

University Philharmonic Orchestra To Make First Appearance Here Sunday

Carl Lampert Will Direct Organization at Weekly Sunday Afternoon Musicals

The University of Kentucky Philharmonic orchestra under the direction of Prof. Carl A. Lampert will make its first appearance of the season at the Sunday Afternoon musical in Memorial Hall at four o'clock, Nov. 24, 1935.

The University orchestra has for many years been one of the most popular musical organizations on the campus. It will appear three times during the coming season on the Sunday Afternoon program. One of the programs will be presented in conjunction with the University chorus.

The personnel of the orchestra has been strengthened this season by the addition of several new members to the wood wind section. Professor Lampert has been most enthusiastic about the rehearsals this fall and promises a fine performance for the first appearance of the orchestra.

The program which will be presented is as follows:

- 1. Finlandia.....Sibelius
- 2. First Movement from "The Shepherd's Song".....Schubert
- 3. The Dark Madonna.....Donaldson
- 4. La Media Noche.....Stoessel
- 5. Suite.....Stoessel
- 6. Waltz from the ballet "Dornroschen".....Tschalkowsky

The concert is open to students and public without charge.

Literary Honorary Holds Initiative

Chi Delta Phi, Woman's National, Inducts Four

Betty Earle, Theo Nadelstein, Virginia Robinson, and Jane Allen were initiated into Chi Delta Phi, national women's literary honorary, at 4:30 p. m. Sunday, November 17, at the home of Miss Helen Frances Jones, active member of the chapter.

The initiation was conducted by Miss Dorothy Whalen, president; Mary Potts, vice-president; Mary Elizabeth Earle, secretary; Nell Nevins, treasurer; and Helen Frances Jones, sponsor.

Pledging services for the Misses Betty Mitchell, Dot Wunderlich, June Asher, Frances Reid, Lois Perry, Katherine Flanery, and Jean Weis were held on Friday evening at the Green Tree Inn, where the annual fall banquet was held.

DR. DOSS WILL SPEAK

Dr. C. C. Ross of the Psychology department, College of Education, will speak today, Nov. 22, before the Women's club of Owensboro. He will discuss the "Psychology of the Old Fogey."

EDUCATORS HEAR DR. ROSS

"The Making of a Man" was the subject of a talk given by Dr. C. C. Ross, instructor of Psychology in the College of Education, at a dinner meeting of the Board of Education and the men teachers of the Williamson and Grant County high schools yesterday.

YW GROUP PLAN ANNUAL SERVICE

Thanksgiving Worship Program Will Be Presented in Woman's Building Monday, November 25

The Y. W. C. A. music and worship groups, combined with the mission, will present a Thanksgiving service at 8 p. m. Monday, November 25, in the Woman's building.

This service, held every year during the Thanksgiving season, includes a discussion by Augusta Roberts, "Youth's Thanksgiving," hymns sung by members of the music group, psalms by members of the worship group, music by Eva Mae Nunneley, devotional, prayer, and meditation.

Few Hours Remain For NYA Students

Since the next two work months will be cut short due to Christmas holidays and semester examinations, all University students working under the N. Y. A. should work off as many extra hours as they can this month so that they can get all of their hours in for the next two months. Dean Jones announced today that the current work month will end December 12 when the next report will be due. During the next month, December 12 to January 12, N. Y. A. students will not be able to work but two weeks because of the Christmas vacation. The following month, semester examinations will limit the amount of time that students will be able to work.

GOES TO HEAR ALTRUSA HEAD

Mrs. Chase Going Woodhouse Will Address Women's Convocation November 29, 30

Mrs. Chase Going Woodhouse, director of the Institute of Women's Professional Relations and International president of Altrusa clubs, will be a guest of the University on Friday and Saturday, November 29 and 30. She will address a general convocation of women students at the University of Kentucky on Friday, November 29, at 3 p. m. in the Memorial Hall at 3 p. m. Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Woodhouse is especially interested in the development of women in the field of aviation, and believes that there is great opportunity for them along this line. After her address on Friday, Mrs. Woodhouse will be the guest of honor at a tea to be given by the Women's Self-Government association in the recreation room of Patterson Hall.

Mrs. Woodhouse will speak at a dinner meeting of the Lexington Altrusa club Friday evening. Guests from the surrounding towns have been invited to meet her at this time.

RIFLE TEAM TO MEET MONDAY

Each Girl Must Attend Practice Twice a Week for an Hour; To Earn 100 Points per Match

The compulsory organization meeting of the Women's rifle team will be held at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening, November 25, in the Women's gym, in charge of Miss Averill. The first practice will be held at 1 p. m. Tuesday, November 26. Colonel Brewer has appointed Douglas Andrews, Bernhard Collins, C. H. Bennett, and A. Garth as team coaches. Virginia Mount is the team manager.

Each girl who expects to make the team and earn credits for W. A. A. must attend practice twice a week for an hour. One hundred points will be given for firing in at least one match. The team proper will be picked at the end of the season from the consistent high scorers.

There will be no shoulder to shoulder matches this year; all contests are mark-off. Eight matches have already been scheduled and it is expected that a total of twenty will be fired before the end of the season.

HOME EC GROUP WILL MEET

The Kentucky Home Economics association will hold its annual meeting tonight and tomorrow, Nov. 22 and 23, at 8:00 p. m. Dean Sarah Blanding will speak to the group on Saturday morning. Mrs. M. G. Webb, chairman of the group, and Virginia Murrell, chairman of the home economics education staff, will attend the meeting.

NEW HUMOROUS PUBLICATIONS HONORARY'S AIM

"High Ethical Standard" and Clean-cut Campus Humor Will Feature New Publication

TO CONDUCT TEST TO SELECT NAME Prizes Will Be Given Best Submitted Manuscript of Humorous Stories

Sensing the need for some sort of publication that will reflect the original humor which is present on every college campus, Sigma Delta Chi, men's journalism fraternity, announced at the conclusion of its regular meeting Tuesday night, that it would sponsor the publication of a humorous magazine, the first issue of which will be ready for second semester registration.

It was emphasized in the announcement that this magazine would not print smut and scandal under the guise of humor, but would endeavor to maintain a high ethical standard that has been lacking in other attempts at similar publications on the campus.

Clear cut campus humor, the majority of which will be original at Kentucky, as well as illustrations and stories, will be the main features of Sigma Delta Chi's new publication. The magazine is to be similar in structure to such student magazines as "The Hammer-Jammer" at University of Alabama, "The Log" at Annapolis, "The Yellow Crab" at De Paul, "The Parrot" at Northwestern and "Varieties" at New York University.

As there has been no title yet selected for the forthcoming publication, it has been decided to give a school-life subscription to the magazine to the student who offers the most appropriate name to be used as a title. A contest will be held to select the best short story (from 2,500 to 3,500 words), and the best short story (800 to 1,600 words), both preferably humorous, submitted by a student. A prize of $5.00 for the short story and $2.00 for the short story will be awarded. All completed material must be submitted to Norman Garling, at the Kerter office, on or before December 5.

At the meeting of Sigma Delta Chi, Norman C. Garling, appointed editor of the forthcoming magazine, with John Christie to act as business manager. Joe Quinn was placed in charge of promotion.

LEXINGTON PASTOR ADDRESSES FROSH

"What about religion on the college campus" was discussed by Dr. Miles, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, before a meeting of the Freshman afternoon group of the Y. W. C. A., held yesterday at the Women's building.

RANNELLS TALKS TO SIGMA DELTA CHI

Dr. E. W. Rannels, head of the Art department, was the principal speaker at a meeting of Sigma Delta Chi, International, at the University of Kentucky, held Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock at 324 Aylesford Place. Dr. Rannels spoke on criticism of art in relation to journalism.

Norman C. Garling, president of the organization, presided at the meeting, and several business matters were discussed after the talk. Following the meeting, refreshments were served.

Football Hop All Before December

There will be no dance in the Alumni gymnasium Saturday night, November 23, or next Saturday, November 30, but there will be a dance in the gymnasium on Wednesday, November 28, after the Kentucky-Tennessee football game, to be sponsored by the Alumni association of the University.

Dancing Classes To Begin New Series Of Instructors Soon

New Series to Begin Monday at Pat Hall; Small Fee Charged

The beginner's ballroom dancing class will begin a new series of lessons on Monday, November 25, to be held from 4:30 to 5:30 in Patterson hall under the direction of Miss Lella Bush Hamilton and Mr. Carroll Hamilton, with five lessons for $1.

An advanced class, featuring waltz routines, the tango, and modern steps will be started after Thanksgiving on Thursday, November 25, to be held from 5:00-6:00 p. m. in Patterson hall, under the same teachers.

Both men and women are invited to join the classes, which are being held under the sponsorship of the Y. W. C. A. Honor group, with Betty Moffett, chairman.

AG COLLEGE TO ASSEMBLE

Mrs. Pauline Park Wilson of Merrill Palmers school, Detroit, Mich., will be the guest speaker at a general assembly of the College of Agriculture Saturday morning, November 23 in Memorial hall. L. J. Horlacher, assistant dean of the college, will be the presiding officer.

THETA SIGMA PHI PLEDGES

The Theta Sigma Phi, national journalistic honorary for women, pledged seven new members Tuesday afternoon in the Woman's building. Tea was served afterwards. Those pledged were: Mrs. J. Ed Parker, Jr., Audrey de Wilde, Dorothy Curtis, Miriam Nevins, Theodora Nadelstein, Dorothy Whalen and Frances Reid.

Plans for Holiday Breakfast Are Made

Y. W. Transfer Club to Have Faculty Members as Honor Guests

Plans for a Christmas breakfast are being made by the Transfer club of the YWCA at a meeting held last night at 7 o'clock in the Boyd hall reading room. The breakfast will be given early in December for the members of the faculty and their wives, as one kind of the series of events planned by the members of the Transfer club to better acquaint themselves with the University campus and personnel. December 8 is the tentative date set for the breakfast.

GERMAN CLUB HEARS DR. D. V. HEGEMAN

The International Relations club heard Dr. D. V. Hegeman, acting head of the German department, in a talk on the "Political Situation in Germany at the Present Time." The club met in the Administration building last Wednesday.

Dr. Hegeman explained the vital factors that bring about the rise of Nazism and how the tourist sees Germany. Germany's strive for unity and the weakness of the republic immediately after the war were the two main factors of Nazism, he said. The tourist of today in going through Germany is conscious of the tension that prevails through the people and the strictness with which the government acts in conducting the private lives of the masses. The intense misunderstanding that prevails among the German and the Jew is most evident in the restriction of the latter from office of any kind, the unpopularity of the actions toward them, and the stamping down of the Jewish faith.

HENSLEY GIVEN POST

Robert Hensley, given post in the College of Law and president of Lambda Chi Alpha social fraternity, was named state collector of the organization committee of the Young Democratic clubs of Kentucky meeting here in the Lafayette hotel last Saturday afternoon.

GRAD RESIGNS POST

John Frather has resigned his graduate assistantship position because of ill health. William Loventhal has been named his successor.

MAMMOTH RALLY AT U. K. PLANNED BY BIG BLUE CIRCLE

Event Will Be Held on Eve of Turkey Day Game. Next Wednesday at Gym

PLANS FOR BONFIRE ARE ALSO ANNOUNCED Snake Dance Through University Campus Is Program Feature

Suky, campus pep organization will sponsor another gigantic pep rally next Wednesday night on the eve of the annual Wheat-Tennessee Thanksgiving day game, featuring speeches by coaches, alumni and leading students, cheers, music by the Big Blue band, a snake dance through the campus and a bonfire on Stoll field.

The rally will begin at 7:15 o'clock in the Alumni gymnasium with short talks by alumni and students. A public address system will again be installed and cheers will be led by cheerleader Pete Reininger and the band.

Following the program in the gymnasium, it is planned to have a snake dance through the campus, beginning at the gym and terminating on Stoll field, where a bonfire will be lighted.

Plans for the historic keg ceremony being held in by Suky and the "T" club, pep organization of Tennessee, were discussed at a meeting of the circle Tuesday afternoon in the basement of the Alumni gymnasium. Each year, between the halves of the Thanksgiving game, the pep club of the losing team presents the ancient keg beer to the club of the winning team. The keg has been in the possession of Tennessee for the past few years.

John Morgan, freshman in the college of Arts and Sciences, was judged the winner of the yell contest sponsored recently by the Circle. It was announced at the meeting. Morgan's yell was the "ah-wah" yell used so successfully at the past few games.

HOME EC CLUB INITIATION

The Home Economics club will hold its annual initiation service for all freshmen girls who have earned the minimum number of membership Monday evening, November 25, in the Agriculture building. After the ceremony, which will be served by Mr. Joseph Barron will speak on "Five Hundred Miles of American Architecture."

LONG ADDRESSES STUDENTS

Speaking on "Prayer and Life of the Athlete," Jimmie Long, Big Blue captain, participated in the International Week of Prayer celebration at the Henry Clay High school Thursday morning. His talk was one of a series of five given by the club met in the Administration building last Wednesday.

COSMOPOLITANS PLEDGE

The Cosmopolitan club of the University of Kentucky sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. for University students from foreign countries pledged the following students at its regular meeting Friday: Elsa Bernudez, Cuba; Melba Bernudez, Cuba; Concheta Bernudez, Cuba; Anibal Sanchez Boneta, Porto Rico; Rosemary Taylor, born in Cuba, now living in Cynthiana.

MORELAND GETS POST

Roy Moreland, University Law college, was appointed to the legal committee of Phi Kappa Tau, social fraternity. The appointment was made by a recent meeting of the Grand Council in Oxford, Ohio.

Students Asked To Aid Needy Families

The Y. M. C. A. senior cabinet is preparing a Thanksgiving basket for a needy family in Lexington, to be recommended by the Family Welfare Society. Boxes will be placed in the University postoffice for contributions of food for the basket. All University students are urged to contribute to the baskets.

Phi Sigma Kappa Regional Conclave Will Begin Today

National Vice-president to Be Presiding Officer for Meeting

Business meeting, which will begin at 10 a. m., will mark the opening of the third regional conclave of Phi Sigma Kappa here today. The two-day meeting will be concluded tomorrow.

Charles R. Huff, Washington, D. C., vice president of the third region, will be the presiding officer. Problems concerning undergraduate questions will be discussed and recommendations passed on to the General Convention which will be held next summer. The conclave will consider a petition from a local fraternity at American University, Washington, D. C., for membership. Representatives from ten Southern institutions will be in attendance. They are: University of Maryland, University of Virginia, George Washington University, St. John's College, University of Tennessee, University of Alabama, Georgia School of Technology, University of North Carolina, University of South Carolina, and University of Kentucky. Faculty and alumni advisers will also be present.

LAW JOURNAL IS OFF PRESS

Article by Dean Evans Is Featured in First Edition of Bar Publication

The year's first edition of the Kentucky Law Journal, edited and published by honor students of the University College of Law, has just been released from the press, according to an announcement made by the staff members. Among the articles featured in this issue is one written by Dean Alvin E. Evans entitled "Testamentary Revocation by Divorce."

The publication is designed to function as a professional publication for Kentucky bar members and as an instructive aid to young lawyers of the state. It appears four times a year, dates of issuance being November, January, March and May.

STAFF MEMBER IS GIVEN POST

Colonel Brewer Appointed on Fayette Inaugural Group; U. K. Regiment May Participate

Lieutenant Colonel B. E. Brewer, chief-of-staff of the Military department, along with seven other prominent Lexingtonians, has been appointed a member of the Fayette County Inauguration committee. It was disclosed today.

The inauguration committee is to make arrangements for a Fayette county delegation to participate in the inaugural ceremonies which will be conducted when Governor-elect A. B. Chandler assumes the governorship of Kentucky at Frankfort on December 10.

An attempt is being made to send the local R. O. T. C. regiment to participate in the inaugural ceremonies at the capitol city in conjunction with the U. K. band, but it will not be definitely known until the first part of next week as to whether this plan will be followed. A poll taken among the R. O. T. C. cadets this week revealed that 642 would be willing to make the trip to Frankfort if a 50 cent train fare is secured. Only 248 cadets signed their willingness to pay the regular 88 cent fare. Colonel Brewer said that an effort is being made to secure the reduced rate of 50 cents.

Students at the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Va., can't engage in any social activities unless they have permission from the college authorities.

IRREGULARITIES IN BALLOTING IS CAUSE OF ACTION

Wrong Use of Freshmen Names Also Incites Student Council to Action

MOVE HAS SANCTION OF DEAN T. T. JONES Keen Competition Between Two Political Cliques Causes Heavy Vote

After an examination of the ballots in the class election yesterday due to other evidence gathered earlier in the day, the Student Council decided by a unanimous vote to declare the election null and void. There was sufficient evidence that the ballot boxes had been "stuffed" during the voting. Numerous students, particularly freshmen, complained that someone had wrongly used their names in voting.

The interest in the election was very keen and the competition between the two recognized factions was strong enough to cause one of the heaviest balloting in the history of the University. Approximately 1200 votes were cast. Dean T. T. Jones, dean of men at the University, said yesterday, "I have utmost confidence in the action of the Student Council, and an affidavit that they had been 'stuffed' during the election. I approve of their decision."

The Student Council, in justifying its decision, recognized the political situation on this campus as is known to them. It may be said that this is an attempt to correct the political corruption and to conduct the election with integrity. The Council believes that by its action it is fulfilling its obligations to the student body in attempting to maintain a high standard for student organization.

Jack Howard, senior student in the Commerce College, and president of the Student Council said, "The election was thoroughly crooked. We want cleaner campus politics, and will consider a better system of choosing student officers."

Jack Crain, leader in University political activities, made the following statement: "I approve of the action of the Student Council. Hereafter, I hope a cleaner election can be had and everyone concerned can contribute their part in having cleaner campus politics. As far as today's election is concerned, I don't know of any irregularities." Charlie Zimmer, leader of the fraternity faction on the campus, which opposed the action headed by Crain, said, "I heartily approve of the Council's action. It is high time this campus had a cleaner election. My hands are absolutely clean. In spite of high sounding sentiments expressed by the so-called independents, I am not a member of any campus politics worse than ever. Who's crooked now?"

At this same meeting of the Council, a discussion was held and plans were considered for appointing a committee to elect class officers in the future.

Kampus Kernels

There is one vacancy on the staff of radio announcers who announce programs from the University Extension studios of WHAS and try-outs for students who are interested in applying for this job are being held every afternoon from 1:00 to 1:30, in the radio studios in the Art building.

Students should be careful about leaving their overcoats outside of classrooms, as they are being taken away by members of the cleaning staff. Dean Jones stated today. Two overcoats were stolen yesterday morning from students who had left their overcoats in classrooms.

Alpha Zeta, honorary agricultural fraternity, will meet Monday evening, November 25, in the Agriculture building. All members are urged to attend.

All students, men and women, interested in University debate work are asked to attend a meeting at 7:30 o'clock Monday night in Room 231 McVey hall.

SOUVENIR HUNTING

There has been brought to the attention of THE KERNEL the constant carrying off of small articles from the Women's Residence halls, the shops of downtown merchants, and in the case of incidents following the home football games the tearing down of displays on the exterior of downtown buildings. In the case of the women's residence halls the plundering has been extensive. A number of ash trays, flowers used in decorations, and even the "sign-in" book have been removed from the confines of the halls by those mad collectors of oddities. In the downtown stores such articles as menus, light bulbs, shades and ash trays have been carried off.

The craze for souvenirs and room decorations can be the only explanation for this widespread pilfering since the objects have no monetary value. A student sees something which he thinks would look "just too ducky" on his chiffonier or the walls of his room and executing his primitive instincts, he proceeds to take it. A visit to any of the rooming houses, fraternity houses or dormitories will reveal countless bric-a-brac of this nature in the various rooms.

Such conduct on the part of the students is indeed regrettable and childish to the extreme. To brand such actions as "high-schoolish" would be only to add insult to injury. In certain cases not only has the pilfering cost the authorities money for replacement but certain definite privileges have been abused. We refer especially to the privilege of smoking in the reading rooms of the girls' halls which was granted only this year after long agitation. In allowing this privilege ash trays were placed in these rooms for the convenience of the smokers but already most of these have been carried away by the "collectors."

To sum it all up, THE KERNEL does not desire the student body to be proud in its actions but it does ask that some respect be shown for the rights and property of others. All we ask is that you "think before you leap."

ELECTIONS

Politics at the University of Kentucky have reached the depths of the gutter. Tammany Hall tactics have invaded this campus as never before in our history.

Yesterday's election was thrown out. Students found that their names had been checked off and someone had stolen their vote. It was impossible for the challengers to identify all of the culprits.

It is equally dishonest for a man to steal a vote as to steal a pocket-book. Cheaters and thieves are expelled from college and illegal voters should likewise be expelled. Have we come to the place where it will be necessary to bring a ticket book for identification at the polls?

The Kernel demands that a thorough investigation of this election be held by the Student Council and the proper authorities of this University. We demand that the offenders be unconditionally expelled.

PROFESSIONAL FRATERNITIES

A recent development on this campus in which a professional fraternity threatened to sever its connections with its national organization offers an opportune time to examine the case of the professional fraternity. The balance sheet in recent years has been running as follows:

Assets.
Membership in an organization dedicated to the advancement of the profession and the rendering of service to this end.

A medium through which the member may associate with those of like interests and become imbued with the best principles and ideals of his profession.

Membership for entrance to another organization on the campus.

The privilege of wearing another key.

Liabilities.
Large initiation fees, the greater part of which go to support a national organization of doubtful utility, often prevents those genuinely interested in the profession from joining. They often impoverish the local chapter so as to destroy its effectiveness on its own campus.

A national convention, the delegate to which is often chosen by campus politics rather than by bona fide members of the fraternity. The convention offers a vacation to one of the members often at the price of burdening the local organization. The members of the local chapter get little benefit from the convention generally.

For financial or other expedient reasons, admittance to the organization is not always strictly confined to those directly connected with or interested in the profession. This is not in accord with the purposes of such organizations and has a weakening influence.

The aid received in obtaining a place in the profession after graduation is doubtful.

Professional fraternities are sound in purpose but unpractical in their operation. They have tended to become tools for personal advancement rather than a medium for advancing professional standards.

Also congrats to the new beauty queen and to the most popular man on the campus...

...He pulled a pretty good one when he was in New Orleans. ...He and some other lad got to discussing the Civil War again... The most popular man pops out with this... "If you would have had another loaf of bread to go around we would have run you Yankees out of the country... It's going to be a dull week with no football game... And no dance Saturday night... Everyone is getting ready for the Thanksgiving celebration... If we don't beat Tennessee it will be a long cold winter... The Wildcats have not defeated the Volunteers since 1925... The two schools started football relations back in 1899... The object of the intense rivalry between the two institutions is in an old beer keg... It is decorated with the blue of Kentucky... And the orange of Tennessee... The keg has only reposed in Kentucky one time... The Vols have won 13 games... The Wildcats have garnered 16 battles... Six of the games have been tied... It will be the thirteenth meeting of the two football machines... Did you ever notice the seething activity in the gymnasium around 3:30 every afternoon... It is quite interesting to watch... The funny letters the Athletic Department receives asking for passes to the football games... Haven't seen the sunshine for two weeks... Expected it in New Orleans but was sadly disappointed... It was as cold down there as it is up here... But drivers drive like maniacs in the Crescent City... It is much safer to walk... Should have defeated Tulane by three downs... It is not an alibi... Just a matter of fact statement... Evidently some of the persons in Pat Hall ought to be back in school... Why can't they leave things alone... The hall is a bad place to go souvenir hunting... Wonder who got the sign-in book... Picking petals off of flowers is for children only... Not college students... Giving people the privilege to smoke in the halls was a good idea... The ash trays were put there for ashes... Not to be taken for souvenirs... That journalism fraternity that has been getting a lot of publicity lately... Is going to put out a humorous magazine... No scandal will be allowed. That will hurt some peoples vanity... Consists for a 3,000-word story... A 1,500 word story... And a title for the magazine will open today... Anyone is eligible to compete... Get out your pens and see what kind of a short story you can turn out... All contributions will be appreciated by the editors... They have magazines on other university campuses... And there is no reason why there should not be a good one here.

The ban on drinking holds good for the Tennessee game too... It was remarkable the few persons that drank on Home-coming... Indications point to a full house for the Thanksgiving Day game... Practically all of the seats in the stadium are sold... It will be the first time in recent years that the Volunteers and Wildcats will be evenly matched. Change of Kentucky pictures in the Administration building... How did you like the new method of voting... It does away with all the former confusion... There were more outsiders at the Wednesday night dance than there were students...

We ask the cooperation of every professional fraternity or any other fraternity or organization so oppressed on this and every other college campus in America.

Don't save for a rainy day, save and there will be no rainy days.

Every day something is being done that couldn't be done.

You can't make a hit with your bat against your shoulder.

You can build no tomorrow without today's foundation.

Egotists cannot converse—they talk to themselves only.

The luxury of doing good surpasses every other personal enjoyment.

We enjoy thoroughly only the pleasure that we give.

Things done well and with a care exempt themselves from fear.

If you want to be awfully mean to a grouch just be nice to him.

Our deeds follow us and what we have been makes us what we are.

night and day

...The professional fraternity is one place where the fraternity man and the independent should meet on common ground for the purpose of increasing the prestige of their chosen work... It may be argued that national organizations and conventions are necessary and that local chapters should raise money by their own enterprise. However, we believe a revision of the national set up with the view to cut expenses and thereby eliminating evils of using expedient means in order to remain in existence and with a view to rendering service that will make the investment worthwhile to the local chapters.

THE KERNEL does not advocate the abolition of professional fraternities. It does believe the time has come to check our course, put our house in order, and get back to the purpose of our existence.

We ask the cooperation of every professional fraternity or any other fraternity or organization so oppressed on this and every other college campus in America.

Don't save for a rainy day, save and there will be no rainy days.

WHAT THE MILDNESS OF CAMELS MEANS TO FAMOUS AVIATORS

Lieutenant Commander Frank Hawks, U.S.N.R., famous holder of 214 speed records and the Harmon Trophy, says: "I've been flying for 19 years and smoking Camels almost as long. Making speed records tests the pilot as well as his plane. Camels never make me jumpy or bother my physical 'condition' in any way. As the athletes say, Camels are so mild they don't get the wind. And I've found they never upset my nerves. Camel must use choicer tobaccos."

"Camels don't get your Wind" Athletes say

"Speaking of cigarettes, I make it a rule to smoke Camels," says Mrs. T. W. Kenyon, sportswoman pilot. "They are the mildest cigarette! Morning, noon, and night, I can smoke Camels steadily. They never upset my nerves. And each Camel renews the zest and enjoyment of the last one."

"They Never Get on Your Nerves"

"I appreciate the mellow flavor of Camels," says Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, the transpacific flyer, in a recent interview. "Camels refresh me so when I'm fatigued," he continues, "and they are so mild that I can smoke any number without throwing my nerves off key."

"They Never Tire Your Taste"

"I smoke Camels all I want," says Col. Roscoe Turner (right), "cross-continent speed ace." "Because of their mildness, Camels never tire my taste. A speed flyer uses up energy just as his motor uses 'gas.' After smoking a Camel, I get a 'refill' in energy—a new feeling of vim and well-being."

Community Editor's Books Are Listed By UK Journalism Class

The class in community journalism, in answer to Professor Portman's question "What books, magazines, or newspapers should the community editor have on his reference shelves," decided that the following list would be adequate and would give the answers to any questions that would be asked in an average community. This list would also furnish the editor with plenty of material for editorial and feature matter.

This question came up in class work in connection with the editor's duty to persons in his territory to look to the editor as a sage and prophet. The list follows:

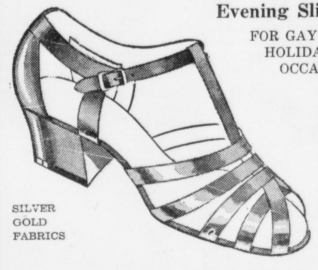

- Books: Dictionary—unabridged; U. S. Government Census report; city directory or telephone book; History of the State; History of the County; County atlas; Encyclopedia; Book on rhetoric; Book of quotations; Book of synonyms; Thesaurus (a book of phrases, etc.); Statute books of the state; State atlas; Legislature (state) book; Sports Year Book; Rules Book of various sports—Spalding Handbook Series—local; Boy Scout-Girl Reserve Manual; Deskbook and Handbook for Newspaper Writing; Red Cross Year Book.
- Trade Books: Law of the Press; Editing book (Bastian—Editing the Day's News); Feature book (Not conclusive); Editorial book (Bush); Advertising books (Layout of Advertising—Principle and Psychology of Advertising); Editor and Publisher; Printer's Ink weekly or monthly; Publisher's Auxiliary; Inland Printer; Nat'l Printer Journalist; American Press; General magazines; Literary Digest; Time; Today; News Week; Reader's Digest; Magazine Digest; Popular Science or Popular Mechanics; The City; State magazine if printed (Kentucky Progress).

Newspapers: New York Times, sectional metropolitan paper, exchanges—local, foreign.

Kentucky's football race horse has rounded the turn and is now coming down the season's home stretch. The coil carrying the Blue and White silks is given a spotty performance thus far in the race and it will take a terrific stretch drive to carry it into the money.

Before the running of this season's football Derby, Kentucky's entry was regarded as a dark horse, one which had an outside chance of leaving the favorites behind, if conditions were favorable.

The Wildcat broke from the barrier in a fine start against Maryville and continued to improve its position in the pack against Xavier's Musketeers. In rounding the clubhouse...

Once in the backstretch, though, the Wildcat went lame and allowed Auburn's Plainsman and the Crimson Tide of Alabama to pass it. At this point, all hope the Kentucky backers may have had of winning this Southeastern conference gridiron derby, vanished in the proverbial thin air and instead, these supporters hoped for a finish that would at least place the Wildcat among the money winners.

Then followed a temporary spurt that took the Kentucky entry to Florida with a rush but despite a game try the Wildcat could not overtake Tulane's Green Wave on the far turn.

Now, coming into the stretch, the Wildcat is running neck and neck with the Tennessee entry, carrying the Orange and White silks of the Volunteers.

It looks like a Garrison finish will be the only way that one or the other will win. Both appear slightly winded and it will be only a superior ride that will decide the issue.

Victory for either entry will go a long way toward making this year's race a successful one. It will help in large measure to boost the stock of the men who were responsible for the training of these two entries, Coach Chet Wynne of Kentucky and Major Bill Britton of among others, lined up there with Alabama on the slate, but we may as well realize that to play a tough schedule it takes a veritable wealth of material, two and three deep at every position and Kentucky at this time just can't muster up that much power.

When we look back and see Alabama's greatest teams marching on the Rose Bowl, it is easy to observe that the path was paved for them by way of their schedule. The caliber of their opposition was not always the very highest, in fact they did not play more than one or two major opponents all season. This schedule of theirs was one of the main reasons why they were able to stay at the peak all season and when they did suffer a temporary letdown, their position was not the type that could take the fullest advantage of the situation.
We will play Manhattan in New York City. That will give us a good test of strategy, and in all of course, that we win the engagement, Alabama is still on the schedule, as well as Tennessee and Georgia Tech. Xavier will be the toughest opening foe that the Wildcats have scheduled for years. That Washington and Lee game is a year to give us an opportunity to meet Ohio State on the General's date and always adds plenty of color to the season. V. M. I. and Clemson look like they will be more than the usual football game, it will be the hinge on which hangs the success of the entire season.
Come on, Kentucky!!!

The 1936 football slate for Kentucky's Wildcats was released yesterday from the office of the Athletic department. It is not such a formidable schedule as the one which the current Wildcat machine will wind up next week.
There's going to be quite a bit of criticism of the Athletic department when Kentucky enthusiasts get together and start to discuss the prospects for next season. Some of these enthusiasts are going so far as to say that the schedule is composed of a bunch of set-ups and could not give any real opposition to a good, tough high school club. Maybe, that's right, we don't know much about it, of course, so these well-wishers may be right. However, it's our opinion that the schedule for next season isn't a bad one. Like everyone else, we would like to see Notre Dame, Ohio State, Minnesota, Stanford and Princeton Northeastern University vs Boston will award two civilian conservation Corps scholarships of $100 each this year. The money will be applicable on the second payment of tuition of $200 in the college of liberal arts, business administration or engineering.

The University of Kentucky was only one of many of the state's colleges for a number of years.

BEREA DEFEATS U.K. HARRIERS 28-27

A return meet with the Berea varsity and freshman cross country teams will be held on the Kentucky two and three-quarter mile course tomorrow afternoon, according to an announcement yesterday by Cameron Parks, coach of the Wildcat harriers.

The Wildcats met the Berea team last week in Berea and came home on the end of a 28 to 27 score. Dave Rogan, one of the fastest men to don a Kentucky track uniform, took first place for the Wildcats in the time of 15 minutes and 40 seconds. Stewart of Berea was second, being only four seconds behind Rogan.

Participants of the meet and the order in which they finished follows: 1. Rogan (Kentucky); 2. Stewart (Berea); 3. Ward (Berea); 4. Hlland (Kentucky); 5. Ford (Kentucky); 6. Pilton (Berea); 7. McDaniel (Berea); 8. Stockert (Kentucky); 9. Taylor (Berea); Spragens (Kentucky).

The Kentucky Kittens lost to the Berea freshmen by 14 to 7. Caudill and Clark of Berea were first and second in the time of 16 minutes and 5 seconds. Joe Moore of Berea was third; Banner of Berea was fourth; L. Moore and Relyea of Kentucky finished fifth and sixth.

"Hi-do Ladies" "Hi-do Gennum"

By DON IRVINE
"Hi-do, ladies!"
"Hi-do, gennum!"

Such is the cheery greeting of grizzled old William Thomas McHatton as you approach his peanut-popper-candy stand at the head of the steps by the Alumni gym. Day in and day out, in fair weather and foul, he is there to speak to you as you pass.

"Mac," as his friends call him, has been in the vending business for half a century. He is a native of Illinois, but has lived in Kentucky since his infancy. His father brought him to Washington, D. C., where he reared on a farm. He began following his present profession when he bought an old pushcart for two dollars, and since that time has progressed until he is now the sole owner of the imposing merchandise truck that stands on Euclid avenue.

Mac is very fond of his vehicle and has great hopes for its enlargement and improvement. He plans to close the sides, and to display his wares inside, so that he may "sit in the truck" when he makes his rounds. A complete set of tools is always carried in the blue truck, because, as Mac puts it, "you can't never tell what's gonna happen out in a car."

With frequent philosophic expectations, Mac was the recipient of his experiences with thugs. On one occasion, three years ago, he was released from jail by a negro with a knife. The culprit was almost immediately caught, and justice in the form of a penitentiary term was meted out to him. But Mac's most serious contact with the criminal world had come before this. Here is how it happened.

One night two negroes came to his house, which stands a few doors from the rear of the Tavern, and asked admittance, professing to be customers. Mac, suspecting nothing, showed them in, and they selected a few items from among his stock. One of the visitors asked Mac if he had change for five dollars. The old fellow pulled out his day's earnings to count out the proper amount. Whereupon, the jail negro, seizing Mac's hand, attempted to wrench the money from it. Failing in this, he jerked a black knife and beat Mac about the head until he crumpled to the floor. The negroes then snatched up the money and fled from the house. Mac has never seen them since.

"But when I do meet him," says the old vendor, referring to the man who clubbed him, "I ain't gonna say no word at all; I'm just gonna shove him down." The steady glint in his old blue eyes adds strength to his statement.

However, the misfortunes of William Thomas McHatton are few. Business is good and getting better, he asserts. He has always "kept bachelor," and at 72 he is as hale and hearty as the healthiest of us.

Mathematics Group Will Hold Meeting
The 326th regular meeting of the American Mathematical Society will be held at the University, November 29-30, according to an announcement just issued by Prof. Mark H. Ingraham, Madison, Wis., professor of mathematics at the University of Wisconsin and associate secretary of the society.

The local committee in charge of arrangements for the meeting consists of Dr. Paul P. Boyd, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences at the University, and head of the Department of Mathematics, chairman, and Prof. C. G. Latimer, Dr. H. H. Downing, Dr. L. W. Cohen and Dr. Flora E. Leister, members of the committee.

Sessions are planned for Friday morning and afternoon and Saturday morning, and Prof. C. G. Latimer, University of Kentucky professor of mathematics has been invited to address the society on "The Arithmetic of Generalized Quaternions." A dinner for members and their guests will be held on Friday evening at the Lafayette hotel, which hotel will be headquarters for the meeting.
