of journalistic excellence. It is faintly comic that his letter of praise appears in a Kernel issue highlighted by two pages of adolescent glee over a football victory, a dreary page of "pinings" and sorority officers, a tedious bit of borrowed breast thumping from, God save the mark, the Memphis Commercial Appeal, and the report that "Instructors are not enforcing the regulation barring students from classes without they had class slips."

3. I agree with (Dr.) Moreland that the signed letters to the Courier-Journal are "innocuous" and that the anonymous ones to the Lexington papers are "interesting"—but only insofar as they reveal the high incidence of stupidity in the Blue Grass. And I find most engaging (Dr.) Moreland's suggestion that the Kernel pay more attention to the romantic palpitations among the non-Hellenic portion of the student body. Four pages of how students are proceeding up the platonic ladder of affection (with, also, notices of jiltings and dissolutions) would put the Kernel just about on a level with the Lexington papers.

4. The engaged young lady whose photograph appears on the front page of the Tuesday Kernel has a most attractive back.

Stop Talking

To The Editor:

As all devout students, we are happy to see that something is being done to stop this disgraceful practice of boys talking to girls who live in the same dorm ("Silence Curtain," Kernel, Oct. 19).

How can we devote our time and love to "Big Brother" and study if there are such disgusting practices to engage in? Why, before you know it, someone may even loan a book to someone else. Worse yet, they might read it and start to think how dorms are run.

Teams, which will consist of two players, must register Sunday to be eligible.

Trophies will be presented to both the winning and runner-up teams.

Georgian Will Address School-For-A-Day Meeting

Carson Pritchard, director of the adult education program at West Georgia College, will keynote the 1950 luncheon meeting of the Community School-For-A-Day program Oct. 31 in the SUB Ballroom.

The program, directed by Dr. Willis A. Sutton Jr., is sponsored by the UK Bureau of Community Service to give people in Kentucky guidance in improving their communities.

The school begins with registration at 9 a.m. at the SUB.

James S. Brown, of the Department of Rural Sociology, will address the morning convocation on "What Does Area Development Mean for Us?"

Later in the afternoon special consultation sections on area development will be held. The discussion areas are fine arts, religion, welfare, recreation, health, agriculture, business, and industry, administration, government, education, organization, and coordination.

In each section administrative and technical experts in local, state, and federal government agencies will discuss community problems.

Applications to the school should be mailed by Oct. 26.

Georgia Game To Test 'Reborn' Wildcats

Kentucky, riding the crest of a two-game winning streak, will go after its third win of the season and second in the Southeastern Conference Saturday when Georgia invades Stoll Field.

Directed by the leading passer in the SEC, Francis Tarkenton, the defending conference champs will be facing a "Reborn" squad of Kentuckians that have learned to love the taste of victory.

A year ago the Cats gave the Bulldogs a real scare before falling, 14-7, on a muddy field. The game was one of Kentucky's finest efforts of the year.

Only a pass interception and a blocked punt provided scores for Georgia.

Sophomore Jerry Woolum will again carry the Kentucky load while senior Tommy Rodgers is sidelined with a shoulder injury.

The "Richmond Rifle" will be aided by Jerry Eisaman.

Georgia may be counted on for a few field goal tries. Yesterday Coach Wally Butts had nothing but praise for Bulldog kicker Durward Pennington.

The Georgia placement man booted a last-second fielder Saturday which beat Mississippi State, 20-17.

Opening for Butt's Bulldogs will be Ray Clark and Clyde Childers at ends; Pete Case and Bobby Green, tackles; Pat Dye and Wally Williamson, guards; and Phil Ashe at center.

The starting backfield will consist of Tarkenton at quarterback, Fred Brown and Billy McKenny at halfbacks, with Bill Godfrey at fullback.

The starting backfield is questionable with Quarterback Woolum and Fullback Jim Poynter being the only sure starters. Injuries to Calvin Bird and Gary Steward at the halfback Sturgeon may cause the two to be replaced by Bill Ransdell and Gary Steward at the halfback positions.

"We Are Favored, But . . ."

Frosh Meet Eastern

Fitz's Facts

By John Fitzwater

Never has so much depended on so few—so young.

The Kentucky grid campaign passed the halfway mark Saturday as the Wildcats nudged LSU, 3-0. This could have marked the point where the footballers jelled into a power machine that will carry the Wildcats to a 7-3 season mark.

Coach Blanton Collier has found seven men which he can count on for a maximum effort and a consistent performance. Dick Mueller, Bob Butler, Lloyd Hodge, Irv Goode, Charlie Sturgeon, and Jimmy Poynter have become the Kentucky "rocks."

Cal Bird, Bill Ransdell, Jerry Elsaman, Wayne Dixon, Bob Hunt, and Mel Chandler have proven they can do it—but not consistently.

This leaves the burden on the shoulders of sophomores Jerry Woolum, Gary Steward, Clarkie Mayfield, Tommy Simpson, Dave Gash and Tom Hutchinson.

Against LSU it was the sparkling play of Woolum, Steward and Gash, plus the clutch kicking of Mayfield—that made the difference.

Woolum has become the man that the fans call for when they feel the Cats need help. The Richmond youngster made his mark as Kentucky lost to Georgia Tech and Ole Miss. His play almost pulled those games out. When Auburn handcuffed Woolum and his receivers, the Cats were dead.

"Jock" Steward has been the least colorful of the sizzling sophs, but has pulled out yardage when the chips were down. His gallop against LSU Saturday was the turning point of the game. Shy, but determined and rugged, he means business when he goes after something.

You may remember the chase for the Tennessee mascot last year. That was Steward and his freshmen teammates. "Jock" made such an effort that he was ejected from the game by the police.

Hutchinson turned in a great game against Georgia Tech and since then has scored two touchdowns while catching 13 passes for 165 yards.

Gash has been the real surprise of the season. A fullback in high school, he was redshirted last year, and has become the regular left end this year.

He is the second leading pass receiver in the conference behind Hutchinson. Although failing to score, he has 12 catches and 138 yards to his credit.

Completing the sophomore lineup are Mayfield and Simpson. Mayfield is considered one of the best field goal men in the South inside the 35-yard line.

Simpson handles the longer field goal attempts and kickoffs. So go the sophomores, so goes Kentucky.

Georgia Center Phil Ashe is a first baseman on the baseball team.

Kittens, Baby Vols Clash Monday

Monday will be Kentucky's first meeting with arch-rival Tennessee.

The Kittens journey to Knoxville to tangle with the Baby Vols in a game that matches offensive aces Darrell Cox of UK and Charlie Forrest of UT.

The game will be the second of the season for both clubs, as each posted earlier wins over the Baby Commodores of Vanderbilt. The Kittens trimmed Vandy 34-6 and Tennessee won 10-6.

In Kentucky's win, Cox scored a touchdown and an extra point, ran back a punt 63 yards for another score, caught a 35-yard pass, punted four times for a 34.8 average, and gained 38 yards in eight carries.

Forrest hogged the glory for Tennessee. He booted a 30-yard field goal, scored the only touchdown from three yards out, kicked the extra point, and gained 24 yards in a 25-yard scoring march.

Louis Owen and Elmer Jackson will share the Kitten quarterback duties. Perky Bryant, Cox and Don Buehler will fill out the UK backfield.

Houk Replaces Stengel

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—Ralph Houk, a 41-year-old onetime second string catcher, was named manager of the New York Yankees today to succeed Casey Stengel.

The contract was for one year at Houk's request.

The elevation of Houk, a Yankee coach since the 1953 season, was announced at a noon press conference.

Dan Topping, co-owner of the Yankees, made the announcement in the presence of General Manager George Weiss and Assistant General Manager, Roy Hamey. Stengel wasn't present.

Newman Club Will Play Host To Ohio Valley Executive Meeting

The UK Newman Club, a Catholic student group, will host a meeting of the organization's executive committee this weekend.

Officially entitled the Ohio Valley Province Executive Committee, the approximately 20 member group governs the Newman Clubs in Kentucky, West Virginia, Indiana, and Ohio.

The main purpose of the fall meeting is to re-evaluate the extension and regional system of the province area.

Extension refers to the formation of new clubs and the increase of members in the old clubs. The regional system breaks the states into smaller areas.

Ed Orlette, a student at Flint Intercollegiate in Michigan, chairman of the national Extension Affairs Department, will attend the meetings tonight and tomorrow to aid in the evaluation.

He was recently elected to the office at the National Newman Club Convention in Cleveland last August.

"Idea of a University" by Cardinal John Henry Newman, patron of the national organization, will also be discussed by the committee. This book was designated as part of the theme to be studied by Newman Clubs over the United States.

Programs and details for five educational and leadership conferences to be conducted in the regions will be completed by the executive committee.

The club, located at 320 Rose Lane, will also host the Kentucky Regional Leadership Conference Sunday. Between 50 and 60 students from six Newman Clubs in the state are expected Sunday.

Leadership techniques, principles of organization, setting up a local club, and the Newman apostolate will be among the subjects discussed at the conference.

Barry Averill, president of the University club, said catholic students are expected to arrive from Louisville, Richmond, Morehead, Henderson, Barbourville, and the University.

Archery Club To Be formed

Students interested in forming an archery club should meet at 4 p.m. Tuesday, in Alumni Gym, according to Dr. M. G. Karsner, associate professor of physical education.

Dr. Karsner also has announced folk and square dancing 7-9 p.m. Monday, in the Womens Gym.

Judo Meeting To Be Tuesday

Students interested in judo may apply for membership in the Judo Club at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the basement of Barker Hall.

Tuesday is the last day the club will accept new members this year.
