

Formal dedication of the University of Kentucky's new Memorial Coliseum, a four million dollar building whose construction has required more than three years, will be held at 10 a.m. Tuesday, May 30. It will be dedicated to the memory of the 9,265 Kentuckians who lost their lives in World War II.

Located on Euclid Avenue between Lexington Avenue and Rose Street, the mammoth, yellow-brick structure has a seating capacity of 12,000 for basketball games and 15,000 for programs in which folding chairs may be placed on the playing floor. Seating space for approximately 300 persons is provided alongside the 75-foot, six-lane swimming pool. All seats on the building's west side, approximately one-third of the total, are theater-type chairs, and the remainder are bleacher-type. More than 80 percent of the Coliseum's permanent seats are at side court.

The building contains ticket sales offices, offices for the athletic director, football coach, basketball coach, all assistant coaches, swimming pool director, and the sports publicity office. Locker rooms for football, basketball, baseball and all minor sports also are located in the new structure.

Excavation of the building site required removal of 40,000 cubic yards of earth and more than 10,000 cubic yards of rock. Construction required 1,000 cubic yards of concrete and more than 500 tons of reinforcing steel. Other construction materials used in the building include 3,500,000 brick, 3,000 tons of structural steel, 2.5 acres of roofing, and two acres of terrazo flooring.

Measured from the Euclid Avenue side (the front), the Coliseum is 82 feet in height. Its acoustically-treated ceiling is 49 feet above the playing floor, and the span of its main trusses is 225 feet. Twenty-six double-doored exits allow the building to be emptied of a capacity crowd in little more than ten minutes, and a combination heating and ventilating system produces six to eight complete air changes per hour.

Near perfect from an acoustical standpoint, the huge auditorium can be used for concerts and lectures as well as for sports events, conventions and all-University convocations. Programs already scheduled for presentation in the new building during the next school year include concerts by James Melton, the London Philharmonic Orchestra, Artur Schnabel, Jascha Heifetz, the Don Cossack Chorus, and the Dallas Symphony Orchestra, and lectures by Elmer Davis, Charles Laughton, and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

Part of the Coliseum's permanent equipment includes a large electric organ, facilities for radio and television broadcasts, and ample space for the working press. Names of the 9,265 Gold Star Kentuckians have been lettered on permanent plaques which occupy recessed wall panels in the Coliseum entry ramps.

The dedication exercises on Memorial Day also will serve as a baccalaureate service for the University's 1950 graduating class of approximately 1,600 students. Principal speaker at this program will be Dr. Daniel A. Poling of New York, president and editor of the Christian Herald.

Brief dedicatory exercises also will be held on the occasion of the first concert and the first basketball game in the new structure.

Another 'Last' Editorial And An Altered Outlook

The short career of a college paper's staff causes an abundance of "last" editorials. It is unusual, if not impossible, to break away from the accepted patterns in writing them. To air an accumulation of complaints; to express the melancholy of those who are graduating; to offer profound advice to those who must yet take examinations, are all accepted devices.

We have no list of grievances. Throughout the year, we have tried to state them as they arose, hoping for improvements then, and often being gratified.

We do not say the University of Kentucky is perfect. But little things will always arise. The really important goals are generalities—better relations between students and faculty, a stronger SGA, more and continued support for all athletic events, an expanded intramural program and less indifference on the part of students to actions which effect them.

The University has grown both physically and academically during the time we have spent here. It has done so to such an extent that the individual student has lost some of his importance. The feeling of "belonging" must be and will be developed in the next few years, as faculty, administration and student become more accustomed to the larger, more complex institution.

If any statement in any department of the Kernel has caused inconvenience or injury to anyone, we regret it. Invariably some mistakes will be made. Our opinions were given in the belief that they were also the opinions of a majority of the other students, and that they would be of benefit in improving conditions here.

To our alumni subscribers, who have proved themselves extremely interested in the University and its activities, we extend a word of appreciation. Their consistent writing and submission of news for the Kernel has been an important help.

The present graduating class, which arrived here in a hectic and serious period, has stood in the longest lines, and been in the largest classes and the largest crowds in the history of the University. A week from tonight, it will become the largest group ever graduated by the school. Our hope is that it will also have greater effect for the good of the state of Kentucky and of the country than has any other class.

One of our fondest hopes is that at no time during any of the commencement activities will anyone mention the "first rung" on that worn-out "ladder of life" nor warn us of that great, cold and cruel world. Too many of us climbed up on that first rung at commencement exercises eight or ten years ago. It would be a great disappointment not to have reached at least the second rung by now.

Keep The Campus Safe

The Lexington Police Department is about to launch a traffic safety campaign. Unfortunately, it will begin during the time between terms at UK, and the Kernel will not be able to participate in it to the extent we would wish.

Although complete statistics are not yet available on all phases of traffic accidents in Lexington, some alarming facts can be found in those which have been determined.

During 1949, only two persons lost their lives in traffic accidents in the city. The count for the previous year was much worse, with eight deaths.

The number of injured climbed to 391 in 1949, and as the Kernel goes to press, the toll for the current year is one death and 154 injuries.

Euclid, with two deaths (one at Rose, the other at Lime—both bordering the UK campus) was the second most dangerous street in Lexington during the last five years.

Besides deaths and injuries, property damages have run into thousands of dollars. Accidents last year in which damage was restricted to property totaled 1,327.

Fortunately, very few accidents have occurred on the UK campus. But the danger is here at all times, especially since so many students must cross drives on the way to classes. A warning and a little caution might well prevent a serious accident here.

LETTERS to the Editor

Gineen's Last

Editor, The Kernel:
Huzzah! Glorious it is to see the mission work progress!
Great strides have been taken toward our ultimate goal, the complete supervision of every student's waking and sleeping hours, night and day, body and soul.

The latest and greatest of these strides is requiring graduating seniors to attend all classes, and it's high time this ideal was attained.

After all, a graduating senior is a child, an imbecile child at that, totally unable to decide for himself whether any lecture is beneficial to him. He must be led, I say, by the hand if possible.

I once heard a wise sage, one of my precursors, announce that no student was capable of knowing whether any lecture aided his grasp of an alleged course. To this I leapt to my feet with a heavy bush and beat my tambourine with rapture!

How right he was! I suggest that at intervals through a loudspeaker system to all classrooms there be piped these words: "This is a valuable lecture, do you hear? It is stimulating, understand? You need it and you listen with interest."

This would be following the same policy as the admirable act of dragging all recreational activities into the Student Union and limiting them to solid, valuable festivities such as square dancing, frog gissing, and land rendering. During these the P. S. system should intone "You are having a good time, do you hear? You'll have a good time or else!"

You cannot have a great state university without a great overseeing system.

The aforementioned and many other great strides toward the goal permit me to shout with triumph! And to those whining, weeping seniors I say, "Cease, for thou art receiving the greatest of all blessings—a parole from this fair institution!"

What could be better public relations than an adequately informed and therefore enthusiastic student body going forth to spread good tidings of the University? And if there's anything we apparently don't want, it's good public relations.

Yours for more stringent guidance,
GINEEN PEARL McFISH

Initiation Banquet Honors New ATO's

Alpha Tau Omega initiated the following members recently. Those initiated were Bill Dokes, Jim McFry, Jim Speaks, Joe Bryant, Jim Kinsam, Russell Clayton, Martine France, Bob Vines, Don Patton, Bob Rollins, George Foushee, Dick Jacobs, Ray Sisk, Bill Sowder, and Bob Arnold.

The initiation banquet was held at the Little Inn. Martine France was given an award for being the outstanding pledge. Caron Lyons served as toastmaster for the banquet.

To My Fellow Sufferers With A Change Of Pronouns

Cast aside the "editorial we" for a time, I want to thank all the members of the 1949-50 Kernel staff for their unselfish and often unheralded work during the year.

To all the reporters, copy readers and desk workers, I offer sincere appreciation both from myself and the other editors.

Saving this until last, because when the Linotype operator sees it he'll probably be so surprised the rest will be a jumble, I thank the entire printing staff of the Kernel plant. Their work with us, with the Kentuckian and with other University publications has been of high quality, and their co-operation has been excellent.

Thanks to all of you, and to Bob Cox, Nell Blair, Tom Diskin and Betty Boggess for turning a lot of copy into a lot of Kernels.

Kernels of the Past

By Lois Jackson
25 Years Ago

Alumni Day was observed with a trip to Dix Dam, followed by an alumni banquet. The University graduates were the guests of the alumni.

Thirty-six students, representing six colleges of the state, attended the spring retreat of the student Y.M.C.A. cabins held at Camp Daniel Boone on the Kentucky River.

Kentucky was favorite in the annual intercollegiate state track and field meet at Louisville.

10 Years Ago
Green Johnson won the first prize of $30 in the student's annual literary contest. This prize is given each year to the student who presents the best library, individually collected and owned.

Benjamin Butler was awarded the Danforth fellowship which is presented annually to an outstanding junior in the College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

5 Years Ago
Emily Jones succeeded Gwen Pace in the office of president of the Student Union Board.

Plans were made for Kappa Alpha Theta to organize a chapter on the campus for the coming fall term.

The University Board of Trustees approved the architects' drawing and plans for the million dollar field house to be built on Euclid Avenue.

The world's most popular sport, played in sixty countries and drawing in the United States alone more than 40,000,000 players and 125,000,000 spectators in a recent year, the game of basketball was invented in 1891 by Dr. James A. Naismith.

Porter's Poll

Finals Are Necessary Evil, Oh So Evil, Students Say

By Shirley Porter. Questioned on the subject: "WHAT IS YOUR OPINION OF FINAL EXAMS?"

TUMNER BURNS: "They would be o.k. if you could get the test questions ahead of time."

KEN MERRITT: "The weather is too hot to study for them, and they shouldn't be counted for the majority of the grade."

ARNOLD TAYLOR: "They're o.k. if you find out who really studies and who doesn't."

BILL PEAK: "In some courses they are alright, but in others they aren't. I don't think they are necessary."

VIRGINIA SPENCER: "They shouldn't count so much, but should be averaged in equally with other tests."

MARY HOLMES BRAND: "Oh, those! I haven't even started thinking about them yet."

TOM HALLOCK: "I guess the instructors have to have some system of giving grades."

LEI BAKER: "It just makes a madhouse out of school."

BARBARA GRAHAM: "They require too much hard work."

Job Future Looks Dark For Aspiring Journalists

Employment outlooks for students graduating in the fields of chemistry, pharmacy, and nursing are good, according to a report issued by the U. S. Department of Labor.

The same report stated that the outlook for students in journalism is not so good.

The greatest openings for chemists are in the field of research and teaching. This shortage is due to the amount of research projects postponed during the war.

Most critical of all fields is that of journalism, the report stated. The number of journalism students had increased three times over that of any other year and is expected to become higher next year.

Pharmacists Will Be Hired. Drug stores, due to expansion and shorter working hours, are expected to hire additional pharmacists during the coming year.

Law Student Wins $50 In Car Contest

William W. Francis, junior in the College of Law, recently was awarded a prize of $50 in the "Name the Car" contest sponsored by the Kaiser-Frazer Company.

THE Blue PRINT

Students here at UK have a right to be proud of the Wildcat athletic teams, for the school year just coming to a close is the second in a great, new sports period here.

We have definitely arrived at the top. Our over-all competitive record for 1949-50, based on the combined won-lost record of all teams participating in intercollegiate athletics reads 57 victories, 35 losses, and 2 ties for a percentage of 74%.

Last year, the Cats posted a marvelous 77% average on 163 wins, 31 losses and two ties. This record bested the current year only because more contests were played.

As for individual accomplishments, we can boast of:

1. The basketball team, which won the conference title for the seventh consecutive year and secured its twelfth title since the beginning of the annual tourney in 1922.

2. The hoopers of Coach Adolph Rupp finished their campaign with 25 wins and five losses, a season that was good enough to win the "Coach of the Year" award for Rupp.

In addition to their SEC triumph, the boys in Blue capped the annual Sunar Bowl tourney in New Orleans for the second time, and received a bid to a major post-season tournament for the eighth time.

The basketballers were led by their lanky pivotman, Bill Spivey, who established a new SEC scoring record of 40 points in a single game against Georgia Tech. The long boy wound up with 223 points for a 19.2 average.

3. Johnny Owens, senior captain of the Wildcat golf team, who won the Southeastern Conference individual title, the first Kentuckian ever to accomplish this feat. Owens led the Cat mikklers to a season record of 12 wins, four lost, and one tie.

4. The football team, which, under the most outstanding young coach in the country, Bear Bryant, finished second in the conference, the highest season's standing ever accomplished by Kentucky. They wound up in the Orange Bowl, also a first for the school.

Paced by the piercing passes of Babe Parrill, the vicious line play of Bob Gain, and the running of Bill Leake, (to mention a few of the many standouts) the pigskins rolled up nine victories while dropping decisions to SMU, Santa Clara and Tennessee.

5. The baseball team, which capped the SEC Eastern Division hold for the second straight year and is currently playing Alabama for the Conference title.

The hoopers, under the tutelage of Frank Moseley, will again take part in the NCAA playoffs at Charlotte, N. C., where they were runners-up last year.

6. The fencing team, which won seven titles and suffered only three losses. They were led by their captain, Alan Solomon, who was runner-up to his coach, Scott Breckinridge, in the final division of the state.

7. The track team, which wound up with a 2-2 record. The two losses suffered this season were only the second and third times that the catmen have been beaten in their last three seasons. Tony Dallas, the Paulish flyer who finished his career with the amazing record of 36 first places in 14 meets over a three-year period and compiled the staggering total of 217 points, led the thimble of Coach Don Seaton.

8. The tennis team, even though they fared the poorest of all, winning only one meet while dropping six. The netters were handicapped by a lack of experience and the fact that one of their top performers, was declared ineligible during the middle of the season.

9. The two rifle teams. The Air Corps team finished second in the national "Beaver" Trophy matches, losing out to Fordham by a single point, after having won the event for the past two years. The Army squad finished fourth in their division of the same meet.

The marksmen, under the eye of Lt. James Pullen, Lt. John Bohren, M. Sgt. Elmer Kinkler and M. Sgt. Edward Haber, won nine matches and dropped three in intercollegiate competition.

So our hats are off—and we hope yours are, too—to the athletes, coaches, managers, trainers and everyone else who had a part in bringing Kentucky to the top in the sports world.

It is impossible to mention all of them by name here, but they deserve the plaudits of everyone for the outstanding contribution they have made to the University.

Satisfied.

Kentucky piled up the largest victory margin of SEC tourney play with a 96-29 score in 1947 over Vandy.

Why Not?

The University of Tennessee marching band received much favorable comment last November when it came up here with the Volunteer football team.

The U of T bandmen, dressed as billibilis, put on a lively performance and stole the halftime show from the Kentucky band—judging from student talk after the game.

Tennessee's band gave what football fans want—a colorful and snappy performance. So we would like at this time to offer a suggestion to the University of Kentucky officials in general and to Frank Prindl, UK's capable and conscientious band director, in particular.

If we want to have a distinctive, different and colorful band why not dress up our all-male bandmen as "typical Kentucky colts," complete with long black coats and string ties.

As far as this writer knows, there is no other college band in the entire nation that has adopted this idea as yet. Can you imagine the attention that our musical organization would get if they make the trip to Philadelphia for the Villanova game next fall dressed as colts.

And we could still retain the claim that we have "The Best Band in Dixie" in addition to being the most distinctive!

As far as cost is concerned, we wouldn't need much more money to secure these specially-made outfits. The present uniforms could be kept on hand for use at special occasions such as concerts.

We would like very much to see an idea such as this adopted in the near future which would place our band in a class with our outstanding basketball, football and baseball teams.—By Tom Diskin.

SPORTS QUIZ

The winner of last week's Chesterfield Sports Quiz No. 6 was Bob Combs, of 389 Lime, who answered 90 percent correctly.

He made secure his carton of Chesterfields by stopping by the Kernel sports office last Wednesday afternoon and picked them up from Tom Diskin, campus representative for Chesterfield cigarettes.

Answers to Quiz No. 6

1. Wrigley Field is not lit for night baseball. 2. Lewis "Hack" Wilson. 3. Babe Ruth holds strike-out record. 4. Charlie Robertson pitched last perfect game. 5. Jamaica, Empire City, and Belmont are all located near N.Y.C. & Jones.

6. The marksmen, under the eye of Lt. James Pullen, Lt. John Bohren, M. Sgt. Elmer Kinkler and M. Sgt. Edward Haber, won nine matches and dropped three in intercollegiate competition.

Breck Wins Independent Softball Championship

By Lewis Donohue

A determined band of Breck Hall sluggers snuffed out a last inning rally to pour it on the Tavern Boys Wednesday, 10-4, and take the Independent championship of the school softball tournament.

It was a revenge win for Donohue's men after they had suffered an earlier 2-1 loss at the hands of the Tavern Boys in the final round of the double-elimination tournament.

Fred Lawson, whose low-hit tearing has been one of the deciding factors in Breck Hall's triumphs this year, allowed the Tavernmen only five scattered hits while his mates were garnering eight off Bob McClain, Tavern hurler. Although his opponents scored a run in the bottom of the final round, it was a hit until the fifth inning.

A big third inning in which they guinea four runs on four hits, provided the new champions with their winning margin. Bill Zoellers, Breck second baseman, opened the inning with the first hit of the game. Two outs later, Tom Diskin, Earl Conn, and Dave Reed came through with consecutive hits, the latter a looping double to left field, for three runs. Reed scored on an error by Tavern second baseman Newell for the fourth marker.

In the seventh inning the Tavern Boys put together three hits, including a base-clearing triple by Catcher Don Daugherty, a long fly and an infield out for their three runs. Reed scored on an error by Tavern second baseman Newell for the fourth marker.

The game was erratic and marked by errors from the start. The majority of both teams' runs being unearned.

A three-run seventh inning gave the SAEs a 4-3 victory over the Delta Tuesday and an even break in the final round for the fraternity championship.

DisKentucky Sports Review

— By Tom Diskin, Sports Editor —

In this, the last DisKentucky column, I am going to mention the incidences which stand out in my memory for the four years I covered the University of Kentucky sports scene.

Naturally, one of the first and foremost is the superb basketball teams produced by Coach Adolph Rupp. While I have been here at U of K, the basketballers won 121 games, losing only 12.

Who can forget that tremendous season of 1947-48, when the Cats won 36 of 39 contests, as well as the NCAA and the SEC titles. The basketballers almost won the Olympic Trials, losing by only 4 points to the older, taller and more experienced Phillips Oilers.

It was during these Olympic Trials that Kentucky crushed the University of Louisville by 34 points, beating the Cards 91-57. That summer they went to the Olympics in London, helping the U.S. team to win eight straight games and the world championship. This was the era of the "Fabulous Five"—Alex Groza, Ralph Beard, Wah Wah Jones, Kenny Rollins and Cliff Barker.

And what student will not remember these lads. Groza, for his terrific all-around play, breaking eight individual Conference scoring records, and becoming truly one of the greatest collegiate basketball players of all time. His outstanding games are too numerous to mention.

But just to pick one, how about that all-important NCAA championship game in Seattle, on March 20, 1949. It was Kentucky versus Oklahoma A & M, the fast-break versus the slow-break, Groza versus Harris and Rupp versus Bla.

Groza really came through, scoring 25 points to account for more than 50 percent of the Cats' total and to outscore his opponent, Harris, who got only seven. The Cats won that big game, 46-36.

Then there is Ralph Beard, another of the all-time greats. His tremendous will-to-win, determination, speed and drive will never be forgotten by this writer. We believe that he and Ken Rollins formed the greatest pair of guards ever to play on a college basketball team at one time.

Remember Beard's performance in the finals of the Olympic Trials, when he scored 13 points from all over the floor against the surprised Oilers. He even outscored the 7-foot Bob Kurland by three markers. Then there is the 23-foot shot that Ralph made in Atlanta. Beard was the first half of the Tennessee game ended on Feb. 18, 1948... never to be forgotten by those who saw it.

Again, as in the case of Groza, Ralph's awards and outstanding performances here at UK are too numerous to list here. That would take up a column alone. Yet with all the fame and glory, he and the others remained unaffected and modest to the mark of really great athletes.

It's impossible to skip over Cliff Barker and Wah Jones. Barker was extremely popular with the students because of his clever handling and cool, calm disposition. He conducted himself like a pro even as a sophomore here in 1946-47.

Then there was the 50-foot field goal he made at Owensboro against Bradley and the 83-footer here against Vanderbilt in the Fabulous Five's last home game.

Big Wah Wah Jones was voted by the students as the best "all-around athlete" at UK when he was a junior. He was a star that captured the hearts of fans, particularly the game of 1947... Jim Howe's game-tying jump against Villanova on Nov. 6, 1948 in the final seconds of the tilt.

Then there is Bob Gain. He's another who has turned in numerous fine performances. We'll long remember his play against Tennessee at Knoxville in 1948... how he almost made that field-goal attempt to break the 9-9 tie, despite being very tired and weary at the time.

We can't forget Jay Rhoads and Wash Smith, two mighty fine linemen here a few seasons ago. Rhoads' various tackles were something to remember... you could almost feel them up in the stands.

Bill Leskova's running and Babe Parrill's passing were features of the 1949 campaign... with that Orange Bowl bid.

SMU Trip

One of the unpleasant memories is that SMU game at Dallas and the officials who worked that game. We often wonder what the final score would have been had Emory Clark's 50-yard run early in that game not been called back.

Then there was the air trip to Texas for that game... how we hit bad weather and for a time it looked as if the Herald's Ed Ashford might be the only Kentucky sportswriter to cover the game since he had to travel to Dallas by train. All the other writers, plus the sportscasters, were in this chartered plane. The pilot got tossed off his course, got lost and we landed at some airport, later identified as Fort Smith, Arkansas. Yes, that was quite a jaunt.

Other more pleasant trips were the three we made to Miami with the footballers and two to New York City with the Ruggmen. We will remember quite up to Bear Mountain, N.Y., with Coach Rupp when he received the "Coach of the Year" award last March.

In baseball, there was Don Pucci's 500 hitting average for last season... Ben Zarnaka's numerous timely hits this year and last... Jim Ryan's 400 clotting early this season until his unfortunate injury.

3 Make Trip Team

One of the biggest kicks we got was at the conclusion of the 1948-49 season when the United Press named Jones, Beard and Groza on its All American first team. It's very doubtful if this will ever happen again. Of the many thousands of college basketball players in the nation, TIP gave Kentucky three of the five spots on this prize team.

There were many other basketball memories, not the least of which was seeing UK's very promising sophomore, Bill Spivey, smash the Conference scoring record, scoring 46 points against Georgia Tech here.

In football there was the amazing 47-0 drubbing of Ole Miss last fall... the 26-0 win over Georgia here in 1947 when everyone figured the Bulldogs would win by at least two TD's... the running of Dopey Phelps, especially in the Michigan State game of 1946 and the Alabama

we really to thank Athletic Director Bernie Shively and Sports Publicity Director Ken Rubin for their help during the past two years. We'll remember for a long time Mr. Shively's gracious secretary, Mrs. Louise Gilchrist, who is one of the baskest yet one of the most friendly persons connected with this University. She has helped me out many times.

Miss Helen King is another one whom we will remember. We doubt very strongly if the UK basketball and football teams have a more avid rooter than the Alumni Association secretary. She makes most of the trips with our teams.

Another bit of thanks goes to Baseball Commissioner Chandler, who acquired for me "without cost" a fine room at the Hotel Good in Miami when we went down there for the Orange Bowl game.

We want to thank "Doc" Wall, the director of the men's dorms, for making our stay here as pleasant as possible. "Doc" had a number of less hours to his intramural softball, basketball and football teams and usually has come up with first-place honors. Because of the extra time he spends directing his teams, "Doc" Wall usually can be found working in his office late at night on his history papers and books.

He and Coach Rupp are the two most interesting conversationalists that we have ever met.

We deeply appreciate also the help received on the Kernel sports from Earl Coon, Bob Gorham, Kent Hollingsworth, Lewis Donouev, Fred Lawson and others.

These students have all spent many hours, without any compensation whatsoever, helping to make the Kernel sports section as complete as possible.

To Mr. Grode, his secretary, Stella Ison, and to the printers for their co-operation, I say thanks.

We have enjoyed hearing from alumni from all parts of the country. Their letters are always appreciated. We have enjoyed especially the letters from Mr. Gilbert of Gainesville, Fla.; Mr. Lichtenfeld of Kansas City, Mo.; and Mr. Peters, of Flint, Mich.

And last but not least, we feel very grateful to the UK professors and instructors. Without their co-operation, most of the long trips which we made with the Kentucky athletic teams would not have been possible. Giving make-up tests and assignments is definitely a nuisance. That hasn't met me half-way or when I missed my classes. I only wish it were possible to list everyone of them.

In conclusion, I want to tell the readers that we have enjoyed our two-year stint of sports editor. We feel that in the future, when the new Journalism building is completed sometime in 1951, the Ken-

Netoskie Gets All UK Points In Track Meet

John Netoskie saved Kentucky's face last Friday and Saturday in the SEC track and field meet at Birmingham by taking fourth place in the javelin throw. None of the other six Wildcat aspirants was able to score in the drizzling rain that fell during Friday's qualifying events and slowed the finals on Saturday.

Alabama nosed out LSU 42½ to 41 for its first cinder crown when it took fourth place in the meet's last event, the mile relay. Auburn had 28 points, Tulane 23½, Tennessee 28½, Florida 23½, Georgia Tech 12, Mississippi 4, Georgia 3½, with Kentucky and Missouri each scoring 2. Tennessee's Martin Korik set the only new mark, that being a 13 foot 3½ inch effort in the pole vault. Whitey Overton made a record when he won his fourth title in the two mile run.

Xavier Upsets Golfers, 16-11

Xavier's golfers pulled a big upset last Thursday as they trounced Kentucky's Johnny Owens who had a four-under-par 68 over the Maketawah Country Club course in Cincinnati.

Jim Grady of Xavier was two under par with a 70 and Danny Dell of Xavier and Bud Lewis of Kentucky each came in with even par 72.

Individual scores:
Kentucky—Owens 68, Lewis 72.

Cats Must Win Today To Stay In Playoff

The University of Kentucky baseball team is shown above. They recently won the Eastern Division title of the Southeastern Conference, while Alabama took the Western Division crown. At present, the UK diamond athletes have a season's record of 15 wins and only four losses. Including the two dropped to Bama at Tusculosa earlier this week in the opening of the SEC title playoffs. Today these two teams will meet on Stoll Field and Kentucky needs to win in order to keep in the three-wins-out-of-five series. Shown above are (1st row) Guy Strong, Bob Hatcher, C. M. Newton, Ray Wiseman, Al McLeod, Second row—Buddy Creeg, Doug Moseley, Babe Parrill, Tom Williams, Johnny Slough, Humey Yeshin, Roy Turner and Walt Hirsch. Third row—Jay Cummins, Alan Hamilton, Harry Stille, Ben Zaranka, Dom Fucci, Bill Smithers and Team Manager John Burnett.

UK W in Streak Snapped At 14; Tide Leads 2-0

Kentucky's Wildcats, behind 2-0 in the play-off series with Alabama, will have to come through with a win today if they want to stay in the three-out-of-five series for the SEC title.

Alabama took the first game 4-1, despite a five-inning no-hit effort by Newton, and then came back to slaughter the Cats, 13-0, in the second game. In the series, snuffed Kentucky's 14-game winning streak by snapping them on another kind of streak that they hope to end today.

If the Wildcats win today, a doubleheader will be played Saturday to wind up the series. If the twin-bill is played, the first game will begin at 1 p.m. Game time today is 3 p.m.

Alabama won the opening game, 4-1, despite a 5-11 pitching performance by C. M. Newton. The big highlander pitched a no-hit game and four of the batters who received free tickets to first game in to haunt him.

He loaded the bases in the bottom of the fourth and Rightfielder Jim Huffstuffer, who drove in all of the Tide's runs, came through with his first hit to plate two rallies.

Two more walks in the sixth after the lead-off man had singled again loaded the sacks and set the stage for Huffstuffer's second hit—a Texas League star named Hamilton, Zaranka and Parrill in short left field.

Wildcats got their only run in the fifth when Zaranka and Hirsch hit successive singles. Zaranka scored on Pucci's long fly.

The Tide capitalized on six Kentucky errors to score 10 runs in the first two innings in the second game, and went on to smother the Cats, 13-0.

Mike Mizerey slammed out a case of homers and tripled for six runs to practically rout Kentucky single-handed.

Steve Name Wore The Tide Hurler, Al Worthington, pitched a trouble-free game, his fifth straight victory against no losses. It was his second shutout.

He struck out Starter Bob Hatcher in the first when two walks and Doug Moore's error, and a sacrifice batted in for the Tigers.

Guy Strong then came in for Hatcher and retired the side with two walks, for with two walks and a sacrifice batted in, he staged a six-run uprising highlighted by Mizerey's first round home run.

None of the Tide runs in this frame went. Walt Hirsch got two hits in two times at bat to lead the Kentucky attack. Mizerey's three for four paced Alabama.

Opposing Coaches Already Having Nightmares Dreaming Of Future Wildcat Basketball Team

By Earl L. Conn They say this actually happened in April, 1950. A certain basketball coach in the SEC—w/e we won't use his name but his initials are Emmett Lowrey—was sleeping very peacefully when he began to dream. It was the usual basketball coach's dream—players running up and down the floor. Then they began to run down the floor one after another in a row.

First came a giant of a lad, standing better than seven feet tall. He threw up a hook shot that looked impossible to stop and in the back-ground someone was whispering that he would probably break every scoring record in existence.

Then came another tall boy about six feet, four. He dribbled left-handed and threw up a left-handed hook shot that spun into the bucket. He passed like a demon and voices said that he must have eyes in the back of his head.

Behind him came a little dark-headed fellow. He stood out there and hit set shots, one after the other. Someone said his name was Bobby and that he was another star-to-be.

Dribbling behind him was a blond-headed youth someone called "Whitey." He hit three in a row and a voice added, "another of the kind."

Another six-foot lad came skipping down the court. He dribbled exclusively, then drove in and scored. He went back out, hit a long, and then skipped away.

Down the floor came a six-foot, six boy. He hit several shots from everywhere on the floor. Every time he came in, he heaped high to get the ball. A voice said, "That's Shifty," and then he too moved on.

After him came a six-foot, four man. He exhibited a deadly push shot. He seemed capable of hitting from anywhere. The coach knew he would be reading plenty about this lad from Wisconsin.

Then a boy appeared who hit one long shot after another. He seemed to never miss. Voices whispered that he was plenty strong on those shots. Someone said the Irvine lad never missed.

And still they came. Coming down the floor was the boy called one of the greatest prospects in the nation. He had marvelous hands and displayed all kinds of shots. A voice said that 20 points a game was commonplace for him.

Then came another lad who could hit long shots by the dozen. He never stood still and someone said they really picked something when they got this Chicago boy.

A tall blond-headed youth came driving down the floor and drove under to score. He rebounded excellently and a voice added that he would certainly make Madisonville proud.

SPORTS BOOK REVIEW

LUCKMAN AT QUARTERBACK by Sid Luckman. Published by Ziff-Davis Publishing Company, Chicago, and New York $2.00.

Professional football quarterbacks have come and gone but the great Sid Luckman, mastermind of the Chicago Bear attack, still remains today as one of the game's greatest all-time players and in this 283-page book he tells his story of his climb to the top of the ladder—the greatest quarterback in pro football.

Luckman starts his story with his days at Erasmus Hall High School in Brooklyn under Coach Paul Sullivan, who first taught him the fundamentals of the game and then, through his outstanding collegiate days at Columbia under one of the top coaches in the nation—Leo Little.

Then comes the Chicago team with the Bears when the Chicago team was riding the top as the greatest team in football. He tells about the men who joined the Bears in the early 1940's—George McAfee, Clyde "Bulldog" Turner, and all of the rest. Included is the memorable defeat of Washington in the championship game of 1943.

Luckman brings his career—which has paralleled that of the great Tom Harmon—up to date with the signing of Notre Dame's "Big Boy" Lujack—and the furious battling with the Chicago Cardinals.

JACKIE ROBINSON by Bill Roscoe. Published by A. S. Barnes and Company, New York. $2.50. This is the first of the books which have been termed by the publishers as the "Most Valuable Player Series." Two books have already been published and went on the market Wednesday. One is the story of Jackie Robinson and the other is about Teddy Williams—the most valuable players in the majors last season.

Bill Roscoe carries Jackie Robinson throughout his entire life to date, many of the pictures dealing with his collegiate activities at UCLA but most of the story concerns only his baseball life and the "great experiment"—becoming the first Negro to make the majors and stick.

The Brooklyn team and pennant winners of 1947 and 1949 are dealt with and finally Jackie's selection as the most valuable player of 1949. The book concludes with Jackie's life to date. Included are many pictures dealing with Jackie's life.

THE ST. LOUIS CARDINALS. The Story of a Great Baseball Club. Written by Frederick G. Lieb. Published by G. P. Putnam's Sons, New York. The St. Louis Cardinals have had and still have for that matter a tremendous following in all parts of this nation, with the possible exception of the East.

Alumni News THEN and NOW Personalities

1920 Durocher spoke up. He didn't agree. They wouldn't let us play in that league," he snapped. "They say we were a lot of good baseball players."

Bill Corum, then of the New York Journal-American, standing nearby took up the term and used it in his widely-read column the next day. It quickly spread over the country after that.

For one interested in the Cardinals, this is an interesting book to read, covering also the play in the 1947 World Series. Enos Slaughter scored from first base on Harry Walker's short drive by some daring ringer to break the 3-2 tie. The Cards won the game and the World Series over the Boston Red Sox.

THE GREAT BASEBALL MANAGERS, by C. E. Cleveland. Published by Thomas Y. Crowell Company, New York. $2. This is a "disgust view" of some of baseball's greatest managers. The author tells why some were great leaders, covering such leaders as John McGraw, Connie Mack, Billy Southworth, Frankie Frisch, Eddie Yost, Jimmy Dykes, Lou Boudreau and several others.

Many athletes are related in the book. One has to do with that tough and ready Frankie Frisch, then manager of the St. Louis Cardinals. He told his pitchers "I'll be out there on the mound and an outfielder didn't at least dive after a ball to show he was trying. I'd let them know I was the boss!"

A few hours after he imparted this advice, Joe Medwick missed a sharp grounder and a pitcher named Ed Heusser tried to follow Frisch's advice after the game—but it didn't work. It turned out that Medwick went up Heusser instead in the post-game fracas.

THE NEW YORK YANKEES by Frank Graham. Published by G. P. Putnam's Sons, New York City, $3.00. The new and enlarged history of the New York Yankees baseball team is now on the market. The Yankees are carried up through the 1947 season by Frank Graham who has written this informal history—now in its 12th printing by G. P. Putnam's Sons.

Graham dedicates the book to Tom Seaver, the former New York Yankee pitcher and present day Cincinnati Red sportscaster. In his dedication, he states that Hoyt "contributed much of the background" named "Hoyt" was the Yankee pride and joy on the mound.

The book starts with 1903 but rapidly builds up to the great Yankee clubs of the 1920's. Of course the "Babe" Ruth and all of the rest of this Yankee crew are carried through the great careers. These Yankee teams, of course, include Lou Gehrig, Tony Lazzeri, and all of the rest. Graham, who followed the Yankees these many years, enters naturally the new phase of the Yankee team in 1936 when Ruth was finished but a new idol had arrived in New York City to take his place—the Yankee Clipper, Joltin' Joe Judge.

Conn-Cox 'Uns

By Earl Conn and Bob Cox Feel low? Want a little encouragement? Well, here it is. For only this week will you be put up with this column. Yes, sir, that's right. The 'ole joke column (?) is just about done for. This week is the final issue of the Kernel for the semester. So things aren't so dark after all, huh? But then who knows, read on and you may even find a laugh somewhere down the line.

Such as the one about the man dining in the small town hotel who asked, "Why does that dog do it and watch me all the time," and received a reply from the waitress, "You've got his plate." Oh, no! No! No! Exclaimed the lawmaker. "The lobbyist came closer, and whispered, 'And a young lady student can be forced at any time to show a male professor her thesis!'"

The lobbyist shrunk back in horror. "I won't vote 'em a damn cent!" And then you probably know that Confucius said, "Just because your head is shaped like a hubcap don't think you're the big wheel of the campus."

We hear that the engineering college is baffled by the fact that the girls with the most streamlined figures seem to offer the most resistance. "I won't vote 'em a damn cent!"

"Hell, yes," said the devil as he answered the phone. A man was perched atop one of Atlanta's biggest buildings contemplating suicide and a policeman had made his way to the roof to try to persuade him not to jump. "Think of your mother and father," pleaded the policeman.

"Haven't any." On a certain day in the past, a man was perched atop one of Atlanta's biggest buildings contemplating suicide and a policeman had made his way to the roof to try to persuade him not to jump. "Think of your mother and father," pleaded the policeman.
